TESTIMONY OF ROBERT T. SHAW

Mr. Goldsmith. Would you state your name and address for the record?

Mr. Shaw. Robert T. Shaw, 3715 Acosta Road, Fairfax, Virginia, 22031.

Mr. Goldsmith. What is your present occupation, Mr. Shaw?

Mr. Shaw. I am undercover with the Department of State, but my actual occupation is Inspector, Office of the Inspector General, Central Intelligence Agency.

Mr. Goldsmith. Mr. Shaw, I handed you earlier a copy of a letter from the Acting Director of the Central Intelligence, Mr. Carlucci, to the Chairman of this Committee. It corresponds to JFK Exhibit No. 94 in the Committee's hearing record.

Have you had a chance to read that letter?

Mr. Shaw. I read it just now.

Mr. Goldsmith. Do you understand it?

Mr. Shaw. I understand it.

Mr. Goldsmith. I also would like to hand you the Committee's rules and resolutions and ask you at this time to read Rule No. 4 to yourself.

(Pause)

Mr. Shaw. I read it over.

Mr. Goldsmith. Do you understand that?

Mr. Goldsmith. Do you understand that you have a right to counsel?

Mr. Shaw. Yes.

Mr. Goldsmith. Do you waive that right to counsel?

Mr. Shaw. I do not need counsel.

Mr. Goldsmith. Do you understand that, under the Committee rules, that you have a right to receive a copy of the statement you are going to give us at this deposition?

Mr. Shaw. I should hope so, to check it for accuracy.

Mr. Goldsmith. However, by virtue of the arrangement that the Committee has worked out with the Central Intelligence Agency, we have been asked to request of Agency employees that they waive their right to receive a copy of the deposition for their own retention. By that, I mean we would certainly be willing to grant you access to the deposition, to correct it in any way necessary, but the Agency has requested that we ask you to waive your right to receive an actual copy of the deposition.

Mr. Shaw. I have no problem with that.

Mr. Goldsmith. Thank you.

For the record, I would like to say that the Committee's mandate is to investigate the assassination of the President. The scope of the mandate includes who killed the President, was there a conspiracy? We are also required to evaluate the performance of the investigative agencies, specifically the FBI and the CIA and to evaluate the work of the Warren Commission.

Do you understand that as well?

Mr. Shaw. Yes.

Mr. Goldsmith. Prior to coming here today, have you discussed what your testimony is going to be with any CIA employee?

Mr. Shaw. I have not, except to tell them that I was going to tell the truth when I got over here.

Mr. Goldsmith. In terms of discussing the substance of your testimony?

Mr. Shaw. None whatever.

Mr. Goldsmith. Have you discussed with any CIA employee, past or present, who either has been interviewed by the Committee or has given a statement under oath to the Committee, what questions were asked of him or her?

Mr. Shaw. I have not.

Mr. Goldsmith. Are you here today voluntarily and without subpoena?

Mr. Shaw. Yes.

Mr. Goldsmith. Mr. Shaw, how long have you been working under State Department cover?

Mr. Shaw. Since approximately the date I came aboard, because I was promptly sent to the Department of State for

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 training. That would be March, 1948.

2 Mr. Goldsmith. Would your State Department file, if
3 reviewed by a member of this Committee, indicate that you were 4 actually a CIA employee?

5 Mr. Shaw. I have no idea.

6 Mr. Goldsmith. You do not understand how the cover
7 arrangement would work between the Agency and the Department
8 of State?

9 Mr. Shaw. I have never had anything to do with the 10 setting up of such cover. It would well be that there might 11 be some sort of an indicator or flag, or something in that 12 file that would indicate to a person who knew the ropes that 13 I was not bona fide.

14 Mr. Goldsmith. Would there be a personnel file on you
15 at the Central Intelligence Agency?

16 Mr. Shaw. Yes.

17 Mr. Goldsmith. As a matter of procedure, in terms of 18 how you get paid, do you get paid by the Department of State?

19 Mr. Shaw. No. I am under, at the present time, nominal
20 state cover. I actually, as far as the Department of State
21 is concerned, resigned over there in 1973, I believe. At 22 the present time, I am paid by the Agency.

23 Mr. Goldsmith. When you were working under cover, were 24 you being paid by State at that time?

25 Mr. Shaw. Yes, I was.

Mr. Goldsmith. Are you familiar at all with the literature that has been generated by the assassination of the President and the work done by the Warren Commission?

Mr. Shaw. Very little. I just noticed that green book there a minute ago. I have never read that thing.

Mr. Goldsmith. Book 5, for the record, of the Senate Committee Report.

Mr. Shaw. I have seen copies of the Warren Commission Report in various places around the government, but I never read it.

Mr. Goldsmith. When you were working with the State Department in other than a nominal capacity, what was your title?

Mr. Shaw. My last title was Special Assistant to the Ambassador and First Secretary of Embassy, Honduras.

Mr. Goldsmith. Did you ever work as a consular officer?

Mr. Shaw. Yes, I did.

Mr. Goldsmith. When you worked as a consular officer, were you required to fulfill both responsibilities as a consular officer and as a CIA employee?

Mr. Shaw. To a certain extent.

For example, I have never issued a visa. I have issued a passport for another consular officer who accepted the application and I would be on the road in northwestern Mexico and issued the passport to the American citizen concerned.

I have done a modicum of what we call protection and welfare work. This would usually involve being again on the road, stopping in, for example, in a prison to see if there was an American citizen there, to find out what the story was, why he was there, how he was being treated and that sort of thing, and relay that information to the consular when I got back.

Actually, I have not done much consular work. I used the cover on several occasions, but was never emersed into the role to the point where it interfered with my Agency activity.

Mr. Goldsmith. Normally when somebody is acting under State Department cover, is the person required to hold down two jobs at the same time?

Mr. Shaw. It depends on the location of the person. As I understand it, people we have, for example, in the Iron Curtain countries, or the countries of Eastern Europe, do hold down virtually 100 percent full-time State Department, Foreign Service jobs. Some of the people that I have run into in my work as an Inspector for the Office of the Inspector General, notably in the Mid-Eastern countries, have spent much more time on their cover work than I did.

I think that it has to do basically with the permissiveness, or lack thereof, of the operational environment that you are in. In Mexico, it was not necessary to spend much

1 time, at least not for me, on cover duties.

2 Mr. Goldsmith. How long have you been working for the 3 Office of the Inspector General?

4 Mr. Shaw. Since August of 1976.

5 Mr. Goldsmith. Did you have any responsibility in the 6 writing of the 1977 Inspector General Report pertaining to 7 the CIA's handling of the investigation of the Kennedy
8 assassination?

9 Mr. Shaw. None whatever.

10 Mr. Goldsmith. Has anyone ever interviewed you before
11 pertaining to the Mexico City situation as far as it pertained
12 to Oswald?

13 Mr. Shaw. Yes. It was about that time of '76, some-
14 body interviewed me in the CIA Headquarters building, and I
15 think it was a Senate Committee, but I am not sure. They had 16 some files.

17 Mr. Goldsmith. Did you give your testimony under oath
18 at that time?

19 Mr. Shaw. No, not that I remember.

20 Mr. Goldsmith. Did any CIA person ever interview you
21 concerning Lee Harvey Oswald's activities in Mexico City and 22 the operations of the Mexico City station?

23 Mr. Shaw. I would have to qualify that. We discussed
24 the subject, of course, in Mexico City at the time of the 25 assassination, or immediately after the assassination.

1 But I cannot recall that I was ever called in anywhere
2 and asked for my account of what transpired after the assassina-
3 tion.

4 Mr. Goldsmith. Headquarters never asked you to come in
5 and give a description, for example, of Oswald's activities,
6 to your knowledge, in Mexico City in 1963?

7 Mr. Shaw. No. I would not have known anything about
8 Oswald's activities anyway.

9 Mr. Goldsmith. Are you familiar with the photograph
10 that was taken in 1963 that was reportedly linked to Oswald
11 and which subsequently turned out not to be a picture of 12 Oswald?

13 Mr. Shaw. I am familiar with a photograph that was 14 identified by people at the station in Mexico City as possibly 15 being an American-appearing person. I do not know that it
16 was every considered to be Oswald.

17 I think, if I remember correctly, what they were doing--

18 Mr. Goldsmith. We will get into that. My question is,
19 did anybody from Headquarters ever ask you about that parti-
20 cular photograph or the circumstances surrounding it?

21 Mr. Shaw. Negative.

22 Mr. Goldsmith. Did anybody from Headquarters ever ask
23 you to give a statement or report as to the manner in which 24 the surveillance operation in Mexico City were underatken in 25 1963?

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REFORMERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. 20024 (202) 550-2345

1 Mr. Shaw. No.

2 Mr. Goldsmith. Where were you serving in 1963?

3 Mr. Shaw. From about the middle of April, I was serving
4 in Mexico City in our station.

5 Mr. Goldsmith. How long did you stay in Mexico City?

6 Mr. Shaw. I stayed there until September of 1966.

7 Mr. Goldsmith. Who was the Station Chief in Mexico
8 City?

9 Mr. Shaw. Winston Scott.

10 Mr. Goldsmith. Would you give us your assessment of 11 his competence?

12 Mr. Shaw. Competence. It is difficult, because I was 13 not looking from on high. He was a brilliant man. He was 14 reputed to have a doctorate in mathematics. He had an uncanny
15 ability to remember numbers and he carried in his head the 16 file numbers of what we called P-files in Mexico City. P
17 stood, I think, for personality. A P number usually was four 18 digits or so, maybe five digits.

19 And he carried all these numbers in his head and he could 20 mark something for such and such a file in black ink -- he 21 always wrote in black ink -- putting the number down. He had 22 a very good memory for numbers.

23 Winn and I were friendly. We were not close. We were 24 not on the same level at all.

25 I considered him to be, from my standpoint, a competent,

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 effective, Chief of Station.

2 Mr. Goldsmith. What type of file-keeping system did
3 he have in effect, without asking you to describe it in detail?
4 By that, my question is directed towards his thoroughness and 5 comprehensiveness.

6 Mr. Shaw. I would say that he probably had one of the 7 most -- let me see -- complete file systems in being in the 8 Agency. I think that he, my personal opinion is that he went
9 overboard, and we had so much stuff back in our files, it
10 was hard to believe the amount of paper we had in there.

11 His tendency was not to rely on cross-indexing. If 12 you have a document, this piece of paper means something to 13 you and you want to keep it and it has 15 names on it, he 14 was quite capable of setting up 15 files for the same piece
15 of paper. And we had a tremendous file room.

16 I often wondered if we needed that much paper. It was 17 very thorough. I am not a technician as far as managing
18 files, but I do know that the people who worked in the file
19 room were kept very, very busy.

20 Mr. Goldsmith. Who were Mr. Scott's chief deputies?
21 Let me rephrase the question. Upon which individuals did he 22 tend to rely the most?

23 Mr. Shaw. He had one Deputy who was Allen White. As 24 far as reliance on other people, I would say he relied very
25 heavily on Annie Goodpasture -- not in any way in a command

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 function, but as a Girl Friday.

