WILL CONTRACT TO THE STATE OF T

"COMMENT", Dec 75 issue (alumni magazine of Simon Fraser University in British Colombia.)

ವ್ಯಾನಚಿಕ್ಷ ಸನ್ಯರು

Forture, or chance, has played a major role in Simon Fracer Political Science professor Or. Maunce Halponn's nearly seventy years of Ma.

It was chance that compreted him to seek employment with the National University of Mierico, it was chance that earned him a three-year post in Moscow. It was chance that led nim to a treating sont in Cuba. And it was chance that brought him to Simon Praiser seven years ago.

In fact, fortune began watering its capricious influence over his tile even before Or, Happers was born.

"I might have boom born in Canada," he says, "My father selled from Liverpool to the New World at the turn of the century, with Montreol as his destination. However, he decided to move on to Boston."

This was a "rather fortunate circumstance over which I had no control," since Afontheid at the time was still a provincial city while Boston was "a metropole, a great centre of culture and learning and all its special tackbos were available to mo."

Among those bookies which he made use of were the Boston Latin School — a secondary school which boasts such luminories as Benjamin Franklin and Ralph Waldo Emerson among its alumni — and Humard University.

He completed his post-graduate work in Paris at the Softbonna which, at that time, was the most prestigious university in the world and "the impact 2 had on my way of life and thinking was a permanent ope."

White attending the Sondone, Dame Fortune stepped in and "I was appointed to the faculty as a fleader in North American Civilization, Even though I came from Harvard, the tevel of competence and sconsbication of the French students was much higher and I had to work very hard to keep up with thom."

After completing his doctorate. Or. Halperin joined the faculty at the University of Calaborna and found that midwestern state to be "the anomer country. Boston and Paris more much closely related than were Boston and Oklahoma."

However, chance intervened to rescue him from what could have been a number of matterent years in a linen small and remote university on the American Prairies, turning them into years spent in "an easies of high culture."

Cr. Halperin explains:

"It was during the Depression and jobs were scarce, so the university attracted a number of bright teachers and researchers whose arst chance among not have been Oklahoma.

"And when you have a group of people the that, in addition to the opportunity of uncurstancing and tearning to appreciate the natures of monte America, seek is was something that otherwise for the rest of my the."

The Second World Wer interacted Or. Historia's scioum at the University of Originals and he joined the Office of Maurice Halperin, Simon Fraser's oldest professor, is a keen musician who has played with the New Westminster Symphony Orchestra.

Strategic Services, a special research and intelligence agency attached to the Joint Chiefs of Staff;

"I had a front row seat in the planning of some of the most interesting operations of the war," he says. "I consider my expenences there were at least the equivalent of a second PhD because I was associated with a whole group of social scientists in different disciplines.

"Through this, I had the realization that we had practical matters to consider in the social sciences, as well as theoretical ones. And I learned the value of co-operative effort the value of getting work done on time, and the value of ethiclency in research.

"It haised me to see the relationaria between the social sciences and practical problems. I became more oriented toward problem solving than I had been heliore."

Dame Fortune keeps popping up in life of SFU's oldest professor and has taken him to Mexico, Cuba, Moscow — and to 'best place of ali'

After the wor, Dr. Halperin worked with the United Nations for a couple of years and then joined the faculty of Boston University where he was involved in the establishment of an interdisciplinary department of Latin American studies.

During this period he vicited Brazil twice, lecturing at the University of Sao Paulo and serving as a consultant to the state government of Sao Paulo. After his second visit, he was decorated by the Brazilian government with the Order of the Southern Cross.

It was then that chance interfered again, this time in a most malicious way.

"My stay at Boston coincided with the most intense period of McCarthyism and this raised problems for a great number of people at the time. In my own case, I was given the choice of co-operating with the inquisition or, as it turned out, lesing my lob.

"Among other disagreeable aspects of co-operating, it would have turned me into an informer against people who, as far as I know, had committed no crime. I just couldn't think of feeing my students with their knowledge that I was an informer."

Leaving Boston University, he went to the National University of Mexico City where he remained for six years. While working there, he did some consulting work for the Mexican government, thereby gaining further practical experience on the problems of underdevelopment in Latin America.

This experience led directly to his next position — a threeyear appointment at the Academy of Sciences in Moscow. Halberin expialits:

"At that time, the period when Kruschev was trying to bosen up some of the rigid controls of Stalin's dictatorship, thore was a desire at the Academy to have some western expertiso on Latin American developmental problems. In other words, my Mexican experience was a direct prerequisite for the Moscow Invitation.

"It's strange how, in retrospect, what seemed to be a rather difficult choice in 1953 turned out to be very lucky. You never know. Something happens that can crush you or, on the contrary, can make you healthier and more robust than you've ever been before.

