1. The briefing was held in a small luxurios government conference room, on the afternoon of Friday 9 October 1964, lasting about 2 1/2 hours. 2. At the request of the [C.E., Paul [redacted]] I prefaced the operational briefing with a brief description of how the U.S. Intelligence community operates, of the role of CIA, of the need for compartmentation and security, and specifically of how the foregoing considerations make it imperative for the [Guatemalan] to adopt security precautions which will ensure that the information we provide and the [Joint operations] we undertake [are] compartmented within the [Guatemalan government] (and, in fact, discussed by the [Guatemalan government] exclusively with our representatives in the field). 24

3. Following the introductory remarks outlined above, I briefed the group on the DDCI structure, the DDCI operational techniques, and specifically on DDCI units and operations in Guatemala. The ~~President~~ <sup>President</sup> gave close attention throughout the briefing and examined the exhibits closely, including the DDCI intelligence requirements for Guatemala 24 and the ~~Salvadoran~~ "Cas. Zapote" file.

4. After the foregoing exposition, I explained our aims in exploiting the information with regard to the recruitment aspect, The CA play, and the control of Subversion. In this connection I asked for close cooperation and coordination of activities, promising that we shall do our utmost and making reference to our travel lists and watch list.

3. with reference [to the ZAPOTE case] because of the developments and plans in EL SALVADOR [i.e. planned briefly the status of the DALTON case and the possibility [of his being transferred to Guatemala]. This was in line with the discussions in El Salvador, which included our Chief 27 of station [the President and the President's intelligence 08, 06 advisor, Colonel MELIANO.] I asked that the Guatemalan 24 government take no action unless requested by President 24 RIVERA or Colonel MELIANO and said that, if DALTON 24 is transferred, one of our people probably would talk to DALTON in Guatemala.)

6. The Chief of state Peralta made a rather impersonated speech in which he covered the following points:

- a. His own long experience in the OAS, in Cuba
and in Central America;
- b. His early warnings about Castro--which were disregarded;
- c. The extent to which Guatemala has lived up to its obligations in the OAS to which it has cooperated in efforts against Castro and to which it has looked toward U. S. leadership;
- d. The failure of the U. S. to take aggressive action against Cuba and the need for taking a hard line, including the use of force in support of military activity by the free Cubans and the other American countries;
- e. His appreciation that the Soviets will not be willing to risk a nuclear war over Cuba;
- f. Condemnation of Mexico for her dealings with Cuba, for failure to abide by her obligations in the OAS, and for permitting the Castroites to operate out of Mexico against other American countries;
- g. The need for action against Mexico;

- h. The effectiveness of his own actions against guerrillas [in Guatemala] and his determination to "meet violence with violence;"
- i. Recognition of the importance of the information covered in the briefings, and of its exploitation;
- j. Reference to the case of the [Mexican courier] working for Cuban intelligence and now detained in Guatemala (the ALFARO cases);
- k. Acceptance of security restrictions and his decision to hold the information to those present.

7. In replying to the remarks of Colonel Peralta

I said that we appreciate the cooperation of Guatemala in the 24 OAS and that we shall be most interested in the exploitation of the possibilities in the present case. I added that the matter of using force against Cuba is a policy matter on which I was not competent to comment but that the decisions made by the United States Government are based on careful study of detailed information including information on Soviet intentions and capabilities.

- 8. At the conclusion of the meeting, Peralta asked for a copy of the LSI requirements (which he already had gone over closely) and took the copy with him to study further.