2 He also seemed to think rather highly of a former one-time
3 FBI agent named George Monroe.

4 Mr. Goldsmith. What about David Phillips?

5 Mr. Shaw. Yes. Dave Phillips ran the, what we called the 6 CA side of the shop, covert action, mostly propaganda. I came
7 to Mexico City with the understanding that I was going to head
8 up the Cuban shop. Very soon after I arrived there, Dave
9 Phillips was tapped -- it was while we were still in the old
10 Embassy building.

11 He was tapped and named the new Cuban Office Chief.

12 Mr. Goldsmith. Did that happen in October '63?

13 Mr. Shaw. I don't know. I do not remember. But it was 14 not too long after I was there, and I was asked, I think by 15 Dave; I don't remember -- if I had any objections to continuing 16 to serve in Cuba.

17 I liked Dave, I respected him. I did not feel that I
18 was being hurt, hurt careerwise, to step back and I was very 19 interested in Cuban operations, so I did willingly, let us say,
20 relinquish command, if you want to, of Cuban Ops and I served
21 Dave as one more officer.

22 Later on, after Dave left, a year or two later, I once
23 again took over the Cuban Ops group.

24 Mr. Goldsmith. You were in charge of Cuban Operations at 25 the beginning. Then Phillips took it over at some point and

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 then, after Phillips left, you went back to that position?

2 Mr Shaw. That is right.

3 Mr. Goldsmith. Our review of Agency records indicates
4 that Phillips would have assumed that position on October of 5 '63. Would that be consistent with your recollection?

6 Mr. Shaw. My recollection would have been, had you not 7 told me this based on your review of the files, that it took 8 place earlier than October, but I do not know. I really do not 9 know.

10 Mr. Goldsmith. My questions are going to be confined,
11 unless I indicate to the contrary, to the period up to the 12 end of 1963. So, from the time of your arrival in Mexico City
13 until the end of 1963, prior to the time that Mr. Phillips
14 assumed the position of Cuban operations --

15 Mr. Shaw. Chief.

16 Mr. Goldsmith. Chief would be the word, and you had those 17 responsibilities, what did those responsibilities include?

18 Mr. Shaw. Since it was not ratified to me upon my 19 arrival that I was, indeed, Chief of Cuban Ops, I simply con-
20 sidered myself to be one more case officer working against 21 the Cuban target. Our basic interest was in effecting pene-
22 trations of the Cuban government.

23 What we wanted most of all were effective penetrations
24 of the Cuban Embassy, the Cuban Intelligence Service, and some 25 possible line-in to their communications set-up.

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 Mr. Goldsmith. In 1963, did you manage to place any
2 penetration agents in the Cuban Embassy or consulate?

3 Mr. Shaw. Did I?

4 Mr. Goldsmith. Did the station?

5 Mr. Shaw. There were two. I did not place either one,
6 and I think they both pre-dated 1963.

7 Mr. Goldsmith. Were those two penetration agents within
8 the Cuban consulate or Embassy at the time of the President's
9 assassination?

10 Mr. Shaw. Yes. One was in the consulate -- LITAMIL-7
11 was the cryptonym. L-I-T-A-M-I-L-7. And the other one was 12 in the Embassy -- L-I-T-A-M-I-L-9.

13 Mr. Goldsmith. What information did these people give 14 you after the assassination pertaining to the possible involve-
15 ment of the Cuban government?

16 Mr. Shaw. I did not handle LITAMIL-7, and LITAMIL-9. I
17 did handle,

18 Mr. Goldsmith. Who handled LITAMIL-7?

19 Mr. Shaw. I think that it was Ray Swider, but I am not 20 sure. I did not meet LITAMIL-7 until Ray Swider left the 21 country.

22 Mr. Goldsmith. You nevertheless have had access to the 23 information that this individual gave to Swider?

24 Mr. Shaw. I would normally have seen copies of contact
25 reports which were reports that we wrote -- any of us who were

ALDERSON REPORTING COMPANY

1 case officers wrote -- after station meetings, and it would
2 have been normal for me, for example, to see any information
3 of consequence that LITAMIL-7 produced, just like it would
4 have been normal for any other case officer in the Cuban sec-
5 tion to see my contact reports on meetings with LITAMIL-9.

6 Mr. Goldsmith. In light of that, do you know what infor-
7 mation LITAMIL-7 gave concerning the Cuban government's reac-
8 tion to the death of the President?

9 Mr. Shaw. I do not recall, and I do not recall the 10 specifics of anything. You may have something in your files
11 with my name on it; I do not know what LITAMIL-9 produced.
12 I do have the recollection of the sense of feeling on the 13 part of those people that there was no exultation or jubila-
14 tion or happiness whatsoever inside the Cuban Embassy at the 15 assassination of President Kennedy.

16 Mr. Goldsmith. Did the penetration agents ever indicate
17 that Oswald had been to the Embassy and had stated that he was 18 going to attempt to kill the President?

19 Mr. Shaw. No, not that I know of.

20 Mr. Goldsmith. Did any of those agents ever indicate that 21 Oswald had had contact with the Agency -- with the Embassy, 22 rather?

23 Mr. Shaw. I would imagine that LITAMIL-7 probably did --
24 I do not recall it. But since she was in the consulate, and 25 --since it was my understanding that Oswald's contact with the

SECRET

1 consular field rather than with the Embassy field, I should
2 imagine, given the discussions that undoubtedly took place in
3 the Cuban Embassy after this assassination, that she probably
4 spoke about it. I do not know.

5 - Mr. Goldsmith. What was the name of LITAMIL-7?

6 Mr. Shaw. I'd rather not give names.

7 (Discussion off the record.)

8 Mr. Goldsmith. Mr. Shaw, in light of your response, I am
9 certainly aware of the sensitivity of this issue and of your
10 concern for sources and methods, and I would also make two 11 points. One is that under the letter, you are free of your 12 secrecy obligation. At the same time, I am not about to rely
13 upon that letter to compel an answer out of you, because you
14 are here voluntarily today to help us. And, as I said, because 15 I understand your concern for a sensitive source in this case,
16 I am not going to ask you to state for the record the name of 17 either one of these individuals.

18 Mr. Shaw. May I say something at this point?

19 Mr. Goldsmith. Yes.

20 Mr. Shaw. It is my understanding that both of these 21 people are, if they are still alive, are living in Mexico and 22 I do not want to be in a position of revealing a name which
23 could harm either of those people. I notice here that it says --

24 Mr. Goldsmith. You are referring now to the letter from 25 Mr. Carlucci?

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 Mr. Shaw. Yes.

2 "To provide the affected person the opportunity to
3 receive guidance from me or my designees on the applicability
4 of this authorization, particularly to questions which are 5 asked."

6 I would like to get Frank Carlucci to tell me that I would
7 reveal two names of agents, if it is necessary -- or you can
8 find out from the file, probably, who they are.

9 Mr. Goldsmith. Mr. Shaw, I understand your position.
10 I want to make sure you understand mine. I am in no way
11 forcing you to reveal a name. Once you had demonstrated a 12 reluctance to, then, as far as I was concerned, then the 13 matter was terminated.

14 Mr. Shaw. No problem?

15 Mr. Goldsmith. I will say that we will pursue this by 16 contacting the appropriate people at the Agency.

17 Mr. Shaw. I think if you requested the Agency for those 18 two names, it would probably produce them. I wouldn't want to 19 be the guy to say it.

20 Mr. Goldsmith. I understand your position perfectly.
21 I hope you understand mine.

22 Mr. Shaw. I do.

23 Mr. Goldsmith. I would not want you to go back to the 24 Agency and say that the staff of this Committee attempted to 25 compel an answer out of you.

1 Mr. Shaw. I will not say any such thing.

2 Mr. Goldsmith. Fine.

3 For the record, would you spell the cryptonyms of these
4 penetration agents?

5 Mr. Shaw. One of them was LITAMIL-7 -- L-I-T-A-M-I-L - 7.
6 The other was LITAMIL-9.

7 Mr. Goldsmith. Are these two agents still active?

8 Mr. Shaw. Neither one is active. I am quite sure that 9 neither one is active.

10 Mr. Goldsmith. For purposes of clarification, LITAMIL-7,
11 was that agent working out of the consulate?

12 Mr. Shaw. That agent was an employee of the consular 13 section of the Cuban Embassy in Mexico City. LITAMIL-9 was an 14 officer of the Embassy.

15 Mr. Goldsmith. Mr. Shaw, on the question of the identity
16 of these two agents, when you go back to the Agency, could you
17 raise this question with the appropriate individual, appropri-
18 ate superior authority, and we will do the same so that some 19 time this week we can get together on that?

20 Mr. Shaw. I do not see any reason for us to get together.
21 You can get it from them, I am sure. It is just that I have 22 a rather strong feeling about protecting anybody who has 23 cooperated with us.

24 It is not that I consider you do not have a right to that
25 information, if you feel that you need it. It is just that I

1 cannot bring myself to reveal the true name of an agent unless
2 I am required to do so.

3 Mr. Goldsmith. I understand that concern. I certainly 4 respect it.

5 (Pause)

6 I have been informed by my researcher, Dan Hardway, that
7 the Agency is in the process of looking into this issue.

8 Mr. Shaw. Okay.

9 Mr. Goldsmith. At this time, I would like to get into
10 the area of the telephone taps that were in operation in 1963
11 against the Cuban Embassy and consulate. My first question is,
12 what responsibility, if any, did you have with regard to the 13 telephone tap operation?

14 Mr. Shaw. No responsibility. I saw the product, 15 usually.

16 Mr. Goldsmith. Who was the individual who was in charge
17 of that tap?

18 Mr. Shaw. I do not know whose responsibility it was.
19 I rather suspect that it may have been Ann Goodpasture's, but 20 I do not know for sure. I do not remember.

21 There were two telephone operations, two tap operations.
22 One of them was unilateral and one of them was joint with the 23 Mexican government.

24 Mr. Goldsmith. Which one was the unilateral one? By 25 that, I mean which phones were covered by the unilateral one?

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 Mr. Shaw. There was a mix, and I cannot recall which
2 were which. It may well have been that we were tapping some
3 Cuban Embassy phones unilaterally, and some of them were being
4 tapped jointly. I know that there was coverage on the joint tap
5 operation, which I believe was called LIENVOY. I am not sure.

6 Mr. Goldsmith. That is correct.

7 You indicated that you think Ann Goodpasture may have been
8 responsible for the telephone tap operation against the Cuban
9 operation. What basis do you have for that?

10 Mr. Shaw. Responsible in the sense of picking up the take.
11 I am not sure of that, because I know she did some of that kind
12 of work. I am not sure who did it. We used to get copies of 13 the transcripts and I remember -- I am sure I saw some of the 14 Cuban stuff on joint taps. And then, of course, taps that 15 were run by the Mexican government.

16 Mr. Goldsmith. Did you review the transcripts that came 17 in as a matter of regular routine?

18 Mr. Shaw. Yes.

19 Mr. Goldsmith. Did you read all of them?

20 Mr. Shaw. No.

21 Mr. Goldsmith. Which ones would you read?

22 Mr. Shaw. I would have been interested primarily in the 23 Cuban ones, and what they called the resuma -- it was sort of 24 a Spanish word for resume -- the resuma was a distillation,
25 if you will, of the digest of the joint tap that was prepared,

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

I believe, for the Mexican President. You look at the resuma, which may be two pages, and you may have the gist of what might be a whole bunch of pages of tap.