"And, when the invitation came from Moscow, I was footloose and free. My status in Mean was always that of a visiting professor, so I had no problem of security — tenure or pension, for example — to tie maintown when it came, I had nothing to lose and everything to gain."

Dr. Halpurin spent three years at the Academy and found it to be an extraordinary experience. "I wasn't there as a tourist; neither was I there as an outside researcher. I was actually in the machine, with no permanent ties to it. I was working in the factory, rather than just studying it."

Foto enco again intervened in his life, this time in the form of the celebrated Latin American guarrilla leader. Che Guevara

"Late one night, there was a knock on my door and topened it and there stood Che with a couple of his Cuban friends. He had been told about me by mutual friends in Mexico and they suggested that, in view of the need for competent educators and social scientists in Cuba, I might be interested in accepting an invitation to teach at the University of Havana."

As it happened, Dr. Halperin was interested. He spent the next six years in Cuba, and after leaving, produced a book on the country — The Rise and Decline of Fidel Castro: An Essay in Contemporary History. It was published by the University of California Press and a second ection, in paper-back, has recontly appeared. (Incidentally, Dr. Halperin's published work spans 45 years and "several thousand pages,")

As with the Moscow appointment. It was the fact that he was freed of concerns about job security, since he had none. If which allowed him to accept Guevara's offer.

Although Cuba was "a very pleasant country," Or. Hol- perin found life there to be somewhat disconcering since, "as a highly-paid foreign expert, I lived high off the hog and didn't share the austerity of the rest of the country.

"And it was troubling, you know, when neighbors would knock on our door to see if we could space a thimbleful of salt or a tablespoon of cooking oil and there we were, sitting with everything at our disposal."

And a further quirk of fate, naturally, brought him to Simon Fraser in 1968. He'd met a Canadian while in Havana and one dey, about a year later, he received a chone call "from a niace called Burnaby," It was the same Canadian, involving him to participate in a seminar on Latin America, with "all expenses paid."

When he received the invitation, in the spring of 1968, he had already resigned his position in Havana and was planning to return to the United States the following September. "When the invitation came, I thought, "Two weeks? Why net?, so I accepted and came up here and, like the man who came to dinner, they couldn't got rid of me.

"I never dreamed I would end up in Canada, Three-cuarters of a century after my father left it, but I now feel thoroughly assimilated to the Canadian environment." In fact, he is so well assimilated that he is now listed in the Canadian edition of Who's Who.

Ouring his well-travelled life, Or. Halperin has had the opportunity to teach at a number of reputable institutions in North America, Europe and Latin America but he says that he's "never been in a more congenial place than Simon Frater, never in my life.

"It's the best place, all in all, that I've ever books. Students and faculty have it very good here and I'm not talk not only about the splendid scenery and the mild chimate. From the ties for learning, feaching, research and recreating, in a steady customer at the swimming pool and the review know — are magnificent."

"COMMENT", Dec 75 issue (alumni ragazine of Simon Fraser University in British Colombia.)

By Rick Hyda

Fortuno, or chance, has played a major role in Simon Fraser. Political Science professor Dr. Mailince Halberin's hearty seventy years of ide.

It was chance that competed him to seek employment with the National University of Mexico, it was chance that earned him a three-year post in Moscow, it was chance that led nim to a teaching stint in Cuba. And it was chance that brought him to Simon Fraser seven years ago.

In fact, fortune began wielding its capricious influence over his life even before Dr. Halperin was born.

"I might have been torn in Canada." he says. "My father sailed from Liverpool to the New World at the turn of the century, with Montreal as his destination. However, he decided to move on to Boston."

This was a "rather fortunate circumstance over which I had no control," since Montreal at the time was still a provincial city while Boston was "a metropolis, a great centre of culture and learning and all its splendid facilities were available to me."

Among those facilities which he made use of were the Boston Latin School — a secondary school which boasts such luminaries as Benjamin Frankin and Raiph Waldo Emerson emong its alumni — and Harvard University.

Horcompleted his post-graduate work in Pans at the Son bonne which, at that time, was the most prestigious university in the world and "the impact it had on my way of ile and thinking was a permanent one."

White attending the Sorbonne, Dame Fortune stepped in and "I was appointed to the faculty as a Reader in North American Civilization. Even though I came from Harvard, the level of competence and sophistication of the French students was much higher and I had to work very hard to keep to with them."

After completing his doctorate. Dr. Halperin joined the faculty at the University of Ciklahema and found that midwestern state to be "like another country. Soston and Paris were much closely related than were Boston and Oklahema."

However, chance intervened to rescue him train what could have been a number of indifferent years in a tinen small and remote university on the American Prairies, turning them into years spent in "an oasis of high culture."

