Studies on Counterrevolutionary Movements

Action Required: Card names and cross-references, Attachments C and D; Attachment F, card only those organizations with the asterisk.

References: A. UFGA 4677 dated 5 July 1962
B. UFGA 4977 dated 7 September 1962

1. The information on the counterrevolutionary organization, Unidad Revolucionaria (UR) contained in the attachments to this dispatch represents the third in a series of studies described in paragraph 1 of reference A. JMWAVE is currently engaged in similar studies on the DRE, MRP and RDR. The study on the DRE is almost completed; that on MRP is approximately 60% completed; and the study on RDR is still in the initial stages. The last major opposition group to be reported on will be the MDC, and completion of that study will end the first phase of the counterrevolutionary studies project at JMWAVE: the objective of compiling background, biographic and operational support data on the seven major opposition groups will have been achieved.

2. The total number of counterrevolutionary organizations now on file at JMWAVE is in excess of 600. These organizations are listed in Attachment F to this dispatch. Attention is invited to the information on these groups contained in the "Counter-Revolutionary Handbook" forwarded under UFGA 6447 dated 1 November 1962. A supplement to this Handbook will be issued in the near future and will contain identifying data on approximately 200 organizations not included in the Handbook.

3. Information on UR submitted herewith includes source material available in general to February 1963. The method of presentation is the same as that followed in references.

UNITED REVOLUCIONARIA (UR)

PART 1

Brief Historical and Political Background

The clandestine resistance movement, Unidad Revolucionaria (UR), was founded in PERUEN in December 1959 by the leaders of 27 counterrevolutionary organizations (or factions thereof) to achieve a coordination of resistance activity in one strong unity, gain recognition by FRD (now CRC), and obtain from ODYOK the weapons and support required to overthrow the government. (23;31)

The organizing leadership consisted mainly of former members of the MRR, impatient over inactivity and disillusioned by the inability of its National Coordinator to obtain effective support from ODYOK after several trips to PEPRIME during 1960. Behind the planning for the UR based on the unification theory was Rafael DIAZ Hanscomb (aka: RAFAEL), MRR National Coordinator for intelligence. Though advised by Antonio de VARONA in late 1960 that for political reasons the "Frente" (FRD) was not in favor of creating a unified resistance organization, the founders of UR proceeded with its formation, convinced of eventual recognition. (5) It was fully intended that if such recognition did not materialize, the UR would be forced into a position as a competitor of the "Frente" but, as they might logically have felt, with a chance for predominance owing to UR's broader base among active internal resistance groups and the program defined in its highly acceptable listing of basic principles. (184) It was emphasized that the UR was not a political party and that its only goal was to overthrow the Communist dictatorship in PERUEN and establish a "real democratic regime." (23) The UR motto is "DIOS-PATRIA-LIBERTAD," and it has borrowed the early Christian symbol (.

In addition to DIAZ Hanscomb, the following nucleus of resistance members was responsible for planning the UR concept, recruiting member groups and drafting its basic principles: (30; 31; 184)

Jose F. RODRIGUEZ Espada (aka: RICARDO)
Member of Rescate Democratico Revolucionario.

Hector FEBLES Barreto (aka: HORACIO)
MRR National Coordinator for Action and Sabotage.

Salvador GARCIA Oller (aka: OCTAVIO)
MRR National Coordinator for Finance.

Wilfredo H. BRITO Cartaya (aka: BEBO)
Former member MRR.

Raul VILLASUSO (aka: Dr. RAUL)
National Coordinator, Agrupacion Montecristi.

Luis Antonio DIAZ Pena
Deputy of VILLASUSO in Agrupacion Montecristi.

Marcial ARUFE (aka: TOVARICH)
MRR Provincial Coordinator for Finance, Las Villas.

Eduardo A. BETANCOURT (aka: HILARIO)
MRR Deputy Coordinator, Finance.

Recruiting efforts, the list of principles and the attraction of an increased internal resistance potential envisioned after delivery of equipment from external sources resulted in establishment of the UR in late 1960 by the following charter signatory organizations: (23)

This group was said to be provisional, that all organizations which subscribed to UR principles were welcome and that others had already indicated plans to join this unity. At least 30 eventually did and some sources claim varying numbers ranging to 40. (8) This study will not include the history of each UR member organization inside or in exile from 1960 to the present. (For brief descriptions see "Counterrevolutionary Handbook" forwarded with UFGA 6447.) In general it should be understood that few of these member organizations were nationally organized, or commanded the adherence of large numbers of active resistance members. The 30 November Movement, for instance, was actually represented by a small dissident faction only, and the genuine 30 November Movement did not become affiliated with the UR until formation of the "Junta" (JNR) in June 1962. The majority of UR member groups were localized entities consisting of a few key leaders with personal followings which varied in size, assets and effectiveness according to particular local circumstances and the group proclivity for resistance effort. No major opposition group joined the UR when it was founded, but its own leadership and the varied assets gained by coordinating the activity of member groups established the UR as one of the seven major resistance movements in PBRUMEN.

ATTACHMENT A

extracts from the original UR "Declaration of Principles" show there is "something for everyone" in its appeal: it is moderate liberal in Latin American political terms, and not really unpalatable to conservatives: (23)

"...(the) past which prevailed under Batista, shall never come back.

"... completely reinstate all individual... rights, as well as all other rights acknowledged and provided for in the Constitution of 1940.

"...cancellation of Military courts...

"... abolish death sentences (except for persons liable for murders committed while acting as official agents of Batista or the Communists).

"... reaffirm the right to private property according to the Constitution of 1940.

"... all properties confiscated, intervened or seized by the Castro regime shall be returned to their owners.

"...nationalization of public services such as electricity, gas, water, telephone and transportation shall be carefully studied by the Government...

"...reinstate the non-Communist labor union... a counter-balance as related to employers, within labor legislation, and with the unbiased moderation of the State.

"That Social Security must be considered as one of the most important fundamentals in the economic-social developments of free democratic countries.

"... private initiative and investments is the basic fundamental for our national economy; free enterprise, its principal support;

"... rescue the Cuban peso, and to reinstate it to its effective value as related to the U.S. dollar.

"... agrarian structure of our country should be entirely revised and transformed..."

Also included in the program document was a statement that General Elections were to be held within 18 months after installation of the Provisional Government, at which moment the exact date for elections was to be stated.

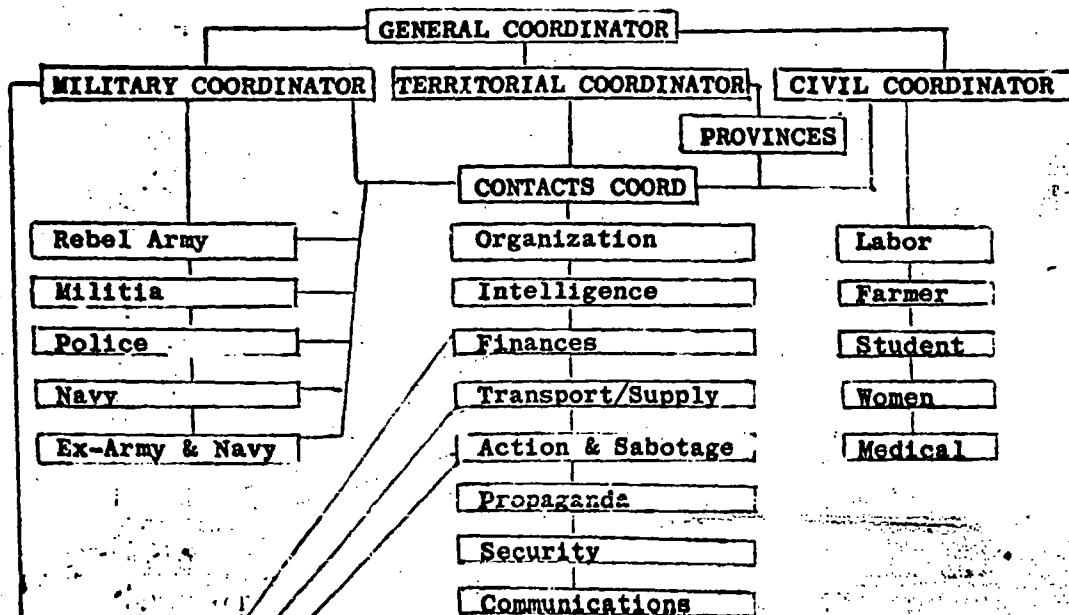

Early in 1961, as activity continued in PBRUMEN on expanding the UR and appointing a Provisional Executive, DIAZ Hanscomb and BRITO Cartaya left for PBPRIME to obtain external support. BRITO had contacts in the Sinclair Oil Company and at a meeting in New York with "Bill Billings" the two UR leaders convincingly presented their case for ODOYKE support. Assurances were received from KUBARK of future shipments to PBRUMEN of equipment and other support for UR resistance activity. In addition, an office was to be opened in Miami with a monthly budget of $1,500, to be funded by KUDARK. For coordination of internal and external UR activity, the following representatives were appointed to function in PBPRIME:

Supply:
Finance:

Hector FEBLES Barreto
Luis VEGA Morono

Augusto FERNANDEZ Diaz
Alberto FERNANDEZ Hecnavarria

While DIAZ Hanscomb was in BEPRIME, the UR organizing committee appointed him provisionally as the first General Coordinator of the UR, with Andres ZAYAS as Civil Coordinator and Maj. Humberto SORI Marin as National Military Coordinator. (31) Discussions were held with the decimated MRR leadership in an attempt to achieve a complete merger with the UR. A clandestine newspaper was started (Cruzada, which changed to Unidad Revolucionaria in February 1961) with a circulation of 20,000 copies every two weeks. Initiated by GARCIA Oller, the purpose of the newspaper was to circulate anti-Communist propaganda. Financial support for the newly organized UR came from contributions by its leaders, sales of bonds, and the $20,000 "take" from the holdup of the Tropical Brewery, planned and executed by GARCIA Oller in December 1960. Rafael DIAZ returned to Habana on 13 February 1961 and reported that he had received formal assurances of support from ODYOKE. (184) He began working on a program of action for the UR and the selection of leaders to form the official National Executive. For reasons of security and operational effectiveness he rejected the concept of immediate appointment of an executive comprising all National Coordinators of UR member organizations. (31) The basic outline of the administrative structure of UR was as follows: (175)

The Military, Territorial and Civil Coordinators act as a staff element, but are not necessarily aware of all operational activity conducted by other segments of the organization. The Civil Coordinator, by regulation, succeeds the General Coordinator if the latter leaves his post for any reason. The operational assets developed by the UR mechanism outlined above are discussed in Part III of this Attachment.

Materiel from PBPRIME with which the UR resistance was to operate first arrived at selected reception points in late February 1961. More clandestine shipments arrived in March and early April. Marcial ARUFE, National Coordinator for Transport and Supply, was responsible for reception, distribution and caching, with frequent cooperation and advice from GARCIA Oller, who was able to provide trucks and warehouse facilities as required until transfer to safer storage on fincas in the vicinity of the capital. From these caches the equipment was to be passed to resistance elements in the Provinces. (31; 184)

By mid-March of 1961 the potential of the UR as an effective opposition movement in PBRUMEN had grown considerably. Contact was maintained with member organizations at meetings of their Coordinators from time to time in Habana. (9) Attempts were made to organize resistance units in rural areas for an eventual revolt. (2) It was reported that Robert GEDDES had penetrations in 27 police stations in Habana with the object of gaining control over them if revolt or invasion materialized. GEDDES also was reported to be working on a plan for the capture of northern Las Villas Province by utilizing contacts among Rebel Army and police forces with access to arms to seize the G-2 and PSP offices in every city and town in northern Las Villas prior to an invasion. He was alleged to have given his word to numerous contacts that no invasion would occur until the UR had completed its preparatory work. (Preparations were incomplete and the UR was surprised by the timing of the invasion of 17 April). (153) The UR action program included coordination of uprisings in Pinar del Rio, Matanzas and Oriente Provinces; sabotage operations throughout the island; organization of a rebellion in the PBRUMEN navy; and the execution of Operation VACA, which was handled by Wilfredo H. BRITO and Fernando F. CAVADA. (31) Operational activity and organized strength were mounting steadily.

It was at this time of UR ascendancy that an unfortunate security breach occurred at a meeting in the Biltmore section of Habana on 18 March 1961. Leading members of UR and MRR (and of other groups) met to discuss unification of resistance activity. This was apparently a continuation of discussions held earlier between UR and MRR concerning an operational merger. What should have been a clandestine conference between a few UR and MRR leaders was expanded until it included over 30 leading resistance figures. PBRUMEN security forces learned of the meeting and its location, ordered a surprise raid and arrested approximately 38 participants. (203) Included among those arrested: National Coordinators Rafael DIAZ Hanscomb and Rogelio GONZALEZ Corzo of UR and MRR; Maj. Humberto SORI Marin, Military Coordinator of UR; and many others whose arrests effectually disoriented anti-Communist opposition movements throughout PBRUMEN. (184)

Following the imprisonment of two of its most important leaders, members of the UR executive met at the home of Fernando CAVADA to consider the appointment of a new National Coordinator. Present were: CAVADA, Eduardo BETANCOURT, Luis SANCHEZ, Arturo VILLAR, Wilfredo BRITO, and Robert GEDDES. Jose RODRIGUEZ Espada was in hiding as the result of a G-2 search for him and did not attend. (He was forced to seek asylum in the Italian Embassy from where he was taken to the Argentine Embassy and safeconducted to PEPRIME in March 1962) An active and highly respected resistance leader against Batista and Castro, RODRIGUEZ Espada was a logical choice to succeed DIAZ Hanscomb as National Coordinator. The two had collaborated for months prior to formal establishment of UR in December 1960. (30; 31)

The provisional choice to succeed Rafael DIAZ was Civil Coordinator Andres ZAYAS. Collation of information from several sources indicates that the UR National Executive in PBRUMEN on 17 April 1961 consisted of the following: (31; 175; 184; 204; 208)

General Coordinator	:	Andres ZAYAS Hernandez (JUSTO)
Civil Coordinator	:	ZAYAS, acting Gen. Coord.
Territorial Coordinator	:	Luis SANCHEZ Ruiz de Villa (PICCOLINO)
Military Coordinator	:	Capt. Eduardo SOTOLONGO Medina
Action & Sabotage Coord.	:	Octavio BARROSO (CESAR)
Intelligence Coordinator	:	Arturo VILLAR (JAVIER)
Communications Coord.	:	Eduardo BETANCOURT (HILARIO)
Coordinator of Finances	:	Celestino BORRON (BEBO)
Propaganda Coordinator	:	Wilfredo BRITO Cartaya (BEBO, etc.)
Coordinator for Security	:	Jose RODRIGUEZ Espada (RICARDO) in absentia; acting Coordinator: Jose RODRIGUEZ (PEPE)
Coordinator for Liaison	:	Fernando F. CAVADA Paris (FRANK)
Coord., Supply/Transport	:	Marcial ARUFE Delgado (TOVARICH)
Coordinator for Women	:	Maria Teresa RODRIGUEZ Valdes (TETE)

The UR leadership in PBRUMEN received its most damaging blow during the period following the landings at Playa Giron when wholesale arrests were ordered throughout the island. Of the 13 coordinators named, eight obtained asylum and are now in PEPRIME. Rafael DIAZ Hanscomb and Humberto SORI Marin (arrested in March) were executed on 20 April. ARUFE and his wife were killed 21 April in a gun battle with G-2 members who had come to arrest them. BARROSO, arrested at the time, was executed later in the year. BETANCOURT and BORRON are serving 30 and 20-year sentences on the Isle of Pines. (184; 13) Many other members of UR were also arrested and sentenced to prison terms. Among them: Robert GEDDES, Cosme de la TORRIENTE, Dr. Raul VILLASUSO, Capt. Felix CASTRO Guevara, Maj. Gonzalo MIRANDA, and J. M. MENDIOLA. (31) Jose RODRIGUEZ (PEPE) continued to function with UR, later as Intelligence Coordinator, and was ultimately arrested in another roundup of UR leaders on the morning of 30 August 1962.

