NOTES FROM THE DEBRIEFING OF [REDACTED] 10 TO 15 FEBRUARY, 1954

57) Valeriy Vladimirovich KOSTIKOV: Works in the consular department.

He goes out a lot at night and always alone. He travels often in the interior of the republic. He has Mexican friends. He studied philology in the University of Moscow. He is very intelligent and clever in carrying out his work, which he does meticulously, taking every precaution. He apparently belongs to the KGB group. He was in Mexico as a bachelor more than 10 years ago.

58) Roza Aleksandrovna KOSTIKOVA: Wife of above. Speaks very little Spanish. Apparently has no job.

1. On 10 February 1970 (in contact with Subject of 201-305052) LIREBEL-2 provided the details of his 6 February meeting with Jose Luis BALCARCEL Ordóñez ((201-160-30)), leader of the Guatemalan Communist Party (PCT) exile organization in Mexico. LIREBEL-2 reported that he arrived at BALCARCEL's home at 2000 hours on the eve, and found BALCARCEL about to leave. BALCARCEL requested that LIREBEL-2 take him to a garage where his car was being repaired, which LIREBEL-2 did. Since BALCARCEL's car was not ready, BALCARCEL asked LIREBEL-2 to drive him to a meeting which he had scheduled for 2100 hours with his "Soviet contact." (Note: BALCARCEL had previously told LIREBEL-2 that Valery KOSTIKOV was his contact in the Soviet Embassy.) LIREBEL-2 and BALCARCEL drove to the "Parque Escondido," also known as the "Parque Húndido," located on Insurgentes Sur between Gomez Farias and Millet Streets. LIREBEL-2 parked and BALCARCEL held his meeting with his "Soviet contact" standing on the sidewalk of Gomez Farias Street bordering on the park. The meeting lasted for 30 minutes. 2. BALCARCEL commented after re-joining LIREBEL-2 that his "Soviet contact" had been very upset about a long distance telephone call which he had received from a Guatemalan student. The student had asked to talk to the Soviet by true name and asked him for some information on the Soviet national soccer team, which is scheduled to play some games in Guatemala. The Soviet told BALCARCEL that he had told the student that he could not provide any current information on this subject, and that the student should try to get this information from El Salvador, where the team was to play some games prior to their arrival in Guatemala. BALCARCEL said that the Soviet was angry that this student had asked for him by true name, and he speculated that the University Students Association (AEU) leader who was recently in Mexico (see Reference B) may have been indiscreet in giving his name out to unauthorized persons.

3. Addressees will recall that per Reference A, LIENVOY reported that KOSTIKOV received a long distance call on 6 February in which the conversation conformed exactly to that described by BALCARCEL to LIENVOY-2 in paragraph 2 above.

4. It is of interest to note ^{lia contact with Subject 201-305052} that past LIENVOY ^{PROPERTY HAS BEEN} KOSTIKOV setting up clandestine contacts with Alejandro ~~RODRIGUEZ~~ ^{ARRIA} (201-062689), leader of the Nicaraguan Communist Party exile organization in Mexico, and similarly with Lorena ~~ZELAYA~~ ^{ROMERO} (201-045172), a Honduran Communist in Mexico. By virtue of these contacts, it appears that at least one of KOSTIKOV's responsibilities is maintaining contact with representatives of Central American Communist Parties in Mexico.

SUBJECT	Phone Call from AEU Representative to Valery KOSTIKOV

ACTION REQUIRED - REFERENCES

Action Required: None, FYI.

Reference : MEXICO CITY 2303, 21 January 1970

1. LIENVOY reported that on 6 February 1970 Valery KOSTIKOV (201-305052), 2nd Secretary of the Soviet Embassy in Mexico, received a long-distance telephone call from Guatemala. The operator asked for KOSTIKOV by name, then told the caller "Mr. MONTENEGRO, I have your call to Mexico ready". When KOSTIKOV came to the phone, the caller stated he was calling on behalf of the Guatemalan University Students Organization, but did not further identify himself. The caller and KOSTIKOV discussed the USSR national soccer team and its scheduled appearance in Guatemala. KOSTIKOV stated he was not certain exactly what date the team was scheduled to arrive in Guatemala, and suggested that the caller contact the soccer federation in El Salvador, where the team would be playing prior to its arrival in Guatemala. The caller also inquired whether there was any information on the Ballet (Reference) and was told that there was none.

2. It should be noted that normally queries concerning the Soviet soccer team or the appearance of a Russian Ballet troupe would be handled by one of the Cultural or Sports Affairs officers of the Embassy. KOSTIKOV's participation in these matters, as reported above, would seem to confirm previous Station reporting that KOSTIKOV handles dealings between the Soviet Embassy in Mexico and Guatemalan leftist organizations.

1. On 10 February 1970 LIREBEL-2 provided the details of his 6 February meeting with Jose Luis BALCARCEL Ordonez (201-160430), leader of the Guatemalan Communist Party (IGT) exile organization in Mexico. LIREBEL-2 reported that he arrived at BALCARCEL's home at 2000 hours on the 6th, and found BALCARCEL about to leave. BALCARCEL requested that LIREBEL-2 take him to a garage where his car was being repaired, which LIREBEL-2 did. Since BALCARCEL's car was not ready, BALCARCEL asked LIREBEL-2 to drive him to a meeting which he had scheduled for 2100 hours with his "Soviet contact." (Note: BALCARCEL had previously told LIREBEL-2 that Valery KOSTIKOV was his contact in the Soviet Embassy.) LIREBEL-2 and BALCARCEL drove to the "Parque Escondido," also known as the "Parque Hundido," located on Insurgentes Sur between Gomez Farias and Millet Streets. LIREBEL-2 parked and BALCARCEL held his meeting with his "Soviet contact" standing on the sidewalk of Gomez Farias Street bordering on the park. The meeting lasted for .0 minutes. 2. BALCARCEL commented after re-joining LIREBEL-2 that his "Soviet contact" had been very upset about a long distance telephone call which he had received from a Guatemalan student. The student had asked to talk to the Soviet by true name and asked him for some information on the Soviet national soccer team, which is scheduled to play some games in Guatemala. The Soviet told BALCARCEL that he had told the student that he could not provide any current information on this subject, and that the student should try to get this information from El Salvador, where the team was to play some games prior to their arrival in Guatemala. BALCARCEL said that the Soviet was angry that this student had asked for him by true name, and he speculated that the University Students Association (AEU) leader who was recently in Mexico (see Reference B) may have been indiscreet in giving his name out to unauthorized persons. Continued.....

3. Addressees will recall that per Reference A, LIENVOY reported that KOSTIKOV received a long distance call on 6 February in which the conversation conformed exactly to that described by BALCAKREL to LIREBEL-2 in paragraph 2 above.

4. It is of interest to note that past LIENVOY reporting has shown KOSTIKOV setting up clandestine contacts with Alejandro BERRUDEZ Alegria (201-062683), leader of the Nicaraguan Communist Party exile organization in Mexico, and similarly with Lorenzo ZELAYA Rosero (201-045172), a Honduran Communist in Mexico. By virtue of these contacts, it appears that at least one of KOSTIKOV's responsibilities is maintaining contact with representatives of Central American Communist parties in Mexico.

1. Operations Under this roof project, operations continue to be directed against the EDWARDS target and, on occasions, Bloc targets. Activities covered by the Project include providing information on EDWARDSers, their activities, personalities, visitors, and contacts (LISACK-2, -4, -6, and LICOWL-1); serving as access agents (LICRAVE-1, -2, -3, LIROCKET-1, and BESABER); spotting, assessing and occasionally recruiting access agents (LIEMPTY-3); providing information on DMLET activities (DMLETAL-1) and BEMOX activities (BESABER); and performing such other tasks as may be required on an ad hoc basis (LISACK-7 and all other assets of the Project).
2. Administration As assets take on a permanent character in terms of expenditure or other continuing administration, they are transferred from SB/OCA to LISACK for orderly handling. Beginning with this reporting period, and as outlined in the LISACK Project Renewal, BESABER, DMLETAL, and LICOWL-1 were transferred from SB/OCA to LISACK. Details of the functions, security, and meeting procedures are reported below for each asset.

