At the request of the [DCI, [Paul [and I] I prefaced the operational briefing with a brief description of how the U.S. Intelligence community operates, of the role of CIA, of the need for compartmentation and security, and specifically of how the foregoing considerations make it imperative for the Guatemalans to adopt security precautions which will ensure that the information we provide and the [intelligence operations] we undertake are compartmented 24 within the Guatemalan government [and, in fact, discussed by the Guatemalan government] exclusively with our representatives in the field. 24

3. Following the introductory remarks outlined above, I briefed the group on the DCI structure, the DCI operational techniques, and specifically on DCI aims and operations in [Guatemala]. of the developments and plans in [redacted] because I e. planned

[of his being transferred to Guatemala]. This was in line with the discussion [redacted] which included our Chief 27

impassioned speech in which he covered the following points:

- a. His own long experience in the USA, in Cuba
and in Central America;

to its obligations in the OAS; to which it has cooperated in efforts [against Castro] and to which it has looked toward U. S. leadership;
- d. The failure of the U.S. to take aggressive action against Cuba and the need for taking a hard line, including the use of force in support of military activity by the free Cubans and the other American countries;
- e. His appreciation that the Soviets will not be willing to risk a nuclear war over Cuba;
- f. Condemnation of Mexico for her dealings with

7. In replying to the remarks of []

I said that we appreciate the cooperation of Guatemala in the [] OAS [] and that we shall be most interested in the exploitation of the possibilities in the present case. I added that the matter of using force against Cuba is a policy matter on which I was not competent to comment but that the decisions made by the United States Government are based on careful study of detailed information including information on Soviet intentions and capabilities.

8. At the conclusion of the meeting, [] asked for a copy of the US requirements (which he already had gone over closely) and took the copy with him to study further.