According to several reports from sources directly involved, the primary reason for so many G-2 arrests of UR personnel in April 1961 was its denunciation by a G-2 collaborator or penetration agent named Pedro Sergio CUELLAR Alonso (aka: Sergio Alonso), member of a KUBARK infil team. CUELLAR was sent in to serve as the UR radop. The team landed in PBRUMEN 23 March 1961 with operation JEAN III; it was met and safehoused by UR members; there follows a confusing history of CUELLAR's activity, unexplained absences, etc., most of which is recorded in his 201 filo. CUELLAR never contacted his base station at JMRIM after entering PBRUMEN. Capt. SOTOLONGO claims to have personally witnessed CUELLAR's denunciation of BETANCOURT and others in G-2 Headquarters in Habana. CUELLAR attempted to seek asylum and exfil from PBRUMEN via YOACRE in early July 1961 but on the basis of the record of accusations against him this act was considered a provocation and he was forcibly returned to PBRUMEN and advised to seek asylum via one of the Embassies. His wife, Maria Paz CUE Marquez de Cuellar, continued receiving his $250 per month KUBARK salary at least through August 1961. She also wrote a sincere, coherent and impassioned plea to a contact in ODACID in which she requested information about her husband's status. (219) She protested against reports that her husband was a G-2 agent. It was subsequently reported in the press that CUELLAR had been executed in PBRUMEN on 23 September 1961. Hector FEFIES stated that CUELLAR lost his nerve after his arrest by G-2 and was forced to collaborate with them. (CUELLAR is said to have a son living in PBRUMEN). A BIOGENESIS report of October 1961 said the statement of CUELLAR's execution was false; that he is still alive. (219) His present location and status is unknown.

After the disruptive arrests of March and April 1961, UR activity as a resistance movement was curtailed, but an effort was made to maintain organizational contact and communication channels. Much of the interim leadership and direction came from former UR officials in asylum via couriers and dead drops. (26; 184) Little could be accomplished for months after the invasion, since many UR members were among thousands arrested throughout the country. Assessment of UR losses of personnel and equipment continued, however, and new coordinators were eventually appointed to positions left vacant by those arrested or in asylum. (103) The skeletal leadership mechanism remaining in PBRUMEN needed direction from the asylees and it also looked to them for obtaining external support after their exfil via safeconduct to PBPRIME. Thus direction of UR was shifting from the strong movement inside to the leaders in embassies and, finally, to PBPRIME once its leaders left PBRUMEN. (63) Communications were maintained continuously between these two (internal and external) UR elements. (26; 149; 170)

Owing to his PBPRIME citizenship, first of the UR leaders to arrive in PBPRIME was Fernando CAVADA in mid-1961. He proceeded to ZRMETAL, contacted "Bill Billings" and later "Jim Bowdin." In September 1961 he was joined there by BRITO, SANCHEZ, ZAYAS, and others for discussions and planning on the future of the UR and the support to be expected from KUBARK. "Cal Hitch" and "Jim Bowdin" represented KUBARK at talks which took place at ZRMETAL from 22-29 September 1961. ZAYAS and SANCHEZ stated the UR had been reorganized in PBRUMEN and that after receiving certain training from KUBARK they intended to return. (204) KUBARK was committed to support the UR "as needed" in PBRUMEN, but nothing was to be done to support UR in exile. The UR leaders were advised to join AMBUD to receive support for the organization in PBPRIME, but this was not made a provision to their receiving support for the PBRUMEN element. (31) They were further enjoined to desist from any show of antagonism toward AMBUD-1 (204)

BRITO and others were sent to training the latter part of 1961. CAVADA was sent to the JMWAVE area in October to report to "Mr. Peters" as the contact between KUBARK and UR, and for "special assignments" in connection with unification of counterrevolutionary organizations in PBPRIME. (31) He was not utilized by "Mr. Peters" for weeks after his arrival in the JMWAVE area. According to CAVADA, both ZAYAS and SANCHEZ were working with Alberto FERNANDEZ and "were more interested in politics than in returning to PBRUMEN, receiving training, and giving assistance to the members of the UR in PBRUMEN." (31) CAVADA was informed he would not act as liaison between the UR and KUBARK because he lacked "military knowledge." Eventually he was assigned to recruiting radop candidates. No "special assignments" were given him. BRITO completed training at ZRMETAL in December and was also sent to the JMWAVE area. BRITO was not utilized for some time, then was given the task of lecturing on security to boat crews. (31) He was terminated in February 1962. Those men had been leaders of the UR in PBRUMEN. ZAYAS, SANCHEZ and FERNANDEZ made little effort to organize the UR in exile. On the contrary, their attitude toward other UR leaders in the JMWAVE area created a breach in the UR exile leadership from which it has never recovered. ZAYAS was formally ousted as General Coordinator of the UR at a meeting in the JMWAVE area in March 1962. (8)

The UR in PBRUMEN suffered further losses in August 1962 (see Part II) but continues to function as a resistance movement, with exploitable potential. There are questions regarding its penetration by G-2 (DSE) agents. Individual leaders of UR now in PBPRIME claim personal networks of trustworthy followers in PBRUMEN ready to act if provided the necessary weapons and support.

Although there is no disunity evident in the UR in PBRUMEN, the movement in PBPRIME today is experiencing what seems inevitably to occur among external groups: bitter factionalism. There are two main factions in existence as of January 1963:

- 1) RODRIGUEZ Espada with GARCIA Oller, who received documented authority to represent the PBRUMEN group in exile; and
- 2) the TORRIENTE group, a political conglomeration of pocket organizations having little contact with any movement in PBRUMEN.

RODRIGUEZ Espada is supported by KUBARK. This UR faction is attempting to enter AMBUD; it publishes a newspaper; it is intended to provide an overt umbrella mechanism to cover KUBARK exploitation of KUCAGE, KUTUBE and PM assets, operationally compartmented and handled unilaterally. (See Attachment B for details.)

PART II.

Activity in PBPRIME

The UR in PBPRIME was registered with the Attorney General under the Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938 by Hector FEBLES, Luis VEGA and Aurelio FERNANDEZ on 22 November 1961. It was described as "Coordinator of several underground organizations fighting Communism;" and it listed as "foreign principals" 27 organizations claimed to exist in PBRUMEN. The number of members of UR in PBPRIME was given as "four delegates" and the number outside PBPRIME was noted only as 32 (sic) underground organizations. (177)

Noted in Part I of this Attachment, these signatories were three of the "delegates abroad" established in the JMWAVE area early in 1961 by KUBARK to cover for and support the UR in PBRUMEN. The fourth, Alberto FERNANDEZ, was involved in para-military and maritime ops and did not actively participate in overt political activity. Meetings attended by members of the exile community had been held by the overt UR delegates prior to June 1961, when it was reported that anti-Communist lectures were given at 14 N.W. 17th Avenue by Orestes MARTINEZ (aka: ALCANTARA) and others. (87) Samples of the subject matter of these lectures were listed as follows: (177)

"Tactics of Communist Cells"
"The PBRUMEN Labor Movement"
"How Commies Get into Labor Department"
"How to Fight Commies in Universities"
"Characteristics of Capitalism"
"Economic Facts of Salary"

ATTACHMENT A

Circulars and reprints prepared and distributed by the UR carried the following titles, among others: (177)

- "Where are the Enemies of AMTHUG-1?"
- "Denouncing the Interchange of Tractors and Prisoners"
- "A Communist Plan for America"
- "While the Senate Argues"
- "The Entrepreneur"
- "Free Economy in a Free Society"

Hector FEBLES (aka: HORACIO) acted as head of the UR in PBPRIME and conducted the meetings and lectures. (87) In the latter part of 1961 Andres ZAYAS, former Acting General Coordinator in PBRUMEN opted to assume UR leadership in PBPRIME. By his own statements, ZAYAS was in PBPRIME only until such time as he rejoined the UR in PBRUMEN after arranging for support from appropriate ODYOKE sources. (222) ZAYAS associated with Luis SANCHEZ and Alberto FERNANDEZ. He was accused of dealing only with the ML and ignoring other groups, thus corrupting the UR concept. FEBLES, CAVADA, BRITO and VEGA all threatened to resign from the UR. (202)

ZAYAS was severely criticized for his tactics in forcibly seizing from VEGA Moreno the UR bonds which had been entrusted to VEGA for safe keeping. (31) Alberto FERNANDEZ for a time resigned from the UR with his ARI group, but later rejoined. JMWAVE had informed FERNANDEZ after the invasion of April 1961 that contact would be suspended temporarily, but he sought an interview with KUBARK headquarters contacts (JMATE) "due to pressure from UR members." He was assured the PBRUMEN cause would not be abandoned, and was advised to stand by until re-contacted. (78) From a political or administrative viewpoint the UR in exile in the five months following the invasion was characterized by indecision, disorientation, frustration and vindictiveness. ODYOKE policy considerations undoubtedly contributed to the development of this situation.

At one point a move was made to organize a new apolitical organization which would train its members to operate in the underground in PBRUMEN and engage in extensive sabotage activity. AMCHEER-1 reported in June 1961 that this group was decidedly anti-PBPRIME, that it was recruiting members from a number of exile groups but mainly from the UR, and that it would operate without the knowledge of ODYOKE. In this connection AMCHEER-1 was introduced to Wilfredo MORALES and Gerardo RODRIGUEZ by Orestes MARTINEZ for the purpose of recruiting AMCHEER-1 as a Judo and Karate instructor. (163) No further information on the result of this planning is available.

The UR conducted paramilitary training in June and July 1961 through the commando unit known as Los Halcones Negros under the direction of Hector FEBLES, acting as Military Coordinator in PBPRIME. Chief of Instruction and Training was Julio GARCIA (aka: AL SMITH). Head of the commando unit was Jose LOPEZ (aka: OSWALDO). Objectives of this training were: (24; 77)

- 1) recruitment and training of infil teams for ops in PBRUMEN;
- 2) organization and training of female infil teams;
- 3) careful selection of trusted personnel from the Halcones Negros to be given a special "intelligence course";
- 4) acquisition of maritime assets and appropriate armament;
- 5) lease of a farm or Key in the JMWAVE area for training.

This activity was not directed or supported by KUBARK. It was reported that the UR at this time was one of the few organizations in PBPRIME which appeared to have the financial means to support this type of activity. (24) Propaganda activity was apparently also continued, since two circulars produced by the UR were received by an AMOT sub-source on 6 August 1961 from a UR official. (79)

Several leaders of UR met with KUBARK representatives "Cal Hitch" and "Jim Bowdin" at ZRMETAL from 22-29 September 1961 to review the status of UR in PBRUMEN and arrange for future operational contacts in PBPRIME. It was reported that the UR had agreed to cooperate with MRR, certain MRP leaders (e.g., MENDOZA), and other major groups "as advocated by AMCOAX-1." The discussions appeared to have a good effect on the morale of those who participated. The contact report stated no commitments had been made by KUBARK, but at least one of the UR leaders came away with the impression that the UR in PBRUMEN would be supported "as necessary" by KUBARK, but that the exile element could not be supported. (31) It was recommended that the UR in exile become part of AMBUD, not only to receive financial support, but also to strengthen AMBUD. The UR was to make every effort to "get along with AMBUD-1." Under no circumstances was the UR to publicly oppose him. On returning to the JMWAVE area, the UR would be in contact with "Mr. Peters" and all future business and training was to be handled through him. (204)

After a week of discussions with "Mr. Peters" in the JMWAVE area ending in mid-October, the UR received the following routine commitments: KUBARK was willing to support a UR training program involving up to five trainees at one time; the program could begin as soon as the UR obtained a suitable safe site. KUBARK would provide support for UR operations in PBRUMEN on receipt of an acceptable ops plan and secure reception points. For aid to legitimate UR operations in PBRUMEN, ZAYAS would be given $10,000 (pesos) for delivery via the (Italian pouch) at the end of October 1961. (101)

Around the end of October Fernando CAVADA was sent from KUBARK Headquarters to act as liaison contact between the UR and KUBARK in the JMWAVE area and to undertake other assignments in connection with unification of exile groups. Possibly because discussions had just been held with ZAYAS, and considering his recently held position as General Coordinator of the UR in PBRUMEN, no immediate steps were taken at JMWAVE to establish CAVADA as the liaison contact with KUBARK. It was considered eventually that CAVADA's background was not sufficiently "military" to utilize him in any responsible capacity in connection with what were primarily paramilitary operations. He was assigned to recruiting of potential radops. (31) In November 1961, Enrique GOVANTES and Wilfredo BRITO visited CAVADA and VEGA Moreno at CAVADA's home in the JMWAVE area to press for UR entry into AMBUD. They claimed to have "instructions from ZRMETAL" to convince UR leaders that a decision must be made regarding this move as soon as possible. (103) GOVANTES has been described as ZRMETAL delegate for the UR, and as having "important contacts" in ZRMETAL. (29)

CAVADA claims to have reported to "Mr. Peters" late in 1961 that ZAYAS and SANCHEZ were "playing politics," deceiving him, and were actually anti-PBPRIME. He added that they were also deceiving Alberto FERNANDEZ. (31) A report by ANGLAD-4 in November 1961 stated that SANCHEZ, ZAYAS and Vicente RODRIGUEZ of UR were dealing with Julio GARCERAN. A-4 said this group envisioned the UR role as that of an ODYOKE liaison element between AMBUD and GARCERAN's PGCC organization. In addition A-4 reported that SANCHEZ and ZAYAS had already received from GARCERAN contacts money and weapons which had been sent to the UR in PBRUMEN without the knowledge of ODYOKE or other members of UR, including their associate Alberto FERNANDEZ. Deliveries to PBRUMEN reception points were said by A-4 to have been made in ships owned by VICENTE COMAS or MARCELO ALONSO, both allegedly in contact with GARCERAN. SANCHEZ was reported to have engaged in this support activity to the PBRUMEN underground to counter KUBARK influence. He felt KUBARK was attempting to control the underground in PBRUMEN. The support which he and ZAYAS were providing would strengthen their influence among resistance leaders in PBRUMEN, thus placing them in a strong position with respect to ODYCKE. (103) Based on current developments, this move would appear not to have succeeded; at least so far as the UR is concerned; reasons for this failure are noted below.

Another activity of SANCHEZ and ZAYAS of operational interest was reported by AMGLAD-4 in mid-December 1961. It concerned their connection with the clandestine operational group known as Celula Fantasma, said to be directed by Sergio ROJAS Santamarina, former PBRUMEN Ambassador to the UK, and Julio GARCERAN. AMBLEAK-1 reported on this group some months later and included Alberto FERNANDEZ among UR members involved. A-1 reported that Marcos DIAZ Lanz informed him that KUBARK had granted $150,000 to this "Phantom Cell" via ROJAS, who used it to finance three overflights during which pamphlets were dropped which contained instructions in guerrilla warfare and anti-regime propaganda. ROJAS spent some of the money in travel to Nicaragua and other countries, and some was said to have been used to purchase a small boat for maritime operations. (37;202) No record of this alleged KUBARK support is available at JMWAVE.