3. Assets

a. LICRAVE-1, -2, and -3: The activities of these assets have been covered in detail in recent and continuing correspondence dealing with AETAKEOFF. Please see HMM-38064 of 5 November 1969.

b. BESABER: During the reporting period, BESABER was met six times. When he travels to Mexico City, meetings are held in his hotel room at a pre-arranged hour using a telephone code to establish the location. On occasions, he is met at his home in Cuernavaca. BESABER is currently targeted against Subject of 201-268115, with whom he has re-established a good social relationship. Through Subject of 201-268115 he also met Subject of 201-276184, Chief of the Referentura. In addition to serving as an access agent to Subject of 201-268115, he has fulfilled spot requirements such as providing information on Centro Intercultural de Documentacion (CIDOC) and personalities of Station interest. Although BESABER has a fairly good social relationship with the BEMOX Ambassador and his wife and has entree to other BEMOXers and MHHARSHers, we are having him concentrate his efforts on the higher priority MHHARSHer, Subject of 201-268115.

c. LICOWL-1: He was met routinely once a month during the reporting period. Each meeting date is established at the preceding meeting and no further contact or confirmation is required. LICOWL-1 arrives by bus at a car pick-up point and is then driven by the case officer to a small coffee shop where he reviews his diary with the case officer. Due to the nature of his job and the level of his access, LICOWL-1 is not in a position to do more currently than to report on the brief encounters he has with MHHARSHers who come into his store. His reports normally consist of his assessment of personalities, description of new arrivals and, occasionally, biographic information he has been able to pick up. He also gives timely reports of demonstrations and other unusual activity in the vicinity of the MHHARSH installation.

d. LIEMPTY-3: LIEMPTY-3 is met at irregular intervals at various out-of-the-way restaurants for the purpose of briefing and debriefing on operational assignments and discussion of his written reports. Meetings are arranged by phone using open code. His most recent assignment has been the development, assessment, and recruitment of 201-810981. LIEMPTY-3 has few peers at the art of developing an operational lead, but his extensive operational activity in past years against the MHHARSH target has required that he be used sparingly, selectively, and always under alias. Development of 201-810981 has been his only assignment during the reporting period, and LIEMPTY-3 made good early progress. Purporting to be the representative of a film club for architects, LIEMPTY-3 was able to get 201-810981 to agree to become a consultant. Thereafter, LIEMPTY-3 continued to ask questions about 201-810981's work, to the point where 201-810981 realized that more than a film club for architects was involved. At this point it was decided to let LIEMPTY-3 break cover, recruit 201-810981 to supply information on the work of his office (but not--at this point--the people in his office), and continue to handle him until the recruitment was firm and previous questions about the stability and reliability of 201-810981 had been resolved. This was done, and 201-810981 accepted recruitment, knowing that WOLADY intelligence was involved. LIEMPTY-3 held several meetings with 201-810981 after recruitment, and countersurveillance did not reveal any signs of MHHARSH surveillance. For about a month, however, LIEMPTY-3 has not been able to contact 201-810981, and it is possible that the latter has developed cold feet. If LIEMPTY-3 can reestablish contact, he will continue to handle this case for the time being. If he is unable to reestablish contact, he will be given another lead to follow up. LIEMPTY-3 is a very active person who has an extremely full business day, with many contacts. The Station believes that within this busy "cover" life, LIEMPTY-3 can handle selected operational tasks without coming to hostile attention. As long as proper security precautions are taken by him in his operational activities, and by him and the Station officer (who meets him in alias) in their meetings, there is no reason why LIEMPTY-3 cannot be a useful part-time contributor to the Station's REDTOP program for the foreseeable future.

1) LIROCKET-1 is met monthly, time and place arranged at the previous meeting. During these meetings he is debriefed on his twice-weekly teaching sessions at the MHARSH Embassy. His regular student has been the Subject of 201-028975, and he has had occasional dealings with other MHARSHers, particularly AESEASICK. The meetings with 201-028063 have not been of particular interest, and we had been waiting impatiently for the latter's replacement to arrive, so that LIROCKET-1 would have a better target to work on. It was LIROCKET-1 who came up with the first local confirmation of the identity of this replacement (MEXICO CITY 1105, 2 August 1969). Dealings with AESEASICK have been concerned with attempts by the director of the school where LIROCKET-1 teaches to borrow sociological films from the MHARSH film office.

2) It now appears, however, that LIROCKET-1 has reached the end of the line. For some time he has been involved in a rather messy divorce action, and in August LIROCKET-1 reported that his wife had denounced him to Mexican authorities as an EVROCK agent (a few months previously, she had denounced him as an MHARSH agent). LIROCKET-1 was not inclined to take his wife's ravings too seriously since he considered her slightly nuts. However, LIENVOY reported that on 16 September 1969 LIROCKET-1's wife called 201-028975 and told him she had to see him urgently on something of extreme interest about her husband. 201-028975 told her to come to the Embassy, which she did, and she presumably repeated her accusation. Since that time, LIROCKET-1 has received a polite brush-off. He has been told that the MHARSH Embassy has run out of funds for English language training, and that there would be no more lessons unless 201-028975's replacement, or the new Ambassador (when and if one arrives) wanted to rehire him. He was told, however, to check in regularly, and he was given, as usual, an invitation to the annual MHARSH national day reception (he did not attend because he was ill). LIROCKET-1 has not spoken with 201-028975 since his wife's visit--all dealings have been through AEPOLYP, who has for some time been the paymaster for LIROCKET-1.

3) LIROCKET-1 was not aware of his wife's visit, and even after the case officer, without telling him that we knew of the visit, brought LIROCKET-1 around to the conclusion that she might have done this, he still does not think that she spilled the beans to 201-028975. (It is apparent that the MHARSHers, whether or not they believe Mrs. LIROCKET-1's story, have concluded that LIROCKET-1 represents a security hazard, and they are simply going to drop him. LIROCKET-1 will continue to press the MHARSHers for an answer regarding his future with them, and if, as suspected, they keep putting him off, he will be instructed to break contact and he will be terminated by the Station.)

4) Other than the blowing of LIROCKET-1 himself, little damage has been done. The wife has never seen the current case officer and knows none of the meeting arrangements or other details, and neither she nor LIROCKET-1 knows the true name of any of LIROCKET-1's past or present handlers. Necessary security precautions have been taken at all meetings with LIROCKET since his wife's conversation with 201-028975, and there have been no signs of MIHARSH surveillance.

f. DIPETAL-1: She has been met weekly for a total of 13 times during the period. Meeting hours are prearranged and the location is always a safehouse. Her normal function has been to report on the activities at the DMLET installation where she is employed as the secretary to the DMLET Ambassador. In addition, she performed some casing and investigation in support of the AETAKEOFF audio operation. Since the DMLET target is of low priority, DIPETAL-1 has been attempting to increase her usefulness to us by trying to obtain a job in the office of the President of the PRI, the ruling political party, with excellent prospects for success.

How? | g. LISACK-2: Until he lost his job in September, he was the resident administrator of the apartment building in which both AEMERGER and AEMERSTRO reside. Meetings were held bi-weekly for a total of four times, pre-arranged by telephone call several days in advance to his office in a publishing firm. Meeting location was a restaurant/cafe and meetings normally lasted about thirty minutes. He provided information on the activities of these two MIHARSHers and their families, license plate numbers, and descriptions of visitors.

h. LISACK-4: He is the portero of the apartment building in which Subject of 201-305870 resides. He maintains a daily log of the movements and activities of this and other MIHARSHers, and he reports the license plates and description of visitors to the building. He was met weekly for a total of 12 times, always in a small restaurant within walking distance of the downtown office where he works a half day. Meeting hours are pre-arranged to permit LISACK-4 to attend on the way to or from this second job. He compensates for his lack of formal education by responsiveness to case officer direction, natural intelligence and cooperation.

i. LISACK-6: He is the portero of the building in which Subjects of 201-837203 and 201-788861 (who took the apartment of Subject of 201-205304) reside. He maintains a daily log of these two MIHARSHers, their families and visitors. He was met 12 times during the period. Since he cannot be absent from the building for over thirty minutes without arousing suspicion, meetings are always for a brief ten minutes and are held in a nearby park. As has been reported, the case officer who handles LISACK-6 became the target of unknown surveillance in August, and again in October, following meetings with LISACK-6. The Station believes that the surveillance was accidental, in that the meeting place was in a neighborhood frequented by male and female prostitutes and other undesirable characters. In any event, LISACK-6 has been put on ice, to be revived if the occupants of his building become higher priority targets.

j. LISACK-7: She was not met during the reporting period. She remains a "reserve asset" for special requirements in the real estate field for such potential uses as safehouse rental, key acquisitions and locating tenants when needed. Although there is no immediate requirement for her talents, we would like to maintain her Operational Approval so that she can be called on as a cleared asset when needed.

4. Problems

There are no problems connected with this Project.