Mr. Goldsmith. Normally, you read transcripts of conversations that took place on telephones of the Cuban Embassy, is that correct?

Mr. Shaw. Normally, I read some of that stuff. I do not remember whether I saw it all or not, because quite a bit of it was processed by other people. I do not know who they were, people on the outside, I suppose. And I read summaries of what appeared on these things, but I remember also, at times, seeing the verbatim -- Man Outside says so and so; Person Inside, Woman Inside, says such and such.

Mr. Goldsmith. Sometimes you would get summary transcriptions of the summary conversations or English and sometimes you would get verbatim translations, is that correct?

Mr. Shaw. Yes. I would see them, I would not get them. They would go past me. I would see them.

Mr. Goldsmith. Was it more likely that what you would see in verbatim form, conversations that took place, for example, in Russian and had to be translated before you received them?

Mr. Shaw. I certainly would not see any conversations in Russian, because the Cuban Embassy did not have any Russian conversations. I cannot really answer that question. I am not really sure I fully understand it. I do remember seeing

1 a variety of take, what we call take, from the various tap
2 operations. This take sometimes was processed into English.
3 The stuff that appeared in the resuma was in Spanish. Sometimes
4 the conversations were typed out in Spanish and translated into 5 English. I prefer them in Spanish, because I am at home in 6 Spanish.

7 Mr. Goldsmith. How many people reviewed the take from 8 the surveillance operation of the Cuban Embassy and consular
9 telephones?

10 Mr. Shaw. I have no idea. I assume there were quite a
11 few. The stuff was widely passed around.

12 Mr. Goldsmith. As a matter of routine, how many people
13 would review them?

14 Mr. Shaw. I have no idea.

15 Mr. Goldsmith. How many people were in Cuban operations?

16 Mr. Shaw. I would guess five or six.

17 Mr. Goldsmith. Who were they?

18 Mr. Shaw. Dave Phillips.

19 Mr. Goldsmith. We are talking now about the period 1963?

20 Mr. Shaw. That is right. Dave Phillips, myself, Ray
21 Swider. I am trying to think of the girl's name. We had
22 various secretaries in there. I do not know who was the secre-
23 tary in '63. Peggy Magert. I'm not sure she was there at 24 that time.

25 Of course, Allen White would see it. Winn Scott would see

1 it.

2 Mr. Goldsmith. They would not review every transcript
3 or summary that came in, would then? Allen White or Winn Scott?

4 Mr. Shaw. I imagine Winn Scott; I do not know about 5 Allen White. Winn was pretty much, he tended to review almost 6 all of the paper that came in and out of the station.

7 Mr. Goldsmith. Are you saying that there was no routine
8 procedure established for who was to review the take from the 9 Cuban telephone surveillance operations?

10 Mr. Shaw. I am saying that, when I got there, the case
11 officers in Cuban Ops saw this stuff that was routed around 12 through the station and that persisted during the time that 13 I was there.

14 Mr. Goldsmith. I am not sure that the answer --

15 Mr. Shaw. How that was routed, I am not sure.

16 Mr. Goldsmith. Did you customarily see every conversa-
17 tion that came in?

18 Mr. Shaw. I doubt it. I doubt it.

19 Mr. Goldsmith. Who would have seen the conversation and 20 decided that it was not important enough to merit your atten-
21 tion?

22 Mr. Shaw. I do not know.

23 Mr. Goldsmith. Who brought in the take from these opera-
24 tions to the station?

25 Mr. Shaw. I do not know that either, but it was my

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 understanding that non-official cover people on the outside
2 picked up the tapes -- don't consider this gospel, but this
3 is my understanding -- picked up tapes from the various listen-
4 ing posts, some of which had been processed by people in the
5 listening post; some of which had not. But they, in turn,
6 either processed those tapes or took them to people to continue
7 the processing in case they had a foreign language in them, or 8 something, and then turn them over to the station.

9 Somebody went out from the station, probably with a little
10 attache case or something, and picked up tapes again. It is 11 my understanding that the person primarily involved in that 12 was Ann Goodpasture, but I do not know for sure.

13 Mr. Goldsmith. Who was the first person that the trans-
14 cripts would go to upon their arrival at the Embassy?

15 Mr. Shaw. I rather suspect Winn Scott, because I remember
16 great numbers of those white pages that came across our desk,
17 had P numbers written on them in black ink by Winn Scott.

18 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know how many lines were being
19 tapped at the Cuban consulate and Embassy?

20 Mr. Shaw. I do not know.

21 Mr. Goldsmith. You reviewed the transcripts and summaries
22 of these conversations for two years and you have no idea how 23 many lines were tapped?

24 Mr. Shaw. No. This was fifteen years ago. I can give 25 you a guess.

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 Mr. Goldsmith. Sure. A best guess would be helpful.

2 Mr. Shaw. I would guess three or four lines. The primary
3 interest was in the Soviets. You had far more coverage.
4 That is a guess.

5 Mr. Goldsmith. Understood.

6 Mr. Shaw. I would guess, off-hand, two lines in the 7 Embassy, one line in the consulate.

8 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know if the Cuban consul's telephone
9 was tapped?

10 Mr. Shaw. If the consulate line was tapped --

11 Mr. Goldsmith. It would have been his?

12 Mr. Shaw. Probably it would have been his, but they may 13 have had a direct line in there. I do not know.

14 Mr. Goldsmith. How would a telephone tap actually work?
15 I am talking now about the actual mechanics of the tap.

16 Mr. Shaw. I do not know. I never had anything do do
17 with them. I know they used to take some of their taps at 18 what they call the junction boxes. These would be the boxes
19 out in the street where lines came in to be fed into this
20 central -- I would rather suspect that the joint operations
21 were mostly done at the central, since the Mexican government
22 simply could have issued orders, you will tap such and such a
23 phone.

24 Mr. Goldsmith. My question is oriented towards the 25 following. Once a tap has been placed on a line, would that

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 mean that all calls, ingoing or outgoing, on that phone would
2 be picked up, so long as the tap is in effect?

3 Mr. Shaw. So long as it is in effect, yes. Whether those
4 would appear in the transcripts is another matter. If it
5 was like a wrong number, or somebody saying pick up three rolls
6 and bring them home for lunch, probably it would not appear on 7 the transcript.

8 Mr. Goldsmith. Who would make that decision?

9 Mr. Shaw. Whoever transcribed the tapes.

10 Mr. Goldsmith. How much time would pass from the moment
11 that a call came in until the transcription passed across your 12 desk?

13 Mr. Shaw. I cannot answer your question with any preci-
14 sion. There was a system in the Embassy whereby if you had 15 a fast-breaking situation, or something like that, you could --
16 I sure would like to get the transcripts of such and such a
17 line fast, and that information would be processed and funneled
18 back in to the Embassy or into the station on a priority
19 basis.

20 I would guess, offhand, that it ran -- again, this is a
21 guess -- five, six, seven days.

22 Mr. Goldsmith. What about the high priority cases?

23 Mr. Shaw. Sometimes you can get that pretty fast.

24 Mr. Goldsmith. Within a day?

25 Mr. Shaw. Yes. We could have somebody looking for a

1 certain call, and I do not recall ever doing that. But it
2 was my understanding that if you expected some situation, that
3 you could levy a requirement -- for example, let me give you
4 a for instance here.

5 Let us suppose that we, the station, someone in the sta-
6 tion was going to make a recruitment pitch to a Soviet officer.
7 It would have been possible for the station to have organized
8 things so that there was a live body and not just a machine
9 hanging over phone calls coming in to the Soviet Embassy in 10 case the guy called up and said, let me tell you the discus-
11 sion I just had, or something like that.

12 This would be a little far-fetched, because a Soviet
13 would not be likely to handle it by phone. But in a case
14 where you are looking for something fast-breaking to protect 15 yourself, being on top of the situation -- it would not apply
16 much to Mexico, but if you had a revolutionary situation
17 breaking out someplace, surely there is a possibility of 18 getting information very quickly off any given line.

19 Mr. Goldsmith. Would the transcripts be reviewed by 20 you in chronological order?

21 Mr. Shaw. I got them in batches and I would review them
22 just in the order in which they came. I might have shuffled
23 them in chronological order, yes. Quite often they came in 24 four or five or six pages stapled together.

25 Mr. Goldsmith. Would they tend to come in chrolological

1 order so you read a transcript from the 15th before the 16th?

2 Mr. Shaw. Generally yes, right.

3 Mr. Goldsmith. What happened to the transcripts after 4 they were reviewed by you?

5 Mr. Shaw. They were usually routed. They had a routing
6 sheet on it, and they would go on to somewhere else. Where 7 they went, I do not know. Sometimes we would mark them for 8 files. Of course, if there were a transcript in there that
9 had specific information on somebody that we were interested
10 in, we would mark a copy for the files and it would go into
11 that person's -- either their P-file, which was their personnel
12 file, or into any operational self-file that would we make,
13 building up background information on a person, the little
14 things like whether an officer's wife was unhappy with the maid
15 or with living conditions or the cost or what have you of the 16 drugstore. These little bits and pieces were built up and 17 those came from transcripts.

18 Mr. Goldsmith. Would these transcripts eventually get 19 sent to headquarters?

20 Mr. Shaw. I do not know. I will say that it was unlikely
21 that Winn Scott ever threw anything away. It was somewhere,
22 probably, in the file room.

23 Mr. Goldsmith. What about the tapes? What would happen
24 with the tapes after a conversation had been transcribed?

25 Mr. Shaw. Again, you are getting into an area where I

1 never had any personal experience. It is my understanding
2 that tapes were erased and reused, and they were used over
3 and over again. Otherwise, we would have ended up with a room
4 full of tapes and there really was no reason to keep them.

5 Now, I would also assume that if there was something
6 important on a tape that they might have held it. I do not
7 know. I do not recall ever saying, hold that tape for me.
8 The transcript usually sufficed as the record.

9 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know if, at the time of the assassina-
10 tion, that the station had a tape recording of Lee Harvey
11 Oswald's voice?

12 Mr. Shaw. No, I do not know if they did. I think they
13 did not. It was my understanding that what they had was a
14 transcript of some guy calling, again, it is my understanding.
15 I believe he called the Soviet Embassy from the Cuban Embassy,
16 or the Cubans called the Soviet Embassy, I am not sure. But 17 as far as having the tape with Oswald's voice on it, I seriously
18 doubt it.

19 (Discussion off the record.)

20 Mr. Goldsmith. I would like to show you now what was 21 marked here as CIA No. 197 and, for purposes of the record
22 and for your information, the Agency has provided us with its 23 documents. Each page has been assigned a number. The reason
24 it has been assigned a number is so that the Agency can make 25 sure that everything given to the Committee is returned. For

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 reference purposes, we simply use those numbers for a witness
2 when we are going through this pile of materials.

3 Now I would like you to take a look at CIA No. 197, the 4 second paragraph.

5 (Pause)

6 Mr. Shaw. Okay.

7 Mr. Goldsmith. The second paragraph indicates that the 8 station is unable to compare the voices, as the first tape was 9 erased prior to the receipt of the second call.