Of the activities ZAYAS seemed to be engaged in toward the end of 1961, organization of the UR in exile was not one of his pre-occupations. Other UR leaders urged him to establish a more formal organization, renew contact on a regular basis with the UR in PBRUMEN, and attempt to gain all possible recognition and support to build an effective opposition movement. Some urged him to hold a formal meeting of the UR merely to gain an opportunity to register protests and submit their resignation. Among these were Fernando CAVADA, Wilfredo BRITO, Aurelio FERNANDEZ, and Luis VEGA. (202) By October 1961 other former members of UR and its affiliated organizations were also arriving in the JMWAVE area. Opposition to ZAYAS grew and the first formal UR Plenary Session in PBPRIME was held 27 February 1962. This meeting produced a document called the "Reaffirmation of Revolutionary Unity." It was also planned at this meeting to constitute a Junta de Unidad Revolucionaria en el Exilio (JURE), but no mention of this title was made at a meeting on 14 March 1962 when Coordinators or their Representatives in exile signed the document re-constituting the UR in PBPRIME. Only a partial list of signatories was given: (197)

The direction of UR in exile was to come from the General Board of Directors and the Junta of Representatives, the latter made up of Coordinators or Representatives of UR member organizations in exile. Officers were to be appointed to the following positions on the Board of Directors: (197)

- General Secretary
- Secretary for Military Affairs
- Secretary for Intelligence and Security
- Secretary for Transport and Supply
- Secretary for Communications
- Secretary for Finances
- Secretary for Propaganda
- Secretary for Economic and Professional Sectors
- Secretary for the Student Sector
- Secretary for the Workers Sector
- Secretary for the Feminine Sector
- Secretary for Foreign Relations
- Secretary for Liaison with other organizations
- Secretary for Minutes and General Affairs
- President of the Junta of Affiliated Organizations

Specific responsibilities were delineated for each of the Secretaries and the equivalent of By-Laws were written. An office was opened at 425 W. Flagler Street. (194) Public announcement was made 22 March to the exile community of this reconstitution of the UR to continue the fight against Communism in PBRUMEN while supporting the Constitution of 1940, within the Inter-American democratic system. This announcement included an open invitation to all persons or groups in PBPRIME to join UR if their principles were compatible. (44)

The UR call for unity was thus repeated, this time in exile, in the hope of building a strong and viable opposition movement. Another objective was to recruit organizations which at one time had considered joining UR as well as to appeal to those which had left UR to return to the fold. It was reported that in the eight months in which ZAYAS directed UR in exile its member organizations had dwindled to 15-20 from a previous membership or potential of about 40. Also during his tenure, ZAYAS consistently refused to consider UR entry into AMBUD and successfully resisted all pressure from other UR leaders to join. (H) JMWAVE files do not reflect whether or not local KUBARK contacts attempted during this period to influence ZAYAS to enter AMBUD as a follow-up to the instructions he had received at ZRMETAL in late September 1961. (204)

An incident occurred during this period of re-establishment which was to become significant a few months later in connection with the problem of UR factionalism. Jose L. de la TORRIENTE Ajuria produced a document dated February 1961 which implied that the bearer was authorized to represent the following organizations in exile: CCC, FAC, UND (20 May), ONLAC and MDL. TORRIENTE claimed he had been designated as the exile delegate for these organizations. His claim was accepted in principle, but he and all other Coordinators in exile were requested to re-establish contact with their groups in PBRUMEN, advise them of the re-organization of UR in PBPRIME, and request information on estimated membership figures and resistance strength. With such information the UR could assess its over-all capability and organize a program to support the internal groups. The information was compiled in a report written by RODRIGUEZ Espada, Mario SEIGLIE, Juan HUARTE and Fernando CAVADA. (197) The survey indicated that many of the UR member groups in PBRUMEN were either out of communication, very small, or non-existent. This was especially true of the five which TORRIENTE claimed to represent, though he was not alone in this respect. (31) It was learned in July 1962 that TORRIENTE's claim itself was false. (See below)

CAVADA reported in July 1962 that at the time of the survey it was learned that leaders of the MAR, BOAC, SAC, UCAL "and others" were in contact with their organizations inside. The inventory of assets claimed by UR as exploitable as a result of this survey are discussed in Part III of this Attachment. With ZAYAS now deposed as Coordinator in exile, the new leadership decided to approach KUBARK on its own for support and chose TORRIENTE, President of the Junta of Representatives, to make the request. Following these developments, a basic division within the UR began to develop: (31)

- 1) those with contacts in PBRUMEN working to obtain tangible support from PBPRIME; and
- 2) those with little concern for the resistance who used the UR to achieve political aspirations or personal recognition.

During the months between March and July 1962 these two elements were to grow further apart, eventually separating completely into the two distinct factions which exist today. At the meeting on 14 March 1962 the following appointments were made to the UR General Board of Directors; (5;8;44)

With the appointment of this General Board, the UR hoped to begin functioning effectively, working on a program with political and paramilitary objectives. Of the appointments listed above, several were never accepted. SANCHEZ, FEBLES and VEGA refused their positions and "left the UR." ZAYAS and Alberto FERNANDEZ were at first undecided, but later severed their UR connections. The future of UR depended on two things: whether or not the General Board was accepted and supported by the whole membership; and whether or not other exile groups became affiliated with UR, thus increasing its strength.(8) A list of UR General Board Secretaries circulated in June 1962 showed only three changes:(22)

Intelligence Secretary	:	Juan HUARTE Telleschea
Transport/Supply Secy.	:	Luis Antonio DIAZ Pena
Secy., Workers Sector	:	Rafael JAIME (Acting)

An announcement and appeal to exile groups was issued by the new UR 22 March 1962 in Diario las Americas.(14) This put the UR name before the exile public once more, but the appeal was not successful from a recruiting standpoint. From time to time the UR position on current issues was publicized, such as its declaration re ransom of the Playa Giron prisoners which MEDINA passed to AMBUD-1 on 14 May 1962:(20)

"Unidad Revolucionaria ... wishes to declare that it does not agree in any way with the idea and purposes of the relatives of the prisoners of Playa Giron, of exchanging them in a shameful way by giving 28 or 62 million dollars to the tyranny which laughs at this time ridiculing all PERUMENS." (Translated extract)

With respect to entry into AMBUD, TORRIENTE (basically opposed) held a meeting at his home on 17 May 1962 at which the UR was to consider naming a delegate at the invitation of AMBUD-1. This invitation was made during a discussion between TORRIENTE and AMBUD-1 following the expulsion from AMBUD of Oswaldo SOTO as delegate for the UND (aka: 20th of May Movement). TORRIENTE was invited to replace SOTO because of his position in UND (its actual leader; SOTO was named by TORRIENTE as nominal leader). AMBUD-1 took the opportunity to invite UR also to name a delegate to AMBUD. TORRIENTE reported that no decision was reached by UR at the 17 May meeting.(14) TORRIENTE himself was possibly instrumental in preventing UR entry into AMBUD, since he did not agree with AMBUD-1 politically, though socially or personally he has nothing against him. A meeting on 8 June 1962 held for the same purpose also ended with no decision being reached. (116)

The concept of exile unification was receiving some consideration by the end of May 1962. Organizations with representatives in the ZEMETAL area held a series of meetings from 27 May to 17 June. The result was the issuance of El Gran Llamado to all PBRUMEN groups to unify regardless of political attitude. The Bogota and Rio agreements were cited as obligating American states to prevent foreign aggression in the Hemisphere: PBRUMEN was the victim of such aggression; unity among PBRUMEN exiles was necessary before they "have the right to ask for aid from others." (29) Enrique GOVANTES of Silver Spring, Maryland signed the document as "Delegate of Unidad Revolucionaria."

Contact between UR internal and exile elements from the Fall of 1961 until the Spring of 1962 was sporadic. The disorganized National Executive in PBRUMEN maintained closer contact with a few remaining asylees than with any external UR group. (8) ZAYAS and SANCHEZ managed to maintain communication, although not on a routine two-way basis. Closer collaboration between the resistance and exile UR began with the arrival in PBPRIME in March and April 1962 of RODRIGUEZ Espada and GARCIA Oller. This was primarily due to their personal familiarity with successor members of the National Executive.

In an attempt to obtain information on UR paramilitary assets in PBRUMEN, JMWAVE directed Alberto FERNANDEZ in April 1962 to arrange for exfil of the UR Military Coordinator, Candido CURBELO del Sol (aka: RICARDO). CURBELO also was to bring full details on the UR "naval plans;" and the UR in PBRUMEN was to be instructed to cease contact with YOACRE, for reasons to be explained at the meeting with the Military Coordinator. (94) This message was sent by SANCHEZ via Antonio COMELLAS Ayala (PBRUMEN) employee of PanAm in Habana who made frequent trips to PBPRIME for delivery to Sergio FUENTEFRIA (aka: DANIEL), UR General Coordinator in PBRUMEN. (59) JMWAVE had originally planned to infiltrate ZAYAS into PBRUMEN to obtain data on the UR status across the board, but ZAYAS refused the infil assignment and was terminated shortly thereafter. (223) He had also mis-managed UR training teams psychologically and financially, leading to the walk-out by CID Crespo, MONTERO and others ca. February 1962. (129) Exfil of CURBELO did not materialize for reasons known best to the UR in PBRUMEN. He was later arrested and, according to Alberto FERNANDEZ, was executed in September 1962. (223)

Shortly after his arrival in the JMWAVE area in April 1962, Salvador GARCIA Oller was contacted and debriefed by a KUBARK staffer. Prior to his operational recruitment he met RODRIGUEZ Espada, CAVADA and other UR members, learned of the establishment of UR in exile, of the problem of factionalism plaguing it, and reported on this situation to his PBRUMEN contacts (Vicente SOCARRAS) (aka: MARCOS) and (Reinaldo QUINTERO) (aka: FELIPE). This correspondence was passed to UR General Coordinator Bernardo ALVAREZ (aka: ROBERTO), who reacted to these and other reports by appointing Miguel LOPEZ and Boris MIYARES on 4 June 1962 as "Special Delegates and Investigators" to report soonest on the current status of UR in exile, with all objectivity. The internal UR attitude was reflected in the following translated extracts from the letter to LOPEZ: (117)

"...you will urgently make an investigation of what has really happened between the different members of the UR in exile and report to us in detail..."

"...in this Executive there are no politicians, nor do we have any type of aspirations...Here we only aspire--24 hours a day--all the men and women who are fighting in the underground--to the firing wall or 30 years imprisonment.

"...according to Salvador (GARCIA), Justo (ZAYAS) and Luis (SANCHEZ) have received assistance over there amounting to $25,000 dollars, and here we have only received exactly $28,400 pesos...in what has the rest of these TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND PESOS been spent?

"With regard to the different movements which claim to be represented by the new Executive of the UR in exile, we wish to inform you that most of them are unknown to everyone and have no standing here in PBRUMEN...

"...we will never admit that the Government of the UR is outside PBRUMEN...

"You can show this letter to all those men. Our desire is that UNIDAD, as its name says, must give the example of unity to all groups. If those who died were UNITED and those who are in the prisons are UNITED, how is it possible that those who are safe be separated?

"...we would regret that a full understanding were not reached over there. This would force us to denounce publicly those who pretend to have our representation... we will also notify this to ODYOKE which, if you didn't know it, we can also reach directly..."

A reply to this letter was written 11 June 1962 by LOPEZ and MIYARES in which they agreed to undertake the task, but begged for time because of its sensitivity. They reported:

"...at this time there are well founded possibilities of beginning to function properly, with the support of our friends, overcoming the difficulties which arose in past months and which today seem feasible of being completely eliminated."

A memorandum from Alberto FERNANDEZ was included and a "sum in cash" was promised.(123) Such a reply to an appeal for unity from PBRUMEN to the UR in exile would appear to be somewhat anachronistic since this group had disassociated itself from the officially re-established UR some three months before. Preceding the promise to send cash to the UR in PBRUMEN was the remark "You must realize how anxious we are to begin being useful to you," which tends to corroborate CAVADA's reports to "Mr. Peters" that ZAYAS, FERNANDEZ and Co. had not been interested in or had not actively engaged in providing effective support to the UR resistance in PBRUMEN. The memorandum from Alberto FERNANDEZ contained a repetition of the SANCHEZ April request for exfil of the Military Coordinator. It also requested intelligence on uniforms, weapons, ID cards, etc. carried by the Rebel Army and militiamen, and confirmation of reception points.

The report promised by LOPEZ and MIYARES was sent 28 June 1962. It stated that no funds had been embezzled; that they had received $10,000 pesos twice and had sent them to PBRUMEN; it included a request that a delegation in exile be appointed by the UR in PBRUMEN, but that the writers not be considered for any position as they had to earn a living and had no time for UR activity.(143) In the following 12 days LOPEZ and MIYARES contacted Alberto FERNANDEZ and their next letter to PBRUMEN (10 July) stated the situation had changed and that there was now a good chance of getting help from "the friends" through FERNANDEZ. LOPEZ informed ALVAREZ in PBRUMEN that $1,000 (8700 pesos) had just been obtained from "the friends" and forwarded. He also stated he had changed his mind and would work for the UR in exile if the JNR delegate for UR in PBRIME were Alberto FERNANDEZ. He further recommended that ALVAREZ name a provisional delegation of UR in exile made up of himself (LOPEZ), MIYARES, Vicente RODRIGUEZ and FERNANDEZ.(143) This communication could not be considered contributive to UR unity in PBRIME.

During the period covered by this correspondence, JMWAVE was also in contact with GARCIA Oller, attempting to establish an intelligence net by exploiting his channel to the UR in PBRUMEN. He had submitted an extensive plan to his C/O which described in detail the organization of this net and named assets to be utilized throughout PBRUMEN to make it function. He claimed the net had already been partially established and was operating to a limited extent. As an interim payment he was advanced $500.00 which he managed to exchange at 10-1 and forwarded 20 June 1962 to SOCARRAS, Coordinator for Transport/Supply, and QUINTERO, Coordinator for Liaison/Contacts. (173) The pesos were received by these contacts in PBRUMEN on 25 June. (127) On 26 June GARCIA informed his C/O that he planned to ask the UR in PBRUMEN for approval of his intended use of SOCARRAS and QUINTERO, but that these men would follow his direction whether or not such approval were received.

GARCIA Oller was instructed to point out that this money was for use only in connection with establishment of the intelligence net, and when he urged that money also be sent for UR activity he was told that other funds ($10,000 pesos) for UR operational use would be sent by Alberto FERNANDEZ via LOPEZ and MIYARES. GARCIA stated this would confuse UR leaders inside, since LOPEZ and MIYARES were of the "old UR" group, headed by ZAYAS and SANCHEZ, and that he had reported they were no longer connected with KUBARK, but in disfavor (which was true). He did not include FERNANDEZ in this group. (173) As it turned out, his fears were unfounded. The UR in PBRUMEN received the 28 June letter from LOPEZ and in a document dated 3 July 1962 responded by appointing GARCIA Oller as extraordinary delegate of UR with orders to reorganize the exile element within 30 days and report the result to PBRUMEN. Only the best, most qualified and sincerest persons were to be selected for the Executive. He was further designated UR representative to the Junta Nacional Revolucionaria (JNR) in PEPRIME, also effective 3 July. (127) (The JNR is described in Part III, below). Another document sent with that containing the vote of confidence from PBRUMEN to GARCIA Oller informed him that the UR National Coordinator, Sergio FUENTEFRIA (DANIEL), had been deposed for malfeasance in office and was in asylum in the Uruguayan Embassy; and that ZAYAS and SANCHEZ were dismissed from the UR for actions contrary to its interest. (127)

GARCIA Oller was actually out of town when these documents from PBRUMEN arrived, but returned on 18 July and immediately reported their receipt to his KUBARK C/O. By 25 July he had notified major exile movements of his position as Delegate Extraordinary, of appointment of an Advisory Committee to execute the reorganization of UR in exile, and of the immediate inefficacy of all former members of the UR General Board of Directors. He also stated that the new UR Dirigentes would be selected from Coordinators whose organizations were active in PBRUMEN, or who were personally active in the resistance prior to their arrival in PEPRIME. (139)

Timing of GARCIA Oller's receipt of these documents could not have been more salutary from the standpoint of achieving the aims of UR in PBRUMEN anent the UR in exile. On 14 July 1962 the Junta of Representatives was called into session by TORRIENTE with the object of expelling the RODRIGUEZ Espada faction from the UR. (31) During this meeting, Mario SEIGLIE challenged the authenticity of the document used by TORRIENTE as proof that he was the exile delegate of several UR affiliated organizations. SEIGLIE maintained that TORRIENTE could legally be considered as representing only the UND (20th of May), the organization which his brother Cosme de la TORRIENTE had established in PBRUMEN prior to his arrest. He claimed the true story of the document utilized by Jose de la TORRIENTE was learned from CCC Coordinator Maria Teresa RODRIGUEZ Valdes (TETE), then a recent arrival in the JMWAVE area from PBRUMEN. (137) SEIGLIE further maintained that TORRIENTE could represent UND only if he were able to prove the existence of the organization under his direction. (31)

Juan MEDINA left, then General Secretary of UR in exile, defended TORRIENTE and the matter was not resolved. Supporters of TORRIENTE reacted by assembling an alleged quorum of the Junta of Representatives on 20 July, at which TORRIENTE offered his resignation. Three organizations were represented. The resignation was refused. The document he possessed was declared authentic. It was moved and voted in the affirmative that the following be expelled from UR: RODRIGUEZ Espada, SEIGLIE, Reinaldo MIYARES, CAVADA, Bertha FERRER, and the organization UNL.(137) RODRIGUEZ Espada was notified in writing of this action 23 July 1962.(131) With GARCIA Oller's notice to the exile community on 25 July, which in effect dissolved the existing UR in PBRUME, the parliamentary exercise by TORRIENTE was nullified, but it became clear as time passed that TORRIENTE was not to be convinced. In a formal session called by the "re-organized" TORRIENTE faction of UR on 18 September 1962, this action was repeated for the record and the list of expellees expanded to include: GARCIA Oller, Eduardo SOTOLONGO, Carlos SUAREZ Melero and Maria Teresa RODRIGUEZ.(190)