5. Security

There are no known unresolved problems of security. The security problems relating to LIROCKET-1 and LISACK-C (discussed above) are under control with no adverse effects noted.

6. Plans

a. There are several assets of the REDTOP section who have been carried under SB/COA for a fairly long period of time. Since the targets of their access change from time to time, as well as the nature of the information they provide, we do not believe they warrant special or new projects to cover them. We do believe, however, that they should be brought under a project to facilitate orderly reporting and administration without resorting to separate progress reports on each.

b. Since their activities closely parallel those of assets already covered by LISACK, we believe it would be logical to include LIROEBIN-1 and -2, LIORDER-1 and Subject of 201-843659 (on whom we are awaiting an Operational Approval) in this Project. Although none of these is paid a salary, such a change will require some cost amendment to the Project to account for minor operational expenses which have heretofore been charged to SB/COA. Separate correspondence will follow on these assets.

c. There are several additional assets currently in the developmental stage who may eventually be administered under LISACK. These include Subject of HMMMA-37742 of 28 August 1969, targetted against AEMPOLYP; Subject of 201-851552, targetted against AEMERGER; Subject of 201-848881, currently in social contact with Subjects of 201-259583 and 201-029063 under Station direction; and Subject of 201-859225, who reports on his contacts with Subjects of 201-305052 and 201-744341, among other MMHARSHERS.

Las "Instalaciones Diplomáticas" Rusas en Lima

Por CARLOS MONTIEL

En una carta llegada a esta redacción, periodistas peruanos me informan que, enterados de mi artículo del 11 de enero "Ahora Perú", preguntaron al Canciller de aquel país, Edgardo Mercado Jarrín, si la llegada de una misión comercial rusa a tierras peruanas sería sólo la primera entrega de otra misión más importante, la de una representación diplomática soviética.

En ese artículo comentaba que miembros de la Embajada moscovita en México, habían asegurado en los corredores sociales de esta ciudad, que en menos de dos semanas Perú establecería relaciones diplomáticas con el Kremlin, a nivel de embajada.

Según me informan en esa misiva, apenas tres días después, el 14 de enero, el diario limeño "La Prensa", confirmó en su primera plana la noticia que aparece en EL UNIVERSAL GRAFICO, y que obtuvo gracias a la indiscreción de los diplomáticos soviéticos que figuran en el "reclutamiento" que aquí se lleva al cabo por los embajadores y encargados de negocios de las naciones extranjeras.

Recuerdo que también en EL UNIVERSAL GRAFICO, el colega Andrés Fonseca G. publicó el 30 de diciembre una nota titulada "Aires Diplomáticos", con la divertida historia de la "juerga de Vladíslav Koromovshkin y Valeri Kozlov, agregado y segundo secretario, respectivamente, de la embajada rusa en México, quienes la empezaron entre burbujas de vinos escocés en la zona rosa de la ciudad de México, y se vieron obligados a ponerle un nombre a la ciudad Victoria entre sus insultos a México bajo la modalidad diplomática". Al parecer los diplomáticos soviéticos no sólo han renunciado a ser decentes, sino que también están cometiendo errores de ortografía.

El Canciller peruano, Mercado Jarrín, quien anunció la llegada de la misión comercial rusa, respondió a la pregunta de los periodistas con un laconico "oportunoamente tendrán información si es que el Gobierno decide dar ese paso"; tal de establecimiento de relaciones diplomáticas con la URSS. Antes de que el Gobierno de Lima "decida dar ese paso", quisiéramos pasarle traslado de estos dos párrafos que el periodista Bernardino Escalante acaba de publicar en un artículo de "El Sol de México" (14 de enero de 1969), bajo el título: "La Embajada Misteriosa".

"Lo extraño está en que la Embajada de la URSS es una de las que cuentan con personal más numeroso y las que menor que hacer tienen. Las dependencias contadas que tienen trato con el público —sección consular, sección cultural, agencia turística— laboran sólo cuatro horas a la semana. Con los dedos de la mano se podrán contar los mexicanos que en un año van a solicitar una visa. El comercio entre México y la URSS es casi nulo. Las "relaciones culturales", como todas lo saben, consisten sólo en hacer propaganda "de allá para acá", ya que en los comités de Brezhnev y de Kossygin ni idea tienen de lo que es México".

"¿A qué se dedica, pues, ese enjambre de personal ruso —en esa Embajada en que no trabaja un solo mexicano? ¿hasta la servidumbre es soviética— en esa enorme mansión que podía ser guardia de vampiros? El misterio sube de punto si se toma en cuenta que la Embajada de México en Moscú apenas si está integrada por unas seis o siete personas, y en cambio la URSS mantiene aquí más de un centenar. ¿Por qué a URSS tiene una Embajada tan numerosa en nuestro país, si hace lo mismo que la nuestra en Moscú?"

SUBJECT: KOSTIKOV, Valeri Vladimirovich

1. Reference is made to your request dated 25 July 1969 concerning Subject.

2. In a report dated 27 August 1962 from a reliable source, Subject was listed as a known or suspect KGB (Soviet Committee for State Security) officer. Although this report did not specify how Subject's position or possible position as an intelligence officer was determined, numerous additional reports have established that Subject is an officer in the KGB. Several of these reports are noted below.

- a. A report dated 12 January 1962 from a reliable source indicated that Subject had a background which "smelled strongly" of Soviet intelligence service (RIS) connections (i. e., a graduate of the Foreign Language Institute and/or the Institute of Foreign Affairs in Moscow). Subject was described as possibly RIS as early as 1959 when he attended an Electrotechnical Congress held in Madrid, Spain, from 30 June to 10 July 1959. During this congress, Subject was frequently absent from the delegation, studiously avoided having his picture taken, and was generally noted for his "suspicious" behavior.

- b. According to a report dated 16 March 1962 from a reliable source, Subject participated in a Soviet effort to cultivate an American Embassy employee.
- c. A report dated October 1962 from a reliable source indicated that Subject was believed to be a KGB officer because of his position in the Consular office where most of the personnel were connected with the KGB. Subject had been known to attend meetings in place of other identified KGB officers.

- d. According to a report dated 20 December 1963 from other reliable sources, Subject KOSTIKOV had apparently taken over as the case officer for one Margarito LNU, an agent of the Soviets who was formerly headed by First Secretary Viktor Nikolaevich GLOTOV. GLOTOV was suspected by reliable sources to be the KGB Resident in Mexico City. Subject also had VALERI V. considerable contact with Ivan Gavrilovich ALFERYEV, the Pravda correspondent and suspect KGB officer with whom Subject KOSTIKOV traveled to Tijuana, Mexico, on 1 September 1963. Subject frequently escorted diplomatic couriers to and from the airport, a function primarily of the consular section officers KOSTIKOV and, as far as was known, strictly a KGB responsibility. This same report identified all of Subject's close friends as KGB officers.

3. In a report dated 14 May 1965, a reliable source, in an attempt to analyze the KGB Residentura in Mexico City, Mexico, stated that Subject was probably a KGB officer.

4. According to reports dated 22 December and 27 June 1967 from reliable sources, when Subject came to Mexico he replaced a suspect KGB officer. When he left Mexico, he was replaced by an identified KGB officer.

Embajada rusa en México tiene un gran personal que trabaja poco

desde México.

En una carta llegada a esta redacción, periodistas peruanos me informaron que, enterados de mi artículo "Ahora Perú", preguntaron al Canciller de aquel país, Edgardo Jarrín, si la llegada de una misión comercial rusa a tierras peruanas sería sólo la primera entrega de otra misión más importante, la de una representación diplomática soviética.

En ese artículo comentaba que miembros de la Embajada moscovita en México, habían asegurado en los corrillos sociales de esta ciudad, que en menos de dos semanas Perú establecería relaciones diplomáticas con el Kremlin, a nivel de embajada.

Según me informan en esa misiva, apenas tres días después, el diario limeño "La Prensa", confirmó en su primera plana la noticia que comenté en EL UNIVERSAL GRAFICO, y que obtuve gracias a la indiscreción de los diplomáticos soviéticos que figuran en el "chequito cocotero" que aquí se lleva a cabo por los embajadores y encargados de negocios de las naciones extranjeras.

Recuerdo que también en

EL UNIVERSAL GRAFICO, el colega Alonso Fonseca G., publicó una nota titulada "Alegres Diplomáticos", con la divertida historia de la "puerga de Vladislav Kotomovshkin y Václav Kortikov, agregado y segundo secretario, respectivamente, de la embajada rusa en México, quienes la empezaron entre burujos de vinos caros en la zona rosa de la ciudad de México, y se vieron obligados a ponerle fin en Ciudad Victoria entre sus insultos a México bajo inmunidad diplomática". Al parecer los diplomáticos soviéticos no sólo han renunciado a ser decentes, sino que también están demostrando ser incapaces.