10 Mr. Shaw. Yes.

11 Mr. Goldsmith. Does that suggest to you that at least
12 one tape was still in existence on November 23rd, the date
13 that this cable was sent? Otherwise, the second paragraph would 14 have said the tapes had been erased, routinely, whatever.

15 Mr. Shaw. It could indicate that. It does not definitely 16 state that. That is an interpretation, certainly.

17 Mr. Goldsmith. Does that refresh your memory as to whether 18 or not there was a taping system?

19 Mr. Shaw. I do not have anything in writing. This did
20 not refresh my memory at all. This probably would have been 21 considered. Was this after the assassination?

22 Mr. Goldsmith. Yes.

23 Mr. Shaw. No, I do not think it necessarily indicates,
24 but I am surprised that it does not say that they were both
25 destroyed, or both erased.

1 Mr. Goldsmith. Please take a look at CIA 208.

2 Mr. Shaw. 208.

3 Mr. Goldsmith. And read paragraph number four. Read it
4 to yourself, please.

5 (Pause)

6 Mr. Shaw. Yes.

7 Mr. Goldsmith. According to paragraph number four, it
8 indicates that it seems a voice comparison of some kind was 9 made.

10 Mr. Shaw. Yes, or it could well be that this guy, Fine-
11 glass --

12 Mr. Goldsmith. Mr. Tarasoff?

13 Mr. Shaw. Remembered the poor Russian of the first tape
14 and the poor Russian of the second tape and figured that it
15 was the same guy.

16 Mr. Goldsmith. How long were tapes normally retained
17 prior to being erased?

18 Mr. Shaw. I have no idea. It would seem to me if you had 19 a very productive tape, you probably would not keep it very 20 long, once you transcribed it.

21 (Pause)

22 Mr. Goldsmith. I would like you to read the CS comment on
23 CIA 239.

24 Mr. Shaw. I have read it.

25 Mr. Goldsmith. According to that, it indicates that the

500 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 normal time lag would be two weeks. In other words, the tapes
2 would normally be retained for a two-week period.

3 Mr. Shaw. That is what it seems to say, yes.

4 Mr. Goldsmith. Is that consistent with your memory now,
5 at the time?

6 Mr. Shaw. No, I do not have any idea. I was not involved
7 in tape pick-ups or tape erasures.

8 Mr. Goldsmith. The Oswald telephone calls, as we will see
9 later on, came in within approximately four days of each other,
10 if, as CIA 239 indicates, the tapes were normally retained for 11 two weeks prior to being routinely erased. Does that suggest 12 to you that the Oswald tape was, for some reason, treated in 13 an unusual manner, because either the first call came in, let's 14 say September 27th. By the time the second call came in, the 15 first tape had already been erased.

16 Mr. Shaw. No, it does not suggest that to me. -- what is this num
17 ber here -- because this message came out 9 December 63. What it 18 suggests to me is that, subsequent to the assassination, is 19 that the station was to hold tapes for a minimum of two weeks.

20 Mr. Goldsmith. Please read into the record what 239 says.

21 Mr. Shaw. CS comment: station to erase routine tapes,
22 Soviet Embassy, keeping normal two week lag.

23 Mr. Goldsmith. Does that suggest to you that the normal
24 lag would not be two weeks?

25 Mr. Shaw. This was not addressed to me.

1 Mr. Goldsmith. I understand that.

2 Mr. Shaw. There is no reason for me to read this anymore
3 than there is reason for you to read that. The words stand
4 by themselves.

5 Mr. Goldsmith. That is right, and you have just given an
6 interpretation of those words, suggesting that that the mean-
7 ing is prospective in intent. In other words, after December
8 9, 1963, the timelag for retention of tapes prior to erasure
9 would be two weeks.

10 Mr. Shaw. I think it could read that, yes. I do not know
11 what went on between Winn and the station as far as periods
12 for keeping these, but I think what you are trying to do is lead
13 me into a situation of pointing out that the station was remiss
14 in destroying tapes, and I do not believe that is the case.

15 Mr. Goldsmith. I would like to indicate to you, and also 16 for the record, that what I am trying to do here is go over
17 questions that are raised by the documents and the Committee
18 has no predisposition, one way or the other, to reach any 19 particular conclusions.

20 The truth is that unless these questions are asked of 21 you, both the Agency and the Committee will be criticized by 22 people in the future who review these documents and say, why
23 were not these questions asked of you.

24 Mr. Shaw. I can understand why you are asking the ques-
25 tions. I am simply not in a position to tell you, from memory

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 or anything else what the normal station procedure was regard-
2 ing retention of tapes, although, as I did indicate earlier,
3 that the tapes were routinely erased and used over again. As 4 far as the time lag, you know as much about it, and probably
5 more than I do, by now.

6 Mr. Goldsmith. What responsibility, if any, did you have 7 with regard to the photo-surveillance operation against the 8 Cuban Embassy and consulate?

9 Mr. Shaw. I had no responsibility for that operation
10 until after I reassumed the Cuban Ops section which would have 11 been the day Phillips left for Mexico, probably a year or 12 two down the road. I do know, however, that the operation --
13 there was a Cuban photo, or a photo operation against the 14 Cuban Embassy.

15 I do not remember why, but I think that observation was 16 not active in the period when Oswald was in Mexico. If I
17 remember correctly, the man, to the best of my knowledge who 18 handled that, who was actually the inside case officer, if 19 you will, was the little guy who was snapping the pictures,
20 was a fellow by the name of Robert Zambarnadi, and I believe
21 he is retired and living in Mexico. I do not know.

22 Mr. Goldsmith. Who was the station case officer responsible
23 for running the photo-surveillance operation against the 24 Cubans?

25 Mr. Shaw. As far as I know, it was Robert Zambarnardi,

1 who was the technical officer of the station. He was a
2 technically qualified man.

3 Mr. Goldsmith. There was no one overseeing him?

4 Mr. Shaw. I do not believe so, but maybe Dave was. I
5 do not know. We used to get batches of pictures. One of the 6 things that I would do with the agent that I mentioned earlier
7 was that I handled was take batches of these pictures to him
8 and sit down with him and say, did you ever see this guy, or 9 who was that? And he'd say, that's a courier, or that's the 10 new officer who just arrived, or I do not know who this guy
11 was, but he came in and talked to so and so, that sort of 12 thing.

13 We used to try to identify people with those pictures.

14 Mr. Goldsmith. How many photo bases were there taking
15 pictures of the Cuban consulate and Embassy?

16 Mr. Shaw. To the best of my knowledge, there was only 17 one photo base. At times, the consulate was not covered and 18 the Embassy was. If I may draw you a picture, this would be 19 the block, the compound block. The Cuban Embassy was the 20 big building up here, and there was a little gatehouse down
21 here. I do not remember whether it was in or out.

22 This was the consulate, on the corner. People who would 23 want to get visas would routinely appear here and they would 24 send them down the street and they would go into the consulate.
25 Sometimes they knew where they were going and they came in here,

1 or they asked a cab, take me to the Cuban consulate, they
2 would probably be delivered here.

3 This is a block, a city block. The house from which the 4 photographs were taken is over here on this corner. The 5 photographs were taken long distance down here and here. This
6 was not always covered. This was considered more important,
7 because it was routine -- either there was a lot of routine
8 visa stuff here.

9 Later on, subsequent -- gosh, it must have been a year
10 later. I do not remember just when -- we developed a system,
11 or somebody up here in the states who developed a system
12 whereby the camera would be triggered automatically. That is 13 movement -- sort of like a photo-electric cell or something --
14 movement up here in the picture that the camera was to cover
15 would cause a series of photos to be taken, maybe four or 16 five, zap, zap, zap, something like that.

17 But I believe that, at the time Oswald was in Mexico City,
18 not only was this down for some reason and not functioning,
19 but I believe, had it been functioning, that it would have 20 been individual picture snapping. I do not think that auto
21 matic equipment was in Mexico at that time. I could be 22 wrong.

23 Mr. Goldsmith. I am not going to be able to introduce
24 this diagram into the record, so I am just going to describe
25 it as best as I can.

1 You indicated that on one block, on one corner of that
2 block was a consulate building for the Cubans. The other side
3 of the block was the Embassy building.

4 Across the street was the photo base.

5 Mr. Shaw. This was all wall. This was a compound.

6 Excuse me, if I may interject. There was another building back
7 here that had a theatre downstairs and had offices upstairs.

8 Mr. Goldsmith. Was that within the compound also?

9 Mr. Shaw. Yes.

10 Mr. Goldsmith. Three buildings within the Cuban compound?

11 Mr. Shaw. Yes.

12 Mr. Goldsmith. The photo base was located across the 13 street. It was closer to the consulate than it was to the 14 entrance of the Embassy?

15 Mr. Shaw. That is correct.

16 Mr. Goldsmith. From the diagram that you drew, it would
17 seem that the location of the camera was closer to the consulate
18 than it was to the Embassy entrance, yet you also indicated
19 that most of the people of interest would have been entering
20 the Embassy, not the consulate?

21 Mr. Shaw. That is correct.

22 Mr. Goldsmith. Was not the placement of that camera in 23 an inappropriate position?

24 Mr. Shaw. I imagine that camera was placed wherever we 25 could get it. Getting real straight across from one of those

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 embassies was very difficult.

2 I know, had we had our druthers, we would have placed
3 that camera closer up here and the Soviet Embassy had a similar
4 sort of situation, a camera over here and one down here. I
5 believe the closer the better, yes.

6 Mr. Goldsmith. How many photo bases were there operating
7 against the Soviet compound, without drawing a diagram?

8 Mr. Shaw. I do not know, but I think there must have 9 been two or three.

10 Mr. Goldsmith. Are you sure you were not the case officer
11 overseeing the surveillance operation against the Cubans?

12 Mr. Shaw. I certainly am.

13 Mr. Goldsmith. So Mr. Zambernardi was not working under 14 you?

15 Mr. Shaw. I did not consider him working under me, at 16 that time. Later on, when he was replaced and I am not sure
17 whether Dave Phillips was there or not, I did move into this 18 operation. I am trying to think of the cryptonym for the 19 operation. I cannot recall.

20 And the chap who then handled it was Zambernardi's
21 replacement, I think his name was Humphrey. That was the 22 surname. Lou Humphrey, I think. I am not sure.

23 Mr. Goldsmith. What was the purpose of the photo-surveil-
24 lance operation?

25 Mr. Shaw. Primarily to identify people in touch with the

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 foreign embassy.

2 Mr. Goldsmith. Would everyone's picture be taken?

3 Mr. Shaw. No, no way.

4 Mr. Goldsmith. Whose picture would be taken?

5 Mr. Shaw. For example, that you would normally in an
6 operation like this be limited by time available for the 7 photographer. You would be limited by daylight. You would 8 not photograph a milkman, or a mailman or somebody who would 9 be there repeatedly. You would not photograph a staffer of 10 the Embassy if once you knew who he was, unless he was walking
11 with somebody.

