LANSON, William - United States Delegate to All African People's Conference

1. A public relations can concerned primarily with foreign secounts reports that after the defeat of Mohammed Mahgoub in his hid to become Aragident of the UN Assembly, Ibrahim Anis, the Summers Andersector: to the United States, commented on some of the "crackpot" down triversed by a William Lawson. Anis felt that Lawson had stated that Mahgoub could not possibly have expected to win the UN slection since all the influential newspapers in the United States are Jevish-owned and Would be opposed to Mahgoub's election. Apparently, Lawson is a public relations man who has formed an organization to conduct such basiness for African countries.

2. Lawson, seconding to and, will be one of the United States dalegates to the All African Peoples Conference to be held in Acars from 5-12 December 1954. Our contact suggested that in view of Subject's viewpoint, he might be an individual to watch with regard to this conference.

Julia Cellini - Contact with Rumanian Finance Minister

SUBJECT:

A. 13.067 1. In late November 1959, Julia Cellini, Assistant to Edward K. Moss, Public Relations, attended a dinner party where she was introduced to the Deputy Finance Minister of Rumania. This individual was in Washington for consultations with the International Bank, ICA, State, etc. He asked her what he should see in Washington, and she recommended the usual places, plus Charlottesville.

2. The following week she was invited to a farewell dinner for the Rumanian Cultural Attache, whom she had previously met. The Deputy Pinance Minister came up, remembered her name and said that he had seen everything she had recommended, including a weekend at Charlottesville. He had taken along his superior, the Finance Minister, and at the party, introduced him to Miss Cellini. The conversation was in French, although the Minister did understand English.

3. The Minister asked her what else to see during their remaining week, and she recommended the Monastery, Mt. Vernon, etc. He thereupon asked her to accompany them to lunch, and she explained that she could not, that she worked. On Friday, the Minister called her to accompany them on the trip to Mt. Vernon on Saturday. She did not wish to do so, but could not gracefully get out of it. On Saturday it was raining and the trip was called off when she said she could not join them on Sunday. The Minister called her once more before leaving Washington.

4. This memorandum is written for the record of the fact that both the Minister and Deputy Minister of Finance had shown considerable interest in Miss Cellini, in the event that it might be of any use at some future date.

SUBJECT: Vacancy for Secretary in Embassy of Guinea

A- 72684

Edward K. Moss notified this of Nee today that the Ambassador Iron Guinea is in the process of setting up his Embassy in Washington, having returned to the U.S. last week. He is looking for a chancery, an embassy, and a residence, as well as his basic staff.

2. He requires a female secretary, whom he states must be attractive, with shorthand abilities in French and English. She must not be a French citizen or have had employment by the French Government. Her salary would be in the vicinity of $400 a month, tax free. A white woman is preferable.

3. Moss said that the Ambassador has had difficulty in locating such a person and has asked Moss to help, so that anyone we wished could properly be introduced through this means. Moss pointed out that, since the girl would be the first employee of a small staff, she would attain a very important position. He felt that this might be significant in that Frime Minister Toure is politically "on the fence". Toure himself will be in Washington on a State visit on 25 October 1959.

FOR: THE EMBASSY OF THE REPUBLIC OF THE SUDAN

HOLD FOR RELEASE:

AFTER 5:00 P.M., E.S.T. THURSDAY, NOV. 27, 1958

STATEMENT OF THE AMBASSADOR OF THE REPUBLIC OF THE SUDAN

Dr. Ibrahim Anis, Ambassador of the Republic of The Sudan, today reaffirmed his country's friendship for the United States in a statement issued on the eve of his departure for Khartoum, scheduled originally for early this month but delayed until tomorrow because of the formation of a new government in The Sudan earlier this month.

Dr. Anis' statement follows:

الاستدور والمستد والعنتداي

"I would like to thank the American public and especially the American press for the thoughtful consideration with which they received and appraised the news of the recent developments in my country. Thanks to your refusal to jump to hasty conclusions and make comparisons with events in other countries which would not apply to The Sudan, the relations between our countries have not been strained as they might have been through misunderstanding and we remain today good friends.