El Canciller peruano Edgardo Jarrín, quien anunció la llegada de la misión comercial rusa, respondió a la pregunta de los periodistas con un laconico "oportunitamente tendrán información si es que el Gobierno decide dar ese paso" (el de establecimiento de relaciones diplomáticas con la URSS). Antes de que el Gobierno de Lima "decida dar ese paso", quisieramos pasarle traslado de estos dos párrafos que el periodista Bernardo Escalante, publicó en un artículo de "El Sol de México", bajo el título: "La Embajada Misteriosa".

"Lo extraño está en que la Embajada de la URSS es una de las que cuentan con personal más numeroso y las que menor quehacer tienen. Las dependencias contadas que tienen trato con el público — sección consular, sección cultural, agencia turística — laboran sólo cuatro horas a la semana. Con los dedos de la mano se podrán contar los mexicanos que en un año van a solicitar una visa. El comercio entre México y la URSS es casi nulo. Las "relaciones culturales", como todas lo saben, consisten sólo en hacer propaganda "de allá para acá", ya que en los dominios de Brezhnev y de Korygin ni idea tienen de lo que es México".

"¿A qué se dedica, pues "se" enjambre de personal ruso — en esa Embajada en que no trabaja un solo mexicano y hasta la servidumbre es soviética — en esa enorme mansión que podía ser guarida de vampiros? El misterio sube de punto si se toma en cuenta que la Embajada de México en Moscú apenas si está integrada por unas seis o siete personas, y en cambio la URSS mantiene aquí más de un centenar. ¿Por qué la URSS tiene una Embajada tan numerosa en nuestro país, si hace lo mismo que la nuestra en Moscú?

SOVIET EMBASSY IN MEXICO HAS LARGE
STAFF WHICH DOES LITTLE WORK

by Carlos Montiel

Source: La Prensa Libre (Free Press), 6 May 1969, San Jose, Costa Rica

Mexico City -- In a letter addressed to our editorial department Peruvian newsmen informed me that, being acquainted with my article "Ahora Peru" [Now Peru], they asked that country's chancellor, Edgardo Jarrin, whether the arrival of a Soviet trade mission in Peru would be only the prelude to another more important mission, that of Soviet diplomatic representation.

In that article I ^{had} observed that members of the Soviet embassy in Mexico City had predicted in that city's social circles that in less than 2 weeks Peru would establish diplomatic relations with the Kremlin at the embassy level.

According to the letter, barely 3 days later the Lima daily La Prensa confirmed with prominent play the report that I had made in El Universal Grafico whose substance I had obtained thanks to the indiscretion of Soviet diplomats included in the "cocktail circuit" organized here among the ambassadors and trade representatives of foreign countries.

I recall that also in El Universal Grafico my colleague, Alonso Fonseca G., published a note entitled "Alegres Diplomáticos" [Tipsy Diplomats] recounting the entertaining story of the "binge of Vladislav Koromovshkin and Valery Kostikov, attache and second secretary respectively ^{at} of the Soviet embassy in Mexico. These officials began their spree "between glasses of expensive wines in the 'red' district of Mexico City but had to bring their adventure to a close at Ciudad Victoria amidst the abuse they hurled at Mexico under the diplomatic immunity which they enjoyed." Apparently, the Soviet diplomats not only have given up decent behavior but are also demonstrating their incompetence.

The Peruvian chancellor, Mercado ^[sic] Jarrin, who announced the arrival of the Soviet trade mission, answered the newsmen's question with a laconic comment that "at the appropriate time you will learn whether the government has decided to take that step" (of establishing diplomatic relations with the USSR). Before the Lima government "decides to take that step," we would like to reproduce these two paragraphs which the journalist Bernardo Escalante published in an article entitled "La Embajada Misteriosa" [The Mysterious Embassy] in the newspaper El Sol de Mexico.

"The strange thing is that the Soviet embassy is one of those with the largest staff but with the least to do. Those branches that have contact with the public -- consular section, cultural section, tourist agency -- work only 4 hours a week. One can count the number of Mexicans applying for a Russian visa on the fingers of one hand. Trade between Mexico and the USSR is practically nil. The 'cultural relations,' as everyone knows, consist simply in making propaganda 'from one place to another' inasmuch as in the land of Brezhnev and Kosygin they do not even have a remote idea of what Mexico is like.

"What is this plethora of Soviet personnel used for then in that embassy where not even a single Mexican citizen is employed, where the domestics themselves are Soviet, in that huge mansion that could serve as a den of vampires? The mystery deepens if one considers that the Mexican embassy staff in Moscow barely numbers six or seven employees whereas the USSR has more than a hundred in Mexico. Why does the Soviet Union have such a large embassy staff in our country if it does what ours does in Moscow?"

Alegres Diplomáticos

Tercera 1968

Por ALONSO BONAFINA G.

Querido lector: esta es la historia de una "operación" que se realizó en la ciudad mexicana del Estado de Chihuahua, entre barberos de los alrededores de la zona de la ciudad de México, y que se realizó en la ciudad de Victoria, en el Estado de Tamaulipas, en el marco de las relaciones diplomáticas de la URSS que por ahora sólo se establecen de la manera tradicional de los diplomáticos: se establecen "temporalmente" en ciertos lugares, no para migrar y olvidar sino que sólo para estar, sino para hacer una actividad de diplomacia e injerencia a México y a los mexicanos, con el pretexto de que cuando uno está "alegrito" todo se le da fácil.

Los diplomáticos de la embajada rusa en México, Valeri Kostikov, su primer secretario, y Valdislav Korenevskii, agregado, no sólo olvidaron entre hippies la moral socialista, para colocarse una "guarapeta" de esas que hacen eporta, sino que en medio de una gran "fiesta" a base de alcohol, drogas y whisky, con prostitutas, bailarinas, acompañadas y una gran cantidad de "cambios" en la ciudad se trasladaron a Ciudad Victoria, en el Estado de Tamaulipas, para celebrar los 25 años del triunfo de la revolución rusa. Al llegar a Ciudad Victoria, los ingenieros de la URSS, los agregados rusos y sus pastores. Desde el inicio unificar de todos los sin presentes para que los servicios fueran castigados, estos, con arrogancia insolente, se hicieron el respeto y su transmisión diplomática. Después de la agresividad de ambos sucesivos al gobierno chino de Mao Tse Tung tan expedito en seguir la línea dura, aunque no creemos que los contrate, ya que son pastores incisos.

El lector que quiera confirmar los detalles de esta berrachera interplanetaria y sideral con demagogos de quienes creen que con la conquista se perpetúa el poder en Rusia el mundo y la decisión en todo el mundo se ven separados por una línea que los divide.

This memorandum is forwarded under separate cover as Attachment #1. The meeting took place in Mexico City on 3 and 4 February 1969. The Soviet case officers were Aleksandr Aleksandrovich NIKITIN (201-784917) and Valeriy Vladimirovich KOSTIKOV (201-305052). 2. On 8 April 1969 we answered LNERGO's memorandum with comments concerning NIKITIN's and KOSTIKOV's whereabouts on 3 and 4 February 1969, the possible meeting place on 4 February 1969, and the cars used. Recent photographs of NIKITIN and KOSTIKOV were forwarded to local LNERGO also. This Station memorandum is forwarded under separate cover as Attachment #2. 3. It is interesting to note that the 1969 Volkswagen with Mexico City plates 787 IW, assigned to Stanislav Vasilyevich SYCHEV (201-320963) was used as the vehicle to drive AEBURBLE to the meeting site on 4 February 1969. The use of SYCHEV's vehicle, which is one of two Soviet vehicles which do not have diplomatic license plates, strengthens our suspicion that SYCHEV is a KGB officer. W. Valeri V. Kostikov I have met him but I do not know his name.

Valentin Longuinov, in charge of consular affairs, his wife Alexandra has been an ~~skating~~ ^{and figure} skating star, both very nice, speak very good Spanish and fair English. Their daughter ~~Kirina~~ Kirina, sixteen years old, very sophisticated, came here for a holiday. The only child of that age we have ever seen here. They have another child, who is in Moscow. Both have been at our house for a party. In general soviet people come alone, leaving the wives behind. ~~LOUISOIS ...~~

Dmitri Prygov, wife Natalia, have an small child born here, he has been writing a book on the Mexican revolution. We are family good friends. He was introduced to me by Boris Kazantsev who invited me for lunch for the occasion. When we go to the Soviet embassy both he and Tchaykhov are always very attentive.