12 You would not photograph a regular visitor to the Embassy,
13 if you knew who he was.

14 Mr. Goldsmith. Would you photograph all foreigners?

15 Mr. Shaw. I do not know. I would have to say the answer
16 is no. I never photographed any of them. Do you mean would 17 all foreigners be photographed? I would say, given the 18 limitations that I have enumerated, namely how long a person
19 can sit there and watch, and they have to take a break now
20 and then, daylight, Sundays they probably did not photograph
21 because there is little activity. I am sure there were consider-
22 able down periods in this sort of operation.

23 No, I would say all foreigners were not photographed.

24 Ideally, you would like to have a picture of anybody who went 25 in and out of there, surely.

308 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 Mr. Goldsmith. I understand that.

2 My question is, while surveillance base was in operation,
3 would a primary purpose of it be to take pictures of foreigners?

4 Mr. Shaw. Yes. That would have been a primary
5 purpose. Not necessarily foreigners, but people you do not
6 recognize. Foreigners or Mexicans; Mexicans are foreigners
7 to us, of course.

8 Another thing they did, by the way, was they tried to 9 photograph the license plates of automobiles that came to these 10 embassies.

11 Mr. Goldsmith. During what hours were these photo bases
12 in operation?

13 Mr. Shaw. I do not know. I would say most likely during 14 business hours and proper daylight conditions, when the
15 photographer was available to do the job.

16 Mr. Goldsmith. Would you read back that answer?

17 The Reporter: "Question: "During what hours were these 18 photo bases in operation?"

19 Answer: "I do not know. I would say most likely during 20 business hours and proper daylight conditions, when the
21 photographer was available to do the job."

22 Mr. Goldsmith. As a matter of routine, when would 23 photographers have been available to do the job?

24 Mr. Shaw. I do not know. I was not involved in these 25 operations. I used to see quite a bit of coverage.

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 Mr. Goldsmith. What were your primary responsibilities
2 when you were down there? You were not involved in the photo-
3 surveillance operation; you were not involved -- excuse me
4 for interrupting you.

5 Mr. Shaw. Go ahead.

6 Mr. Goldsmith. You were not involved in the photo-
7 surveillance operation and you were not involved in the wire
8 tap operation, so, MY question is, what was your primary
9 responsibility?

10 Mr. Shaw. My primary responsibility was to try to 11 effect penetrations of the Cuban government. I spent a good
12 bit of time with Cubans of the non-Castro persuasion, attempt-
13 ing to identify Cubans of the Castro persuasion that we might 14 go after.

15 By "go after," I mean attempt to recruit.

16 I spent a lot of time collecting information from the 17 Cuban asset on the outside to process into the intelligence
18 reports on what was happening in Cuba.

19 We had a system set up in Mexico City under an agent
20 called AMSAIE who was the representative of the exile commun-
21 ity. He would arrange to meet, help, debrief, Cubans who were
22 arriving constantly from Cuba on the way to the United States
23 or to Mexico or to somewhere else in the world, people who 24 were exiting Cuba.

25 Mexico did not break relations with Cuba as did the other

1 countries of the Hemisphere. The OAS recommended that;
2 Mexico did not do it.

3 So, when the refugee flow dried up in Florida, we probably
4 had one of the most productive operations there in Mexico
5 City regarding information on what was going on in Cuba.

6 I spent a lot of time with AMSAIL on that.

7 Mr. Goldsmith. Did you ever try to recruit Eusbio Ascue?

8 Mr. Shaw. His name is Eusbio Ascue.

9 Mr. Goldsmith. Yes.

10 Mr. Shaw. A-s-c-u-e. First name, E-u-s-b-i-o.

11 I did not try to recruit Ascue. That may have been 12 attempted prior to my arrival, in which the man who would know
13 about it, if it had been attempted, would be Mr. Thomas
14 Hazelit.

15 Mr. Goldsmith. What about Teresa Proenza?

16 Mr. Shaw. No, I never made any attempt to recruit
17 Teresa Proenza?

18 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know if anyone ever did?

19 Mr. Shaw. I know we had an officer in Washington who
20 had formerly served in Mexico City who was very interested
21 in Teresa Proenza. That officer's name was Charles Anders.

22 Mr. Goldsmith. Is he still with the Agency?

23 Mr. Shaw. It is my understanding that he is.

24 Mr. Goldsmith. What about Guillermo Ruiz?

25 Mr. Shaw. That does not even ring a bell. Ruiz is a

300 7TH STREET, S.W., REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 very common Spanish name. Do you want to tell me who he is
2 or if you have anything on him? Maybe it might ring a bell.

3 Mr. Goldsmith. Apparently, Mr. Ruiz was a Cuban intelli-
4 gence officer at the Embassy, Cuban Embassy.

5 Mr. Shaw. I do not recall him there when I was there.

6 Mr. Goldsmith. What did you say that Mr. Ray Swider's
7 responsibilities were, if you said?

8 Mr. Shaw. I did not say. I used his name -- he was 9 another officer, like I was, in Cuban operations.

10 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know whether he had anything to 11 do with the photo operation.

12 Mr. Shaw. I do not know. He may have; I do not know.
13 I do not think he did. He may have.

14 Mr. Goldsmith. After your arrival in Mexico City, did
15 anyone attempt to recruit Ascue?

16 Mr. Shaw. As far as I know, there was no attempt made
17 to recruit Ascue after my arrival. My memory could be playing
18 tricks on me. I know I never went after him.

19 (A brief recess was taken.)

20 Mr. Goldsmith. I would like to get into the number of 21 people who were in Cuban Operations in October of '63, September, 22 October of '63. Could you tell me again how many?

23 Mr. Shaw. If you could show me a list of the people at 24 the American Embassy at that time, I think I could pretty well
25 quickly, in the station -- if you have such a list, I probably

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 could very quickly identify those that had some connection
2 with Cuban Ops.

3 Mr. Goldsmith. The Agency has not given us that list
4 today to have for this purpose.

5 Mr. Shaw. Do you have one lying around?

6 Mr. Goldsmith. No.

7 So far, according to my recollection of appearances,
8 we have Mr. Phillips, yourself and Mr. Swider.

9 Mr. Shaw. When I arrived there, Tom Hasbrook would have 10 been there. He would have been gone by that time.

11 John Zambèrnardi would have been involved in the technical 12 ops.

13 I am not sure whether Peggy Magret was there or not.

14 Mr. Goldsmith. How many case officers were there in 15 Cuban operations?

16 Mr. Shaw. Probably just three, three or four, I am not 17 sure.

18 Mr. Goldsmith. There were three case officers, probably 19 four?

20 Mr. Shaw. At least three, yes. Dave and Ray and myself.

21 Mr. Goldsmith. Was there a fourth?

22 Mr. Shaw. I do not know. I cannot recall, offhand, who 23 else was there.

24 Wait a minute. Lorna McKay was there, as a researcher --
25 what was it called? Research analyst.

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. 20024 (202) 556-2345

1 Mr. Goldsmith. I am interested now only in case officers.
2 I do have a list here, referred to as CIA 169-70, which
3 has a list of Agency employees. Would you please examine that 4 list?

5 (Pause)

6 Mr. Shaw. Okay.

7 Perhaps there would have been myself, Ray Swider, Dave
8 Phillips and Lorna McKay.

9 Mr. Goldsmith. Was Lorna McKay a case officer?

10 Mr. Shaw. Lorna McKay was not considered -- yes, I guess
11 she was a case officer. I do not know what cases she handled.
12 She did more of what we call INTEL analyst work. She had 13 officer rank, I believe. I believe she was a GS-9 or -11 or 14 something. I do not remember.

15 But Peggy, the girl I mentioned awhile ago, was not there
16 until 1965. That was about it.

17 The ranking would have been David Phillips, myself,
18 Ray Swider, Lorna McKay.

19 Mr. Goldsmith. How did you divide up your responsibilities?

20 Mr. Shaw. Let me interject. Jack Stewart was there, but 21 he was not in Mexico City. He was in Yucatan, in the consulate.

22 Mr. Goldsmith. Fine.

23 How did you four divide up your responsibilities?

24 Mr. Shaw. We were given certain agents to handle and we 25 handled those agents, and Dave Phillips would decide what

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 556-2345

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 other activities he would pass around. I notice --

2 Mr. Goldsmith. Which were those other activities?

3 Mr. Shaw. Anything that might come to light that Dave
4 would -- an ad hoc requirement, or something like that, he
5 might ask any of us to help out, or somebody else might ask
6 us to do something. I went out and helped surveil a meeting
7 one time for one of these guys down here. It had nothing to 8 do with Cuban Ops.

9 Mr. Goldsmith. What procedures did the four of you
10 establish for reviewing photographs?

11 Mr. Shaw. The only procedure that was established was 12 route the photographs and show them to any agent, personnel, 13 who might be in a position to identify the persons in the 14 photographs.

15 Mr. Goldsmith. Did any of you identify all the photographs
16 in the Cuban Operation Branch?

17 Mr. Shaw. I do not know.

18 Mr. Goldsmith. Was there a system to this?

19 Mr. Shaw. If there was, I did not set it up. When I got 20 photographs, I would show them to LITAMIL-9 and have him tell
21 me who they were and I would write a contact report and submit
22 it to my Chief, who was Dave Phillips.

23 I would assume that Ray Swider probably did the same
24 thing with his agents.

25 Mr. Goldsmith. Mr. Shaw, unless there was a system for

1 reviewing the photographs, you had no way of knowing that
2 all of the photographs were being reviewed by you and other
3 Cuban Operations case officers?

4 Mr. Shaw. I had no way of knowing. I was seeing all the 5 photographs, that is true. I assumed I did.

6 Mr. Goldsmith. You had no way of knowing that?

7 Mr. Shaw. Not unless I would have gone to pick them up
8 from the man who took them and developed them, which I did not 9 do.

10 Mr. Goldsmith. With regard to the transcripts, did you
11 have any procedure for insuring that all of the transcripts
12 were being reviewed?

13 Mr. Shaw. Did I have a procedure? No. The station
14 routed the transcripts to the various officers. Winn Scott
15 quite often routed them. I notice you had a transcript some-
16 where here --

17 Mr. Goldsmith. We will look at the transcripts later on.

18 Mr. Shaw. Winn Scott quite often routed those to a
19 specific officer.

20 Mr. Goldsmith. Were all of the transcripts pertaining to 21 Cuban operations that were sent to the station reviewed by at 22 least one of the Cuban operations case officers?

23 Mr. Shaw. I do not know.

24 Mr. Goldsmith. Was Mr. Scott a very demanding man?

25 Mr. Shaw. What do you mean by "demanding"?

1 Mr. Goldsmith. Did he expect his employees to work hard
2 and to perform thorough, competent work?

3 Mr. Shaw. I assume he did. He never said so in so many 4 words.

5 It was my understanding that until he was remarried he
6 worked long hours in the Embassy, before I got there. Sometimes
7 he had people in there at 9:00 o'clock at night.

8 Mr. Goldsmith. Compared to other station chiefs that 9 you had worked under, was he more demanding or less?

10 Mr. Shaw. I would not say he was any more. He expected
11 work out of his people and got it.

12 Mr. Goldsmith. Is it fair to say that the Mexico City
13 station had one of the biggest telephone surveillance opera-
14 tions in existence?