"The Government of my country was changed because partisan strife between political parties threatened to bring about a demoralization of our people and a loss of confidence in our ability as a nation to preserve the principles of freedom and independence to which our people are determined to adhere.

"A government of stability, including both military and civil leaders acting with the approval of the spiritual leaders of our country, has assumed responsibility to the people to resolve our internal problems and to maintain cordial relations with all other countries as befitting a free and independent, democratic Republic. It has assumed the responsibility in a peaceful and orderly manner without impairing the rights of dissident elements or freedom of movement of any of our citizens or visitors to our country. It has assured complete freedom of the press. It has pledged itself to be bound by and give full effect to the agreements into which the Republic of The Sudan has entered since our independence nearly three years ago.

(MORE)

"In doing this my country has not been moved by external pressures or by any feeling of unfriendliness towards other countries. On the contrary, our Prime Minister, El Ferik Ibrahim Pasha Abboud, and his Government will work to improve these relations on the basis of mutual respect, friendship and mutual interest.

"Paramount among the problems of relations with other countries to which our Government will address itself will be to give expression to the conviction of every Sudanese that it is of utmost importance to bring about a fair division of the waters of the Nile which flow from our country into Egypt and which are of great importance to the economic development of both nations,

"Our new Government has now been recognized by virtually every other country, including your own. As my nation's representative in the United States since our independence I have seen the steady growth of closer relations and greater understanding between our countries. I am made confident by the recent events in my country and the sympathetic response to them by your country, that these cordial relations will endure and, indeed, can now be made even more strong.

"It is my pleasure that my diplomatic career began and ended with my service as Ambassador to the United States. It is a happy coincidence that my last day in the United States is Thanksgiving Day. For me it is a day on which I give thanks for all the wonderful friends I have made here. It is a day on which I congratulate all Americans for the friendship they have extended to me and to my country. Although I am returning to private life, I want them all to know I shall never cease my efforts to bring about increasingly close relations between our two nations."

A copy of this material is filed with the Department of Justice where the required statement under the Foreign Agents Registration Act is available for public inspection. Registration does not indicate approval or disapproval of this material by the United States Government.

SELLE

1. We have received a response to your verbal request of 15 December 1958 for further biographic information on Lillian Marika.

2. Lillian Karika is described as rather unattractive physically, in her 40's, chunky and unkempt. This impression is dissipated when she begins to sponk, which is done with great animation. However, she abuses the English language to such a degree that it is hard to believe that she could have passed the Ber Tork Bar. She is obviously restless, energetic and ambitious, with apparently no interests outside of work. She is always furlously working on some scheme or other, in addition to her Greak bask project. She was recently involved in the management difficulties at the Rotel 2400 in Whichington and is also considering managing an Thalian singer on a US tour. These divergent efforts seen to be typical. Source has never heard her consent on politics or her education, but she apparently is strongly pro-US. She was most upset when she heard a story in Groece that she was negotiating for the purchase of her bank by a group through the Banc-du-Kord, which group was reportedly Communist. She caused guite a commotion in the US Embaney in Athens to be sure that there was no misunderstanding of her position.

3. Source believes that Mr. O'Brien of the US Enhance in Athens should know a good deal about her, and that there have also been several detailed accounts about her and her activities in the Greek press.

US citizen, public relations specialist.