I know several other people from the Soviet embassy but really I could ^{not} place them together with their names.

Alegres Diplomáticos

Por ALONSO FONSECA G.

Querido lector, esta es la divertida historia de una "borrachera" que empezó en la ciudad madrileña del 12 de diciembre, entre burrujas de vinos caros en la zona rosa de la ciudad de México, y que terminó muy lejos, en Ciudad Victoria. Se trata de dos marxistas-leninistas de la URSS, que por haber roto las cadenas de la oprobiosa tiranía de los diplomáticos decentes, "empinaron el codo" en bares burgueses, no para alegrarse y olvidar una que otra tristeza que les rasguñaba el corazón, sino para lanzar una andanada de denuncias e injurias a México y a los mexicanos, con el pretexto de que, cuando uno está "alegrito" todo se le dispensa.

Los diplomáticos de la embajada rusa en México, Valeri Kostikov, segundo secretario, y Vladimir Koromovskan, agregado, no solo olvidaron entre hippies la moral socialista, para colocarse una "guarapita de esas que hacen epoca, sino que, en medio de una gran "ferria" a base de odiosos cócteles y "whisky" capitalistas, decidieron acompañar a cuatro ingenieros de PEMEX en un viaje en automóvil a Ciudad Mante, en el camino, después de los desahucios habituales que provocan los ruidos del alcohol la "ceruda" los hizo llegar a los peores extremos de la grossera, expuesta sin ningún "academismo", de esos que la Universidad de la Amistad de Moscú señalaba como los grandes derechos conquistados por los hombres avanzados del leninismo, y tuvieron los denuestos contra los mexicanos. Los cuatro ingenieros de PEMEX —como lo hubiera hecho cualquier hijo bien nacido—, defendieron con firmeza a su Patria. Sin más, los rusos se convirtieron súbitamente en diplomáticos pistoleros, al empunar sus armas contra los ingenieros, pero sin duda porque la preparación rusa consiste más bien en el manejo de cohetes teledirigidos hacia la Luna, que en manejar con habilidad prosaicas pistolas obsoletas, se vieron prontamente desarmados por los mexicanos.

Al llegar a Ciudad Victoria, los ingenieros de PEMEX entregaron a las autoridades locales los agregados rusos y sus pistolas. Pese al deseo unánime de todos los allí presentes para que los soviéticos fueran castigados, éstos, con arrogancia insultante, exigieron el respeto a su inmunidad diplomática. Corremos nota de la agresividad de ambos moscovitas al gobierno chino de Mao Tse Tung tan empeñado en seguir la línea dura, aunque no creemos que los contrate, ya que son pistoleros melos.

El lector que quiera confirmar los detalles de esta borrachera interplanetaria y sideral, con detalles de quienes creen que con la conquista soviética del poder en Rusia el respeto y la deferencia en todo el mundo de diplomáticos y agregados de embajadas, puede llamar al teléfono 13-30-23.

TIPSY DIPLOMATS

by Alonso Fonseca G.

Source: ~~Not identified.~~ La Jornada, 12 Dec 1977
in the city

This is the amusing story of a "spree" which began in the frosty dawn of 12 December among bubbles of expensive wines in the "red light" district of Mexico City and reached its conclusion very far off, at Ciudad Victoria. What are involved are two Marxist-Leninists from the Soviet Union who, on breaking the chains of disgraceful tyranny weighing on respectable diplomats, "tanked up" in bourgeois bars, not in order to cheer up and forget some sorrowful episode or other that gnawed at their hearts but rather to fire a broadside of abuse and insults at Mexico and Mexicans under the pretext that when one is "tipsy" everything that he does is absolved.

The diplomats of the Russian embassy in Mexico, Valery Kostikov, second secretary, and Vladislav Koromovshkin, attache, not only forgot among hippies the socialist ethics in order to indulge in a "small drink among those who are in the limelight" but, in the midst of a big "binge" made possible by hateful capitalist brandy and whiskey, they decided to accompany four engineers of PEMEX [Petroleos Mexicanos; Mexican Petroleum] in an old automobile to Ciudad Mante. On the way, after the customary excesses that alcoholic fumes provoke, the "wine" drove the Russians to the worst extremes of crudeness exhibited without any of the "academic bearing" that the Friendship University of Moscow notes as the major assets acquired by the progressive men of Leninism. Accordingly, abuse rained on the Mexicans.

The four PEMEX engineers, as any well-born sons would have done, defended their country with firmness. Thereupon, the Russians suddenly became transformed into diplomat-gunmen, brandishing their weapons at the engineers. However, no doubt because Russians are better at getting ready to handle remote-controlled spaceships directed at the moon than in the skillful discharge of prosaic pistols, they found themselves disarmed in short order by the Mexicans.

On reaching Ciudad Victoria the PEMEX engineers handed the Russian attaches and their guns over to the local authorities. Despite the unanimous desire of all those present to see the Soviet representatives get their comeuppance the latter, with insulting arrogance, insisted that their diplomatic immunity be respected.

Let us compare the aggressive stance of both Muscovites with the Chinese government of Mao Tse-tung so insistent on following the hard line even though we do not believe that Mao would hire Russians of this ilk considering how ineffective gunmen they proved to be.

Soviet Contact with Alejandro BERMUDEZ Alegria (201-662689)

FORM REQUIRED REFERENCES

1. The Station believes that Alejandro BERMUDEZ Alegria, Nicaraguan Communist living in exile in Mexico and known to have been the link between Moscow and the Nicaraguan Communist Party in regard to sending Nicaraguans to both CPSU school and Patrice Lumumba University in Moscow, is identical with the Modesto RIVAS who in 1965 was reported in contact with identified KGB officer Valeriy Vladimirovich KOSTIKOV (201-305052) as well as with the Modesto BERMUDEZ, originally thought to have been a Panamanian, who in 1965 was reported in contact with KOSTIKOV and then with his successor, Vladislav Sergeyevich KORNICHENIN (201-744341), who is also an identified KGB officer. It is noted that Alejandro BERMUDEZ Alegria uses the alias Modesto RIVAS for receiving mail at his post office box letter drop.

2. Following is a chronology of the LIENVOY reporting on "Modesto's" contact with the Soviets. As will be seen, it appears that the combination "Modesto BERMUDEZ" was a conclusion jumped to by LIENVOY and was in fact probably never given as such. The references to "Panamanians" could be a cover for "Nicaraguans."

a. On 1 Jun 1966 "Modesto RIVAS" called at the Soviet Embassy for KOSTIKOV and arranged to meet him at four o'clock "in the same place."

b. On 29 Jun 1965 "Modesto RIVER" called KOSTIKOV to say he would like to talk with him and also to give him the message that Ricardo was waiting in his office for him. KOSTIKOV asked if Modesto was working that day, and when Modesto said no, he would be working at home all day, then KOSTIKOV said he would stop by his house in the afternoon.

c. On 6 Jul 1965 "Modesto" called KOSTIKOV and asked if there was anything new about the people travelling to Helsinki. KOSTIKOV said nothing yet, but he hoped to have word by the end of the week. KOSTIKOV also asked if Modesto had received any news from the doctor, and Modesto said no, even though he had sent a telegram. Modesto said he would keep a copy of the telegram he sent for KOSTIKOV.

d. On 7 Jul 1965 "Modesto" told KOSTIKOV that, after he had talked to him the day before, he had received a cable asking the same question, i.e., what was with the trip to Helsinki, and Modesto wanted to know what to answer. KOSTIKOV said that they would have to wait about two more days but that he would send a cable to pressure for an answer. Modesto said he would answer his cable saying that they were trying to get a cabled reply and added that he would be in his office in the afternoon, if KOSTIKOV wanted to reach him.

e. On 8 Jul 1965 a man identified by voice as the above Modesto called at the Soviet Embassy for the Vice Consul (i.e. KOSTIKOV). He was told to call back, and when asked who was calling, he said he was calling on behalf of the Panamanians ("de parte de los panamenses").

f. On 9 Jul 1965 a man called at the Soviet Embassy for KOSTIKOV, who was out. The man then said to leave the message that "BERNARDEZ...no...tell him that Modesto called." (This is evidently what made the LIEMVOY monitors assume that the caller's name was "Modesto BERNARDEZ.")

g. On 9 Jul 1965 a man left a message at the Soviet Embassy for KOSTIKOV saying that Modesto had called. (This comes out in LIEMVOY as being a call from "Modesto BERNARDEZ, panamense," but this was probably the monitor's way of identifying the name man of the above conversations and not what the man actually said.)

h. On 12 Jul 1965 Modesto again spoke to KOSTIKOV (and is again described by LIEMVOY as "Modesto BERNARDEZ, panamense"). Modesto informed KOSTIKOV that the job from Esmeralda ("el encargo de Esmeralda") had arrived. KOSTIKOV suggested meeting Modesto at the usual place and asked if (he, she, it?) was with Modesto. Modesto said yes, at his house, and KOSTIKOV said then it would be better for him to visit them at his house. Modesto also asked about the "other matter," but KOSTIKOV still had no news.

i. On 14 Jul 1965 it was again reported that "Modesto BERNARDEZ, panamense" called and left a message to tell KOSTIKOV that he had called. (Again, the "Modesto BERNARDEZ, panamense" is probably a LIEMVOY assumption, rather than what Modesto actually said.)

j. On 4 Aug 1965 "Modesto BERNARDEZ, panamense" (again, probably the LIEMVOY assumption) called at the Soviet Embassy for KORNUSSEIN and was told to call him on another number. (No record of a second call.)

k. On 12 Aug 1965 LIEMVOY reported that "Modesto BERNARDEZ, panamense" called KORNUSSEIN and asked whether the young man had been dispatched. KORNUSSEIN said he had just left.