15 Mr. Shaw. Certainly in Latin America.

16 Mr. Goldsmith. Any CIA station?

17 Mr. Shaw. I don't know about any CIA station. Certainly 18 in Latin America. It ate up a lot of man hours.

19 Mr. Goldsmith. In light of the fact that Mr. Scott
20 apparently was a demanding man and that you had one of the 21 largest surveillance operations in effect in Latin America,
22 your testimony today is that you do not know whether the Cuban
23 operations case officers reviewed all of the transcripts?

24 Mr. Shaw. I do not think that the prefacing was necessary.
25 The latter part of that, in which you asked me if I am aware

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 that all of the transcripts of the Cuban Ops were examined
2 by the Cuban Ops section, I would have to, again, say I do
3 not know.

4 (Discussion off the record.)

5 Mr. Goldsmith. We just went off the record for a moment
6 because Mr. Shaw had a question about where his car was parked
7 and whether there would be any problem about that, and I
8 indicated that I did not think there would be a problem.

9 Mr. Shaw, do you recall who delivered the photographs
10 to the station, the tape from the surveillance operation?

11 Mr. Shaw. It was my understanding that the technician
12 picked them up. Bob Zambenardi would have picked them up
13 from the agent.

14 You are talking of the Cuban Embassy now?

15 Mr. Goldsmith. Yes, and consulate.

16 Mr. Shaw. It is my understanding that he would have 17 picked them up from the agent who took the photographs. The 18 agent who took the photographs developed them, printed them,
19 and turned the prints over to Mr. Zambenardi. That is the way
20 I think it worked.

21 Mr. Goldsmith. How would you actually get to review the 22 photographs? Who would bring them to you?

23 Mr. Shaw. Usually I do not remember who brought them to 24 me. I have the impression it may have been Lorna McKay, but 25 I could be wrong. Maybe Bob brought them to me. I do not know.

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 But I would get a batch of photographs to go through.

2 Mr. Goldsmith. Who had reporting responsibility for 3 passing along the information that had been obtained from the 4 photographs and the transcripts?

5 Mr. Shaw. There was little reporting that came out of 6 the photographs. Usually, it yielded what we called operational
7 information rather than intelligence information, to enable us
8 to develop a better understanding of who was in the area, of 9 who was in the Cuban Embassy, and what they were up to.

10 As far as reporting intelligence that came from those,
11 it probably was reported by the reports section of the Embassy.
12 Next to Winn Scott's office was the CA Chief's office and,
13 next to that, -- I'm getting in the new embassy now. I don
14 not remember where the report section was in the old embassy.

15 We had reports officers who actually repaired most of the 16 reports from raw reports, if you will, reported by the case
17 officers.

18 Again, I would like to point out that these photographs
19 yielded very little reportable intelligence. It was mostly 20 operational intelligence.

21 Mr. Goldsmith. Understood.

22 Who was George Monroe?

23 Mr. Shaw. George Monroe was a former agent, Special Agent,
24 of the Federal Bureau of Investigation who retired or resigned,
25 I do not know how he left the Bureau, and worked in Mexico

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 City on the outside, as a non-official cover asset for Winn
2 Scott. Ann Goodpasture, I believe, had a lot of contact with
3 George Monroe. I very seldom saw George Monroe. I had nothing
4 to do with him operationally.

5 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know what his responsibilities
6 were?

7 Mr. Shaw. I believe his responsibilities had to do with
8 dealings with the Mexican government, liaison responsibilities.
9 I think George was used by Winn because George had good contacts
10 in the Ministry of Interior, which would have been sort of the 11 equivalent of the Department of Justice here and out of that 12 Ministry came, for example, the man who became President of 13 Mexico. He was the station asset, contact, not agent.

14 Mr. Goldsmith. You mentioned earlier, Mr. Charles Ander-
15 son, is that correct?

16 Mr. Shaw. Yes.

17 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know why Mr. Anderson had an inter-
18 est in Eusbio Ascue?

19 Mr. Shaw. No, I do not believe it was. I think it was 20 Teresa Proenza. I do not think he had any interest in Ascue.

21 Mr. Goldsmith. Who was the individual who had the 22 interest in Ascue?

23 Mr. Shaw. I do not know. I said if it had been before
24 my arrival, I would suspect it was Tom Hasley. He was carrying 25 the ball down there and was responsible for that sort of

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 559-2345

1 activity. I do not know that he did, but if it happened in,
2 say, late '62 or somewhere in there, it probably would have
3 been Tom who would have done that.

4 Mr. Goldsmith. What was Anderson's position at the 5 Embassy?

6 Mr. Shaw. He was not at the Embassy then. He was at 7 the Embassy back in 1965. I do not know, for a number of years.
8 At that time, Charlie had gone back to Headquarters and he
9 was involved in Cuban operations from Headquarters, the details
10 of which were not made known to me. Whether they were made
11 known to Winn Scott or Dave Phillips or others, I do not know.

12 Mr. Goldsmith. When would he have made an effort, if 13 he did, to recruit Teresa Proenza?

14 Mr. Shaw. I am not sure that he ever tried to recruit.
15 I am merely saying that he had a lot of interest. I do not 16 think anybody ever tried to recruit her. If they did, they 17 were wasting their time.

18 Mr. Goldsmith. Why were they wasting their time?

19 Mr. Shaw. She was a pretty tough nut. I never saw -- if 20 I can remember -- I do not remember any vulnerability of 21 Teresa Proenza.

22 Mr. Goldsmith. What was the nature of Mr. Anderson's
23 interest in her?

24 Mr. Shaw. I do not know. Some Cuban operational interest,
25 maybe trying to get some information from her through a third

1 party. I have no idea.

2 Mr. Goldsmith. When did he spend time in Mexico City that
3 he would have had an opportunity?

4 Mr. Shaw. He visited Mexico City quite often.

5 Mr. Goldsmith. Even though he was not stationed down
6 there, he visited often?

7 Mr. Shaw. That is correct. He made trips in and out of 8 Mexico City.

9 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know what Teresa Proenza's position
10 was at the Cuban Embassy or Consulate?

11 Mr. Shaw. I think by that time she was out of the Embassy,
12 was she not? I do not remember. She left.

13 Teresa Proenza was a Mexican. She was not a Cuban. And 14 I am under the impression that by the time I got there,
15 Teresa had left the Embassy. I may be wrong. I think that 16 she was involved in cultural activities.

17 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know whether Mexican intelligence
18 would have had any penetration agents at the Cuban Embassy or 19 consulate?

20 Mr. Shaw. I think they would have tried. I do not know
21 how effective Mexican intelligence was. I did not deal with 22 it.

23 It would be assumed that they made every attempt, the 24 Cubans were gradually removing Mexicans from their employee,
25 from the Cuban Embassy. I think it highly unlikely that the

1 Mexican government, given its position, was the only government
2 in the Western Hemisphere which maintained relations with
3 Cuba, would have been -- it would have been highly unlikely for 4 them to have tried to pitch a Cuban national.

5 On the other hand, I think it would have been likely,
6 and would have been expected of them, to have tried to find
7 out from any Mexican working in the Cuban Embassy what was going 8 on.

9 What this comes down to, of course, is gardeners and 10 secretaries.

11 Mr. Goldsmith. Why do you make that distinction between 12 a Cuban national and a Mexican?

13 Mr. Shaw. I make that distinction because of the flap
14 potential. If the Mexicans had attempted to pitch a Cuban and 15 the Cuban had not accepted that pitch and had reported it
16 to his superiors, the Mexican Foreign Office then would have 17 had a problem with the Cuban Foreign Ministry.

18 Mr. Goldsmith. Of course, the Mexican government was 19 also taking a risk by being involved in the liaison operation
20 or the Agency as well.

21 Mr. Shaw. One could assume that they had measured their 22 risk, yes, certainly. There is an element of risk in every 23 operation. Do not get me wrong. I do not know whether they 24 had anything going or not. I would assume, just based on my 25 experience, that they would not have tried to pitch Cubans,

1 that they would have tried to exert subtle coercion on
2 Mexicans working there to report in the interest of Mexican
3 national security on what is going on in that Embassy.

4 Mr. Goldsmith. Who would have been in a position to know
5 if the Mexican government successfully penetrated the Cuban
6 Embassy or consulate?

7 Mr. Shaw. The President of Mexico would have known.
8 The chief or chiefs of the Mexican service or services.

9 Mr. Goldsmith. Any American?

10 Mr. Shaw. Not that I know of.

11 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know whether there was any coordina-
12 tion between the telephone tap operations and the photo
13 operations. For example, if a conversation of interest came 14 up on the tap operation, would the people monitoring the call
15 be able to contact through an intermediary the photo bases
16 to warn them or indicate to them that someone is coming of 17 interest?

18 Mr. Shaw. It is my understanding that such a system did
19 not exist, and I do not believe that the guys monitoring the 20 telephone tap intercept bases were made aware of photograph
21 coverage.

22 However, I would assume that a man running a technical 23 operation, if he heard something exciting on the line, as 24 opposed to a tape several days later, would notify his case
25 officer right away and then it might be possible for the case

1 officer, assuming a quick reaction capability, to crank up
2 the people at the photo house to take pictures. This was in
3 the most perfect of all worlds. Usually things did not work
4 that way and you end up out on the street, in the middle of 5 the night two days later, contacting whoever it is taking
6 photographs.

7 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know whether the Mexico City
8 station ever obtained a photograph of Lee Harvey Oswald?

9 Mr. Shaw. To my understanding, they did not. I never
10 saw anything down there that looked like Lee Harvey Oswald.

11 Mr. Goldsmith. Did you ever hear an allegation that 12 Charlotte Bustos, at CIA Headquarters in Washington, found a
13 photograph of Oswald, or someone she thought to be Oswald,
14 in the Headquarters files shortly after the assassination?

15 Mr. Shaw. No, I have never heard such a story. Knowing
16 Charlotte -- not knowing her well, but having known her over
17 the years, I would assume that had she found such a thing
18 she would have rung a big loud bell and say, hey, look what 19 I found.

20 Mr. Goldsmith. With regard to the photo operation, let 21 us assume for a moment that you come across a picture of 22 interest. Did you have any way of determining on what day and 23 approximately what time the picture would have been taken?

24 Mr. Shaw. Very definitely.

25 Mr. Goldsmith. How would you have done that?

1 Mr. Shaw. The photographs were squared off and were
2 annotated. We knew the day. We knew, usually, morning or 3 afternoon, a.m. or p.m. Sometimes you could judge by the 4 sequence.

5 Furthermore, sometimes the actual time of the person going
6 in and going out was actually annotated, if the person operating 7 was operating manually, he would no doubt, the guy with the 8 red-checkered Hawaiian shirt went in at 10:05. He would note
9 that in a little log.

10 I do not know whether he would note it on the photograph
11 or submit the log with the number keyed to the log in the 12 photograph. Quite often we knew to the minute when a person
13 in a photograph came in or went out or stood in front or walked 14 by.

15 Mr. Goldsmith. I see.

16 So, to your knowledge, there were photo-production logs
17 that could be checked?

18 Mr. Shaw. To my knowledge, such logs did exist, yes.
19 Whether the logs were kept after the information was noted on 20 the photograph, on the back of the photograph or wherever it
21 was noted, I have no idea.