- 1. During the sessions at the United Nations [week of 1 Oct 60 7 I was in frequent touch with Komla Agbeli Gbedemah, the Finance Minister of Chana, and was able, I believe, to get the true reaction of President Evans Horumah to Secretary Herter's remark lumping Norumah with the Communists.
- 2. Gedemah told me that Nkrumah has no personal regard whatsoever for Lummmba of the Congo, but regards him merely as an individual tossed up by political tides - basically "an empty head". Aswever, Nkrumah's badly phrased remarks were intended to convey his rusi views which are, according to Gedemah, that the new countries of Africa must develop strong national government, or else they will revert to regional or tribal chaos. Harumah, therefore, feels strongly that the United Mations has given its support to the anti-Lummba factions, just because it does not like him nor his actions, thereby furthering a split around the duly installed Prime Minister.
- 3. Nkrumah's personal reaction to Secretary Herter's remark was one of deep hurt and anger. In effect, he now feels that "if the US does not understand what I am trying to do, to hell with it"! During the past year Nkrumah was coming out of his sulk at the US over his bad press on arrests, etc in Ghana, but this incident has set him back again and has played into the hands of the pro-Soviet faction in his country.
- 4. Efforts were made to have Noruman appear on the Dave Garroway television show, with prepared questions approved by him, to elarify his views on the position of the neutrals. It was also arranged for him to be in one of the future debates planned by NEC, in which he could expound on the future role of non-African states in Africa. This would be filmed in Accra, or anywhere he wished, with an opponent agreeable to him. Goedamah urged both prospects to Narumah and was refused flatly, through general annoyance and personal frustration.
- 5. As a sidelight to this matter, I also talked to the prospective Foreign Minister of Sierra Leone (upon attaining independence) and to several Indians. All expressed shock at the apparent US misunderstanding of what the Africans feel about the importance of strong central governments in the new states.

- 5. Goedemanh was profoundly disturbed when he talked to me on 11 and 13 Aug 60. We have known each other well for a long time, yet he has never before "let his hair down" as he has on this matter. He must report to Nikrumah on Friday morning, 19 Aug 60, regarding the success or failure of his mission. He talked by telephone to the Fresident 11 Aug 60 but did not tall him about the US$5 million abortage, merely saying that there were still a few difficult details. Nirumah replied that Ghana would not be put into the position of beseeching the US for the loans he would rather give up the whole thing and turn elsewhere. Greenmah is sure that if he must report to the President that he has returned without the additional UB$5 million, that Nirumah will immediately have his secretary call the Soviet Ambassador.
- 6. The Finance Minister teld me that there had been considerable unhappiness in Ghana when Nkrusch decided to become President rather than remaining Prime Minister. If the discontent over this mong high party members had been allowed to break out, the opposition could have exploited the schines and the government would have falles. The conflict was contained within the cabinet and at the highest party levels, but the tensoness and danger remain. (Dedemak said that Nkrumah is an egotist and some powerful people do not like his self-glorification. Dedemak commented that "Nkrumah's days are membered" but would not enlarge further.
- 7. Obedamsh is convinced that if the US$5 million is not constitued, "it will be the straw to break the camel's back". He does not know why the DEF was so adament in the matter, but says that "this is a question of saving a country for the cost of a 5-47 bomber". Exrumah, he assured me, is leaning more and more away from the West, and failure to get the lean from the US will fimally make the President turn to the UEER for the entire amount. The Soviets will surely agree to such as opportunity, so that the US position in Ghama is "hanging in the balance" in the next few days. Goedamah is still hopeful that he will have favorable word, before he has to report to Marumah im Accro, that the US$5 million has been granted, but he does not think this will really come to pass.

4. I learned very little of Exclinnov's background. He did tell me that he had been born and reared on a farm outside of Moscow where his father still realdes. Is appeared very sincers in his deep affection for his father, when he said he visited at every opportunity. He said his father loved poetry and had made his spenk may hours of his youth memorizing the vorks of famous Soviet poets, his father's theory being that one could not really love and understand his country and his people without a knowledge of his country's literature. Excliance improved as a may he had a very deep love for his country and packle and apart from any idealogical consideration.