CONTINUATION OF

1. On 22 Sep 1965 LIEMVOY reported that "Modesto BERNUDEZ, panameno" called from inside the Soviet Embassy at 1128 hours to a local travel agency (T.O./Greyhound) and spoke with Miss LAFASTIDA, asking her about the price of the ticket to Prague under the same system they had used to send the other people. LAFASTIDA asked for one of the names in order to pull the card to see how it had been done, and "BERNUDEZ" gave her the name Guillermo "AGUIRRE". LAFASTIDA gave him various possible flights and asked that he call back in the afternoon for more definite information. (Station traces show that Guillermo AGUIRRE Rodriguez, 201-245711, is a Nicaraguan who was at the CPSU school in Moscow in 1965.) (LILYRIC reported that the man in the attached photograph, who is undoubtedly identical with Alejandro BERNUDEZ Alegria, visited the Soviet Embassy in Mexico City from 1111 to 1137 hours. There therefore seems no question that he is the "Modesto BERNUDEZ, panameno" who has been reported by LIEMVOY in all the above conversations.)

m. On 29 Sep 1965 LIEMVOY reported that "Modesto BERNUDEZ, panameno" called KORBUSEKIN and said he had some things ("encargos") for him. KORBUSEKIN said he would see Modesto at seven o'clock in the usual place.

1. Panama City traces are requested on Modesto BERMUDEZ, a Panamanian currently in Mexico City. BERMUDEZ has been in touch with Valeriy Vladimirovich KOSTIKOV (201-305052), Vice Consul at the Soviet Embassy in Mexico City and identified KGB officer ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS
2. On 7 July 1965 "Modesto" called KOSTIKOV, saying that he had just received a cable asking about the trip to Helsinki, to which "Modesto" wanted to cable a reply. KOSTIKOV said that they had to wait a day or two, but that he would send an urgent cable. On 8 July 1965 an individual identified by voice as the "Modesto" above called KOSTIKOV, who was out, and left the message to tell him that he had a call "from the Panamanians." On 9 July "Modesto BERMUDEZ," a Panamanian, left a message for KOSTIKOV to call him. (Source: LIENVOY.)
3. It appears that the conversations above refer to the Panamanian delegation to the World Peace Congress being held in Helsinki 10-17 July 1965. BERMUDEZ is not, however, one of the Referenced six Panamanians who arrived in Mexico on 6 July on their way to the Congress.

Prior to the fiesta, LICOWL/1 told Yuriy Dmitriyevich KALININ (see Soviet contacts) that Subject and Oleg Maksimovich NECHIPORENKO (see Soviet contacts) were also invited. 12. INTELLIGENCE AFFILIATION (including justification, sources and narrative discussion):

Subject is a known KGB Officer, probably from the 13th Department of the First Chief Directorate, identified as such through the AEBURELE case. (See Intelligence Activities). (30)

Subject was a member of the group who met Sergey Nikolayevich ANTONOV, Chief of the Latin American Department of the KGB, at the Airport. (32)

Subject continued the clandestine contact with Margarito LNU (See Western Contacts), an unidentified agent previously handled by First Secretary Viktor Nikolayevich GLOTOV, formerly KGB Resident. (33)

Subject has frequently escorted diplomatic couriers to and from the airport, a function primarily of the consular section officers and, as far as is known, principally a KGB responsibility. (33)

In the consular office all of Subject's immediate associates are identified KGB officers. (See Soviet contacts). (34)

13. INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITY (positions, functions, agents, contacts, other details, including how we learned about each item, all in chronological order including narrative summary where necessary, such as D/A cases, incidents, etc):

About March 1963, Subject and CARMASHEV (see Soviet Contacts) flew from Mexico City to Tijuana, Baja California, where they rented a Hertz car allegedly for recreational visit. The men travelled to Mexicali and Ensenada and departed for Mexico City on 13 March 1963. (35) (36)

On 1 September 1963, Subject ^{and} ALFERYEV (see Soviet contacts) flew from Mexico City to Tijuana where they rented a Hertz auto. While renting the auto, Subject was asked for identification. Subject stated he was an employee of the Mexican Department of Exterior Relations. Later, when pressed for identification, Subject stated he was an employee of the Soviet Embassy in Mexico City. Subject and ALFERYEV spent most of their time in the company of Isaak Carlos Chapluk (see Western contacts). The Soviets visited Estero Beach, Punta Banda and Nuna SINANOVICH's curio shop (see Western contacts). On 7 September 1964, they visited the Bahia Hotel for dinner and a floor show in the company of Miguel POPOFF (see Western contacts). On 10 September 1963 the Soviets purchased 20,000 bales of cotton to be shipped to Ensenada, final destination unknown. Subject and ALFERYEV were also in contact with Demetrio ALMAGUER (see Western contacts). ALMAGUER was allegedly authorized by the Soviets to find three Mexican youths to travel and study in the USSR. The two Soviets departed Tijuana on 13 September 1963. (37)

On 19 January 1964, when LICOZY/5 (a Station double agent) returned to his apartment building, SHUBIN (see Soviet contacts) and Subject were seated in a car outside and NECHIPORENKO (LICOZY/5's case officer) was about to ring the door bell. NECHIPORENKO told LICOZY/5 that PRIKHODKO (the former KGB case officer) was in town and wanted to see LICOZY/5. NECHIPORENKO also gave LICOZY/5 tickets for the Soviet Soccer game on 19 January 1964. (38)

(COMMENT: LICOZY/5 is being handled by NECHIPORENKO and is a KGB agent. This is the only known occasion of Subject being involved with LICOZY/5 in anything but an overt business contact.)

Subject met with AEBURBLE in Mexico City on 9, 11 and 12 February 1963 and received information from AEBURBLE on industrial and missile sites in PEPRIME. Subject also gave AEBURBLE requirements of the same nature to be carried out in the future. Subject made arrangements with AEBURBLE for his next meeting, to be held in New York City, with a different, unidentified Soviet. On 6 May 1963, AEBURBLE was met in accordance with the above arrangements by Oleg Danilovich BRYKIN (201-292588), a translator assigned to the U.N. Secretariat in New York City. BRYKIN has been identified by a sensitive reliable source as a member of the KGB's 13th Department. (31)

Substantiating information that Subject is a member of the KGB is derived from his connections with Margarito LNU (see Western contacts) undoubtedly an agent (unidentified) formerly in contact with the former First Secretary and KGB Resident Viktor Nikolayevich GLOTOV. (33)

Subject attempted to cultivate David T. PATON (see American contacts) an American Embassy officer formerly assigned to the Visa Section and who now has protocol functions (1965). This cultivation ceased, as far as is known to the Station, immediately after the Station (with Embassy approval) advised PATON to indicate to Subject his disinterest in socializing with him. (33)

Since 1 August 1964, Subject has received in double talk, apparently clandestine calls from Ricardo LNU, an unidentified male with a Central American or Cuban accent. Meetings have been arranged at unnamed places.