Dr. Halperin explains:

"It was during the Depression and jobs were scarce, so the university attracted a number of pright teachers and researchers whose first choice might not have been Oktahoma.

"And when you have a group of people like that, in addition to the opportunity of understanding and learning to appreciate the virtues of microts America, well, it was something that stayed with me for the rost of my life."

The Second World War interrupted Dr. Haberin's sojourn at the University of Oklahoma and he joined the Office of Strategic Services, a special research and intelligence accord attached to the Joint Chees of Staff.

"I had a front row seat in the penning of some of the most interesting operations of the war." he says. "I consider my expenences there were at least the equivalent of a second PhD because I was associated with a enole group of social scientists in different discounces."

"Through this, I had the recitation that we had practical matters to consider in the social sciences, as well as theoretical ones. And I learned the value of co-operative effort he value of getting work done on asse, and the value of efficiency in research.

"It helped me to see the relaboration between the social sciences and practical problems. I became more oriented toward problem solving than I had been before."

Dame Fortune keeps popping up in life of SFU's oldest professor and has taken him to Mexico, Cuba, Moscow — and to 'best place of all'

After the war, Dr. Halperin worked with the United Nations for a couple of years and then joined the faculty of Boston University where he was involved in the establishment of an interdisciplinary department of Latin American studies.

During this period he visited Brazil twice, lecturing at the University of Sao Paulo and serving as a consultant to the state government of Sao Paulo. After his second visit, he was decorated by the Brazilian government with the Order of the Southern Cross.

It was then that chance interfered again, this time in a most malicious way.

My stay at Boston coincided with the most intense period of McCarthyism and this raised problems for a great number of people at the time. In my own case, I was given the choice of co-operating with the inquisition or, as it turned out, losing my job.

"Among other disagreeable aspects of co-operating, it would have turned me into an informer against people who, as far as I know, had committed no crime. I just couldn't think of facing my students with their knowledge that I was an informer."

Leaving Boston University, he went to the National University of Mexico City where he remained forsitive war work for the Mexican government, thereby gaining turther practical experience on the problems of underdevelopment in Latin America.

This experience led directly to his next position — a threeyear appointment at the Academy of Sciences in Moscow, Halperin explains:

"At that time, the period when Kruschev was trying to loosen up some of the rigid controls of Stalin's dictatorship, there was a desire at the Academy to have some western expertise on Latin American developmental problems. In other words, my Mexican experience was a direct prerequisite for the Moscow invitation."

"It's strange how, in retrospect, what seemed to be a rather difficult choice in 1953 tumed out to be very lucky. You never know. Something happens that can crush you or, on the contrary, can make you healther and more robust than you've over been before.

"And, when the invitation came has Moscow, I was footbose and free. My status in Me. was always that of a visiting professor, so I had no probe of security — tenuro or pension, for example — to the mostown when it came. I had nothing to lose and everything to goin."

Dr. Halperin spent three years at the Academy and found it to be an extraordinary experience. "I wasn't there as a tourist; neither was I there as an outside researcher. I was actually in the machine, with no permanent ties to it. I was working in the factory, rather than just studying it."

Fate encologain intervened in his life, this time in the form of the celebrated Latin American guerrilla loader, Che Guevara

"Late one night, there was a kneck on my deer and it opened it and there stood Che with a couple of his Cuban friends. He had been told about me by mutual friends in Mexico and they suggested that, in view of the need for competent educators and social scientists in Cuba. I might be interested in accepting an invitation to teach at the University of Havana."

As it happened, Dr. Halperin was interested. He spent the next six years in Cuba, and after leaving, produced a book on the country — The Rise and Dectine of Fidel Castro: An Essay In Contemporary History. It was published by the University of California Press and a second edition, in paper-back, has recently appeared. (Incidentally, Dr. Halberin's published work spans 45 years and "several thousand pages.")

As with the Moscow appointment, it was the fact that he was freed of concerns about job security, since he had none, which allowed him to accept Guevara's effer.

Although Cuba was "a very pleasant country," Or. Hale-sperin found life there to be somewhat disconcerting since, "as a highly-paid foreign expert, I lived high off the hog and didn't share the austerity of the rest of the country."

"And it was troubling, you know, when neighbors would knock on our door to see if we could seare a thimbleful of sail or a tablespoon of cooking oil and there we were, sitting with everything at our disposal."

And a further quirk of fate, naturally, brought him to Simon ⁸ Fraser in 1968. He'd met a Canadian while in Havana and one day, about a year later, he received a phone call "from a niace called Burnaby." It was the same Canadian, inviting him to participate in a seminar on Latin America, with "all-expenses paid."