- 1. I have been in touch with the Chancian Mahasay for several weeks in regard to the state visit of President Sekon There of Guinea, which will begin on 20 October 1959. In view of the fact that Guinea has no embassy or chancellery in Washington, the Guineian Babasay was instructed by its government to render every service possible to Ambasasdor Wells Diallo of Guinea to insure the successful state visit of Toure. Telli, who presented his credentials in June 1959 and then returned to Guinea, seme back to the US only side or seven weeks ago. He has been in New York almost constantly since his return to the US, and from all appearances, was not too concerned with Marre's impending visit.
- 2. Since my firm had done public relations work for the Chanaian Rubassy in the past, they contacted us to assist them in locating appropriate real estate in Washington for the Enhancy of Guiana. He selected several good properties and Talli came down from how York to inspect them. So left without making any decision, saying he would be back again to look at the properties. Manchile, the Chanalon Enhancy was becoming rather anxious in regard to arrangements for Tours's visit, and Tolli was apparently unconcerned, issuing no instructions for Sours's itinerary while in Washington, no arrangements for receptions, etc. Telli simply left, saying he would be back. Time passed and felli did not return. The Chanalan Entassy was becoming quite anxious, and their task was doubly hard because of Anhassador # M Chapman's recall to Channe. (Chapman's recall, incidentally, was supposed to have been temperary. I understand that he was recalled because it was discovered that he was commiting with the political specition in Chana.) The expansion was then made that William Barnes Queo Halm would be the new Anbassedor to the US, but Halm had not arrived during the period that the Chanalan Enhancy was trying to pin down Talli to discuss arrangements for Toure's visit. The Generaten Pabasay was becoming a little annoyed.
- 3. In late September 1959 I discussed this problem with Ghama's Finance Binister, Komla A Goodemah, who was in the US for World Bank meetings, and his reaction was that he did not believe that Telli had funds to purchase an embassy property, and that he was embarrassed. As a result of Telli's unavailability and the understandable annoyance of the Ghamaian Embassy_Antessator Balm on his arrival in Hashington

4. I was, noverthalcos, still interested in the Trans visit from a profeesional stanlpoint, and could not believe that arrangements were est being made Cotake CARE of Torde's PARTY, WALN THE DEMATANM of Beals put out an itimorary on Tours's visit of 19 October 1999. I know that sourcess had to be making arreagements. I learned that Ambusador Tolli had come down from New York for one day the week of 12 October 1959 with a public relations man of Olin Mathieson, but that Telli had not gone near the Ghenaian Kalassy. I assumed that Olin Mathieson was performing the services offered by the Chamaian Embandy. I contacted friends in Olia Mathieson and was informed that because of their extensive aluminum project in Guinea they were handling no publicity for the Toure visit, nor were they arranging for any state functions in Washington. Olin Mathieson had supplied a French-spouking secretary to assist Ambussedor Telli during the course of legal transactions involving, I am told, the purchase of a very fine building in New York -- this would tend to discredit Obedemah's assumption that Tulli did not have fuchs for purchase of an embassy in Washington -- but Olin Mathieson had done no public relations work for Tolli. Tolli, I was informed, had requested funds for public relations from President Tours, but had received no reply.

5. I then called several hotels in Washington to determine whether or pot any arrangements had been mude for receptions at which Tours would be bost. The Mayflower Hotel is handling a Tours reception for a thousand guests on 27 October 1959. I asked who was handling the arrangements for the reception and was referred to a Counsellor of the Literian Embassy. The reason for Ambassador Telli's disregard for the repeated and frantic inquiries from the Chanaian Embassy in regard to Toure's visit immediately became apparent. In my opinion, this deliberate snub of the Ghanaian Eabazay is indicative of very strained relations between the governments of Ghana and Guines, Further, Ambassador Halm of Ghana has not yet presented his credentials, so he is still in Washington in an unofficial especity. I an sure that he does not intend to present his credentials until after Toure's visit. In this way, he successfully evolds being identified in any official capacity with Youre's visit.