(COMMENT: A Ricardo LNU with a Central American or Cuban accent has been in contact with Rogelio RODRIGUEZ Lopez, Second Secretary and Intelligence Officer, Cuban, Embassy, Mexico City.) (39) (40)

On 11 March 1963, one Ricardo PEREZ (not further identified) attempted to call Subject and left a message that he would like to meet with Subject at the "place Subject knows" on the next Friday. (41)

(COMMENT: Ricardo PEREZ may be identical with RICARDO LNU of the above paragraph because of the similar trend in conversation in arranging meetings. One Ricardo PEREZ called the Cuban Embassy, on 26 June 1964 to tell Antonio GARCIA Lara, 201-328388, Commercial Attache and Intelligence Officer, Cuban Embassy, Mexico City, that he had a message for GARCIA from Marguerita DALTON Mexican citizen, student at University of Havana and sister of Raque DALTON, Cuban IS Agent. On 7 July 1962, Subject was in Cuernavaca, probably for a pleasure trip. (44)

(COMMENT: The Station has no additional information on this matter.)

Subject called Jorge RUEDA to complain because two weeks previously an order had been placed with RUEDA to find a specialist to repair the billiard table at the Embassy. (45)

On 7 January 1963, Subject called GARMASHEV (see Soviet contacts) long distance from Vera Cruz, where he had gone to make medical arrangements for a Soviet seaman burned in a shipboard fire. Subject had an automobile accident while on his trip which he related to GARMASHEV. GARMASHEV told Subject he would have to pay his own expenses back to Mexico City and also pay his expenses when he returns for the car after it's repaired. (25)

4. In mid-November 1963, Subject went to Cuautla, (near Mexico City) apparently for recreational reasons. (46)

On 16 April 1964, Subject called the Embassy and asked that Aleksandr Mikhaylovich DENISOV, Third Secretary and GRU officer, call New York and tell "them" (not further identified) the couriers left on Aeronaves de Mexico, flight # 400 at 10:45 am and also asked that DENISOV then call Vladimir P. GOULINE, Attache-Chief of the Secret Files and Suspect KGB Officer, and tell him "everything is all right". (47)

On 29 January 1963, an unidentified man called the Embassy and left a message for Subject to go to the EDITORIAL to see the new edition. The caller also said "it's urgent". (48)

(COMMENT: NECHIPORENKO (see Soviet contacts) LICOZY/S's case officer, levied a requirement on LICOZY/S for information on CORTES. According to LICOZY/S, CORTES is a young, serious, honorable employee who was previously in Sabena's cargo department, later promoted to assistant Station Manager and is now on his way up.)

Adolfo BUCIO G.: Employee of Sabena at Mexico City Airport. BUCIO called Subject to invite him to a party at the home of Maria del Socorro VOLLRATH. Subject often calls BUCIO to find out arrival times of planes. BUCIO was also a signer of the above Christmas card. (108) (109) (57) (110) (111)

Maria del Socorro VOLLRATH: Employees at Sabena Mexico City Airport. VOLLRATH resides at Pennsylvania 254, Apt. 2. She expected Subject to meet her at the airport "with a drink" when she returned from a trip to Europe. (57) (109) (110)

The following are employees of the Sabena office at the airport which LIFIRE found to be in contact with Subject. (112)

16. PAST OPERATIONAL ACTIVITY AGAINST SUBJECT:(chronological, with narrative summary of each item):

During his tours in Mexico City, Subject has been under routine LIENVOY and LIEMPTY surveillance. However, during the period following 22 November 1963, LILYRIC, LIEMBRACE, LIRICE and LIRICE surveillance were mounted on Subject because of his telephone contact with Lee Harvey OSWALD. (49)

After 23 November 1963, the LIEMBRACE surveillance team and LILYRIC and LIMITED base houses all reported Subject under DFS surveillance and Station surveillance was dropped. (160)

On 19, 20 and 21 January 1965, Subject was under LIEMBRACE surveillance as a followup to a report from LIEMPTY stating that Subject was not behaving in his normal fashion. Nothing significant was developed. (16)

SUBJECT: Contact Report/ Silvia McDonald
12 May; Maria Cristina garden

1. Gestetner, known as Don Jackson, and Marheine, introduced as Mort Bryan, met Subject on 12 May. Subject reported on her attendance at the WWII Victory celebration at the SovEmb held on 9 May, and its aftermath on 11 May at the art gallery of Alfredo Santos.
2. Subj, who attended the reception alone, her invited friend Georgina did not go, attracted a small circle of companions during the evening. First, there was a Guatemalan, a professor at the National University, who made conversation, learned she was a singer, and spoke of having her appear at a concert in Puebla. Next, Vladimir Andreev, his receiving line duties ended, joined her. Their conversation dealt with artists in Mexico, a pick-up from the first time they had met at the Santos Gallery some two months ago. Then, Valeriy came by and seemed to be mostly interested in watching Subject. Subj took an instant dislike to Valeriy (probably Kostikov). A short, blond Russian then drifted into the group, whom Subj pegged as a parachutist. This turned out to be accurate (probably Nikolai Leonov). Andreeva came by just about the time Subj was inviting the group to visit the Santos Gallery. Subj was just about able to include Andreeva in the invitation, and then Andreeva was gone from the group. The invitation was for 11 May at 1100. During the evening Andreev mentioned that he would like Subj to perform at the SovEmb. Subj said she would, but no details for the engagement were made.
3. On 11 May Andreev and Valeriy showed up at the Santos Gallery. Subj introduced them to Alfredo Santos. Andreev seemed to be enchanted by the Gallery; Valeriy was less demonstrative. They had brought a bottle of Vodka and passed a few hours in the company of Alfredo. Subj confirmed her distaste for Valeriy, and formed her impression of Andreev that he wanted to break out of dull Soviet circles into the gayer, freer atmosphere of the artist set in Mexico. No specific appointment was made for Subj to see either of the two Sovs another time.
4. Subj, in her concern to know where this operation was taking her and the part she was to play in it, rang in some additional characters in her personal life. There was Georgina (lmu), her very good friend, aimless, clinging to Subject's orbit, student at U of A, who considered Andreev a "dear." Subj considered that Andreev and Georgina might very well develop a relationship because she, Subject, though willing to pursue a platonic friendship with Andreev would have none of the other, and it was not unlikely that Georgina might captivate Andreev. There was Antonio Garza, Subject's current boyfriend, a bodyguard to Dias Ordaz, who was giving evidence of growing seriousness about her. Subj was concerned that her participation in the operation might in some way cause harm to Antonio. Subject who entertains a host of artist friends at her home expressed concern that if she were followed and spied upon, a misleading impression might be gained.

5. Other personal matters about Subject that came out in the conversation were that she has income from stocks (sufficient to maintain her in Mexico), she is in visitante artista status, would like to attain inmigrado because she has difficulties with the Musicians Union (AMDA) that hampers pursuit of her profession; she is not interested in marriage; she is opposed to by-passing the limitations on her work imposed by her status.

6. The C.O.'s, in their guidance to Subject, made it clear that she could pull out of the operation any time she wanted, that it was in her power to terminate it either with us or with the Sovs, if she got involved with them. She was told that there was absolutely no harm that could befall her boyfriend, Antonio, from her continued participation. As for Georgina, the chips would have to fall as they may with Andreev; since Subject was Georgina's confidante, we would be appreciative of knowing about Andreev's involvement in any affair. She wanted to know why we were interested in Andreev, and the C.O.'s gleefully told her to the extent of telling her that it was our business to know about important Soviets, since one never knew when a Soviet might be in need of "help." Subject indicated she was willing to go along further at a slow pace.

7. In talking about the Soviet Victory reception, the presence there of LICRAVE-1 (his picture had been in the News) came up. Subject said she knew L-1. She characterized L-1 as flighty. She said he didn't get along with his wife. She intimated that when L-1 was lonely, he chased after female companionship. L-1 drops by Subject's place every so often. She knew that L-1 had left his father's business and had gone in for crop-dusting (a relatively recent development).

8. Arrangements were made that "Mort" would keep in touch with Subject about once a week by phone (Tel. 46-71-06, Calle Rio Neva #12) and that later she would be given an emergency number to call.

