2. Concurrent with this communication the requested approval is being granted, however the following is being made available for your information and consideration in the contemplated use of the Subject.

3. A current investigation by this office of the Subject was generally favorable, however several informants who knew the Subject professionally criticized him for "unscrupulous and unethical" business practices. These informants claim the Subject has a reputation for "raiding" accounts of other public relation firms. 4. In view of the above information, it is recommended that the Subject be closely supervised and that he be made witting only after a time elapse sufficient to afford Subject an opportunity to demonstrate his integrity and reliability.