After my brief chat with Finance Minister Chedemah at the World Bank meetings, I had dinner with him the following week in Bey York. Though he does not receive the public recognition abroad enjoyed by Kojo Botsio, Ghana's Minister of Economic Affairs, Goedemah is recognized in Ghana as Nkrumah's right hand wan and most influential adviser. Everything of major importance done by Mirumah has been discussed with Gbedemah, and has his approval. He has Ekrumah's respect to the point where he is apparently quite independent in his actions. This was illustrated to me in our discussion of the meeting of African leaders lust summer [1959] in Liberia. According to Obodemah, he had strongly advised against Norumah's attendance at the conference and had flatly refused to accompany Hernerh. Goodemah said that the conference was a major set back for Ekrowah, where Mirunah's dream of African Federation had been successfully punctured by President William Tulann's moderation policy and urgings that any final decisions be delayed until the next meeting in 1960 when the leaders of new independent African states would be present. President Tours of Guines - supposedly rederated with Chana - supported Tuhman. I told Gbodemah I found this hard to understand and asked him for his personal opinion of fours. I was annoyed at his reply, for Obedemah, though a direct and frank individual, is not given to making derogatory statements about other heads of state. - I talked with Finance Minister Morar i Banchhod ji Desai on the occasion 1. of his visit to the UN for the Morid Bank maetings in Sep 59. Desai, who was formerly. Chisf Minister of Boshey, and is presently Jawabarial Bebru's right hand, told me that the Indian Government had conclusive proof that the recent food riots in Bombey and Calcutta were communistinspired. Vailure of food prices to decline in Bombay and Calcutta when India has just harvested a basper food crop, he said, was directly attributable to comminist activities in the farming area villages around the two citics. Communist agitators have convinced the farmers that to guard against any four abortage in their villages next year [1960], and to insure higher prices for their crops when they do sell, that the crops should not be sent to the cities for marbeting. This, according to Denai, quite parturally forced food prices in the cities to remain at a high level. The communist agitatous then incited and organized the riots in the cities against the high cost of food.
- 2. I estad pessi what chance the communist party had of returning to power in Kerala when elections are hold in early 1960. His reply was that the communists did not stand a chance of re-election, that the people of Kerala wave completaly disillusioned, and under no circumstances would vote for the return of a communist government in Kerala.

- 1. I have been in touch with the Ghanaian Ambaasay for several weeks in regard to the state visit of President Schow Toure of Guines, which will begin on 26 Oct 59. In view of the fact that Guines has no embansy or chancery in Washington, the Ghanaian Embassy was instructed by its government to rendor every service possible to Ambaasador Diallo Tells of Guines to insure the successful state visit of Toure. Telle, who presented his credentials in Jun 59 and then returned to Guines, came back to the US only six or seven weeks ago. He has been in Haw Nork almost constantly since his return to the US, and from all appearance, was not too concerned with Toure's impanding visit.

- 4. I was, nevertheless, still interested in the Tours visit from a professional standpoint, and could not believe that arrangements ware not being made to take care of Toure's party. When the Department of State put out an itinerary on Toure's visit on 19 Oct 59, I knew that someone had to be making arrangements. I learned that Ambassador Telle had come down from New York for one day the week of 12 Oct 59 with a public relations man of Olin Mathieson, but that Tells had not gone near the Ghamian Emblassy. The Nayflower Hotel is handling a Toure reception for a thousand guests on 27 Oct 59. I asked who was handling the arrangements for the reception and was referred to a Counsellor of the Liberian Embassy. The reason for Ambassador Telle's disregard for the repeated and frautic inquiries from the Ghanaian Embassy in regard to Toure's visit immediately became apparent. In my opinion, this deliberate snub of the Ghanaian Embassy is indicative of very strained relations between the governments of Ghana and Guinea. Further, Ambassador Halm of Ghana has not yst presented his credentials, so he is still in Washington in an unofficial capacity. I am sure that he does not intend to present his credentials until after Toure's visit. In this vay, he successfully avoids being identified in any official capacity with Toure's visit. I do not believe, however, that any open rupture is imminent between the two governments. It would do Kvame Mkrumah's dream of federation no good to have the first African state with which he has formed a federation blow up in his face; I believe he will bide his time until the next meeting of the heads of African States in Liberia next year (1960).
- 6. After my brief chat with Finance Minister Gbedemah at the World Bank meetings, I had dinner with him the following week in New York. Though he does not receive the public recognition abroad enjoyed by Kojo Botsio, Ghana's Minister of Economic Affairs, Goedemah is recognized in Ghana as Nkrumah's right hand man and most influential adviser. Everything of major importance done by Nurumah has been discussed with Goedemah, and has his approval. He has Nkrumah's respect to the point where he is apparently quite independent in his actions. This was illustrated to me in our discussion of the meeting of African leaders last summer /1959/ in Liberia. According to Goedemah, he had strongly advised egainst Nkrumah's attendance at the conference and had flatly refused to accompany likruman. Gbederah said that the conference was a major set back for Nkrumah, where Nkrumah's dream of African Federation had been successfully punctured by President William Tubman's moderation policy and urgings that any final decisions be delayed until the next meeting in 1960 when the leaders of new independent African states would be present. President Toure of Guines - supposedly federated with Ghana - supported Tubman. I told Goedemah I found this hard to understand and asked him for his personal opinion of Toure. I was annoyed at his reply, for Gbedemah, though a direct and frank individual, is not given to making derogatory statements about other heads of state. Gedeman said of Toure, "The man is a crook, a demagogue and an opportunist".