1. Forwarded herewith is a characterization of Subject prepared by Douglas J. FEINGLASS. The SPR on Subject has been prepared and will be forwarded as soon as typed. 2. It is interesting to note that LICOWL-1 describes KOSTIKOV as follows: He is a man who would do anything to anybody. He is without morals, education or manners. He uses foul language and has no respect for others. When KOSTIKOV drinks at his (LICOWL-1's) establishment, with Soviet women present, KOSTIKOV will run his hand over the legs of the wives of other Soviet employees, while their husbands are present, and think nothing of it. According to LICOWL-1, the husbands say nothing when KOSTIKOV does this. (Comment: However, from a recent LICOWL-1 tape, it appears that Yuriy Aleksandrovich ANDRIANOV, GRU chauffeur, was complaining to Viktor Petrovich KALININ, administrative employee, that his wife was running around with KOSTIKOV and he (ANDRIANOV) was going to say something to KOSTIKOV - someday - but had not said a word to him as yet.) Willard C. Valeriy Vladimirovich KOSTIKOV

Valeriy Vladimirovich KOSTIKOV is approximately 35 years of age, corpulent and paunchy, with a round somewhat fleshy face that sports a 5 o'clock shadow, and wears oversized tinted glasses in dark heavy frames, which partially obscure a pair of small, but piercing eyes. His heavy jowls, thin lips, wide nostrils and dark hair add to an impression that his features are more of a Semitic, or a Near-Eastern type than that of a Slav. A shapeless dark suit-coat, carelessly put over a white shirt, with unbuttoned collar, through which protrudes a tuft of dark hair complete a photograph of Valeriy Vladimirovich KOSTIKOV, Attache of the Consular Office and identified member of the KGB.

KOSTIKOV arrived in Mexico in December 1961 and assumed his duties as an attache at the USSR Consulate at the Soviet Embassy in Mexico City. Owing to his extrovert nature and propensity for drinking, he soon acquired several "buddies" of similar background and with similar tastes. Among these individuals, his closest associates have been, or still are, the following: Vitally Borisovich SHUBIN, Attache and identified member of the KGB, who left for the USSR in July 1964; Ivan Gavrilovich ALFERIYEV, Pravda Correspondent and KGB officer, who left for the USSR in October 1964; and Oleg Maksimovich NECHIPORENKO, Vice-Consul and identified member of the KGB, who is still in Mexico, and who has accepted KOSTIKOV into his circle of intimate friends.

CS COPY

201-205-052

However, it was mostly with SHUBIN and ALFERIYEV that KOSTIKOV felt entirely at ease. Many a time KOSTIKOV would talk to either one of them on the phone and indulge in a friendly exchange of obscenities, whereas he has never spoken to NECHIPORENKO in a like manner, even though KOSTIKOV has been a frequent guest at NECHIPORENKO's house. KOSTIKOV developed an exceedingly close relationship with SHUBIN. They used to travel together to various parts of the country and to spend time together with their families at the Casino de la Selva, a hotel in Cuernavaca. But it was ALFERIYEV's wife Roza, who became the prime target of KOSTIKOV's attentions. An embittered acrimonious woman, Roza, who despised her husband and had a fierce hatred for NECHIPORENKO, was transformed into a different human being when KOSTIKOV talked to her on the phone in his best unctuous and ingratiating manner. It is impossible to say whether they had sexual relations, but the obvious and strong sexual overtones in Roza's voice led one to presume that she had more than just a friendly interest in KOSTIKOV, who on the other hand, was probably using Roza as a target for his amorous or illicit aspirations.

It seems that KOSTIKOV is quite preoccupied with matters of sex and if given an opportunity would turn into a veritable profligate. Apparently his wife Roza has a tolerant attitude towards KOSTIKOV's probable incursions into the domain of marital infidelity, since, on one occasion, when KOSTIKOV had been invited to a supposed stag party at ALFERIYEV's home, and Roza KOSTIKOV had phoned to caution KOSTIKOV against drinking too much, a woman answered the call and then called KOSTIKOV to the phone. When Roza talked to KOSTIKOV it sounded that she was more peeved at the fact that she had not been invited to the party rather than that other women were present there at the time.

When KOSTIKOV started talking to his wife on this particular call, he already had had a few drinks and in disguised voice spoke to her in Spanish, French and English, possibly to impress those who were present. His Spanish is quite good and fluent, his French is rather tolerable, but his English is somewhat stilted and of a school-room type. Possibly, he studied these languages at the Moscow Institute of Languages.

This fluency in Spanish affords KOSTIKOV a great latitude for making friends among Mexicans and his easy-going earthy approach is presumably of considerable help to him in developing contacts. Since his consular duties are quite negligible, he can easily engage in this sort of activity. In fact, this neglect of official duties prompted a heated argument between NECHIPORENKO and the visiting Soviet correspondent Timur GAYDAR, who declared that ostensibly the consular staff does not perform any useful function, but just loafs around. His assertion has been confirmed in part by the attitude of this particular group of Soviet Embassy employees, who quite often seek some diversion of a non-intellectual type. Thus, on one occasion, when a group of Soviet tourists has a brief stay in Mexico, one of them - a woman, complained during a phone call to the Embassy that KOSTIKOV and Leonid Vasilyevich NIKIFOROV, Intourist representative in Mexico, had taken the group leaders to NIKIFOROV's apartment in order to have a few drinks, leaving the rest of the tourists without any information about their next move and letting them shift for themselves.

Since the departure of SHUBIN and ALFERIYEV, KOSTIKOV has started to "cultivate" NIKIFOROV, presumably as a potential drinking companion, and has been talking to him on the phone a number of times recently in quite a familiar tone of voice. It seems that NIKIFOROV, a younger man, is being influenced by KOSTIKOV to a certain degree.

KOSTIKOV's family life does not appear to be a stormy one, because his wife Roza A. sounds easy-going and friendly. She is in charge of the Embassy's dining-room. Her co-workers treat her with a good-humored tolerance and a slight contempt. KOSTIKOV's daughter Svetlana, born in 1959, seems to be an average child, who does not present any outstanding problems to her parents.

To summarize KOSTIKOV's character traits and abilities: KOSTIKOV is well trusted to take trips around the country in the company of another Soviet Embassy employee on various matters of importance and, on occasions, he acts as an interpreter for visiting Soviet officials. His known physical defect is weak eyes. Sometime ago KOSTIKOV called up an eye-specialist for an appointment, because his eyes were troubling him and that is probably the reason for his wearing tinted glasses. Sometimes Mexicans refer to him as the man with glasses. It is quite possible that an auto accident KOSTIKOV had in Vera Cruz may have been caused by his somewhat defective vision and was not the result of carelessness. However, when KOSTIKOV was excusing himself for it, GARMASHEV, to whom he spoke on the phone, told him dryly that it was about time KOSTIKOV learned to drive.

Owing to this shortcoming of having weak eyes and his physical make up, KOSTIKOV does not participate in various indoor or outdoor sports as much as do other members of the Soviet Embassy. It seems that billiards are about the most strenuous exercise that he undertakes. However, it must not be surmised that he is a weak individual in a physical sense and will probably give a good account of himself if a situation will demand it.

Many of his intimate collaborators call him "Kopchenyy" or "Smoked" which in Russian slang may mean an individual with a dark skin, or may refer to the fact of his wearing tinted glasses, or it may signify that he went through a school of hard knocks

It is quite certain that KOSTIKOV and ALFERIYEV belong to the same group of former hoodlums, who by dint of sheer disregard for moral standards forged ahead and became "somebodies".

KOSTIKOV seems to be quite unscrupulous, ready to perform any sort of task set before him, not in a cold and methodical way, but with a certain zest and bravado. It appears that he has no moral, religious, or any other type of scruples. He is vulgar, untidy and lecherous, with a penchant for using lewd and obscene expressions in conversation with his "buddies", with whom he drinks quite a lot, circumstances permitting. In addition, it must be noted that he is a shrewd and resourceful individual unquestionably loyal to the Communist system.

AMPURPLE

AMPURPLE positively identified photo of Valeriy Vladimirovich KOSTIKOV as Soviet who had met him in Mexico City on 9, 11 and 12 Feb 1963. KOSTIKOV gave PURPLE meeting arrangements for next meeting to be in NYC. Soviet who appeared in NYC was Oleg D. PRYKIN. PRYKIN has been identified as member 13th Dept of KGB's FCB.

PURPLE is naturalized German American, has crop dusting business in Middle West, furnished info on industrial and missile sites in area. PRYKIN particularly interested in pipelines, ~~_____~~

The 13th Dept may have exercised its prerogative and taken over case from First (American) Dept. Former case officer Yuriy V. KOSTIKOV was apparently from American Dept, not 13th. But it appears that PRYKIN asked PURPLE for same info type of info assigned by KOSTIKOV, suggesting that KOSTIKOV was from same KGB dept as PRYKIN.

3. It has been reliably reported that at present the KGB's Thirteenth Department places the greatest emphasis on its sabotage mission. Sabotage targets include the most important strategic military and industrial facilities of Western countries. The requirements assigned to AEBURBLE by both KOSTIKOV and BRYKIN correspond to this mission.

4. In view of the obvious ODYOKE interest in any activities of the Thirteenth Department, we urge that you prepare an analysis of KOSTIKOV's activities and contacts in Mexico.