Commenting on the future of UR in exile and the likelihood of achieving any real unity, AVDENIM-1 reported on 20 July 1962 that Miguel LOPEZ, Vicente RODRIGUEZ and others would never be "willing to line up" with GARCIA Oller, RODRIGUEZ Espada "and similar group." He added that if it were possible to obtain any kind of unity, it would be difficult to get UR to enter AMBUD, unless the AMBUD position were changed considerably and it devoted more attention to clandestine operations against PBRUMEN.(132)

Continuing his efforts to organize an improved intelligence net in PBRUMEN, GARCIA Oller on 19 July replied to a letter he had received from SOTOLONGO who was then in the Panamanian Embassy, asking the latter to put "the people operating the radio" in touch with SOCARRAS and QUINTERO. He also advised SOTOLONGO to integrate his organization (Accion 62) with the UR and assure that it is in touch with the UR, "as they are the ones who are going to receive the equipment there in PBRUMEN." SOTOLONGO had asked GARCIA if he could provide any assistance to Arnoldo MARTINEZ, the guerrilla leader in Las Villas Province (second cousin to SOTOLONGO). GARCIA referred him to SOCARRAS and QUINTERO for monetary support for MARTINEZ, until such time as "equipment" could be delivered.(128)

On 21 July GARCIA Oller wrote to General Coordinator ALVAREZ (ROBERTO) and the National Executive of UR in PBRUMEN (via diplomatic pouch) and expressed his gratitude for the vote of confidence they had given him. He stated the re-organization of the Executive would begin "next week." He promised to contact Miguel LOPEZ and Boris MIYARES to see if they would represent UR in Santo Domingo, "as they're going there." His plans included establishment of UR delegations in other countries, one purpose of which was to collect money to augment UR income. Several requests were included in GARCIA's letter: to work on establishing radio contact; to send data on maritime reception points; to send copies of propaganda produced by UR in PBRUMEN.(133)

The exile community in general, and a number of counterrevolutionary organizations in particular became more restive in July and August 1962. One result of the "action complex" which seemed to be growing was the DRE raid on Habana on 24 August. Possibly owing to frustration over ODYOKE and AMBUD policy re PBRUMEN, this tendency toward independent action for a time led to moves toward exile unity, with organized groups recruiting other groups and "calls to unity" being issued. One meeting of 12 groups was announced for Sunday, 12 August, at Saint Patrick's Academy in the ZRMETAL area; the UR was listed as one of the organizations participating.(145) Nothing further was learned of the outcome of this meeting, but the UR connection was probably nothing more than attendance by Enrique COVANTES, described as UR representative in the ZRMETAL area.(29)

At the end of July 1962 the ALC (Alianza para la Libertad de Cuba) became more active and formed an Executive Committee. President Genaro CAMPOS Marquette and Vice-president Justo Luis del POZO y del Puerto visited the UR offices on 31 July 1962 and spoke to Reinaldo MIYARES. They stated their visit was a courtesy call, but that they wished to take the opportunity to invite UR to unite with ALC (described as pro-Batista). MIYARES declined and informed his visitors that UR was a revolutionary organization already working for the liberty of PBRUMEN. POZO replied he knew the UR and "would be pleased if the ALC were permitted to go alongside the UR as soldiers fighting for the liberation of PBRUMEN." (138) No further information regarding this approach is available.

Another approach to UR was made by UNIR leader Esteban Aquiles MORRERA. In late June 1962, UR member Ramon ARECHAVELETA Calvo had brought MORRERA to meet CAVADA and RODRIGUEZ Espada to discuss support for a revolt in PBRUMEN to be attempted without ODYOKE, KUBARK or AMBUD participation or knowledge. The object was to force ODYOKE into action after UNIR and others had gained a foothold in PBRUMEN as a result of the revolt they planned to incite. (49) The UR leaders declined, but MORRERA returned on 14 August and offered them leading posts in UNIR. MORRERA told of travels to New York and Washington, interviews with Congressmen (most impressed by Sen. SMATHERS), PBRUMEN business leaders (mentioned Julio LOBO), and his success in obtaining a promise from Carlos MARQUEZ Sterling to come to the JMWAVE area to head an anti-AMBUD organization which MORRERA would attempt to organize. If the UR leaders did not want to accept prominent posts in UNIR, MORRERA requested they consider merging UR, UNIR and other groups into a type of combined organization. (48) To date, neither of these proposals has materialized.

Late in August former MRP leader Manolo RAY was discussing formation of a new, strong, revolutionary "unity" group in Puerto Rico. He arrived in the JMWAVE area for meetings early in September. Among organizations allegedly to be included were the UR, MRR, MRP, 30 November, MRRC, MAPA and the Huber MATOS group. RAY was reported to have "an ally in the White House" who had assured him that if a purely revolutionary organization were created "it would be heard and heeded for major engagements." He was said to have been advised further that even if ODYOKE acted "positively" towards PBRUMEN, such a new group would have to be taken into consideration because it would control "the workers and the mass population." (225) These efforts led to the emergence of "JURE" but by no means did it actually include UR and the major organizations named. The UR cannot be considered as sympathetic to RAY, and if any part of UR were associated with "JURE" it would be little more than some minor faction. There is no evidence to indicate that RAY has received support from any UR faction.

Mention of UR in connection with the new "JURE" can lead to confusion since this was actually the short title selected at the UR re-organization meeting in February 1962 as a designation for the exile element. Though recorded in the minutes of that meeting, the title was never used thereafter. (The initials stood for Junta de Unidad Revolucionaria en el Exilio). (197) There is one possible explanation for "JURE" hope of gaining UR support. Among those mentioned as leaders of this new group was Justo CARRILLO of Agrupacion Montecristi. AMTAUP-1 reported in July 1962 that CARRILLO had given monetary aid to Juan MEDINA Vega of Accion Cubana, an organization affiliated with UR since its founding. (141) MEDINA was then General Secretary of UR. CARRILLO may have felt his influence with MEDINA was strong enough to bring about UR entry into "JURE".

Employing the peculiar gyration of political conscience common to the exile community, UR dissident leader TORRIENTE published a unity appeal on 8 September 1962 to all PBRUMEN exiles to join the UR in the fight against Sino-Soviet domination of PBRUMEN.

invoking its Patron Saint to work another miracle to enable the nation to regain its lost freedom. The appeal was signed by TORRIENTE and MEDINA and listed the names of 14 organizations which were alleged to comprise the UR. The title assumed by TORRIENTE was "Presidente Asamblea de Coordinadores" and MEDINA was listed as "Secretario General." (154) The revolutionary organizations listed as members of TORRIENTE's UR were:

AC	Accion Cubana
BOAC	Block Obrero Anti-Comunista Cubana
DM	Democrata Martiano
FAC	Frente Anti-Comunista
FEU	Federacion Estudiantil Universitaria
GRUPAC	Grupo Revolucionario Unidad Profesional Anti-Comunista
SAC	Salve a Cuba
UCAL	Union Cubana de Accion Libertadora
MDC	Movimiento Democratico Constitucional
MRL	Movimiento Revolucionario de Liberacion
MAR	Movimiento Anti-Comunista Revolucionario
UND	Union Nacional Democratica (20 de Mayo)
ONLAC	Organizacion Nacional de Liberacion Anti-Comunista
UDC	Union Democratica Cubana

This was a clear indication that TORRIENTE planned to continue actively as head of this UR faction and to ignore the authority granted GARCIA Oller by the National Executive of UR in PBRUMEN. AMCHEER-1 had reported in August 1962 that TORRIENTE was also active in the exile community in his capacity as Chairman of the International Rescue Committee in the Refugee Emergency Center. He was said to be in contact with U.S. Senators to whom he reported results of investigations he is requested to conduct. Julio de QUESADA was said to be working actively with TORRIENTE on these investigations. It was further stated that TORRIENTE reported to the President of the Supreme Court of the State of Colorado; that he is in touch with the John Birch Society; and that he is arranging a reporting channel to the Intelligence Digest. (144)

Officers serving on the Board of Directors of the TORRIENTE faction of UR on 19 September 1962 were: (194)

President	: Jose E. de la TORRIENTE	UND

Secy. for Military Aff.	: Elio TAMAYO	UCAL
Secy. for Intelligence	: Juan HUARTE	ML

AMBUD-1 in September 1962 appointed Raul MENDEZ Pirez to report on factionalism in the UR. AMCHEER-1 reported in mid-September that Julio de QUESADA had informed him that TORRIENTE was told to indicate by 24 September whether or not his UR faction would join AMBUD in accordance with AMBUD-1's offer. QUESADA also said that TORRIENTE followers did not understand why KUBARK would support the "small group which doesn't represent anyone, has no members, and doesn't have the representation of the movements which they claim to have." AMCHEER-1 inquired as to the possibility of uniting the two UR factions for "the good of the country, etc." QUESADA stated this was possible "if the expelled individuals and dissidents came to them, but he never believed their UR would go to the others because it was immoral." QUESADA added that he, personally, would resign from UR if the TORRIENTE faction joined AMBUD.(196) In a letter to AMBUD dated 19 September 1962, TORRIENTE and MEDINA (signatories) replied to "the request made by AMBUD-1 through Dr. Raul MENDEZ Pirez" by giving a brief history of the UR, reasons for recently having expelled certain members, and accusing GARCIA Oller of having "lent himself to the making of false documents." The letter included the following remarks regarding entry into AMBUD:(196)

"...we have appreciated the invitation made by AMBUD-1 on a visit by Jose E. de la TORRIENTE and Dr. Juan MEDINA Vega, respectively President and Secretary of the UR. This offer was accepted in principle by the UR Coordinators' Assembly last night, as in agreement with our ideological principles, we believe that PBRUMENs should not only unite in the political sense, but also in the military, because the bitter hour which we are living is for war."

This reply to AMBUD-1 may have been expedited following publication in Diario Las Americas on 16 September of an appeal to all exiles by Jose F. RODRIGUEZ Espada to join UR in the fight for liberation of PBRUMEN. He signed as Secretary General. The appeal included an announcement of the reorganization of UR in exile based on the vote of confidence given to Salvador GARCIA Oller by UR in PBRUMEN. It listed new officers selected on the basis of stipulations of the National Executive in PBRUMEN: that all be former members of the underground, dedicated and well-qualified.(156)

JMWAVE officers had initiated operational contact with RODRIGUEZ Espada on 17 August 1962 to establish the re-organized UR overt mechanism as cover for compartmented FI and PM operations.(147) Discussions had previously been held with CAVADA and GARCIA Oller concerning selection of an Executive Board. RODRIGUEZ Espada was the unanimous choice for the post of Secretary General.(148) The list of UR officers suggested by JMWAVE and the idea of combining certain posts to produce a small, efficient Executive Board proved to be acceptable to the new Secretary General at the 17 August meeting. It was pointed out to RODRIGUEZ Espada that the UR in exile would function primarily in the field of political action and propaganda; clandestine activity in support of UR in PBRUMEN and KUTUBE operations would be sponsored on a compartmented basis by various KUBARK elements. While the Secretary General would be informed of the broad outline of UR clandestine activities, he would not necessarily know the details.(147) See Attachment B for operational summary of JMWAVE contact with UR.

At the 17 August meeting it was pointed out to RODRIGUEZ Espada that JMWAVE planned UR entry into AMBUD, with much publicity, in the hope that such a move would strengthen AMBUD and instigate a general unity tendency among exile groups. At this point he indicated that UR would enter AMBUD if necessary, but that this was only because KUBARK wished it. (As it developed, the 30 November AMBUD delegate threatened to resign if only one UR faction were admitted; UR entry is now in abeyance. RODRIGUEZ Espada submitted a paper on his own concept of how AMBUD might function more effectively. In essence it stated:(147)

- 1) ODYOKE would not deal with any PBRUMEN group except through AMBUD;
- 2) an appeal for aid by any PBRUMEN group to any ODYOKE element would be referred to AMBUD;
- 3) each request for aid would receive initial screening by a qualified AMBUD panel;
- 4) after receiving AMBUD recommendations, ODYOKE would decide whether or not to grant the aid, and if affirmative, the amount and the manner in which given.

A few weeks later the new UR offices were opened at 10-12 S.E. 9th Street. The unity appeal was dated 15 September and appeared in print the following day. The first issue of the official UR organ, Unidad, was published on 10 November 1962. (188) One resolve of the new UR was to stop the practice of listing the names of its affiliated organizations. As Mario SEIGLIE pointed out, there seemed to be a competition in the exile community as to which organization could claim support of the largest number of exile groups. The UR wanted no part of this meaningless exercise; its members were to work together in the name of UR. (155) The Executive Board of the re-organized UR in September 1962 was reported as follows: (194)

Secretary General	: Jose F. RODRIGUEZ Espada
Military Affairs	: Eduardo SOTOLONGO Medina
Naval Section	: Antonio ORDONEZ Hernandez
Naval Section	: Francisco CASTELLVI Padro
Intelligence, Transport, Communications	: Salvador O. GARCIA Oller
Finances	: Reinaldo MIYARES Lopez
Propaganda	: Carlos SUAREZ Melero
Political, Economic and Professional Sectors	: Mario SEIGLIE Montoro
Foreign Relations	: Fernando F. CAVADA Paris
Feminine Sector	: Maria Teresa RODRIGUEZ Valdes
Minutes, Liaison, and General Matters	: Bertha FERRER Paysan

In a report to his C/O on 26 July 1962 GARCIA Oller had described the leading members of UR to be considered for positions on this new Executive Board. He also indicated availability to UR for clandestine operations of three boats owned by Marcos DIAZ Lanz "because of the friendship existing between us." In the field of propaganda, he said that Norman DIAZ of "Radio Reloj" is a friend of RODRIGUEZ Espada; that Miguel RODRIGUEZ Cailliet has many contacts in Diario las Americas; and that Fernando CAVADA receives "all the support he needs" from the "PBRUMEN Freedom Committee." (47)

Other exile organizations subsequently indicated a desire to join the new UR. Ricardo ALVAREZ Tunon of "Rescate Libre" informed GARCIA Oller in mid-October that he wanted to affiliate with UR and make a public announcement of the move. (171) The General Coordinator of the organization "La Cruz," Jesus GONZALEZ Cartas, claimed his group numbered more than 100 men and offered them to RODRIGUEZ Espada in October 1962 for use in some Latin American country (preferably Mexico), to counter Communist activity of all kinds, using force where necessary. (105)

Regular communication between GARCIA Oller and the General Coordinator of UR in PBRUMEN has been maintained from July 1962 to the present via Embassy contacts and diplomatic pouch from the JMWAVE area through cutouts in PBRUMEN. (Current JMWAVE operational plans involving the UR are reported in Attachment B.) The Action and Sabotage Coordinator of UR, Manuel VIERA Rodriguez (aka: MARIO) arrived in PDPRIME via JMWAVE maritime assets on 28 August 1962 and has been trained by PM for eventual infiltration to establish W/T and maritime communications and for positive intelligence collection missions. (63) On his arrival in PDPRIME, VIERA turned over to JMWAVE an intelligence report dated 10 August from Coordinator ALVAREZ written to GARCIA Oller (OCTAVIO) concerning Soviet cargoes off-loaded at PBRUMEN ports at the end of July and in early August 1962. (64) During his debriefing, VIERA made a remark which contradicted a statement in the letter from ALVAREZ to LOPEZ and MIYARES in June 1962. He stated that the UR in PBRUMEN follows the direction of UR leaders in exile because it is dependent upon them entirely for support. (63) For information on UR activity, and claimed assets in PBRUMEN, see Part III, below.