22 The photographs, quite often came in the form of 35 mm.
23 contact strip prints and then blow-ups of a number of those.

24 I recall - I had not thought about it all these years,
25 but usually you knew when a guy, you certainly knew when he went

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 in on Tuesday morning, the 16th of May, whatever that date
2 was.

3 Mr. Goldsmith. Who would make the notations on the back of 4 the photograph or contact print as to the time?

5 Mr. Shaw. In our case, I believe it was the man taking
6 the photographs because he took the photographs, developed
7 the photographs, printed them and turned them over.

8 Mr. Goldsmith. If he were to put the time on, he would 9 have to go to his log and see what the time was and then make 10 the entry?

11 Mr. Shaw. Right. He probably made a little notation to 12 himself like I mentioned, the bright shirt or something. Then 13 he would recognize that person in the photograph and make that 14 notation.

15 (Pause)

16 Mr. Goldsmith. When was the first time that the name
17 Lee Harvey Oswald came to your attention?

18 Mr. Shaw. It would have been the evening of the day of 19 the assassination.

20 Mr. Goldsmith. How did that happen?

21 Mr. Shaw. We listened. We had a radio. I think it was 22 one of those Zenith Trans-Oceanics in one of the Embassy
23 offices.

24 I was out at an agent meeting when I heard about the 25 assassination and I came back to the Embassy and went upstairs

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 and we sat and stood around that radio and I believe it was 2 in Pat Johnson's office -- her name was something else in
3 those days. I can't remember her married name.

4 And they said something about the police said it was Lee
5 Harvey Oswald, or something. I do not remember. That was the 6 first time that it came to my attention.

7 Mr. Goldsmith. I would like you now to take a look at 8 CIA No. 13 which is a transcript of the conversation allegedly
9 involving Oswald, a conversation taking place on 1 October '63.
10 Would you please read through that?

11 (Pause)

12 When was the first time that you saw that transcript, if 13 you have ever seen it before?

14 Mr. Shaw. I do not know whether I have ever seen it or 15 not, but I may well have. I was aware that he had called the 16 Soviet Embassy, was made aware after the notoriety of the man
17 was established, but I do not recall ever seeing this before 18 that.

19 Normally, I would not.

20 Mr. Goldsmith. Prior to the assassination, did you see
21 it?

22 Mr. Shaw. No. If I did, I did not pay any attention.
23 I do not believe that it was on a Cuban line.

24 Mr. Goldsmith. No, it was not.

25 Mr. Shaw. Sometimes you can tell who saw these things by

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 the initials up top.

2 Mr. Goldsmith. There are no writings or notations on that
3 one, however.

4 Would you please read CIA 177, which is a cable from 5 Mexico City station dated October 8th?

6 (Pause)

7 Mr. Shaw. Yes, this is typical where they try to identify 8 somebody that was in the Embassy at the same time. Of course,
9 that does not sound like it.

10 Mr. Goldsmith. This was the famous cable that has given
11 rise to some of the issues that the Committee was concerned
12 with. My first question is, did you have anything to do with 13 the writing of this cable?

14 Mr. Shaw. No, I did not. I would not have had.

15 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know how the photograph referred 16 to in paragraph number two of that cable was in some way linked
17 to Oswald?

18 Mr. Shaw. I would assume, my answer to your question is 19 no. I would assume that this was an effort on the part of 20 the person drafting the cable to help Headquarters identify
21 Lee Oswald, the man who had made the call.

22 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know how she made that conclusion
23 that the photograph reflected Oswald?

24 Mr. Shaw. No. I do not think she did. I think she 25 merely says that we got a guy who looks like he might be an

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 American going in, and maybe this is the fellow. I do not
 2 see from this cable any conclusion that that is Oswald. I
 3 rather suspect they never got a picture of Oswald. This is 4 the one that appeared there, that looked like it could be
 5 an American. Therefore, an effort was made to help Headquarters
 6 by saying a man who looked like he might be an American
 7 entered the Soviet Embassy at that time.

8 Mr. Goldsmith. I agree with you, Mr. Shaw. Certainly,
 9 the cable does not say that the photograph is a photograph of 10 Oswald. At the same time, though, it gives the information
 11 in paragraph 1 on Oswald and the second paragraph makes 12 reference to a photograph taken of someone who appears to be 13 North American.

14 Certainly they would not have sent to Headquarters simply 15 a cable indicating the existence of a photograph, so by putting 16 the photograph in paragraph 2 immediately below the information
 17 on Oswald, although the cable does not say that the photograph
 18 is one of Oswald, it does in some way suggest that they are 19 related.

20 Mr. Shaw. It suggests to me that they know an American 21 who claimed to be Lee Oswald called at a certain time, and 22 then they went to the photographs to see if they could find
 23 anybody who looked like he might be an American, and the 24 photo they found was of a man apparently 35, athletic build,
 25 about 6 feet tall, receding hairline and so forth; and they

1 submitted this on the off-chance that this might have been the
2 man who made the call.

3 Mr. Goldsmith. I understand your answer. I am hopeful
4 that you understand that I am not suggesting that the cable
5 definitely says the photograph is one of Oswald.

6 Mr. Shaw. No, I do not see that it does at all.

7 Mr. Goldsmith. Would you please take a look, now, at 8 CIA 183?

9 (Pause)

10 Mr. Shaw. All right, I have read it.

11 Mr. Goldsmith. This is a cable, is it not, from CIA
12 Headquarters back to the Mexico City station responding to the 13 earlier cable from the station reporting Oswald's contact?

14 Mr. Shaw. That is what it looks like to me.

15 Mr. Goldsmith. The fifth paragraph of that cable requests
16 that the station keep Headquarters advised of any further
17 contacts or positive identification of Oswald?

18 Mr. Shaw. Yes.

19 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know whether the station ever sent 20 any additional information to Headquarters concerning Oswald?

21 Mr. Shaw. No, I do not, and I do not recall ever seeing 22 this cable, either.

23 Mr. Goldsmith. Today is possibly the first time that you
24 have seen that cable?

25 Mr. Shaw. It could well be, yes. You may have one with my initials on it, but I doubt it.

Mr. Goldsmith. Looking at CIA 183, there is an arrow pointed to the word "Henry", "Lee Henry Oswald." Adjacent to the arrow it says "sic," s-i-c.

What do you think Mr. Scott was intending to indicate when he wrote "sic" next to the "Henry" in "Lee Henry Oswald"?

Mr. Shaw. I would rather suspect that he wrote this on here subsequent to the assassination when the word came out it was "Harvey Oswald" rather than "Henry Oswald" unless there is something in here that says "Harvey." Is there any?

Mr. Goldsmith. NO, there is none.

Mr. Shaw. I would imagine that is something he wrote on later so that they would get the file in the right name. That would be my guess.

Mr. Goldsmith. Would you now take a look at CIA No. 14. You may also want to take a look at CIA No. 15 at the same time.

(Pause)

Would you identify the document that you just reviewed?

Mr. Shaw. What it looks like is a normal LIENVOY transcription. I see my name up here, but I don't see anything that indicates that I ever saw it. It looks like Scott and Goodpasture made checks on it. There is my name, but there is no indication, no initial on my part. Probably I did not see it.

Mr. Goldsmith. What is the date of that transcript?

Mr. Shaw. 28 September 1963 is what is listed on here.

Mr. Goldsmith. Do you recall whether you ever saw that transcript before?

Mr. Shaw. I do not recall. I must have seen it afterwards, because I know Sylvia Duran was a person who had dealt with Oswald.

Mr. Goldsmith. When was the first time that this transcript was linked to Oswald?

Mr. Shaw. I have no idea.

Mr. Goldsmith. Let us backstep for a moment. The transcript that appears at CIA No. 13 contains a notation in brackets by the transcriber that this is the same person who called a day or so ago.

Mr. Shaw. To the Soviet Embassy.

Mr. Goldsmith. Yes.

Oswald also said I was there last Saturday. The transcript you just looked at, September 28th, was for a Saturday.

Do you recall whether anyone ever came to you and asked you whether you were aware of a contact by Oswald?

Mr. Shaw. I do not recall that anybody ever came to me, and I do not think that they did. This sounds familiar. I would have heard about this after the assassination, because I remember Sylvia Duran was the person being a Mexican citizen inside the Cuban Embassy who I dealt with.

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 Mr. Goldsmith. In other words, the point I was making
2 on the October 1st transcript, it refers back to something
3 that happened a day or two earlier, possibly Saturday, and
4 I wondered if Herb Minnell, when they were discussing this,
5 came to you to discuss this matter?

6 Mr. Shaw. I do not believe they did. Barbara probably
7 would have processed this, but I do not recall that anybody
8 ever came to me about it.

9 Mr. Goldsmith. Fine. Would you please now take a look
10 at CIA Nos. 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20?

11 (Pause)

12 Mr. Shaw. Here you have one that I saw. Those are my 13 initials -- No. 19. I did not see this one.

14 Let me see what we have got here.

15 (Pause)

16 I have read it.

17 Mr. Goldsmith. Mr. Shaw, you have read through CIA
18 document No. 22.

19 Mr. Shaw. Yes, I have not read them carefully, but I
20 have looked them over.

21 Mr. Goldsmith. Taking a look at CIA No. 16, could you
22 identify that document?

23 Mr. Shaw. This is a LIENVOY transcript.

24 Mr. Goldsmith. Is it a summary or a verbatim transcript?

25 Mr. Shaw. It is a summary.

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 Mr. Goldsmith. What is the date of that transcript?

2 Mr. Shaw. According to the thing in the margin, 27
3 September '63, 1963. This is really the same darned thing
4 here.

5 Mr. Goldsmith. The same as the transcript that appears
6 on CIA No. 17?

7 Mr. Shaw. It appears to be.

8 Mr. Goldsmith. Approximately what time was this phone
9 call received?

10 Mr. Shaw. It looks like something put on by pen, "Five
11 minutes after 4:00 in the afternoon." MF means a woman --
12 is that MF?

13 Mr. Goldsmith. Do not worry about that.

14 When was the first time you saw this transcript?

15 Mr. Shaw. I do not remember.

16 Mr. Goldsmith. Did you see it before the assassination?

17 Mr. Shaw. I have no idea.

18 Mr. Goldsmith. Your name appears in the right-hand
19 corner.

20 Mr. Shaw. My name appears there. However, it is not 21 crossed out. If you turn over a couple of pages, you will see
22 my initials on another thing which deals with the same period.

23 Mr. Goldsmith. I will do that in a minute.

24 Do you know whether this transcript was linked to Oswald
25 prior to the assassination?

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 Mr. Shaw. I do not know whether it was or not. I
2 gather it was not.

3 Mr. Goldsmith. Why is that?

4 Mr. Shaw. It does not say. There is no mark on it,
5 Oswald on here anywhere.

6 Mr. Goldsmith. What are these numbers on the bottom
7 right-hand --

8 Mr. Shaw. That is the file number.

9 Mr. Goldsmith. What file would that be?

10 Mr. Shaw. That says subject file. 50-8-10-6. I do not 11 know off-hand what that is. I think the 50 stands for 12 Mexico. 8-10-6 would be a subject file.