When he received the invitation, in the spring of 1968, he had already resigned his position in Havana and was planning to return to the United States the following Sectember. "When the invitation came, I thought. Two weeks? Why not?", so I accepted and came up here and, the the man who came to dinner, they couldn't get rid of me.

"I never dreamed I would end up in Canada. Three-quarters of a century after my father left it; but I now feel thoroughly assimilated to the Canadian environment." In fact, he's so well-assimilated that he is now listed in the Canadian edition of Who's Who.

During his well-travelled life, Dr. Halperin has had the opportunity to feach at a number of reputable institutions in North America, Europe and Latin America but he says that he's inever been in a more congenial place than Simon Fruser, never in my life.

"It's the best place, all in all, that the ever below. Students and faculty have it very good here and I'm not talk on only about the splendid scenery and the mid climate. It is written for tearning, teaching, research and recreat the low a steady customer at the swimming poet and the trivial know — are magnificent."

The Rise and Decline of Fidel Castro

by Maurice Halperin

(University of Colifornia Press; $12.95)

At the end of a passage describing the cupheric early days of the Cubon Revelution, Manusce Halperin Jaments: "Alas it was orshinod to change." In effect, this attitude symbolizes his reaction and assessment of Castro and Cuba, in this test volume of a two-part study of the resolution from the first dive of Fidelismo to the present. A note of instration which occasionally marks his narrative of the first five years of the revolution undoubtedly comes from his sense of the untultilled promise of the July 28th Movement. For a great many Western intellectuals tincluding Helperin), this has been a characteristic reaction. In the first exuberant months, it seemed as if Cuba might become the first Socialist revolution to rise spontancously out, of historical circumstances, not led by a rigid party structure, and the first to proclaim a "joyous socialism," rother than the natures necessities of work norms. kledogical conformity and sacrifice. After several veers of living in Cuba, through its best and bleakest moments, Halperin feels that this possibility is edinguished. One look that he wanted very much for it to succeed! His book is an explanation of why the revolution laint.

Although the current volume only covers the first five years of the revolution; the author breaks into the chrosology to keep the next years' events in mind. Everything about the revolution was in time as he sees it, but at the same time Costro's bungling, beaucho and adventurism made surrender to a rigid, burconcratic socialism almost inevatable. Nothing, from Halperin's point of view, could be a sadder reflectioned this devolution thing the support Color but to the 1968 Soviet invasion of Creebs-key-kia.

Halperin's basic argument is that Castro's "rise and diction" must be seen as co-incommental event. For this meson he writes primarily about the foreign policy of the providinos (the only pictors in the book show Castro during his Post top forthe beviet Union). If it is accorate to say that the revolution was pushed leftward and finally into an alliance with the Soviet Union by the inept and hostile policy of the United States, then it is also true that Culsa's tate has continued to depend upon the international struggle between the US and the Soviet Union. While Castro may have been committed to Cuban nationalism and social reform at home, he could, ironically, only achieve these goals by means of an aggressive foreign policy. Castro remains a vague and blustery figure while Che Guevara figures hardly at all. By placing his einphasis elsewhere, Halyerin' tells the story of the revolution through the events which touched it from the outside, particularly those which effected its ties to the Communist workl. Most important were the Sino-Soviet struggle, the world price of sugar, the internal buttoucratic struggle of the USSR, the changing American presidency, the role of the Culson Communist Party, the CIA, and so on. Cathering his facts, primarily from magazine and newspaper articles. plus his own first-hand knowledge of events, he pieces together a fascinating reading of Castro's 'speeches, policy changes and their context. The shifting and rather indecisive attitude of the revolutionary leadership toward artistic and intellectual liberty, for example, has stemmed from Castro's need to balance conflicting demands; for orthodoxy by Culsan and Russian Communists, and for greater needoms by Western intellectueix

Castro's dicumna havialways been to assert Cuban independence, and yet retain alignment with the USSR Perhaps this conredictory policy was deduced, if for no other reason than Cuba's enseasons dependence upon other nations to absorb her pushiots and provide her with energy. In any case, when Castro opted to exploit the Cold War and let Ishrushebev boot the bill, he created the crisis which Haloerin pinpoints. He made the economic sucress of the revolution at home an absolute necessity, yet a necessity that could only be met with outside help. Castro's own impatience, inclinioncy and indecision made, matters worse. From the early attempts to industrialize to the abrupt and devastating decision to produce a mammoth sugar crop in 1970, the Cuban economy, the author argues, has continually sunk to lower levels. The result is Castro's dependence. upon the Soviet Union, an admissionof failure.

Halpetin's emphasis on foreign affairs makes good sense, but leaves little room for discussion of the internal dynamics of the revolution and of the impact of social reforms on the population. It makes what Castro said and did, and the revolution itself, explicable only in a sort of rode of international affairs. However, given the volatile nature of Cuban politics and the Cold War, it still seems too early to write off the revolution.