While Part II of this Attachment has presented information on UR activity in PBPRIME, it should be noted to avoid confusion that the name UR is used by opposition groups having no connection with the TORRIENTE or RODRIGUEZ Espada factions of the UR described in this study. Attachment F to this Dispatch contains names of organizations with abbreviated titles which include the "UR" initials. At least two organizations, however, actually use the name Unidad Revolucionaria. One of these is headed by former Batista Senator Rolando MASFERRER Rojas and was reported in August 1962 to be located in offices at 600 West 136th Street, Apartment 6E, New York City. This group was first named Un Rifle (UR), or Un Rifle Cada Cubano (URCC), claiming as its objective to supply a rifle to every citizen for use in the underground. (165) The UR abbreviation was probably not intended to be misleading, but uninformed exiles believed it stood for the familiar Unidad Revolucionaria. They were not corrected by MASFERRER; on the contrary, he adopted the title. (195) Another organization using the name Unidad Revolucionaria was located in Tampa, included nine small, loosely organized groups in April 1962, and was headed by Manuel MARTIN Benito (aka: Dan MARTIN). PART III

Status and Assets in PBRUMEN

A. General

Background data on the founding and early history of UR in PBRUMEN was reported in Part I above and will not be repeated here. It should be noted, however, in evaluating UR claims re Provincial contacts and assets, that UR was said to have been organized in answer to the appeal by resistance members in the Provinces to unite the numerous opposition groups and pool resources, thus creating a more effective underground. (88) The mass arrests throughout PBRUMEN in April 1961 completely disoriented UR member organizations and clandestine communications. Asylees such as GARCIA Oller, RODRIGUEZ Espada, Capt. SOTOLONGO and others attempted to re-organize UR and maintain its contacts in the Provinces. (26) There was little contact with "delegates" in PBPRIME for months, as indicated by GARCIA Oller's message to Hector FEBLES in November 1961 via Lazaro RODRIGUEZ Moya, an asylee who left PBRUMEN at that time. (201) GARCIA apparently was unaware that Andres ZAYAS had taken over direction of UR in exile in August 1961. An exile source familiar with UR activity in PBPRIME reported in March 1962 that communications between internal and exile UR elements had been "almost non-existent during the past several months". (8)

Though much of the direction of UR in PBRUMEN after April 1961 came from asylees who were formerly its leaders, nominal members of the Ejecutivo were reported by AMGLAD-4 in November 1961 as follows: (103)

General Coordinator	:	Sergio FUENTEFRIA Faxas
Territorial Coordinator	:	Bernardo ALVAREZ
Civil Coordinator	:	Vacant
Military Coordinator	:	Rafael LEON Alvarez

Communications	: (fnu) LUGO and Vicente RODRIGUEZ
Finance Coordinator	: Gabino VALCARCEL
Transportation	: (Vicente SOCARRAS) ⁰⁶
Supply Coordinator	: (Rolando BASULTO Jover) ⁰⁶
Action and Sabotage	: "OTTO"
Coordinator, La Cabana	: Miguel LOPEZ

For operational reasons this Executive Board was not composed of representatives of all UR affiliated organizations as was attempted in selecting the board in PBPRIME.(197) As for its operational achievements in the resistance, until more frequent communication with PBPRIME was established in the spring of 1962, little was reported concerning UR activity in PBRUMEN. Subsequent reports on the composition of the PBRUMEN Executive Board were not available until April 1962.

An incident occurred in June 1961 involving the alleged ransom of Robert M. GEDDES, who had served as a contact between KUBARK and the UR. The UK Embassy first learned on 31 May 1961 that GEDDES had escaped from G-2 while en route to a doctor's office for medical attention. He was said to be in the company of a militiaman who was promised a large sum of money for helping GEDDES to escape. The same day the Embassy was visited by a Dr. (fnu) MAURI and Prof. Jose M. BOLANOS of Habana University, who reported that one GONZALEZ (probably Enrique GONZALEZ, friend of GEDDES and employee of Pepsi Cola) wanted the Embassy to grant asylum to GEDDES and the militiaman. The Embassy stated it could not "engage in activities of an irregular nature".(11) On 1 June GEDDES called the Embassy and said he was safe but he did not know for how long. He said a letter would be delivered to the Embassy in a few hours which would explain the entire transaction. This letter was delivered (hand-writing was that of GEDDES) and it contained a request that $15,000 or the equivalent in pounds sterling be turned over to a third party from the Embassy, and that this sum "would be guaranteed by either his wife or KENDALL of Pepsi Cola in New York City." The letter asked that the transaction be completed within 24 hours and added that the militiaman must be granted asylum by the Embassy. On 2 June another letter was delivered to the Embassy from GEDDES via Julio VILLANUEVA (a local attorney for Pepsi Cola) again urging that the money be turned over as requested. VILLANUEVA returned to the Embassy on 5 June and said Mrs. GEDDES in PBPRIME had put up the equivalent of 25,000 pesos and that the money would possibly be turned over that night to a "man from GONZALEZ." The Embassy again refused to grant asylum to the militiaman.(11)

Mrs. GEDDES' involvement in the case began with a phone call on 3 June from Mrs. VILLANUEVA, after which she contacted a Luba SRULMAN in the JMWAVE area to whom she was to pass $6000. Mrs. GEDDES insisted on assurances from SRULMAN that GEDDES would be released on payment of the money, whereupon SRULMAN declined to have anything to do with the matter. (Luba SRULMAN was said to have separated from her husband, Max TUCHMAN, who was at this time in Habana, but later arrived in the JMWAVE area in September 1961). On 4 June Mrs. GEDDES contacted Mrs. VILLANUEVA and asked that another intermediary be named since SRULMAN was uncooperative.(11) Mrs. VILLANUEVA instructed Mrs. GEDDES on 5 June to turn the money over to Isaac MONCARZ, also in the JMWAVE area.(12) The money exchange aspect began, according to Max TUCHMAN, about 1 June in PBRUMEN when he was approached by Eusebio F. CORBEA, a manufacturer's representative, who was attempting to exchange 30,000 pesos for $6000 for himself and two other parties. TUCHMAN said he would negotiate the deal and then telephoned his wife in the JMWAVE area. After contact with Mrs. GEDDES (who demanded a written guarantee of her husband's release in PBRUMEN) TUCHMAN's wife refused to be involved in the deal. It was then completed through Isaac MONCARZ, whom TUCHMAN contacted through Mrs. MONCARZ.(12)

ATTACHMENT A

On the morning of 7 June 1961, Mrs. Yul Maria TORRES visited the UK Embassy and reported that GEDDES, VILLANUEVA, GONZALEZ, "ELENA" and "everyone" had been arrested by G-2 on the evening of 6 June after the money had been turned over. ("ELENA" was probably Elena POLGAR, a secretary of Pepsi Cola in PBRUMEN). An ODENVY source subsequently reported he had learned the ransom attempt had been a plot to expose members of the UR underground in PBRUMEN and that during the escape attempt GEDDES had been under control of G-2. A number of GEDDES' friends and members of UR were arrested because of their exposure while attempting to gain his release. (11:12) It was reported in late September 1961 that Robert Morton GEDDES had been tried and sentenced to 30 years in prison for coordinating subversive activity while acting as a link between revolutionary groups and KUBARK. (10) GEDDES was allegedly being held in La Cabana prison. He was released in February 1963 through efforts of UK Embassy and arrived in PBPRIME via Mexico City. (181) Mrs. GEDDES resides in PBPRIME.

Naval Resistance Group. Any consideration of UR assets in PBRUMEN must inevitably include reference to a group of naval personnel, deeply anti-Communist, who became affiliated with the UR through contact with its General Coordinator in November 1961. This group had first contacted the PBPRIME Consulate in Santiago de Cuba where they were referred to the MRR Coordinator in Habana, who then referred them to the UR Coordinator. (55) The naval group began organizing clandestinely as early as July 1960 at the instigation of Juan F. CASTELLVI Padro and Pedro H. CASTRO Ramirez. It was not originally opposed to AMTHUG-1, but reacted unanimously in opposition to Communist indoctrination classes which had been started in March 1960 throughout PBRUMEN naval units. Its original goals were not to engage in clandestine activity or espionage, but to maintain unity in resisting Communist indoctrination among naval officers, with some vague notion of possible future mass defection or political action. (27)

The object in joining UR was to obtain a communications channel to ODYOKE, and financial support. An organization chart of the UR naval resistance group is contained in UFGA 4532 of 25 June 1962. The naval group was to have its own Coordinator on the UR Executive Board. As an organization, it already had three coordinators: one for PBRUMEN Navy contacts, one for merchant marine contacts, and one for contacts among shore-based personnel of the Navy and merchant marine. CASTELLVI submitted a partial list of 26 naval and merchant marine officers who were members of the resistance group. Names of harbor pilots who were members of this group were listed for all major PBRUMEN harbors. Names of 13 merchant vessels were furnished with crew members belonging to this UR group. CASTELLVI stated in June 1962 that he had not been in touch with the naval resistance group for some time and could not give firm figures on its strength. He claimed that in April 1961 the group had numbered about 70 officers and some 325 enlisted men, "all navy". Asked to give conservative estimates on its current strength (June 1962) in all three categories, he arrived at the figure of 75 officers and 100 enlisted men, but said he was unable to estimate the enlisted strength at numerous installations. (27)

The naval resistance group attempted to defect the Frigate MAXIMO GOMEZ in April 1961, but a civilian group permitted by Lt. Cdr. Gonzalo MIRANDA to participate in the action was penetrated, and the attempt failed. MIRANDA and others were arrested. (55) Another defection plan was reported in May 1962 by

Antonio ORDONEZ Hernandez, brother-in-law of CASTELLVI. This plan involved two frigates and "as many patrol boats as possible." The vessels were to break for the open seas at sunset of a given day and make for a pre-determined key or small island where they would establish a base and a Government-in-exile. The next step would be to declare war on AMTHUG-1 and blockade the island. The state of belligerence would result in a cancellation of maritime insurance on commercial vessels travelling to PBRUMEN. This plan presumed ODYOKE support and coordination in several aspects, including initial protection for the fleeing defected vessels. Certain simultaneous actions would be taken by UR and other resistance groups in PBRUMEN to begin the day following defection, primarily involving sabotage, arson and guerrilla warfare. ORDONEZ stated the UR would utilize its contacts in the Militia and the Rebel Army to incite members of these forces to join the guerrillas. No help was expected from the Rebel Air Force. (59) While a plan of such dimension would involve major ODYOKE policy decisions, the specific assets of the naval resistance group noted by CASTELLVI, ORDONEZ and others are considerable and appear to contain a number of potentially viable targets. They include naval and merchant marine vessels and shore installations, Lineas Mambisas offices, the naval general staff, etc. (27) (Luis CASAS Campa) of the UR naval group reported to ORDONEZ on procedures followed in off loading Soviet Bloc vessels carrying munitions to Habana: prior to off loading, the vessel is towed to a dry dock and divers sent down to check for mine or limpets on the hull, after which the area is cleared of all PBRUMEN nationals and the vessels off loaded by Soviet personnel. (24) (CASAS) (KUBARK asset) claims one of the divers who conducts such inspections is a UR contact. (59)

The Chief of the Shipping and Coastal Intelligence Section of UR, debriefed in April 1962 at CAC, indicated the following as examples of information compiled by the UR: (109)

Soviet ship docked at Mariel, Mar 62, off loaded 40 tanks which sent to Las Villas Province.

Ship Bahia de Nipe delivered arms and ammo to FLN rebels, off loading in Morocco; same ship on another voyage delivered propaganda material to British Guiana and arms to Ecuador.

PBRUMEN private property, e.g., good furniture, paintings, is shipped to the USSR on Soviet ships.

Soviets delivered 10-12 torpedo boats to Mariel.

A PBRUMEN maritime EW system uses fishing boats about 20 miles apart from PBRUMEN to Key West and westward along coast of Pinar del Rio; all sightings of ships and planes are reported to Hqs in Habana by a special code; copy of the code held by a UR man in Habana.

Soviet ships arriving in PBRUMEN carry a double crew; one remains in Habana, activity unknown, but observed often in the dock areas.

Former UR Military and Naval Coordinator Luis PINO Couto was debriefed in the JMWAVE area in November 1962 and stated that few UR contacts remain on surface vessels of the navy since most "old navy" personnel have either been dismissed or transferred to other posts ashore or to various government offices. He listed the following among current UR assets: (217)

Mariel Naval Academy - Unstated number of contacts

Mariel Naval Base - 1 Officer, 4 radio operators, 38 men of the garrison of 500; 2 drivers of gasoline trucks supplying fuel for PT boats.

Casablanca Arsenal (Habana) - 1 Officer, 30 men of the 200 in the garrison.

Casablanca Observatory (Habana) - 1 Officer, 5 men of 20 at the Observatory.

Unstated number of contacts at:

El Morro (Special Unit)
Cojimar Naval Post
Guanabo Naval Post
Santa Cruz del Norte Naval Post
Matanzas Naval Post
Cardenas Naval Post

80% of the ex-naval personnel in Habana

Non-naval personnel in Habana (crew members of tugs, tankers, barges, etc.)

Courier channels in the port of Habana "97% secure"

Former army and navy personnel in Pinar del Rio Province
Los Palacios; 120 men

Former military personnel in Matanzas Province

Pedro Betancourt; 750 men (prepared air drop zone)

Cardenas; 170 men

Contact with Chief of Police, Habana, with control of seven stations in the capital "ready to deliver weapons"

Information on the naval resistance group which dated back to March or April 1962 was provided in a September debriefing of Abelardo Rene PUJOL Barrera, former PBRUMEN merchant marine captain who defected and has since resided in PBRIME and Canada. PUJOL was often called in Montreal by his friends in the merchant marine, whom he now believes to be assigned to ships sailing between Mexico and PBRUMEN. He stated it would be no problem to use these contacts to pass "articles" in and out of PBRUMEN. He cited the following officers as close friends: (112)

- 06.06 (Capt. CAJARAVILLE, First Machinist) on Bahia de Matanzas
- 06.06 (Lt. GUZMAN (and brother), Captain) of the Bahia de Cuba
- 06 (Lt. LUNA, officer on board Frucuba
- 06 (Lt. LOYOLA, assigned to office of Lineas Mambisas, Habana
- 06 (Lt. Armando BLANCO Boix, officer aboard Pinar del Rio
- 06.06 (Capt. MIRANDA, captain) of Sierra Maestra
- 06 (Capt. Juan PLANELL, serving aboard Frucuba

Former UR Military Coordinator PINO Couto was asked in October 1962 for data on foreign ports at which members of the naval resistance group aboard merchant ships may be contacted. He stated the most frequent ports of call were St. John's and Halifax in Canada, and that these ports would be best for making contact. He also listed Bremen and Hamburg in West Germany, Liverpool in England, and Antwerp in Belgium. Other than the Canadian ports, he said about three ships per month could be expected at these ports. Calls at the Canadian ports would be more frequent. (182) According to PINO, any member of the UR naval resistance group in PBRUMEN may be contacted by approaching any Captain, First Officer or Chief Engineer of any foreign merchant ship, including oil tankers (preferably Greek merchant ships) in any port outside PBRUMEN, asking the officer to deliver the message or package by proceeding as follows: on arrival in the port of Habana, the officer requests water for the ship after 1700 hours. This is a signal to (Jose Miguel ADUL, in charge) of Empresa Consolidada de Consignatarias y Terminales Mambisas, to go aboard the ship. Ten of ADUL's 12 assistants are opposed to AMTHUG-1 and one of these men may go aboard instead. If this happens, he should be told that the officer wishes to see (Jose Miguel ADUL). When contact with ADUL is made, the officer is to say he has a message from PINO. The message or package is then passed from ADUL to (Mario RIVERO), reported in August 1962 as Chief of the UR Naval Intelligence section, who maintains contact with members of the naval resistance group in the Provinces of Pinar del Rio, Habana and Matanzas. (182) PINO Couto also suggested use of Gabriel ALBUERNE Fernandez, former member of the naval resistance group now in the JMWAVE area (KUBARK developmental asset), as a courier by making him a crew member aboard a ship putting into Habana.

