MEMORANDUM FOR RECORD NO. _____

SUBJECT: General Points Covered in De-Briefing Subject.

1. Subject was asked if he knew anyone by the name of CARRILLO. Subject was noticeably cautious, his reaction changed quite sharply and then after some consideration he said yes he knew a doctor by that name, CARRILLO, who was the judge in a place called Guynia de Miranda. Subject stated this individual was a judge for several years until he was taken prisoner and is now on the Isle of Pines. (De-Briefer's Comment: This was in order to find out if he could come up with a name which follows now, Justo CARRILLO; is one which [Tom Hewitt] will recognize as having perhaps some significance to this individual. After some mulling around he said he had heard of his own, I did not suggest the name of Justo, he suggested it himself, he mulled it around and he said he had heard of this individual as being a member of an organization, he had never seen him, he does not know and he thinks that he is in the United States. The specific significance of this will be examined later. We can use this as a control question in his examination.)

2. Subject was asked if he knew Aguedo LUGO y Rodriguez. Subject claims no knowledge of this person at all. (De-Briefer's Comment: This latter individual is now in one of our other safe houses and claims to know this man very well and has seen him many, many times. It is not possible for this individual to know (for Subject to know) Aguedo by any war name, because the man did not use one until after he had gone into the Argentine Embassy.) Subject was also asked if he knew the name which was dreamed up by myself. Subject did not tumble, but tried to reason out who it was. He apparently was not trying to deceive me on this individual. Subject stated he had seen Raul Castro and Fidel Castro on one occasion in the Presidential Palace on the 13th of March, 1960. Subject claims never to have spoken to them or treated with them directly.