Though one might expect from such a background that dreary mix of the stuffy and the shrill so often associated with the polemics of the far left or right, Professor Halperin's book is a work of insight, wit and understanding.

In this book he concentrates on the first five years of Castro's rule, through 1964, with a sequel to come. However, this volume contains enough about the later years to warrant the use of the word "decline" in his title.

After stressing the pride and optimism of the revolution's fifth anniversary, he writes that none of those present at its celebration "could remotely imagine the disappointments and failures that lay ahead, and that on the tenth anniversary of the Revolution, there would be only bitter austerity, and hard work — and the tarnished but unflinching charisms of Fidel — to arouse their enthusiasm."

Professor Halperin's account of Castro's first two years in power (when the author was not yet in Cuba) does not give due credit to the United States. After all, initially the United States did make efforts to find an accommodation with Castro, despite the latter's victous anti-Americanism and his plundering of American properties in ways not even provided by Castro-dictated legislation.

Nor does he adequately explain how, after the pelicy of accommodation had been abandoned, injudicious American economic sanctions plus the Bay of Pigs failure left the presumably reluctant and sceptical Russians no choice other than massive support for Castro and Guevara.

But when Castro and Khrushchev had become masters of the Cuban people's deatiny, Professor Halperin comes into his own. How this was done to but one engaging example of Professor Halperin's analytic and narrative talents.

This exuberant reconciliation did not prove lasting. Khrushchev was overthrown—perhaps partly because of his unprofitable strategic involvement in Cuba. Castro's export of subversion and insurrection to other American republics was considered tactically undestrable by the Kremlin.

Guevara's fatal campaign in Bollvia and other setbacks, combined with the fathure of grandiose but unsound schemes for industrialization and agricultural diversification at home, considerably diminished Castro's

The Rise and Decline of Fidel Castro Maurice Halperin

The author of this unusual book was twice forced out of teaching positions at American universities because of his political beliefs. He spent three years on the faculty of the USSR Academy of Sciences and five years, from 1962 to 1968, at the University of Havana. He went to Cuba in 1962 on the invitation of Che Guevara, who had visited him in Moscow, and there gathered the materials for this intimate portrait of the Castro regime.

Mr. Halperin concentrates his attention on Castro's foreign policy, placing it in the context of domestic policy and conditions. Obviously skilled in reading the new socialist rhetoric, Professor Halperin guides the reader through the maze of documents, speeches, and propaganda which constitute the record of the Castro regime during the sensational events involving Kennedy, Khrushchev, missiles, and the CIA. Although the main narrative is concerned with the years 1939-1964—primarily the period of the rise of Fidel Castro—it contains digressions into events of the following years when, according to the author, Castro's great utopian dreams turned into nightmares. A second volume, carrying the story down to the present, is in preparation.

Maurice Halperin is Professor of Political Science at Simon Fraser University, Vancouver, B.C.

"A brilliant contribution to the literature on contemporary Cuba and perhaps even more a remarkable series of insights into the new politics of mass society."

Dear RJ,

Maurice Hyman HALPERIN

Reference John W.'s memorandum to Joseph H. dated 4 November, 1969.

- 1. Unfortunately in your letter under reference you did not mention Subject's date of birth. Our inspection of Border Control lists show that two people have entered ISRAEL who might possibly be identical with Subject:
 - Father's name Solomon
 Born 1886, POLAND
 Holder of United States passport no. B-246607
 Visited ISRAEL from 20 May, 1964 22 June 1964.
 - b. Morris Hyman HALPERIN
 Father's name: Henny
 Born 1886, POLAND
 Holder of United States passport no. A-1735875
 Entered ISRAEL on 13 October, 1970.
- 2. Is Subject identical with either of the two above?
- 3. We should be most grateful for additional personal details on Subject.

SUBJECT: Maurice Hyman HALPERING POB: Boston, 3 March 1906

- 1. The source for the following information is a highly-sensitive, thoroughly-tested informant with knowledge of NG3 activities in North America during the Second World War:
- A. Source knew that Maurice Hyman HALPERIN, Chief of the Latin American Division of O.S.S., was a valuable KGB agent while he was in O.S.S.
- B. Source knew three KGB officers who at various times during the Second World War were responsible for directing MALPERIN and other penetrations of the U.S. Government Vasilij Nikhailovich ZUBILIN aka ZARUBIN, Soviet Vice-Consul in New York City; Pavel Panteleymonovich KLARIN, Soviet Vice-Consul in New York and Stepan Zakharovich APRESYAN, Soviet Vice-Consul in New York.
- BENTLEY, that HALPERIN had been involved in communist activities since the late 1920's and had worked for the KGB during World War II.
- 3. HALPERIN refused to tell a U. S. Senate counittee if he had been a CP member and in 1953 he fled from the U.S. to Mexico. In 1958 he went to the USSR and allegedly worked for the Academy of Science and Moscow University. In 1962 he left Moscow and went to Cuba. He aided Alfred Kaufman STERN and Martha Dodd STERN to escape from the U.S.A. to Czechoslovakia in 1957.
 - 4. HALPERIN's career can be divided into the following periods:

