THE COMMITTEE ON OVIR (VISA AND REGISTRATION SECTION) OF THE USSR

Your specific questions are answered below with additional information related to each question.

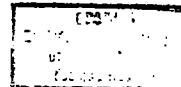

Question A. What is OVIR?

Answer - OVIR is the abbreviation for OTEML VIZ I REGISTRACIYI (Visa and Registration Section) which in 1959 was subordinate to the Main Administration of Militia, MVD (Ministry of Internal Affairs) on the All-Union level and to either the DM (Dyrevlaniye Militarii) or UVD (Dyrevlaniye Vnutrennikh Del) on Republic, Oblast or City level. The MVD was replaced by MOP (Ministries for the Protection of Public Order) in the latter part of August and during September 1962. OVIR's primary function is the exercise of control over foreigners in the USSR. Branches of OVIR are located in most of the large cities of the Soviet Union. Some serve an entire oblast or republic rather than just a city.

Additional Information - A stay in the USSR, even of short duration requires that the visitor register with the Soviet authorities. Since the fall of 1959 and until September 1962 this registration has taken two forms, as described below.

1. Hotel Registration - Most tourists have been registered by the hotel where they spent their first night in the USSR. In many cases the first hotel registration is all that is placed in the tourist's passport regardless of the itinerary of the tourist. In a few cases subsequent hotel registrations have been added. There is no known reason for the variance in procedures. In "Intourist" representative, a member of the hotel administration or possibly an OVIR representative at hotels may handle hotel registrations and the passing on of these passports which require an OVIR extension or change. We are not sure of OVIR's role in single hotel registrations.

2. OVIR Registration - Travelers not having tourist visas (excepting diplomatic personnel) normally must register with OVIR, or with MRO (Passportno-Registratsionnyy Otdel - Passport Registration Section) which is subordinate to the militia on city and oblast levels and which executes OVIR functions in those areas not having an OVIR. This registration takes place in the city where the first overnight stay is made. Generally the authorized itinerary is placed in the registration cachet. In some cases the registration is handled by the traveler personally but "Tourist" and hotel authorities have assisted by passing the traveler's passport to OVIR.

Regardless of type of visa (except diplomatic) all extensions or changes must be made by OVIR. Since 1960 most visitors singly receive hotel registrations. OVIR entries are made only when extensions or changes are required.

Question B. How many OVIRs are there in Moscow?

Answer - Based on a review of validating cachet numbers, OVIR registration numbers and OVIR officer signatures it is believed that in 1975, there was only one OVIR in Moscow. It was to this office that passports collected by hotels, militia passport offices (Passportnyy Stol), MROs and the "Foreign sections" of universities, were sent or brought personally by the bearer for OVIR registrations or changes.

Addit. Information - A single OVIR office also serves the ~~country~~ ~~area~~ other areas (Cities of Leningrad and Kiev, and the Republics of Armenia, Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia). At least in one area, Tashkent, Uzbek SSR, there is evidence that three separate validating cachet numbers were in use during 1975: 118 by OVIR DK (Dopravnoye Militairi) Tashkent, 117 by MRO OVIR Tashkent Oblast Inspection and 419 by MRO UN Tashkent Gosssoveta.

All OVIR registrations, extensions and changes are validated by an OVIR cachet. There were changes in the text of these cachets in 1961 and late 1962. The text changes reflected government administrative reorganizations. Each OVIR has a two or three digit number which is part of this validating cachet. The number apparently changes annually.

A review of the OVIR registration numbers in Moscow and Leningrad revealed that they are issued in numerical order, indicating a central control in these cities.

Only two different signatures appear on the approximately 70 different 1979 Moscow OVIR cachets reviewed. One of these was always preceded by the word "na" meaning "for" i.e. authorized to sign for. All OVIR registrations and changes in Moscow during 1979 are by OVIR or OVIRI, (the last letter standing for "ИНОСТРАНСТВО" meaning for foreigners), UVD Muzgospsoveta (Moscow city council). The signatures noted above appeared interchangeably on both registrations and changes. No Moscow Gubcom registrations were noted.

As previously stated OVIR registration is normally accomplished at the first major city visited by the traveler, and should other cities appear on the traveler's itinerary they are entered on the registration cachet. Usually no further OVIR entries are made at the other cities (excepting additional hotel registrations in some instances) unless the traveler requests an extension or change. No deregistration entries appear in the passport upon departing the USSR.

Question C. Where are the OVIR located in Moscow?

Answer - The location of the OVIR in Moscow is unknown.

Question D. Is an OVIR located at either of the following addresses?

1. Охрана Митта
2. Политбюро парлкома №

Question E. Is there an OVIR in Minsk?

Answer - The available information indicates that an OVIR was located in Minsk in 1955. Its validating contact number was 309.

Question F. Does the "to place the date" (until place the date) in the OVIR registration placed in a foreigner's passport in Moscow mean that he must leave the country by midnight of the preceding date or on the date indicated?

Attachment to: DS Memo No. 6631

Answer - A review of a number of legal traveler documents indicates that although many people leave several days prior to or right on the day preceding the "to" date, just as many leave on the "to" date and a few even several days after. These latter instances could be due to the lack of available transportation leaving the USSR. It is TSN/RS's belief that a traveler can be required to leave by midnight of the day preceding the "to" date.

Additional Information - An error similar to that mentioned in our discussion i.e. OVIR entering the wrong date in the visa extension, has been noted in the past. Whether this was intentional or simply an erroneous entry cannot be determined.

An OVIR registration is made valid for the period authorized by the visa. Thus, if the visa authorizes a 30 day stay, the OVIR registration will be good for 30 days from the date of entry into a country (not from the date of registration which may be several days later).

Question 6 - Does the following (taken from the tourist's note book) have any significance?

"VISA - D. A. VISHA"

Answer - TSN/RS cannot determine the significance of this note.
