4) LIFEAT/Czechoslavakian LIFEAT is covering the home of two Czechoslavakian intelligence officers in hopes of gaining operational leads for the interested Station officer.

5) LIFEAT/Cubaa LIFEAT coverage of three lines in support of the AMSTRUT operation continues to give an "essential" check on this operation as well as providing by product information on conditions in PBRUMEN. Copies of the processed take from these lines are forwarded twice a week to WAVE. LIFEAT provides coverage of AMSTET-1, of great interest to the Station's JMGIN officer, and prior to AMSTET-1's return to Mexico provided coverage of the home of a Cuban official formerly stationed in Mexico City.

6) LIFEAT/Exile In this area the coverage of ESLARD-1 plus three related lines was the single major offort by LIFEAT during the reporting period. This coverage included a week of "live monitoring" of these lines prior to ESLARD-1's departure from Mexico. The Station officers interested in this case described LIFEAT coverage as "excellent and sustained with many operational leads".

LIFEAT coverage of a Costa Rican Communist living in Mexico, Judith FERRETO Segura, contains an unusual number of leads for use by the interested Station Case Officer.

7) LIFEAT/American Communists Coverage of targets in this area is of primary interest to ODENVY. According to local ODENVY, travel and contacts of the ACGM provided from the LIFEAT coverage is of particular and continuing interest to them.

8) LIFEAT/Miscellaneous LIFEAT is covering a former SMOTH agent who is of interest to KUBARK for possibly compromising both SMOTH and KUBARK operations. The lead to this individual and request for LIFEAT coverage originated from Headquarters. Also LIFEAT, in connection with LIEMERACE, provided lengthy coverage of Francisco WALTZ Olivers as a result of a lead from the Station's LIJENNET operation. This lead raised the possibility that WALTZ could have been a source of U.S. air navigational materials for the Soviets. Coverage of WALTZ, however, tends to confirm his non-involvement with the Soviets, at least during the period of LIEMBRACE-LIFEAT coverage.

	During the reporting period, it has become increasingly difficult for IFEAT to operate in a number of areas in Mexico City for two reasons:
	the increasing efficiency of the telephone company (Telefonos de Mecico) both modernizing their telephone cable system and keeping track of their ily personnel assignments FEAT and 2) the assignment by the Secretaria
:	Communicaciones y Obras Publicas (SCOP) of special crews to check all telephone company distribution boxes for "spare pairs" which could be used to provide service to Mexico City residents now without telephones. It is these "spare pairs" which LIFEAT utilizes for the routing of its tap lines to the basehouses. LIFEAT personnel have succeeded in developing variations on their regular tap procedures which it is believed will help negate the effects of the dangers noted above. Further refinements of LIFEAT operating methods are presently being considered, and will be implemented as necessary.
