of the G-2 Represion, the new name for the Departamento de Investigaciones del Ejercito Rebelde (DIER).

3. On 15 July 1962, an untested source stated that Captain Luis PEREZ, who fought with CASTRO in the mountains, has a high post in an intelligence unit such as DIER.
4. An untested source who was a captain in the Cuban rebel army from 1 January 1955 to 29 June 1960, reported on 8 August 1962, that Captain Luis PEREZ was the Deputy Chief at G-2 Headquarters. He described PEREZ as having been born about 1932, being about five feet eight inches tall, 160 pounds, having a medium build, a ruddy complexion, and thick, curly blond hair. He was a law student, came from a very wealthy family, is married, and has two children. He is very serious, was educated at the Belen School, and was formerly the Cuban Military Attache in Venezuela.
5. A fairly reliable source reported that Luis PEREZ Martinez, a Cuban Diplomat, transited Arica, Chile, enroute to La Paz, Bolivia, on 31 August 1962. PEREZ, who carried Cuban passport D/62-496, was born in 1930.
6. According to a travel manifest one Luis Jesus PEREZ Martinez, Secretario Adscrito at the Cuban Embassy in La Paz, Bolivia, left Santiago, Chile, for La Paz on 6 December 1962.
7. A source which has proved to be fairly reliable gave the following information on Luis PEREZ:

PEREZ was the Cuban Military Attache in Haiti and later (1961) in Venezuela; he left both countries when they broke diplomatic relations with Cuba. In December 1961, PEREZ traveled to Washington, D. C., with Jose MOLEON Carreras, the Cuban delegate to the Inter-American Defense Staff of the OAS. He was a captain in the Cuban rebel army. Source was not certain PEREZ belonged to the Communist Party. He was born about 1928, is about five feet nine inches tall, 160 pounds, has dark hair, light eyes, and is white.