ODOATH Contact with UR. The founders of the UR naval resistance group, CASTELLVI and (CASTRO Ramirez) established contact with ODOATH by entering YOACRE clandestinely in November 1961. ODOATH promised these men "all-out support and assistance." (34) More specifically, they were to be provided with small arms, explosives and demolition equipment for sabotage work. This equipment was not at YOACRE and would take some time to obtain, but the UR was to prepare maritime reception plans and the equipment would then be provided via PBRUMEN fishing boats which were to meet PBPRIME vessels off the coast. The UR did not have maritime assets and a meeting was arranged with Javier NAVARRETE, described as a subordinate of Nino DIAZ, for 26 December 1961 in Santiago de Cuba. The meeting site was raided by G-2 and NAVARRETE and CASTRO Ramirez were arrested and sentenced to 20 and 12 years, respectively. CASTELLVI, a harbor pilot, had to meet an incoming ship, was not present at the meeting, and was not exposed. (34)

Another discussion with CASTELLVI was requested by ODOATH via courier in February 1962, but "car trouble" kept CASTELLVI from keeping his meeting and he sent word to arrange for another, which eventually took place in April. From YOACRE he was said to have been flown to ZRMETAL for a week of interrogation from 14-21 April, after which he was returned to YOACRE. Manuel VIERA Rodriguez (aka: MARIO) entered YOACRE in April 1962 but did not see CASTELLVI since VIERA left on 20 April. While at YOACRE, VIERA talked to a Capt. N. YANOCHIK, USMC, who promised him equipment for use in UR operations and VIERA passed data on five maritime reception points to YANOCHIK. The equipment was promised for some time in May 1962. Recognition signals were agreed upon. (34) Nothing further is known to JMWAVE of this operation. Antonio ORDONEZ Hernandez reported in April 1962 that the UR had received requirements from ODOATH on entrance channels, water depths and wharves in Habana harbor and had passed reports to ODOATH on these subjects. (34) In April 1962 AMIFF-1 reported that a member of UR had entered YOACRE on 22 March 1962, talked to YANOCHIK about "preparation of a plan," following which documents were sent to UR members Andres ZAYAS and Boris MIYARES in PBPRIME, who were to discuss the content of these documents with ODOATH. (224)

Mail contact between CASTELLVI in PBPRIME and Edualdo PEREZ Valenzuela at YOACRE was initiated in June 1962. PEREZ was described as the leader of a 50-man resistance group at YOACRE. (120) He wrote to CASTELLVI 10 June and reported on the current situation of the group there, stating it expected shortly to establish radio contact on a regular basis with UR leaders in Habana; that it was preparing propaganda material for distribution in PBRUMEN; and that the situation looked very good for obtaining support from ODOATH, at least to the extent of training and equipping the group for instant action on "D Day." He instructed CASTELLVI to write to him via "Lt. Jack" (MODESETT) at an FPO address, with an inner envelope marked "Para Valenzuela." (121) GARCIA Oller received a report on UR activity from Bernardo ALVAREZ dated 20 July 1962 which also contained a letter to CASTELLVI, informing him that MODESETT had been replaced at YOACRE by Lt. William STAY who would pass correspondence to PEREZ Valenzuela and should be addressed at Navy 115, c/o FPO, P.O. Box 37, New York, N.Y. ALVAREZ also reported that STAY used the pseudonym "AZULITO." (136)

AMSUM-1 reported that the UR in Habana had notified YOACRE by courier in April 1962, that it wanted to establish W/T contact on a regular schedule. (27) YOACRE was advised to monitor 14,000 kcs from 0600-0830 on 15 April. Sgt. ALVAREZ, who worked for Capt. YANOCHIK, monitored the broadcast and heard a station sending test patterns, alleged to be "five-letter groups" from old ELBARK OTHs. YANOCHIK never discussed these transmissions with source, who had the impression that Sgt. ALVAREZ was told to monitor them "under the table." YOACRE passed instructions to source to notify the UR in Habana to send a particular message in their next transmission. This was done and the message was heard at YOACRE. This transmitter came up eight times during April and May 1962 sending test messages. A notification of the time of broadcast was sent via coded telegram to a UR agent in Santiago de Cuba who would then notify YOACRE by courier. ODOATH was said to have monitored and recorded these transmissions. Reception was verified by courier. The UR station was said to use a call sign beginning with X followed by three characters which source did not recall. The UR was also alleged to have delivered old copies of OTHs to YOACRE. These were believed to have been obtained from Luis TORROALLA Martin Rivera, a W/T operator who had previously worked with resistance groups but had been arrested or killed. Source stated he learned from Manuel VIERA Rodriguez (MARIO) in May 1962 at YOACRE that the UR radio was located in a cave in a wooded area near Habana, and had been built from discarded equipment by a German radio engineer in contact with UR in Habana. (27) VIERA reported in August 1962 that the UR possessed four radio sets, that it had transmitted to YOACRE but had never received an answer. He stated the UR radio operator was named (Rudy 06 BROOK) (EL ALEMAN). (63) AMSUM-2 had reported in June 1962 that UR in PBRUMEN has skilled radio operators and technicians, "one German engineer and a PBRUMEN Electric engineer who keep the equipment in good working conditions and construct new units." (55)

Courier channels to YOACRE were reported by AMSUM-2 in June 1962 when he stated they were used by UR for internal communications and contact with ODOATH. (55) AMSUM-1 stated that an efficient courier net operated from YOACRE into Oriente Province to the Baracoa area via female employees of YOACRE. He claimed a message might be sent and a reply received within 24 hours. This net was run by Alfonso GUEVARA and Maximino DELGADO, both located at YOACRE. (120)

As noted previously, the year following April 1961 was spent in assessment of damage to UR, regaining contact with resistance cells, and attempting to organize an effective National Executive. For reference purposes it should be noted that the following were included in the Executive of UR in PBRUMEN in April 1962: (55; 109; 175)

General Coordinator	:	Sergio FUENTEFRIA FAXAS (DANIEL)
Territorial Coordinator	:	Bernardo ALVAREZ (ROBERTO)
Action and Sabotage	:	Manuel VIERA Rodriguez (MARIO)
Military Coordinator	06 :	Candido CURBELO del Sol (RICARDO)
Naval Coordinator	:	Manuel CAJARAVILL Leveque (RODOLFO)
Liaison/Contacts	06 :	Reinaldo QUINTERO (FELIPE)
Intelligence Coordinator	:	Jose RODRIGUEZ (PEPE)
Finance Coordinator	:	Gabino VALCARCEL (GABI)
Supply/Transport	06 :	Vicente SOCARRAS (MARCOS)
Propaganda Coordinator	:	"GUSTAVO"
Communications	:	Pedro LOPEZ Penaranda (PEDRO)

Antonio ORDONEZ Hernandez arrived in PBPRIME in April 1962 with instructions from FUENTEFRIA to report to Andres ZAYAS and Luis SANCHEZ that the UR in PBRUMEN was in desperate need of financial support; ORDONEZ passed this message to SANCHEZ and was told no money was available; that UR in PBPRIME had to depend on contributions, which were not forthcoming. (59) Available information indicates no financial aid had been given to UR in PBRUMEN for months

06
Until GARCIA Oller arranged for delivery of $5,000. pesos to (SOCARRAS) and (QUINTERO) on 25 June for use in expanding the UR intelligence net (JMWAVE developmental); and $6,700. pesos were sent for other UR activity to General Coordinator ALVAREZ in August 1962 by FERNANDEZ, LOPEZ and MIYAKES (JMWAVE developmental). (127; 146)

Asylees and refugees arriving in PBRIME in the spring of 1962 continually mentioned UR and other organizations in the course of debriefings in the JMWAVE area. GARCIA Oller reported in April that UR was functioning and had a great deal of potential.²⁴ He said he had been active in UR operations from the (Brazilian Embassy), claimed to know internal and external communication channels, codes for various types of communications, and described an unique grenade-triggered bomb which planned to use at the proper time against the Chinese Embassy.⁽²⁶⁾ Santiago CASAMAYOR Alonso stated in March 1962 that prior to his departure from PBRUMEN he had learned from (Pedro LOPEZ Penaranda) that UR was collecting data for diagrams of the Shell and Standard Oil refineries in Habana, lists of DSE and Communist Party members, shipping data on all ports (arrivals, departure, cargo), etc.⁽⁶⁸⁾ Another source reported the following as UR sabotage targets: refineries, drydocks, water systems in Habana; the cement factory and Bacardi Rum plant in Santiago de Cuba.⁽¹⁰⁹⁾ The UR was reported to possess a low powered voice transmitter in Habana which allegedly began broadcasting on 18 April 1962 on the 40 meter band (7mcs) at 1330 hours on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The station was said to have been built by a "German engineer" who was also working on a portable transmitter to fit in the trunk of a car which would be used to broadcast from various garages. This information was supplied by VIERA and FUENTEFRIA.⁽¹⁵⁾ A subsequent report claimed UR had a transmitter in May 1962 which was built into the trunk of a car, operated on 1200 kcs, came on the air on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 1400-1430, or 1300-1400. This schedule was monitored at YOACRE but no transmissions were heard.⁽²⁷⁾

UR was also engaged in propaganda activity, according to examples passed to JMWAVE in June 1962, although such programs were probably not extensive since they achieved little notoriety. The various ideas noted included counter propaganda which quoted from government publications and journals, then followed with the "truth" of the situation. One of these was signed by a PBRUMEN dentists' association in UR. Another program was an appeal to nations having trade agreements with PBRUMEN to cease shipping goods to Communist-dominated nations, reminding exporters what Communism has brought to the people of PBRUMEN. A mimeographed appeal was circulated among members of the armed forces which asked that they carry on their duties, but aid the resistance by cooperating with the "infiltration forces which exist in all branches of the armed forces." The military were advised to discuss their resistance contacts with no one, to act normally as an average servicemen since it is realized they must maintain an income to provide for their families, but to ignore the "call of the red beast" on D Day and to "get lost."⁽⁹⁵⁾ Another example of UR propaganda was the publication of Cuba Clandestina (October 1962 issue claimed distribution of 25,000) by the resistance organization of that name and Rescate Libre, identified as UR member organizations.⁽¹⁹²⁾

Salvador GARCIA Oller in May 1962 submitted a plan for organizing an intelligence collection net utilizing UR sources and contacts in PBRUMEN, some of whom were already included in a partially organized net.⁽¹⁷¹⁾ The plan was designed on a nationwide basis. The following cells represent sources to be exploited:

C-IF-2 Aviation, INRA, Labor
C-IF-3 G2 and Militia
C-IF-4 (Brazilian Embassy), other Latin American Embassies
C-IF-5 ²⁴ (French Embassy) other diplomatic information
C-IF-6 National Bank; Ministry of Finance

C-1F-7 C-2 and general information
 C-1F-8 Rebel Army: contacts with Escambray insurgents

Examples of intelligence reported to GARCIA Oller in August 1962 by the UR in PBRUMEN may be found in UFG 1518. (167) One important goal of GARCIA Oller is to establish radio contact with UR from PBPRIME for operational use and intelligence reporting. Asylee Eduardo SOTOLONGO wrote to him in July 1962 and stated UR had had a radio available for a month but could not establish contact with PBPRIME. He asked GARCIA Oller to contact his cousin, Alfredo OTERO, in the JMWAVE area for help in establishing radio contact. (126)

The following extracts from various sources indicate communications systems claimed or employed at various times by UR in PBRUMEN:

- Nov 61 - GARCIA Oller sent plans to FEBLES via KLM pilot in Habana, who then mailed them on arrival at New Orleans. (103)
- Mar 62 - Pedro LOPEZ Penaranda claimed UR ability to use fishing boats authorized to fish in PBRUMEN waters for maritime reception of weapons and explosives. (52)
- May 62 - FUENTEFRIA claimed UR able to utilize ⁰⁶ W/T operators employed at (Rancho Boyeros) airport but lacked proper radio equipment. (61) (Cf. below)
- Jun 62 - UR naval resistance group uses RCA W/T operator in Santiago de Cuba to send commercial cables in open code to UR in Habana; channel under direction of (fnu) (PAUMIER, Sr.) ⁰⁶ a harbor pilot and once an informant for the ODYOKE Consul in Santiago. (120)
- Jun 62 - Clandestine transmitter in Habana area has sent post patterns which were received at YOACRE. (27; 55)
- Jun 62 - UR has ex-Navy personnel and civilians in fishing cooperatives and on board coastal vessels for use in maritime reception and courier channels. (55)
- Jun 62 - "Many amateur radio fans have rendered valuable service to the organization." (55)
- Jun 62 - Radio contact with merchant vessels at sea is possible when radio operator is member of UR naval resistance group by using pre-arranged codes. (55)
- Jul 62 - Commercial cable used by UR Coordinator to contact GARCIA Oller in JMWAVE area. (130)
- Jul 62 - UR letter to GARCIA Oller names five maritime reception points, recognition signals, passwords, open code cable instructions to set up maritime rendezvous; air drop zone in Matanzas Province selected with "maximum precautions;" UR claims to have two "radio transmitters/receivers with which we are having periodic communications with YOACRE." (136)
- Aug 62 - GARCIA Oller sends instructions to UR in PBRUMEN re open code telegram communications; instructions to be followed in case of emergency exfil; comments on instructions above from PBRUMEN. (149)

- Aug 62 - VIERA claims UR in PBRUMEN has ⁰⁶four "radio sets;" that UR radop is (Rudy BROOK) (aka: EL ALEMAN); that messages were transmitted to YOACRE, but not acknowledged by radio. (63)

In addition to communications channels named above, the UR for some time has utilized members of the Diplomatic Corps to pass letters and reports of various kinds to contacts in PBPRIME. The following are examples of such use:

- Oct 61 - Sum of $10,000. pesos sent to PBRUMEN via the (Italian) diplomatic pouch. (103)
- Mar 62 - LOPEZ Penaranda stated Salvadoran diplomat (Jesus VALENCIA) is "willing to help the UR in any way;" (VALENCIA) in contact with members of the Italian and French Embassies. (68)
- Apr 62 - GARCIA Oller confides to C/O that UR communicates with PBRUMEN element via (French) and (Brazilian) Consulates in the JMWAVE area. (170)
- Apr 62 - SANCHEZ of UR exile group sends message to Coordinator FUENTEFRIA via PAA employee (COMELLAS). (59)
- Jun 62 - Mail contact from PBPRIME to UR group at YOACRE. ODOATH officers pass mail to PEREZ Valenzuela. (121)
- Jul 62 - GARCIA Oller receives letter from ALVAREZ, UR Coordinator, giving code names for Embassies in PBRUMEN through which correspondence and money may be passed:
- (France) - Francis
 - (Uruguay) - Ursula
 - (Belgium) - Brigida (136)
- Sep 62 - (Paula GRAU) (aka: HILDA) named as cutout between UR in PBRUMEN and courier channels. (157)
- Sep 62 - GARCIA Oller received intelligence report from PBRUMEN via (Konrad GRACHER) of (German Mission). (158)

Comment as to the security of one of these channels was contained in UFGX 26 of 25 October 1962. This dispatch included a discussion of (UNSCROLL as a security risk. (216) Reference has also been made to lack of security consciousness on the part of (UNION) diplomatic personnel at social gatherings in Habana. Radio transmissions within PBRUMEN are susceptible to discovery by security forces employing modern D/F techniques.

A number of sources included in this study contain references to UR operational collaboration with other resistance organizations in PBRUMEN. Original UR leaders came from MRR, Agrupacion Montecristi and Rescate Democratico Revolucionario. By nature a resistance organization is constantly on the alert for additional operational assets, and UR itself was conceived as a unity organization. It is natural, therefore, that operational contact with other groups should be made by UR, as long as deep political convictions did not rule them out. Former General Coordinator FUENTEFRIA Faxas said that when he entered asylum in May 1962, UR was actively collaborating with AAA under Emilio LLUFRIE Borill, and Rescate Libre (faction of RDR) under Manuel VILBA Rodriguez. (61) In March 1962 Santiago CASAMAYOR reported that UR and the 30 November Movement were collaborating in PBRUMEN. (68) Antonio ORDONEZ reported to CAC at the end of April 1962 that he had learned of an agreement on coordination of resistance activity which had been or was to be signed by MRP, 30 November, MRR, Rescate, MDC and UR. (109) The propaganda publication noted previously tends to prove existence of UR ties with Rescate Libre and Cuba Clandestina since both organizations were cited as UR affiliated. (192)

The formation in PBRUMEN of the Junta Nacional Revolucionaria (JNR) was the result of UR efforts to achieve unity among major resistance groups. (122) On 7 June 1962, a unity pact establishing JNR was signed by MDC (Carlos MONTES faction), 30 November, and Rescate (RDR). (125) Signatories to this unity document were: (118)

Unidad Revolucionaria	:	Bernardo ALVAREZ
Movimiento Demócrata Cristiana	:	Carlos MONTES
Rescate Democrático Revolucionario	:	Dario LOPEZ ob
Movimiento 30 de Noviembre	:	Jose NUNEZ ob

The JNR was to be presided over by an Executive Commission made up of National Coordinators of member organizations; and to be represented in exile by a separate delegation, instructed to cooperate with AMBUD. Selected as delegates of JNR in the exile community were: (53)

MDC	:	Alberto del JUNCO Mesa
MRTN	:	Aurelio FERNANDEZ and Antonio JUAN
RDR	:	Manuel Antonio de VARONA Loredo
UR	:	Salvador GARCIA Oller

Military Coordinators of member organizations in PBRUMEN were to form a Military Junta which would be subordinate to the Executive Commission. The Executive Commission was to be responsible for appointing members of a Provisional Government "endowed with a high spirit of concord and national unity." (125) The purpose of JNR, according to its founders, was to afford ODYOKE the advantage of negotiation with a single entity in providing support, rather than with four individual groups. (53) The MRR, MRP and DRE did not join JNR. (An MRR group in Oriente Province collaborates). (41) Several sources reported these groups did not join because they were already supported individually by "friends in the north."

