MEMORANDUM

TO: FILES

FROM: ELLIOT MAXWELL, BILL BADER

DATE: APRIL 10, 1975

SUBJECT: VISIT TO THE CIA AGENCY, LANGLEY
APRIL 10, 1975

SENSITIVE

Bill Bader and Elliot Maxwell were at the Central Intelligence Agency from roughly 11:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. on April 10, 1975. While there we met with John Clarke, Harriet Mowitt, Lyle Miller of the Office of the General Counsel, and Lewis Elder, historian for the CIA.

We reviewed with Lewis Elder a list of historical studies now in his custody. Attached is a list of the historical studies and other materials which we requested pursuant to our agreement with John Clarke that requests made while at the Agency would be treated as formal requests of the Committee.

It did not seem profitable to ask that the Agency provide all of the historical studies which were listed. We chose works because they dealt with either an overview of the Agency, or a particular Directorate, or they provided information about policies and practices with which the Committee may be concerned. Some reliance was placed on Mr. Elder's suggestions as to the quality of the work and the value of the information which it provided. Elder cautioned us to be somewhat sceptical about a number of the studies, as the Authors ranged from professional historians to station chiefs, and the quality varied from very good to awful. We reserved the right to ask for other studies later. These include the following:

1. A 17-volume history of the Office of Special Activities, (the U-2 project).
2. A study of personnel records and reports.
3. A study of security programs of the CIA: the Domestic Field Office.
4. A study of Western European operations directed against Cuba.
5. A history of Cuban refugee exploitation.

It is not clear how soon we will receive the material, or if we will receive it at all. Elder suggested that there were substantial third-agency questions involved; for instance, the study of the U-2 would require approval from numerous government agencies as well as seventeen foreign governments.

Elliot also met with Lyle Miller of the General Counsel's staff about the material provided in response to the Committee's request for comments on proposed legislation. The material provided included comments on legislation proposed in 1974, plus a comment on PL 90-331, which allows the Director of the Secret Service to request support from other agencies of the Government. Elliot indicated to Mr. Miller that the lack of material on other legislation in other years was unacceptable.

FILES

The following files are requested. In order to expedite their location, the Committee has indicated offices which appear to be the best starting point for a search. This does not limit, nor supersede the general guideline that all files throughout the CIA relating to a project be procured. If projects herein identified are not CIA projects, but are identifiable as projects of other agencies with which CIA had some connection, the request is for all CIA files regarding such projects.

In the first instance, all of the specified material will be reviewed in unsanitized form by staff at CIA headquarters. The Committee will continue to select particular documents to be transmitted to the Committee's offices in Washington to be used in preparing for hearings and the Committee's report.

I. All files regarding the following projects, incidents or entities:

1. OXBRACE
2. SRPOINTER, HTLINGUAL, SRWESTPOINTER, and MKSOURDOUGH
(SR and FE, CI and OS)