Source's firm specializes in publicity for foreign governments and industries.

- 1. Indian government and business visitors to the US have been aghast in recent works at the anti-US statements of the new Indian Ambassador Mahomed Ali C Chagla. These include charges against US shipments of arms to Pakistan. The Indians feel that the Ambassador is being highly undiplomatic and cannot believe that he is acting under orders from home.
- 2. On 22 Jum 59, I talked with an important Indian industrialist, who formerly held a high post in the Indian Government and is quite close to Javaharlal Nehru. He told me flatly that the Ambassador is following an independent line and is not under Nehru's instructions, although it may be possible that he has tacit consent to proceed. I received the impression that the Indian Government is not too happy with the situation but has pot yet instructed the Ambassador to desist. Nehru is always inclined not to interfere with his diplomatic representatives unless they get completely out of line.
- 3. My informant said that he thinks the real reason for the Ambassador's actions is a personal one. Chagla probably recognizes the fact that he is one of the last of the old Muslim leaders whose carear dates back to the fight for independence. At that time he was a strong supporter of Mohammed Ali Jinnah, but broke with Jinnah when he supported a partition of India into two separate countries. Chagla then joined the Congress Party with Mehru and became the Chief Justice of Bombay. Now, he has political ambitions for a Cabinet post. He is making the brash statements primarily for home consumption to accomplish his desire.
- 4. I was also told that the Ambassador is trying to take credit privately for the fact that the US Congress has moved to send less arms aid abroad.

- 1. During a conference in the US on Indian commic development on 4-5 May 59, I had several opportunities to talk informally with the Indian Eocialist Party leader, A lighta. Under questioning, he told me that the Eocialist Party actually coincides almost 59 percent with the beliefs of the Echru Covernment, but disagrees on aspects of policy and administration. In effect, his is just another "opposition" party. Eocialism in India means equality of opportunity and not too great a concentration of wealth in anyone's hands. He pointed out that he is for private enterprise and used as an example the fact that he persuaded the Indian Covernment to get out of the fertilizer business and permit it to be handled by private enterprise. He believes that business should do the jobs for which it is capable and the government handle those it cannot.
- 2. At the time of the Tibetan revolt, he demanded that the short's Tehru make a firm policy against Communist China. How, he is glad that Nehru did not do so because the Prime Minister knew that any such move would jeopardize the flight of the Dalai Lama, which he had been privately informed was then in progress. Ments added that the Tibetan incident has had more effect on Indian public opinion than any event since Independence. The people at all levels are deeply shocked. He agrees that the Indian Government must maintain its position of non-alignment officially, but the people and public servants can continue to have strongly anti-communist sentiments. India is at last aroused to the darger of communism, which it was not at the time of the distant Hangarian repression.
- 3. He felt that the situation in Kerala State was primarily because of a "botch" by the Congress Party. He thought that the communists won the initial election because the people voted in protest against the Congress Party. They were not communist sympathizers but were merely disgusted with the government. Communist success the second time was traceable to much the same situation - second rate Congress Party candidates and ineffective policies. He is certain that the communists cannot long remain in power in Kerala if the Congress Party will put up good people. During these statements, it was obvious that, though on anticommunist himself, Mehta was not particularly concerned over Kerala. He regarded it almost as an example that elective democracy is actually working in India.
- 4. Mehta is concerned over Nehru's drive to implement the new cooperative farming plan. He agrees that India must increase farming production but this plan will not be popular. Anything which affects peasant computing of land cannot get going in India. He corrected that the besting motive for surder in India is dispute over land terure. Be thinks that some sort of marketing cooperative would be more effective.