(An historical footnote to formation of JNR is the fact that the seven major resistance groups mentioned above had previously met at Bicarsen Medical Laboratory, Vedado, on 7 July 1961 to discuss unity, and some representatives even took it upon themselves to sign an agreement in the names of their organizations. For a number of reasons, unity was never achieved. It was attempted in 1961 to obtain ODYOKE support of one unity. At the time, it was said that if ODYOKE support of the unity group was not obtained, but instead that individual organizations were supported, or even single leaders with small groups of followers, there would never be real unification of the resistance). (199)

A letter to UR in exile dated 4 June 1962 from ALVAREZ had mentioned the imminent signing of the unity pact, along with two other achievements of UR. He claimed UR efforts toward unifying women's resistance organizations in PBRUMEN were very successful, but did not elaborate on this statement. He also reported that a group of anti-Communist Chinese in PBRUMEN had become affiliated with UR and were "performing a great work." (117) The leader of this group was CHAO KUO TSE (6392/2368/3419) (aka: Raul CHIU), formerly a member of the Chinese Nationalist Party in PBRUMEN. He issued an appeal in Cantonese to exiles in Latin America to aid the UR.(104) A later report said he had been arrested in July 1962 and sentenced to ten years in prison and forced labor.(227)

As to UR strength in PBRUMEN, no detailed evaluation has ever been written. It is unlikely that any one member of UR is sufficiently aware of the nationwide activity of UR cells and integrated organizations to write such an evaluation. Capt. (SOTOLONGO) wrote from PBRUMEN in July 1962 that UR was "powerful in four Provinces and working to bring up its strength in the two others." (126) On the other hand, AMDENIM-1 commented at the end of July 1962 that the case of UR inside was similar to that of MRR, DRE and MRP, which have been "destroyed because they have tried to function clandestinely." He said its leaders have been arrested, the organization weakened, and the present leaders were of lower caliber. He added, however, that it should be maintained "with money and support since at a given time they can again function." (54)

By the end of October, only (QUINTERO), (SOCARRAS) and (CABRERA) were still at large in PBRUMEN; the others were in prison or asylum, or had escaped to PBPRIME; and one had defected in Europe. This development was primarily due to UR connection with the "August uprising."

During the first week of August 1962 at a meeting of JNR, the Coordinator of the 30 November Movement proposed that JNR take part in a general uprising being planned by the FAL to occur between 8 and 30 August.(169) The FAL, it was said, would proceed with or without the help of other resistance organizations. This was to be an internal action and would require no immediate outside help. The FAL had said the uprising would be on a national scale, that its organization was strong in Oriente and Habana Provinces, but that it had asked for help from the Segundo Frente Nacional del Escambray (SFNE) because FAL was weak in Las Villas Province. Manuel VIERA later said the DRE and MRP were also involved.(63) There were two initial reactions to this proposal in the JNR: that it was another crackpot scheme, or that it was a G-2 provocation. There is no record of the position taken by JNR as a whole, but the 30 November group was apparently in favor of participation, and UR was concerned to the extent that it arranged for exfiltration of Manuel VIERA (aka: MARIO) to consult with UR in exile as to the advisability of UR participation.(63) Coordinator ALVAREZ arranged for VIERA to meet UR exile leaders. VIERA left Habana on 11 August, en route to Cayo Anguila.(64; 146) On the same day, GARCIA Oller, RODRIGUEZ Espada and DIAZ Lanz left to meet him.(36) Security considerations prevented VIERA from following the original plan and he did not reach PBPRIME until 28 August. He said his mission was not only to get advice regarding UR participation in the revolt, but to obtain urgently the "arms, money and equipment" needed by UR to participate with any hope of success. (63) He reported that the revolt was to take place on the evening of 30 August and would begin in Santiago de Cuba, but added it might be possible for UR to arrange a postponement to 15 September if time were needed to deliver the support equipment to PBRUMEN. VIERA also carried a report from the Movimiento Masónico Clandestino (MMC) describing a Plan General of an organization called Unidad de Unidades Revolucionarias (UDUR), made up of military segments of a number of counter-revolutionary groups. He did not imply that this Plan was connected with the FAL plan. The MMC revolt was to begin on an unspecified date in Baracoa, Oriente, where UDUR claimed a following of 5,000 men. (85) It is possible that UDUR was involved in the August uprising in some way, since PBRUMEN security forces arrested numerous Masonic leaders in September 1962.

After VIERA's departure from Habana, another meeting was held on 13 August at which the 30 August date was apparently confirmed. ALVAREZ informed GARCIA Oller in exile and appealed for aid in the form of men and equipment in a message sent via the Netherlands Embassy and received by GARCIA Oller on 26 August. (52) ALVAREZ met again with the FAL on 26 August and was shown a plan for a Provisional Government. Participants in the uprising would earn posts in this government. He met again with UR leaders and it was agreed that UR would participate in the uprising. They felt the right psychological moment had arrived, possibly in view of arrivals of considerable Soviet military personnel and equipment. ALVAREZ was presented with a document on FAL stationery which confirmed UR participation and its right to hold positions in the Provisional Government. The UR was also authorized to recruit other organizations for the uprising, but was to report back to FAL for confirmation on all organizations recruited. (169)

AMBLEAK-2 reported that (UNION-11) arrived in PBRUMEN late in August to investigate rumors of an impending uprising. The (UNION) Embassy had been fully aware of UR involvement. AMBLEAK-2 stated that all information known to the Western diplomatic community about the August uprising was learned from UR via the (UNION) Embassy. (UNION-11) was said to have been sending radio messages to the (UNION) Embassy from 27-31 August for passage to the leader of UR. (152) AMLEO-3 stated that the August uprising was common knowledge among PBRUMEN government officials; that none were concerned about it because the participating groups were said to have been thoroughly penetrated by PBRUMEN security forces. (228)

Between 2000 and 2200 hours on 30 August a command was to be given by a type of General Staff in Santiago de Cuba which would trigger the uprising. The events of 30 August were no less drastic in their effect on UR leadership than those of April 1961. UR Coordinator ALVAREZ wrote on 3 September: (150)

"... Of course, the ruined design for liberation would not be so deplorable if along with it we would not have lost very valuable men now arrested...who were visited by the dreadful G-2, that same day, the 30th between 9 and 10 a.m. and almost at the same time in our private homes and later in the business establishments some of us owned..."

The command from Santiago was never given. In his reflection on the possibility of UR penetration, Coordinator ALVAREZ said he did not consider FAL responsible for the UR disaster. He said G-2 had arrested his FAL contact on 28 August. ALVAREZ claimed UR had committed only 13 men as far as exposure was concerned: two military leaders per Province --and himself. He said the only contact with FAL, other than his own discussions with its leaders, was through the military. He added that on the 30th from 11-12 a.m.. Coordinators of the groups participating in the uprising were in his car trying to find a location for a "General Headquarters." FAL leaders were present. At 2130 hours that evening, each of the resistance organizations was to supply 15 men to staff this Headquarters. All of the National Executive Boards were to be present that evening at the location selected. ALVAREZ felt that if the uprising had been a G-2 provocation, the point at which everyone could have been taken -- "a massacre" -- was the point chosen for establishing the Headquarters. He said every leader present was either armed or had at least two Molotov cocktails in his pocket.

ALVAREZ said that G-2 probably had word that something was to "come off" on the 30th. As for the UR, he does not feel it is penetrated, but rather that it was betrayed by someone "who knew us and now has no contact with UR." He believes UR was exposed by a person who knew a member of the Executive some time ago. This permitted G-2 to conduct surveillances. Detention of UR members had been made indiscriminately on 30 August, with little attention paid to the importance of individual leaders. He felt that if G-2 had known more about UR, that he, ALVAREZ, would have been arrested first. (169) On 16 October Pedro LOPEZ wrote to UR in exile that ALVAREZ and others suspected Rosario MORENO, a 19-year-old model and former mistress of FUENTEFRIA, deposed UR Coordinator. Senorita MORENO apparently knew the identities of UR leaders and approached them for $1,000. to finish paying for a car which FUENTEFRIA had given her before he sought asylum. Prior to her association with FUENTEFRIA, MORENO had been the mistress of Comandante ALMEJEIRA, Chief of Police of Habana. (61; 220)

Although the appraisal of UR damage made by ALVAREZ on 3 September was difficult to evaluate ("we are left very much in ruins;" "we have come out of this difficult situation fairly well") subsequent reports tend to indicate that UR was affected primarily in Habana itself; this would account for the arrests of the Executive, or their pursuit which forced them to seek asylum. It was also reported that all correspondence and documentation had been destroyed in the raid and sums of money on hand had been "lost in the search." (150) ALVAREZ and the Military Coordinator (not positively identifiable) left Habana to check on damage to UR Provincial units. He confirmed that the Matanzas Coordinator, (Armando JIMENEZ, had not been killed as at first reported, but instead had been awaiting word on damage to UR in the capital. (169)

National Coordinator Bernardo ALVAREZ was arrested on 21 September 1962. He was temporarily succeeded as UR Coordinator by "MARINO" who had functioned as Provincial Coordinator in Pinar del Rio, knew most UR leaders, and much of its organization and activity. "MARINO" was arrested on 28 September. (183) He had written a report to GARCIA Oller dated 24 September; ALVAREZ wrote one on 21 September, and was arrested on that date. The possibility presents itself that these men may have been exposed while passing these reports to a cutout who was under surveillance by DSE, if not a witting agent. Although this is only conjecture, it is apparent from a number of reports scanned during this study that UR communications security is definitely poor.

The report of 21 September from ALVAREZ stated he was engaged in an assessment of UR strength, using reports from Provincial Coordinators, and was not concerned with UR reorganization for the moment. He told GARCIA Oller that VIERA should be briefed on "the sabotage plans." UR needed certain support to carry out sabotage which would "move public opinion." He included a request for "some bazookas with their corresponding ammunition, some mortars with ammunition, gelignite, explosives, incendiary packs, pencils, detonators, short weapons for the security of the men, some M-3 to protect the actions, and it would be a good idea to send some weapons with a silencer, etc. The insurgents insist on the Garand as the weapon for them plus light artillery and also advise Browning machine guns for every seven or eight men instead of for every group of 25. Of course all this will go into a report that is being written." (213)

(Reinaldo QUINTERO) (FELIPE) wrote on 24 September to GARCIA Oller: "Today we are the only ones of all the organizations that are working throughout the island. Our Provincial executives are working all and perfectly, thank the Lord. The greatest difficulties have been here in Habana." (214) Not having contacted (QUINTERO) at the time of writing, Pedro LOPEZ reported to GARCIA Oller on 14 October that UR "functions in all the Republic, without having suffered anything, in spite of what happened to the great part of the members of the National Executive, but since it is duly organized in all the Terminos of the Republic, I estimate that it will be able to continue operating without difficulty." (215) LOPEZ suggested placing emphasis on intelligence reporting, funneling information to Provincial Coordinators, and then to the national level of UR. He felt such data should be coordinated with military and sabotage elements for operational use. He also proposed a plan for the assassination of AMTHUG-1 and other leaders.

GARCIA Oller considers (QUINTERO) and (SOCARRAS) (FELIPE and MARCOS) as "good in clandestine operations," and apparently was relying on them in November 1962 for the reorganization of UR in PBRUMEN. He said ALVAREZ knew all the Provincial Coordinators, but not the leaders at the Term Municipal level. He felt the Provincial Coordinators should be replaced to protect TM leaders. With reference to contacts with military elements, they could be renewed by (QUINTERO) and (SOCARRAS). Capt. (SOTOLONGO) was providing the names of these contacts. (183)

Manuel VIERA (MARIO) claims to have control of 19 cells in Habana proper consisting of men specialized in action and sabotage. He claims the cell leaders are not known to each other, but that two of his subordinates were in daily contact with cell leaders. VIERA stated the UR in Habana had no "material" except for a few pistols and two Thompson submachine guns. Though he claimed firm control of only 19 cells, he said a potential 120-140 cells existed, involving a possible total strength of up to 2,000 men. (62) VIERA is now in PBPRIME and this information was obtained from him on 28 August.

The last communication (21 September) which GARCIA Oller received from Coordinator ALVAREZ contained a statement which reflects JMWAVE instructions to UR exile leaders regarding compartmentation of clandestine operations. It is at least indicative of a lack of operational security. (Jose RODRIGUEZ Espada) apparently sent a letter via UR channels to (fnu) LOPEZ Lazo, who later informed ALVAREZ that (RODRIGUEZ Espada) had told him to cease contact with UR, and that he would be supported unilaterally from PBPRIME in the future. ALVAREZ said he also had received a letter addressed to "ESTHER" in Matanzas Province, with instructions that it was to be delivered by LOPEZ Lazo. Subsequently ALVAREZ was asked to arrange for delivery of the letter to "ESTHER." ALVAREZ told GARCIA Oller that UR had delivered the letter, but requested clarification as to further UR use of LOPEZ Lazo operationally in PBRUMEN. (213) GARCIA Oller reported this to his C/O, asking that (RODRIGUEZ Espada) be cautioned about making contacts of this type. (183)

This listing is based on data supplied by GARCIA Oller, who plans to use (QUINTERO) and (SOCARRAS) as his contacts in organizing a new Executive Board. GARCIA Oller receives current periodic reports on UR activity in PBRUMEN, which more and more indicate that UR leaders are looking to the exile element for direction as well as support.

B. Provincial Assets

This portion of the study on UR consists of brief descriptions of specific assets claimed by UR in the various Provinces. (Reinaldo QUINTERO) (FELIPE) reported to GARCIA Oller on 24 September 1962 that all UR Provincial Coordinators were in place and functioning. (214) As for UR contacts with guerrilla units, ALVAREZ informed GARCIA Oller in a report of 20 September that he was preparing an assessment of the units in Matanzas, Las Villas and Pinar del Rio Provinces. Commenting on the difficulty of communications with these units, and UR inability to supply them ALVAREZ said UR would make no promises to these contacts unless certain that the requested help could be provided. He complained that UR had attempted to send money to (Oswaldo RAMIREZ) and other guerrilla units, but that it seldom reaches its destination in the hills. (151)

For the Provinces of Las Villas, Camaguey and Oriente, in September 1962 the Territorial Coordinator, north coast areas, was (Aniano CABRERA); for south coast areas, (Vicente SOCARRAS) (MARCOS), who claimed command over "active militarists operating in the hills." (214) With the arrest of National Coordinator ALVAREZ in September, GARCIA Oller considered it necessary to protect UR contacts below the Provincial level by appointing new Coordinators for the Provinces. He advised QUINTERO to do this in a message to UR in November. (183)

1. Pinar del Rio Province

In a report of 14 October 1962 to UR in exile, acting Coordinator Pedro LOPEZ commented on UR guerrilla strength in Pinar del Rio: "There is nothing of importance; there are some small groups of eight or ten men, hidden, who cannot do anything." (215)

5. Camaguey Province

Pedro LOPEZ of the UR National Executive, acting as General Coordinator in October 1962, reported to GARCIA Oller that UR was aware of the existence of guerrillas in Camaguey Province but added "they cannot move much." (215) The UR Coordinator for the Province was reported by AMSTASH-1 in August 1962 to be (Ricardo CARVAJAL). (62)

6. Oriente Province

In a report on UR potential in the various Provinces in October 1962, Pedro LOPEZ gave no information on Oriente, but remarked that GARCIA Oller was quite familiar with activity in the Province. This remark was somewhat verified by GARCIA Oller's report of April 1962 to the effect that UR assets were currently "making a survey of the beaches of Northern Oriente" to determine locations of suitable reception sites. (26) In April 1962 the UR Coordinator for Oriente Province was apparently Jose Manuel HERNANDEZ who resided in Holguin, but he subsequently sought asylum in the Argentine Embassy. (25) AMSTASH-1 reported in late August 1962 that the UR leaders for Northern and Southern Oriente were (Dr. Enrique MENENDEZ) and (Manolo MATAO Morales), respectively, both resident in Santiago de Cuba. Organization of Overt Mechanism

Objectives of JMWAVE in establishing and maintaining contact with the Executive Committee of UR in exile were primarily to provide a viable cover mechanism in the form of an exile resistance group for the several unilateral operations in being or projected which involve KUBARK assets within UR. A secondary objective was to create simultaneously a KUCAGE vehicle responsive to JMWAVE direction which would serve ODYOKE policy needs for the present, and develop into a political entity of stature in PBRUMEN after the overthrow of ANTHUG to assure the presence of a moderate element in the anticipated struggle between extremists of the right and left.