1931-1941 Professor at the University of Oklahoma 1941-1945 c.o.i. - o.s.s.1945-1946 Department of State 1946-1949 American-Jewish Conference, handling minority a 387 groups and acting as a liaison official with the U.N. 1949-1953 Boston University 1953-1958 Mexico 1958-1968 U.S.S.R. and Cuba 1963-1969 Simon Fraser University in Burnaby, British Columbia.

5. If MALPERIN agreed to cooperate, he would be an extremely valuable source on a number of topics, as is indicated by the outline of his career. One of the most important topics, and the one in which we are in the best position to check the validity of his information, is that of KGB penetration of the U. S. Government, especially 0.S.S. and the State Department.

- 6. HALPERIN has indicated that he is now anti-Soviet.
- 7. HALPERIN's son, Dr. David HALPERIN, lives at 5309 South Harper Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.
- 8. HALPERIN's daughter, Judith GAMORON, and his son-in-law Rabbi Hillel GAMORON, reside at 617 North Witcomb Drive, Palatine, Illinois.
 - 9. HALPERIN is quite deaf.

The following is a SMAROVE request for approval to disseminate WOFIRM derogatory information concerning Subject. SMANOVE 26 handcarried the request to us and made the comment that SMARRYE hoped that WOFIRM would refuse the request since the derogatory information could have come only from one or two sources and SMAPOVE is generally opposed to making public information that has been acquired by covert means. Although the following does not mention it, a similar request has been front to LNERGO and SMORANCE:

- "In order to acquaint you and your Agency with the reason. for our request in paragraph 6 below, we would explain that recent changes in the regulations of the Department of Manpower and Immigration and the provisions of the Immigration Appeal Beard Act have created cortain problems.
- "When a Special Inquiry is hold by an Immigration Officer at a Canadian Port of Entry to enquire into a persons admissibility, if information is available to the SMAROVE prohibiting the immigrant's entry under the provisions of the Immigration Act, and this infermation cannot be released for security reasons, SMABOVE is required by Immigration Regulations to issue a "Solemn Declaration" for use at the Inquiry. Should such an Inquiry result unfavorably for the immigrant, he has the right of appeal.
- "In issuing the first "Solemn Declaration", in order to provide protection for our sources, we only made a declaration that we were in possession of information making the subject ineligible for entry to Canada under Section 5 of the Immigration Act. However, the Immigration Appeal Board has since ruled that a "Solema Declarstion" should contain sufficient infimmation to anable the dedividual, against whom action is being taken, to have a reasonable opportunity of knowing the nature of the allegations.

- 4. "Therefore, in consultation with our legal branch, we have drawn up the attached draft "Solemn Declaration" which we feel satisfies the conditions set out by the Board and which we propose to use in the case of Maurice Hyman HALPERIN. As you will note, we have provided information which in the opinion of our legal branch will be the minimum requirement if our declaration is to be found valid.
- 5. "We would therefore request that you ascertain if consideration can be given to have your Agency authorize us to include the information contained in lines nine, ten and cloven of the attached draft "Solemn Declaration". The decision of your Agency should be made with the understandings that the declaration would be available to HALPERIN and his counsel at both the Immigration Special Inquiry and the Immigration Appeal Board Hearing.
- 6. "Our case against HALPERIN rests on whether or not we receive approval for the use of the information furnished by your Agency, since we have to show that HALPERIN was incligible for admission at the time he entered Canada. We approximate the problems inherent in a request of this nature and if after weighing all the considerations your Agency finds it impossible to authorize release, we intend to advise the Department of Manpower and Immigration that we are unable to issue the required "Solemn Declaration" and will study other ways and means of overcoming our problems in cases of this nature."