13 Probably, possibly someplace where they put information
14 on people where they are trying to travel to the Soviet Union.
15 I do not know; that is a guess.

16 Mr. Goldsmith. Let's take a look at CIA No. 19.

17 Mr. Shaw. Okay. CIA No. 19, 27 September, that looks
18 like my initial. It is very similar.

19 Mr. Goldsmith. In the upper right-hand corner?

20 Mr. Shaw. I cannot imagine anyone else putting it there.

21 Mr. Goldsmith. This is the conversation that took place
22 later in the day, is that correct?

23 Mr. Shaw. 27 September 63, right.

24 Mr. Goldsmith. Is it fair to say that this conversation
25 took place sometime around 4:26 in the afternoon, according to

1 the documents?

2 Mr. Shaw. There is an indication there.

3 Mr. Goldsmith! When did this document first come to your 4 attention?

5 Mr. Shaw. I have no idea, because there is no date up
6 there. I do not know when it was circulated or anything.

7 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know when it was first linked to 8 Oswald?

9 Mr. Shaw. I do not.

10 Mr. Goldsmith. Did Herbert or Barb Minnell ever come to 11 you to discuss this transcript or conversation with you in 12 reference to the transcript dated October 1st?

13 Mr. Shaw. Not that I remember.

14 Mr. Goldsmith. At the bottom of CIA No. 19, it says
15 copy Oswald P-file. Essentially, do you know when that nota-
16 tion was put on?

17 Mr. Shaw. I do not know.

18 Mr. Goldsmith. Turning back to CIA-177, there is a
19 notation on the left-hand side of the page. It says, D:200-5-41.

20 Do you know what that would refer to?

21 Mr. Shaw. I have no idea what the D stands for. The 22 200-5-41 sounds like a file number.

23 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know for what?

24 Mr. Shaw. No, I do not, but I would assume, again, that 25 maybe that would be -- if it is in the 50 series, it would be

1 a Mexico City file. But it may be a Headquarters -- is this
2 a Mexico City document, or a Headquarters document?

3 Mr. Goldsmith. This is a Headquarters document.

4 Mr. Shaw. That is a Headquarters file number. I have no
5 idea what the D stands for. It does not look right.

6 Mr. Goldsmith. I have asked this question before, but 7 for the record and purposes of clarification, I would like to
8 ask you again, to your knowledge, after the Mexico City sta-
9 tion received the cable from Headquarters dated October 10th
10 or 11th, did the Mexico City Station ever send any additional 11 information concerning Oswald to Headquarters?

12 Mr. Shaw. To my knowledge, they did not, but I would 13 have no way of knowing.

14 Mr. Goldsmith. Did you ever speak to Herb Minnell about 15 this?

16 Mr. Shaw. No.

17 Mr. Goldsmith. Barbara Minnell?

18 Mr. Shaw. No.

19 Mr. Goldsmith. Dave Phillips?

20 Mr. Shaw. No.

21 Mr. Goldsmith. What, if anything, do you know about the 22 arrest of Sylvia Duran shortly after the assassination?

23 Mr. Shaw. I remember that Sylvia Duran was arrested.
24 I do not know why. I could have suggested that myself, but I
25 do not remember.

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 I do remember sending a message to Winn Scott suggesting
2 that, right after the assassination, that the Mexicans put in
3 a ring of guards around the Cuban Embassy and question everybody
4 going in and out. I remember that idea coming out of my 5 head.

6 I know that Sylvia Duran was arrested. She was fair game
7 because she was a Mexican national and the Cubans -- she did
8 not have any Cuban diplomatic immunity.

9 I would have thought it would have been a good idea to 10 question here very closely. As to whether I said that she
11 should be arrested or I had anything to do with that, I do
12 not know. I was perfectly capable of making such a suggestion.

13 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know why Headquarters was upset
14 about that arrest?

15 Mr. Shaw. I have no idea.

16 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know why Headquarters did not want
17 any Americans to confront her or to interview her?

18 Mr. Shaw. No.

19 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you have any reason to believe that 20 Oswald may have been an agent of the KGB?

21 Mr. Shaw. I have no reason to believe it.

22 Mr. Goldsmith. How about an agent, asset or source of 23 the CIA?

24 Mr. Shaw. I would think that that would be completely
25 out of the question.

1 Mr. Goldsmith. For purposes of the record, could you
2 explain why you think that would be out of the question?

3 Mr. Shaw. Because I think it would have come to light
4 immediately had he had any CIA connections.

5 Mr. Goldsmith. In what manner?

6 Mr. Shaw. Somebody would have revealed this fact.

7 Mr. Goldsmith. Had he been an agent of the CIA, asset or 8 employee, is it possible that someone would have been able to 9 cover that fact up?

10 Mr. Shaw. I do not think anyone could have covered up.

11 Mr. Goldsmith. Why not?

12 Mr. Shaw. Had he been an agent, then it would have been 13 on the record somewhere.

14 Mr. Goldsmith. Is it possible that the record could have 15 been erased or purged in some way?

16 Mr. Shaw. I seriously doubt it.

17 Mr. Goldsmith. Could you give a reason?

18 Mr. Shaw. Just my belief in the integrity of the organiza-
19 tion. It stands on that, and the people in it.

20 Mr. Goldsmith. Does the Agency, to your knowledge, have 21 any safeguards to prevent records from being erased or purged?

22 Mr. Shaw. Nowadays, of course, we have laws which say
23 you can't destroy material. I would say that the safeguards
24 again come back to the basic integrity of the people in the 25 organization. When you lose a President, you do not mess

1 around, and I think everybody would have turned over every
2 possible stone to find out anything they could that would be
3 useful in determining the responsibility for that assassina-
4 tion.

5 I know I would have. I was a Kennedy man, and I imagine
6 there were a lot of us in the outfit who identified very
7 closely with the President.

8 Mr. Goldsmith. Did you ever know anybody by the name of 9 Maurice Bishop?

10 Mr. Shaw. No.

11 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you know whether David Phillips, or 12 anyone else, ever used the name Maurice Bishop as an operational
13 alias of some kind?

14 Mr. Shaw. I am not aware that they did, but I would 15 have to answer your question no. Dave Phillips does not seem 16 like a Maurice type, somehow.

17 Mr. Goldsmith. Did Headquarters ever criticize the 18 Mexico City station in any way for its handling of the Oswald
19 matter prior to the assassination?

20 Mr. Shaw. Not that I am aware of.

21 Mr. Goldsmith. For that matter, after the assassination?

22 Mr. Shaw. Not that I am aware of. I must add that
23 criticism would have been conveyed to the Chief of Station
24 rather than to the case officers.

25 Mr. Goldsmith. When Oswald returned to the United States

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

1 from the Soviet Union, would it have been standard operating
2 procedure for the Agency to have interviewed him or debriefed
3 him in some way?

4 Mr. Shaw. No. I think that it would have been more
5 likely for the FBI to interview him.

6 Mr. Goldsmith. Why is that?

7 Mr. Shaw. Because he was an American citizen in the 8 United States. That was the FBI's territory.

9 Mr. Goldsmith. Even though Oswald worked for several
10 years -- not for several years, but for some time -- in a
11 radio factory while he was in Russia?

12 Mr. Shaw. I was not aware that he worked in a radio
13 factory, but the fact that he had been in the Soviet Union,
14 the fact that he had been in the United States Marine Corps,
15 would indicate to me that if he had been interviewed, he
16 would have been interviewed by the FBI.

17 Mr. Goldsmith. Does not the Agency have a Domestic 18 Contacts Division, or service, which customarily interviews
19 people who have been abroad in Communist countries?

20 Mr. Shaw. The Agency has the Domestic Contacts Division.
21 It used to be called O/O Contacts. I never worked with those 22 people.

23 It is my understanding that what they do is routinely
24 debrief, if the person is willing, businessmen -- in the old
25 days, tourists -- who had visited the Soviet Union, or to

1 debrief a man who might have other involvement in the Soviets
2 would not, I believe, have fallen within the purview of the 3 O/O Contacts Branch.

4 Mr. Goldsmith. Do you have any knowledge of the opera-
5 tional activity of the CI/SIG Branch of the CIA?

6 Mr. Shaw. No. I do not know what SIG means. I have
7 never heard of CI/SIG.

8 CI is Counterintelligence staff. I don't know what SIG
9 is.

10 Mr. Goldsmith. Mr. Shaw, I would like to thank you for 11 your testimony today. I especially would like to thank you
12 for spending all of this time with us. I know that you have 13 been here since approximately 3:00 o'clock or so and it is 14 now about 7:30. You have been very patient.

15 Customarily, whenever a witness testifies before the 16 Committee, the witness is given an opportunity to make a
17 statement for the record. This is not a hearing, but I would 18 like to give you the same opportunity, if you would like to 19 take advantage of it.

20 Mr. Shaw. Well, I might take advantage of it. I had not
21 thought about it until you mentioned it, but harkening back
22 to what I said a little while ago, I do believe that our
23 organization was made up of, like Bill Colby has on the cover
24 of his book over there on the next table, of honorable men,
25 and I do not think that anyone in the organization would have

1 allowed any cover-up or any destruction of evidence which might
2 shed some light on the assassination of President Kennedy.

3 I might add a little vignette. We had what it called a
4 Libra Pecima which is a book that the people signed when
5 they come to a funeral or something. You may have run into
6 something like this in the states, when you go in and sign
7 in at the funeral parlor that you were there or something.
8 You express your regrets -- pecima, in Spanish, means regrets,
9 or sorrow.

10 We had a book down in the lobby of the Embassy building
11 and when I came out one day shortly after the assassination
12 somebody in the crowd yelled Spanish for Bob, and I went over 13 and it was the Governor of the State of Sonora, which is 14 a big state up in northwestern Mexico. I had known him some 15 years earlier. He was the son of the General who was the 16 outstanding military leader of the Mexican Revolution from 17 about 1913 to about 1920.

18 His father had been President of Mexico. His father was 19 assassinated, having been elected to a second term. He was 20 already elected; he had not taken office.

21 I was profoundly touched by the presence of this son of 22 an assassinated President in the lobby of our Embassy to, in 23 turn, express his sorrow to us for the assassination of our 24 President.

25 That does not prove anything one way or another, but it

300 7TH STREET, S.W. REPORTERS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20024 (202) 554-2345

made a tremendous effect on me.

As I mentioned very early in our session today, I am not aware that there was any exultation, satisfaction, or happiness inside the Cuban Embassy over the assassination of the President. And I think, and my personal belief is, that everything points to Lee Harvey Oswald having done it, and done it alone.

There is nothing I have ever seen or heard which would lead me to accept, for one moment, any complicity on the part of my Agency or any other agency of the United States government.

Mr. Goldsmith. Thank you, Mr. Shaw.

I would like to add that as soon as the transcript of this deposition is available, we will be in touch with you so that you can have an opportunity to review it for accuracy and again, I would like to thank you for your time and help today.

Mr. Shaw. I thank you, gentlemen.

(Thereupon, at 7:30 p.m. the Executive Session recessed.)