More specifically, the UR "umbrella" mechanism will cover activities of various JMWAVE assets with minimum possible danger that operations become common knowledge, or are exploited for personal political or material gain, or are otherwise interfered with by other than direct participants. JMWAVE intends also to guide UR entry into AMBUD and encourage other exile groups to follow. UR successes of any type would thus be shared by AMBUD, provided conditions are such that they may be publicized.

JMWAVE, by supporting UR exploitation of public media, would be able to disseminate propaganda themes to PBRUMEN exiles in PEPRIME, to Latin America, and occasionally to other areas of the free world. Such KUCAGE activity would be supplemented as conditions permit by covert KUCAGE programs in PBRUMEN. In the political field, it is planned to prepare members of UR in exile and in the resistance to assume responsible roles through democratic processes after liberation of PBRUMEN. The UR principles are based on the Constitution of 1940. Its objectives are stated in Attachment A, as interpreted by UR.

JMWAVE direction of UR exile activity was effected through a KUBARK developmental asset, Salvador GARCIA Oller, who received credentials dated 3 July 1962 from UR in PBRUMEN, with orders to re-organize its exile element. JMWAVE, through frequent contact with GARCIA Oller, influenced the selection of qualified personnel in UR for the new Executive Board, at the same time eliminating a number of positions in an attempt to create a functional group of responsible officers considered politically reliable. The restructured UR executive is headed by Jose F. RODRIGUEZ Espada, who had worked with the founder, Rafael DIAZ Hanscomb, in establishing UR in PBRUMEN. Contact was made with RODRIGUEZ Espada in August 1962 via AMBLEAK-1, and the former has been most cooperative, accepting KUBARK direction and adhering to the principle of compartmentation.

UR applied for admission to AMBUD on 17 September 1962, but acceptance was delayed by a protest registered by Jose E. de la TORRIENTE y Ajuria, head of the dissident UR faction which did not recognize the credentials received by GARCIA Oller, nor the re-organized UR executive. TORRIENTE insisted that UR unity could be achieved only if RODRIGUEZ Espada's group were to rejoin his own, which he claimed to be the true UR. AMBUD eventually became persuaded to consider a vote on the UR application, partly on the basis of proof of authenticity received from a deposition prepared by AMHINT-53, who had been in PBRUMEN and in touch with UR leaders there as late as September 1962.

The vote was temporarily thwarted once again, however, by a protest registered by the delegate of the Revolutionary Movement 30 November (MRTN) who was under the mistaken impression that UR was in contact with Carlos RODRIGUEZ Quesada, leader of a dissident MRTN faction in exile. This matter was clarified, and UR made overtures to sympathetic members of the TORRIENTE faction who were considered inclined to return to the authentic UR group. This liaison, as well as contacts with AMBUD members of other exile groups, has gone far toward settling the problems of UR factionalism and entry into AMBUD, which will probably be effected in the near future.

Beginning with the administrative and housekeeping chores of setting up new offices, the UR propaganda effort has received an average of $4500 per month, of which $2350 pays salaries, approximately $650 is spent on rent, utilities and telephone, and the remaining $1500 on supplies and equipment directly related to output of propaganda. This last figure will be increased somewhat in coming months as production increases, and after regular broadcasting is added to UR activities. Initially, UR purchased time and space in local Spanish language media, but rapport has been achieved with press and radio personnel, and from time to time UR releases are inserted gratis in news and commentary.

One early propaganda success was publication of two leaflets on the Soviet buildup in PBRUMEN, praised by many exile leaders as based on good research and dramatic presentation. AMBUD-1 passed copies of these leaflets to Foreign Ministers at the ZRMETAL conference in October 1962. A campaign against free world shipping in trade with PBRUMEN was coordinated in part with the (Athens station). Most of the UR Executive Board contribute to UNIDAD, the UR 8-12 page tabloid issued semi-monthly in 50,000 copies, first published in November 1962. Copies are distributed throughout Latin America in third class mail. A booklet prepared by UR, "What Happens When Communism Takes Over Your Country," contains about 30 pages of text and 25 full-page illustrations; it is soon to be released, and will receive hemisphere distribution as a factual presentation of the PBRUMEN "lesson." 15-16

The UR-sponsored "Tokyo Rose"-type broadcast targetted against the DSE and Militia is to begin shortly with two or three 15-minute broadcasts per week. Program content will be supervised unilaterally by JMWAVE; UR sponsorship is for attribution only. Operational restrictions resulting from the PBRUMEN "crisis" have hampered efforts at covert propaganda utilizing UR internal assets. Covert media will be exploited in PBRUMEN in the future as conditions permit. Two important fields remain to be covered: Student Affairs and Labor. These positions remain open on the Executive Board, partly because of JMWAVE insistence that they be given only to qualified personnel.

The matter of funding cover requires further attention. Open speculation has been reported from the exile community that UR is receiving KUBARK support and subsidy in its increased activity. Some progress has been made through AMPANIC-9 sale of UR bonds and San Juan station arrangement for using (SKWVER-1 as backstop for a portion of contributions received from anonymous donors. JMWAVE has learned that some members of the UR executive believe a good part of their support comes from these sources.

Specific Assets Associated with UR

ATTACHMENT B

A. Salvador O. GARCIA Oller (aka: OCTAVIO).

Background in architecture and construction contracting; asylee Brazilian Embassy April 1961; arrived PBPRIME via safe conduct April 1962; active in resistance with MRR and UR; resigned Commission in PBRUMEN Air Force in October 1959. Currently serves in the UR executive as Secretary for Communications, Intelligence and Transport. POA granted 8 June 1962; LCFLUTTER 4 August 1962 with favorable results; JMWAVE and ODENVY traces April 1962 were negative. JMWAVE attempted to develop GARCIA Oller as a PM asset because of his past experience in resistance and his contacts in PBRUMEN. The DSE arrests of August 1962 eliminated a number of subject's contacts. UR in PBRUMEN is presently attempting to rebuild the leadership of its clandestine organization. Most of the new members are unknown to subject. There are questions as to UR strength today in PBRUMEN, as well as security considerations, which must be resolved before attempting PM operations. No decision has been reached with regard to the future plans and utilization of GARCIA Oller pending further debriefings for a study in process at JMWAVE relative to the 30 August arrests.

B. AMSTASH-1

Business school background in preparation for a career in the produce business; wholesaler and salesman in PBRUMEN prior to ex-filtration in August 1962; used this occupation as cover for resistance activity; active in resistance with MRR and later UR where he was Coordinator for Action and Sabotage. JMWAVE facilitated subjects "black" entry into PBPRIME then recruited him as a unilateral PM asset to be prepared for re-infiltration. Training was provided in tradecraft, map-reading, cacheing, GW, weapons, demolition, maritime reception and two-way S/W. A communication received from the resistance in PBRUMEN advised AMSTASH-1 to remain in PBPRIME since his house was under surveillance by DSE. It is believed the UR resistance does not expect AMSTASH-1 to return to PBRUMEN. After completion of his KUBARK training, subject observed the shortcomings of UR and other underground organizations with which he worked in PBRUMEN. For reasons of operational security he has been safe-housed to avoid contact with UR in exile, and considers himself a unilateral KUBARK agent. AMSTASH-1 does not plan to renew UR contacts after infiltration into PBRUMEN, as he feels his former contacts may be contaminated, or too much risk would be involved in attempting to utilize them. JMWAVE plans re-infiltration of AMSTASH-1 as the leader of a two-man team with the following mission:

1. Collect intelligence on targets within his area of operation.
2. Recruit and train indigenous agents to collect "hard" intelligence.
3. Report on the "climate" relative to the resistance potential of the populace.
4. Recruit and train the nucleus for a resistance cadre.

AMSTASH-1 was granted a PCA on 5 October 1962; LCFLUTTER 8 September 1962; no deception noted. JMWAVE and ODENVY traces August-September 1962 were negative. Subject's covert assessment on 29 August 1962 rated him "high average" by PBPRIME standards, and "superior" by PBRUMEN standards.

C. AMSUM (General)

Development of the AMSUM group began in May 1962 with the Arrival in PEPRIME of AMSUM-2, whose debriefing disclosed the existence of a naval resistance group associated with UR in PERUMEN. Further details on this group were learned in debriefing AMSUM-1. The naval resistance group was depicted as a largely passive element which devoted itself to intelligence collection and indoctrination of its members against communism (see Attachment A, Part III).² QUSWABBY-11 was assigned to contact and train AMSUM-4 in S/W, and to relay intelligence collection requirements. On 26 July 1962 AMSUM-4 was contacted in Habana, trained in S/W, supplied with S/W materials and briefed on collection requirements. Unfortunately, AMSUM-4 was forced to leave PERUMEN on 3 August via PAA flight with his family; he claimed to have been denounced by a relative as a counter-revolutionary. AMSUM-4 stated he had turned over all materials and instructions given him by QUSWABBY-11 to two other members of the naval resistance group.² One of these has been recruited by Hamburg Base as an AMIFG (Subject of 20163820);² the other was reported to have been seen in Habana by friends of AMSUM-4, and is apparently not under detention. Neither of these contacts has yet corresponded with AMSUM-4, which would imply either that they did not fully grasp the S/W instruction, or that they are not inclined to correspond for reasons of their own security. The general objectives of JMWAVE in attempting to develop an intelligence net based on exploitation of the UR naval resistance group are:

1. Establish a KUTUBE collection mechanism within the naval resistance group.
2. Exploit this mechanism to collect order of battle on the PBRUMEN Navy, on its communication and cipher system, and related information based on JMWAVE current requirements.
3. Obtain all possible information on the "defection plan" of the naval resistance group for possible operational exploitation by JMWAVE.

D. AMSUM-1

Agent took emergency refuge at YOACRE following an abortive attempt to enter with cover documentation supplied by ODOATH; ex-filtrated black to PBPRIME in May 1962; debriefed by JMWAVE. Biographic: DPOB 25 August 1925, Santiago de Cuba; graduate of PBRUMEN Naval Academy, 1952, and served in Navy to 1960 when he became a harbor pilot in Santiago; belonged to UR naval resistance group. Agent was not considered for KUTUBE collection in PBRUMEN owing to exposure to DSE during entry YOACRE; currently utilized as First Mate on a JMWAVE operational craft as an asset of the Maritime Branch; holds official position in UR exile organization as one of two Naval Coordinators, but does not participate actively in UR exile activity. Granted POA 22 August 1962; LCFLUTTER 13 June 1962 indicated no deception, but the results could not be meaningfully resolved to support or contradict the answers given by AMSUM-1; reruns were consistent with the first results; further background investigation resulted in issuance of clearance for operational use.

E. AMSUM-2

Agent served in the resistance in PBRUMEN as the liaison contact between UR and the naval resistance group. DPOB: 24 August 1916, Pijirigua; graduate of the American International College, Springfield, Mass. (1937-39); brother-in-law of AMSUM-1; debriefing of AMSUM-2 provided first definitive information on the naval resistance group. Presently assigned as a KUTUBE support asset in the JMWAVE area, agent also holds a position in the UR exile group as one of two Naval Coordinators; functions in addition as a focal point for correspondence with members of the naval resistance group, serves as a translator; and has indicated as a rail drop for other unilateral operations.

F. AMSUM-3

Agent was spotted and recruited as a candidate for black re-infiltration into PBRUMEN to contact other members of the AMSUM group. DPOB: (4 February 1933)¹⁰⁸ Cienfuegos; formerly a Chief Petty Officer in PBRUMEN Navy; employed with merchant marine and defected (Bremen, Germany) in June 1962; on his subsequent arrival in PBRUMEN; recruited by JMWAVE; POA granted 9 July 1962; LCFLUTTER June 1962; no deception noted; JMWAVE and ODENVY traces in November 1962 were negative; KUTUBE tradecraft training provided January 1963; currently undergoing assessment for training as medium-speed radop. This agent is known to members of the naval resistance group in PBRUMEN; it is planned to infiltrate him with S/W and radio communication to establish a channel to the naval group in PBRUMEN.

G. AMSUM-4

Agent was formerly head of the AMSUM group in PBRUMEN; arrived JMWAVE area 3 August 1962 via PAA with family. See AMSUM (General), above. Biographic: DPOB 3 February 1934, Cienfuegos; graduate PBRUMEN Naval Academy, 1957. POA granted February 1963; LCFLUTTER December 1962; no deception noted; JMWAVE and ODENVY traces November 1962; negative. Agent has been recruited as a KUTUBE support asset in the JMWAVE area; as a consultant on AMSUM operations; as an overt mail contact point with AMSUM. AMSUM-4 has also indicated he possesses good CI capabilities and is under consideration for use as a CI asset.

H. AMTAUP-1

Agent is original founder in PBRUMEN of MRAC; he is now in the JMWAVE area and was recruited as a KUTUBE asset; close personal friend of Jose RODRIGUEZ Espada, UR Secretary General; antagonist of Juan MEDINA, self-appointed Coordinator of (MR) AC in the TORRIENTE faction of UR; agent plans to incorporate/affiliate his MRAC group with the UR under RODRIGUEZ Espada. AMTAUP-1 is planning to recruit the following exile organizations as members of MRAC:

1. National Tobacco Growers Association in Exile
2. National Coffee Roasters Association in Exile
3. National Cattlemen's Association in Exile

Commitments were given by leaders of these groups in January 1963 to join AMTAUP-1 in the MRAC. This development would broaden the base of UR in the exile community and contribute to UR strength and influence.

Two MRAC agents in PBRUMEN report to JMWAVE via S/W on economic, political and military targets in Camaguey and Habana. Several candidates, including two radio operators, are under development for recruitment as reporting and support agents. Two additional agents in contact with MRAC are presently at YOACRE and in touch with workers commuting from Oriente and Camaguey Provinces. Reports from the latter net are forwarded via open mails from YOACRE to JMWAVE.

MRAC also conducts its own minor key propaganda activity, sponsoring a weekly half-hour broadcast to PBRUMEN via short wave and preparing leaflets for mail dissemination to PBRUMEN. A PM team was also recruited via AMTAUP-1 and is on standby status for infiltration into Oriente Province.

ATTACHMENT B

I. AMLAME-1

Agent is the founder of the Legion Democratica Constitucional (LDC); President of the Asociacion de Colonos en el Exilio (ACE); and Vice President of the Corporaciones Economicas de Cuba (CEC); presently with the TORRIENTE-MEDINA faction of UR, but it is intended to influence AMLAME-1 to join the RODRIGUEZ Espada group following its entry into AMBUD.

The LDC claims assets in PBRUMEN, and JMWAVE has attempted to utilize them for KUTUBE operations. Owing to poor communication and the security consciousness of internal assets this has proven somewhat frustrating. It is possible that internal assets of LDC in Las Villas may be used as support for infiltration teams.

Currently the principal value of this agent is his potential for exploitation in PW operations through his contact with the three exile groups in which he shares the leadership. All have recently become more active in propaganda and political action programs.

J. AMBLEAK-1

Agent was active in the UR in PBRUMEN prior to Playa Giron. Because of his PBPRIME citizenship, he was released by DSE in June 1961 after pressure was exerted by several Embassies in PBRUMEN. Agent proceeded to ZRMETAL, contacted KUBARK, and was sent to JMWAVE for use in connection with UR operational exploitation. He has since been utilized in several capacities in connection with UR. AMBLEAK-1 was used to establish initial contact with RODRIGUEZ Espada following re-organization of the exile UR, after which KUBARK has maintained continuous contact and provided support. Agent is in charge of executive direction of UR on behalf of RODRIGUEZ Espada, but he also functions as a KUTUBE asset in matters unrelated to UR activity.

K. AMDENIM-1

Agent was one of the four UR exile delegates in PEPRIME involved operationally with KUBARK prior to Playa Giron. He was responsible for maritime and logistic support, working closely with JMWAVE officers to effect clandestine deliveries to the UR resistance group in PBRUMEN. Following the re-organization of the exile UR in August 1962, AMDENIM-1 separated from the UR completely because of his personal belief that the new leadership does not represent original UR principles. He is aware that this leadership was selected and put into office by JMWAVE, but because of his personal disapproval of the new UR leaders, he is unwilling to become involved with them. He has been requested not to interfere with UR exile activity in any way. As far as can be determined, he has complied with this request. He considers himself dedicated to the original UR principles and to the goals of the founders of UR; one of whom, Maj. SORI Marin, (executed in PBRUMEN), was a close friend who used to home of AMDENIM-1 as a safehouse during a black visit to PBPRIME prior to Playa Giron. AMDENIM-1 is currently a PM unilateral asset utilized in spotting, recruiting, training and clandestine infiltration operations.