B. DIRECTOR 09956, 20 June 1968

The following is a SMABOVE request for approval to disseminate WOFIRM derogatory information concerning Subject. SMABOVE/26 hand-carried the request to us and made the comment that SMABOVE hoped that WOFIRM would refuse the request since the derogatory information could have come only from one or two sources and SMABOVE is generally opposed to making public information that has been acquired by covert means. Although the following does not mention it, a similar request has been bent to INERGO and SMORANGE:

- 1. "In order to acquaint you and your Agency with the reason for our request in paragraph 6 below, we would explain that recent changes in the regulations of the Department of Manpower and Immigration and the provisions of the Immigration Appeal Board Act have created certain problems.
- 2. "When a Special Inquiry is held by an Immigration Officer at a Canadian Port of Entry to enquire into a persons admissibility, if information is available to the SMAROVE prohibiting the immigrant's entry under the provisions of the Immigration Act, and this information cannot be released for security reasons, SMAROVE is required by Immigration Regulations to issue a "Solemn Declaration" for use at the Inquiry. Should such an Inquiry result unfavorably for the immigrant, he has the right of appeal.
- 3. "In issuing the first "Solemn Declaration", in order to provide protection for our sources, we only made a declaration that we were in possession of information making the subject ineligible for entry to Canada under Section 5 of the Immigration Act. However, the Immigration Appeal Board has since ruled that a "Solemn Declaration" should contain sufficient information to enable the individual, against whom action is being taken, to have a reasonable opportunity of knowing the nature of the allegations.

4. "Therefore, in consultation with our legal branch, we have drawn up the attached draft "Solemn Declaration" which we feel satisfies the conditions set out by the Board and which we propose to use in the case of Maurice Hyman HALPERIN. As you will note, we have provided information which in the opinion of our legal branch will be the minimum requirement II our declaration is to be found valid.

- "Wo would therefore request that you ascertain if consideration can be given to have your Agency authorize us to include the information contained in lines nine, ten and eleven of the attached draft "Solemn Doclaration". The decision of your Agency should be made with the understandings that the declaration would be available to HALPERIN and his counsel at both the Immigration Special Inquiry and the Immigration Appeal Board Hearing.
- "Our case against HALPERIN rests on whether or not we receive approval for the use of the information furnished by your Agency, since we have to show that HALPERIN was ineligible for admission at the time he entered Canada. We appreciate the problems inherent in a request of this nature and if after weighing all the considerations your Agency finds it impossible to authorize release, we intend to advise the Department of Manpower and Immigration that we are unable to issue the required "Solemn Declaration" and will study other ways and means of overcoming our problems in cases of this nature."

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: "American Defectors to the USSR"

- 1. The attached material was part of a soft file entitled "American Defectors to the USSR", which was set up by SR/6 (Support) around 1960 and maintained by various SR components until ca. 1963. The compilations were derived from a variety of sources, and contain both classified and overt data.
- 2. In the fall of 1966, the files were turned over to CI Staff. In most instances, basic information was then abstracted for the US Defector Machine Program. In all instances in which the material was unique, or represented a valuable collation effort, it has been incorporated into the appropriate 201 file, along with a copy of this memorandum.
- 3. It is suggested that any dissemination of this data should be coordinated with SB Division and with CI Staff (CI/MRO), in view of the frequently inadequate sourcing and of the fact that disseminations have already been made through the US Defector Machine Program.

Later in 1957 or the first half of 1953. Public disclosure of his role in the Stern affair caused him and his wife (Edith nee Frisch) to lose their jobs. The passports were renewed for two years, to expire July 1962. They gave their legal address as Medellin 36, Mexico City, and their current address as / Kutuzovski Prospekt 13, apt 127, Noscow. Movember-economic 1900. Halperin, "an identified Seviet agent who left the US in 1900 [sie] and is now in the Seviet Union," was to be head of one of the two new organizations founded during a Mescon conference of communist leaders: "office for permanent studies and cooperation with Latin American marties" to be organized by the Communist Parties of Argentina, Prazil, and Cuba, and to be located in Ceiping. [This presumably never happened.] (SRS, TNCS-3/160,130, 13 January 1961, info Mov-Dec 60, from an official Swedish service from usually-reliable source who Polish official with high-level contacts)

As of February 1961. He was reported as a US national lecturing in feconomics at moscow U. Helped gather data for the Grewara's Punta del Este speech. The Halperin's son in US was planning whit them in 61 but canceled to their great disappointment. Halperin seemed to regret having gone to the USSR and said on several occasions he would like to return to the US; always "joking" about the umpleasant aspects of life in the N. Had been offered job in Cuba and was trying decide whether accept. (SNS, CCCI-3/772,459, 7 Sept 1983, from Cuban refugee who was Economic Counselor at Cuban Embassy Moscow Cct 60 - Feb 61)

July 1962. Their passports would have excited, requiring issuance of new ones. (Unly passports actually issued - not removed - after September 1959 had the new three-year validity instead of the old two-year validity, according to Central Processing.) We have no record of raissue of new ones, but it seems to have been done, because at the end of 1962 Halperin spoke of keeping his VS citisenship after moving to Cuba.