- 5. He was most anxious for a reconciliation between India and Pakiston. He folt that this was inevitable but should be very scon. While in the US, he had a quict conference with the Pakistani Askassador on this subject and told me that he frequently makes trips to Pakistan itself, to talk to its leaders. Mehta felt that Nehru may be coming around to drop his personal acti-Pakistan feelings, which were brought about largely by what he considered ill use by Pakistan at the time of the Kashmir crisis. Mehta also believes that the Tibetan revolt has made both the Indians and Pakistani more conscious of the fact that they must get together to solve their problems, converting a minimum of them.
- 6. Nehts agreed that the West had taken the correct steps in the cold war to contain communist night and aggression. However, he did think that there must be some method by which the strains of the cold war could be relaxed.

- 5. Now, Garcie is in a dilemma. He himself would look roolish for having been taken in by his own ambassador, should he come out with the truth and make Record the scapegoat. This is a position he cannot take without further weakening his own snaky administration. Further, Garcia cannot fire or remove Remulo, without the necessary explanation, because it would then appear that be had given in completely to his anti-US faction by removing the best Filipino friend the US has had by proved record.
- 6. By friends say that Romalo has resorted to these desperate tactics because he knows that many of his countrymen wish him removed. He does not wish to return to the Philippines and does not want to lose his anhasesdorship. For this reason, he has continued to fabricate or to mislead his own government and to foster the difficulties between the two countries. By friends are convinced that Romalo must be removed in some manner for the good of the Philippines. They support the Garcia administration, because it is legally in power, but their view is the long one. There will be an election in two years and the problems between the US and the Philippines, which are largely misunderstandings, must be solved before it might be too late for the mext administration to repair the damage.

- 1. The international maritime boycott, which became effective in December 1958, against the "flags of convenience" of US-owned vessels registered under forvign nations, has caused considerable consternation within the Liberian Soverusent. Liberians realize that the countries involved (Liberia, Panama, Bondures, Duminican Republic) have been mude to luck like co-conspirators with the US ship operators to defraud the US of revenue and taxes and to avoid the standards of US maritime law, With the continuance of such a boycott, the Liberians fear that their international reputation will be increasingly burt.
- 2. I have learned that in the case of Liberia, the blanket condemnation is not justifiable because the wages of ship crews under Liberian law are the highest after those of the US and the US maritime code of safety was adopted by Liberia vertiatin. The operation of Liberian registariat vasels 10 quite effectively administered according to those regulations, and, as a general rule, Liberian consuls inspect every Liberian flag vessel calling in their .....
- 3. While this data is undoubtedly known, there is another factor involved. Liberia has the fourth largest fleet in the world under its flag, including the majority of the best and nevest US tankers. In the event of war, Liberia has a standing agreement with the US that these vessels will be switched to US authority without formalities. Such an agreement does not exist under other foreign flag arrangements. Some individuals concerned with the Merchant Marine feel, therefore, that this boycott is a highly desirable technique on the part of the comminists (probably influential in some of the unions involved). It will be used to switch these wital US vessels to a foreign flag, which would be considerably less accessible in a national emergency, so that the US would not have prompt and effective control over necessary shipping.
- 4. The Liberian Government cannot understand why the US Government does not publicly state that it has approved the Liberian flag operation, and there is containly the prospect that a continuance of this situation will hurt US/Liberian relations.

| Anis 10 convinced that General Abboud is non-political and a patriotic Sudance,who will remain in power only until present problems are solved. These consistprimarily of interval instability due to the bickering in political factionsand the Mile water negotiations with Egypt, which must be determined withoutSudan losing cut to Egypt. When these problems are solved, Anis feels thatAbboud will call for elections with the hope of forming a Parliament with amijority party. and, in view of his past efforts and the fact that he has a financial istomot in the cill, will certainly approve such US aid. In fact, when Anis returns to private busizees, he will be the wholesale distributor for the textile cill. Mr. laughingly said that the new Foreign Minister is torn between keeping Anis in the US as an Ambassador or getting his home as quickly as possible to help in the busizees.

