OSCAR RODRIGUEZ MOLINA

T-1, on September 3, 1964, furnished the following information which was obtained from the files of the Mexican Department of Immigration in Mexico City:

OSCAR RODRIGUEZ MOLINA appeared at the Immigration Station in the International Airport at Mexico, Mexico, on August 3, 1961, stating that he was a Cuban citizen who desired to return to Cuba. RODRIGUEZ said that he was born in Havana, Cuba, was 31 years old, married, an employee, and had his permanent residence at Calle Galeano 31, Havana, Cuba.

RODRIGUEZ stated that he entered Mexico at the International Airport in Mexico City on January 21, 1961, and was granted political asylum.

RODRIGUEZ presented a certificate of Cuban nationality issued by the Cuban Consulate in Mexico City on July 27, 1961, and also exhibited a similar certificate for his minor son.

RODRIGUEZ stated that the reasons for which he had requested political asylum in Mexico no longer were in effect and he desired to renounce his status of political asylum in Mexico. He stated that he wanted to return to Cuba with his 18-month-old son, OSCAR ENRIQUE RODRIGUEZ.

SANCHEZ, who had entered Mexico on June 23, 1939, accompanied by his mother, HILDA SANCHEZ DE RODRIGUEZ, who is a Mexican citizen.

Mexican Immigration Department File No. C/S-1.7
"SANCHEZ" disclosed that RODRIGUEZ first entered Mexico as a political exile on July 1, 1938, arriving from Cuba. He departed Mexico, en route Cuba, on January 3, 1939.

RODRIGUEZ stated he was born in Jaruco, Havana, Cuba, on December 13, 1903.

RODRIGUEZ requested permission, prior to departing from Mexico, to marry ELLA DODOR / SANCHEZ PEREZ, a Mexican citizen; however, RODRIGUEZ did not marry SANCHEZ in Mexico, but rather married her in Guantánamo, Havana, Cuba, on August 7, 1939.

After the re-entry of RODRIGUEZ into Mexico in January, 1931, he stated that he was a Sergeant in the Cuban National Police until April 28, 1939, at which time he resigned because he did not approve of the operations of the police. He claimed that he then obtained employment as Chief of the Water Pipe Tank Department of the Mibear A. S. in Havana, Cuba, where he remained until September 1, 1939.

He came to Mexico as a tourist at about this time, returning to Havana, Cuba, from Mexico, on November 13, 1939. As a result of this trip, the Cuban intelligence organization, referred to as the G-2, allegedly persecuted him until he was obliged to request political asylum in the Mexican Embassy in Havana, Cuba.

He was authorized to remain in Mexico as a political exile on February 21, 1931, when he was given permission to accept employment as a policeman, since he is married to a Mexican citizen by birth.

On June 28, 1931, Mrs. RODRIGUEZ asked for authority to accompany her son, OSCAR, of Cuban nationality, to the city of Houston, Texas, stating that her husband was located in that city. (There is no information in the files of the Mexican Department of Immigration to indicate that RODRIGUEZ had left Mexico to enter the United States.)

As mentioned above, RODRIGUEZ appeared at the Immigration office in Merida, Yucatan, Mexico, on August 9, 1931, and departed Merida, en route Havana, Cuba, on August 16, 1931, accompanied by his son, OSCAR.

Mrs. RODRIGUEZ, on September 7, 1932, requested authority from the Mexican Department of Immigration for her husband to enter Mexico as an immigrant. Mrs. RODRIGUEZ stated that Mrs. ALEJANDRO MONTERO DE SANCHEZ, owner of the Nueva Kola Pharmacy in Mexico City, had offered him employment at a salary of 300 pesos ($72 U.S.) monthly.

RODRIGUEZ did not accept this employment, and on February 3, 1934, DONATO SANCHEZ VIZQUEZ, owner of the Versailles Pharmacy, Alvarado 20, Mexico City, offered RODRIGUEZ employment in that pharmacy at a salary of 1,000 pesos ($250 U.S.) monthly.

RODRIGUEZ requested authority to enter Mexico, and authority was granted by Order No. 27020 dated April 21, 1934. He was admitted as an immigrant for a period of one year, since his wife is a Mexican citizen by birth. He was admitted with permission to accept employment at the Versailles Pharmacy.

RODRIGUEZ entered Mexico at International Airport, Mexico City, on July 10, 1936, bearing Cuban Passport No. 60383 issued January 4, 1933. He also carried Mexican Immigration Document No. 7034.

RODRIGUEZ stated that his residence in Havana, Cuba, is located at Calle 3, between Third Avenue and Finca Marango, Guanabacoa, Havana, Cuba.

RODRIGUEZ furnished his residence in Mexico City as Sindicalismo No. 37, Apartment 217, Colonia Escandon.