1 (otoer 1962. They moved to Cuba. He was already working in a textile factory and world start teaching at Havandiniversity on 8 October. (SRS; copy of a glad-to-be-back, pro-Cuban propaganda-like letters personal letter written by Halperin). They got a big welcome in Cuba because they came from Moscow, but it seem were off and the Cubans considered him cold and pedantic. (SRS, DEA-62084, 13 January 1964)

21 January 1963. Elizabeth Mora (long-time communist) returned to rexico from a women's congress in Havana, where she had seen the malperins. They had a mansion and servants because of his "important job," but he had aged grently, looked old, had to do without such amenities as underwear and socks, was rationed to one tube of toothpaste every six months, etc. Wife said it was Soviet treatment that had broken him, not Cuban. They intended to stay in Cuba because of the friendlier climate and his feeling more useful there. She wanted to become a Cuban citizen so that she could visit her son and his family in exico, but he planned to keep his US citizenship. (She, DEA-34390, 26 Feb 63)

17 June 1963. Date of VIBN 3538, IN 61623,: a VISN case officer, JOANNESS; in touch with malperin who in Vienna writing a book on the Castro impact on South America. Joanness rated him "sound non-communist leftist without party ties or extremist dogmatism" - ! (SRS)

16 August 1960. On this date, according to LTT article of 5 Sept 60, the called on the US Emb for renewal of his American nessport. (Reproduction of article is in with Fartin and Mitchell material in Kay Grady's ESA file.) Renewal was apparently being deleyed, possibly because of renewed attempts within the ES Govt to demy passports to commit sympathizers.

5 Sept 50. The same NT article reported just above said that he had just ascalled a State Department report that he was working as an advisor to the Sov Govt on Latin American affairs.—Said he was professor associated with Academy of Sciences, writing book on Latin American economy 1945-58. "There is nothing mysterious or dubious about my being in Moscow. Since my arrival I have filed two US income tax returns, listing my salary and amployer. I am not working for the Soviet Govt any more than Van Clibura was when he performed in a Govt-owned concert hall. I am a visiting prof in the USFR AS and not the first American to be associated with it. My appointment and my Soviet visa espire in July 1961."

- 1. A source of this office has just advised us that he received a Christmas card (1962) from Maurice Halperin on which the return address was given as: "Apt C-2, Calle 12, no 103, Mirasar, Habana, Cuba." The only message on the card was one of Christmas greatings. Halperin and our source have known each other for a number of years and they always exchange Christmas cards. This is the first one Halperin has sent with a Cuban address on it. The last time that our source now Halperin was in Moscow when he (the forcer) was visiting in the USSR during August-September 1961 as part of an official US delegation.
- 2. In view of Halperin's past activities and associations, we are making this information known to you. Our source comments that Halperin always seems to show up wherever there is some sort of activity going on.

SOURCE Cuban national, A 12 178 210, who arrived in the US in June 1962 as a political refugee.

Source is a graduate engineer who served for a year in the Ministry of Public Works following the advent of the Castro regime, and then was assigned to the Ministry of Foreign Relations and went to the USSR as Economic Commelor. He was in the USSR from October 1960 to February 1961. Chortly after his return to Cuba he took asylum in the Argentine Embassy where he remained more than a year until his safe-conduct was arranged. This is one of several reports from source.

/This report emanated from the Caribbean Admission Center at Opa-Locka, Florida./

- 1. From October 1960 to February 1961 I served as Economic Commelor of the Cuban Embassy in the UECR. During my stay I met and became fairly well acquainted with a number of defectors from the West, including Douglas McLean, who defected from the UK, and Haurice Halperin, from the UE. I did not neet Guy Burgess, because I was told that he is in had physical condition due to excess drinking. McLean, who is now known as Frazier, likewise drinks heavily, and at a party the hostess rut down on his liquor saying, "If he drinks too much he gets in had shape."
- 2. McLean and his family are living in Soviet Coverment-furnished quarters in a new, but not elaborate, apartment building near the Traine Motel. Mis wafe made a number of remarks to my wife about how far it is necessary to walk to get food, or anything else, in the MSSN. Otherwise the fid not complain. McLean made numerous jokes about shortcomings of lawing in the USSR, including comments about the elevator in his apartment building never working. He also made some half-hearted tokes about the Soviets always spitting when they spoke.
- 3. At the time I knew him he was on the staff of an English language publication, Economic Affairs. Y
- Minurice Ralperin was a RD national, and I believe taught economics at a US university. He subsequently worked at the National Rand of Mexico, but was expelled about 1996 and went to the USGR. Halperin is now a lecturer in economics at Moscow University. Halperin assisted in gathering data used by "Che "Dievara in his speech at Punta del Este, and commented about 11 when the speech was published.