6. Anic expressed his great concern about the coloration of the news regarding the coup which has been appearing in the US press from Cairo scarces. He caid that these stories have had a pro-Besix tinge, although the US press has been vary objective in general. Anis remarked that the Sudanese public is greatly Influenced by Egyptics propagands and told the story shout attending a percer gues with ind. In the Sudan is 1957. recognized the UE need to bonor its pledge to support Malik, be believed that US activities far exceeded the commitment to Malik. The Suisnese, however, were not so irritated as the Arab states, which felt that the US was trying to influence them to desert the man of their choice in favor of the US selection. They considered this directly contrary to President Risenbover's suggestion that the Arabs should do everything possible to solve their own problems.

5. Nahgoub told me he was sure of thirty-nine votes, with five more probables and some additional possibilities an hour before the election. The Scandinavian countries informed him the day before that they would not vote for Malik. South America had divided in opinion and would not vote as a bloc. Of these, Mahgoub had six pledges of support but in the final count, he ended without a single vote from Latin Americas as a result of what he called "threats" from the US. The Ghana delegate felt that he had a higher duty than to support the UK, as a member of the Commonwealth, in voting for Malik. Liberia had been the first nation in Africa to back the Eisenhower Doctrine and to support the US landings in Lebanon, but it too felt that a neutral moderator should be elected.

6. The Sudarese were upset by the anti-Mahgoub rumors, which they are convinced were fostered by the US, that the Sudan is pro-communist and pro-Arab. These stories were common in the UN in the final days before the vote and went so far as to say that Mahgoub himsel? was a pro-Masir stooge, despite his record. The Sudanese do not consider themselves "neutral on the side of the USSR", and in fact have an effective anti-communist law. They feel that their country's reputation was blackened unjustly by these rumors and the resulting election. It may now be hard to combat Soviet propaganda opportunities in the Sudan, such as claims that the US opposed a black Moslem in favor of a white Christian and that the USSR backed the Sudan while the US supported the other side to its own national interest. Mahgoub fears that it will be hard for the Sudanese people to resist such propaganda in their disappointment at the outcome of the election. He is certain that the Sudanese papers will be full of Soviet-instigated anti-US material and the main job will be to "cool off" the public.

7. Mahgoub believes that the Arab nations will be most irritated at Nalik's election, but that it will take some time to determine actual effects. He asked me whether the US was interested in justifying its policy regardless of the consequences or was it truly interested in making friends in Africa. He felt that the US had much possibly to lose and really little to gain by such apparent intervention in favor of one man, Malik, who is not even supported by his own Lebanon. Mahgoub was certain that General Shehab did not endorse Malik, as was reported in the US press. Shehab always issues public statements as written commanders, which did not occur in this instance. A US correspondent had telephoned Shehab for a story and in conversation Shehab had casually mentioned that Malik was a Lebanese press because Shehab himself controls cent or apparent in the Lebanese press because Shehab himself controls cent or than did the Sudanese papers.

8. The Sudanese Foreign Minister assured me that personally be admires and likes Malik. Malik's wife was raised in Khartoum and the two men have known each other for many years. Makgoub commented that before he left the UN the last time Malik had told him that he would withdraw his own candidacy if Mahgoub should be supported by the Arab states. This did not come about and my impression from personal talks with Mahgoub was that the whole affair ended in sorrow for him rather than in anger. He and his colleagues had hoped to gain more world prestige and knowledge about the Sudan, but now fear that its carefully fostered neutral stance has been eclipsed by the stories that Mahgoub vas pro-communist. Mahgoub told me that he now plans to stay through the early part of the UM session and them will do what be can to keep Sudan public opinion on an even keel. He added that there might be another chance for him to be elected president of the Assembly.
