12	Q Would you briefly explain what a 201 file is?
13	A A 201 file is a personnel file. It consists of any information relating to an individual appearing in the press
15	as a result of other agency reporting and that type of thing.
26	Q Personnel or personality file?
17 1	A Personality file, I should say. Excuse me.

	Q In what manner did you use U.S. companies and 12	A Well, we simply used them as the experts. A great

13	many the sugar industry in Cuba was controlled by the
14	American community, by American bankers, and obviously they 16 (lost everything when they had to pull out. Sugar is the
16	lifeline of Cuba as far as any exchange, foreign exchange, this

18	was only natural that we would go to the American businessmen.
19	Q What kind of assistance did you seek or obtain from

21	A Well, we simply talked with them about why you

24	happen to the market price. This type of thing.

7	legitimate commercial activities?
8	A Not to my knowledge, no.
9	Q None of them were any of them in competition with
10	firms in that area?
11	A These are probably what we would call devised

13	Florida and they paid taxes and this type of thing, but if one
14	was blown or became known, we just crossed that out of
15	existence and started up a new one.
16	Q What did Eugenio Martinez do when he wasn't running
17	these operations?
18	A Well, he was down this is one of the reasons, as
19	I told you before, we brought him back and put him under that
20.	contract, that retainer; because of the years that he spent
21	under such strict operational discipline down in the Keys.
22	Obviously, he didn't stay down there all the time. He

9	A Well, that is one of the things I had in mind.
10	Would you describe that for me?
11	A Well, this is, I guess you could term it a target of
12	opportunity. This was where a vessel was carrying Cuban sugar
13	to the Soviet Union and I forget exactly now what happened to
14	it but I know that it got a hole below the waterline, or
15	something, and had to put into Puerto Rico for repairs.
16	In order to repair it, I guess, and get it in the
17	drydock or wherever it was, they had to remove the sugar and
18	put it in the warehouse and at that time I guess somebody came
19	up with a plan to try to widen the rift between there was
20.	a rift at that time between the Soviets and Cubans and to
21	put a harmless substance into the sugar that would make it
22	acid, sour tasting, and it wouldn't harm the sugar or the
23	individual, and some of this was done. And then when it
24	leaked, of course, we had to get rid of it and we had a sugar

9	Q. Did CIA levy any intelligence requirements upon these
10	people other than in their duties in their debriefing

AUL	127	Q. All right. Where are these files now?
30 & PAUL	13	A. They are in the Headquarters here. A great many of by giving me about a one or two minute resume of what your contacts were with the Cuban elements in Florida and elsewhere withing this country on behalf of the Agency?

	A Well, I was a member of the Special Activities Staff which was in effect the Cuban task force at Headquarters and the Miami Station functioned under the Special Activities Staff in a variety of intelligence collection and operations.
	Q. Who was the head of the Special Activities Staff?
	A. Desmond Fitzgerald.
+	Q And who was his immediate superior?
	A. Dick Bissell. Excuse me. No. At that time it was
1	Dick Helms. He was the DEP.

We do have 10 a career agent who has been with us for a good many years. 11 in Miami and we do use him to contact relatives of Cubans 12 who are still in Cuba. I mean, relatives who are in the U.S. 13 who have relatives in Cuba. 14 Now, this is done principally with the idea of a 15 recruitment target, determine weaknesses or strengths, this 16 type of thing. He does contact these people all over the 17 : United States. If we come across an individual that looks like 18 he might be recruitable, or perhaps we could even double him, 19 we will, after we make our preliminary assessment, and we 20 find out where relatives and these types of people are, we 21 will ask this career agent or instruct him to go contact 22 these people, be it New York, New Jersey, Chicago, or what-23 ever. 24 So you use Cuban, now citizens or aliens in this 25 country, as access agents.
