 APRIL 3, TO START WORK ON THE CASE.

HE SAID HE EXPECTED TO LEAVE LONDON TOMORROW (EDS: TVA FLIGHT was a "fugitive criminal accused of murder" and "a fugitive convicted of robbery." He was starting the eighth year of a 20-year sentence for armed robbery when he escaped from the Missouri State Penitentiary at Jefferson City in April 1967.

British charges on which Ray was arrested at London Airport June 8 are due to come up in court next Tuesday. These are possession of an unlicensed gun and a forged Canadian passport made out in the name of Ramon George Sneyd. In view of the proceedings in the American case, these may be dropped.

Wilton said he was satisfied that lawyers representing the United States had made out a case against Ray in the civil rights leader's assassin, and against him as a fugitive from the Missouri prison.

He also said the evidence, mostly from fingerprints, had convicted him "that James Earl Ray is the same person now before me."

Ray's lawyers had never offered any formal challenge to these points.

Defense in the United States has argued that Ray had committed "political offenses."

"All I know is that Ray is a man who has been in the United States."

The hearing lacked the drama of the first round last Thursday, when Salcetti disclosed a mass of government evidence against Ray.

Wiley and Salcetti spent the morning arguing the legal technicalities of political offenses.

They dropped on the courtroom floor, warm and sleepy in a summer heat wave. Ray watched the proceedings intently. His head swivaled toward the bench whenever the magistrate intervened with a question.

When the morning session ended, Wilton brusquely announced he would deliver his verdict after lunch at 2 p.m. and vanished through the door to his chambers.

Wiley was so surprised that he had to call the magistrate back for Ray to make a short statement.

Ray rose and again complained about a statement by Detective Chief Supt. Thomas Butler of Scotland Yard that had him saying "I feel so trapped" after his arrest. He said he never made it and wanted this noted because of the wide publicity given the case in the United States, "especially in the so-called liberal press."

Ray also complained that he had not been allowed to see Arthur J. Banes, a Birmingham, Ala., lawyer who came here to prepare for Ray's trial defense in the United States.

Wilton said the statement was no hindrance to his decision. Then he turned to Wiley and complimented him on his performance as Ray's attorney in the case.

DO

LONDON--A COURT TODAY ORDERED JAMES EARL RAY EXTRADITED TO THE U.S. TO STAND TRIAL FOR THE ASSASSINATION OF MARTIN LUTHER KING. RAY, 40, IDENTIFIED AS AN ESCAPED CONVICT FROM A MISSOURI JAIL. HE WAS ACCUSED OF SHOOTING THE CIVIL RIGHTS LEADER IN MEMPHIS ON APRIL 4. HE WAS ARRESTED AT LONDON AIRPORT JUNE 8. RAY'S DEFENSE ATTORNEY, ROGER FRISBY, ARGUED IN BOB STREET MAGISTRATE COURT THAT THE SLAYING WAS A POLITICAL CRIME. BUT FRANK MILTON, CHIEF METROPOLITAN MAGISTRATE FOR LONDON, AGREED WITH THE U.S. POSITION IT WAS OUTRIGHT MURDER.

IN A SURPRISE STATEMENT TO THE COURT THAT HE FEARED--AND PERHAPS EXPECTED--THE EXTRADITION TO BE GRANTED.

THERE WAS STILL MUCH LEGAL RED TAPE TO GO THROUGH BEFORE RAY RETURNS TO THE U.S. HIS DEFENSE ATTORNEY INDICATED HE WOULD APPEAL IN A MANEUVER THAT COULD TAKE WEEKS.

MILTON IN HIS RULING SAID NO EVIDENCE HAD BEEN PRESENTED AT THE TWO-PART HEARING TO SUBSTANTIATE DEFENSE CLAIMS THE SLAYING WAS A POLITICAL CRIME.

HE ALSO RULED THAT MISSOURI LAW COVERING ROBBERY WITH VIOLENCE WAS RELEVANT IN THE EXTRADITION CASE. MISSOURI WANTS RAY FOR TRIAL ON CHARGES HE ESCAPED FROM PRISON WHILE SERVING A TERM FOR ARMED ROBBERY.

MILTON RULED RAY EXTRADITABLE ON BOTH COUNTS. AT LAST WEEK'S HEARING, RAY DENIED KILLING KING.

"ALL I KNOW IN THIS AFFAIR IS THAT THE MAN SAYS HE DID NOT DO IT," MILTON SAID TODAY.

"IF THE ONLY EVIDENCE IS THAT A PUBLIC FIGURE, A POLITICAL FIGURE, A CONTROVERSIAL FIGURE HAS BEEN KILLED THEN THIS IS NOT ENOUGH.

"THEREFORE BOTH SUBMISSIONS FAILED TO BE ACCEPTED AND THE DEFENDANT WILL BE COMMITTED TO A PRISON TO AWAIT EXTRADITION ON BOTH COUNTS."

RAY APPEALS FOR HABEAS CORPUS."

THIS, UNDER BRITISH LAW, IS THE FORM THAT RAY'S APPEAL WILL TAKE TO THE DIVISION COURT OF THE QUEEN'S BENCH DIVISION OF THE HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

THE DEFENSE CALLED IT A POLITICAL CRIME BUT THE MAGISTRATE IN RULING AGAINST THIS SAID:

"THIS WAS THE ASSASSINATION OF A MAN WHO WAS NOT IN CONTROL OF THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS COUNTRY, NOT AS FAR AS HAS BEEN SHOWN BY THE EVIDENCE. IT WAS NOT PART OF A CAMPAIGN TO GET RID OF THE GOVERNMENT-- BUT THE ACT OF A SOLITARY PERSON."

RAY SHOWED VIRTUALLY NO EMOTION WHILE BUT THE ACT OF A SOLITARY PERSON."

RAY SHOWED VIRTUALLY NO EMOTION WHEN MILTON ANNOUNCED HIS DECISION.

HE WAS STARING DOWN AT THE TABLE AND LOOKED UP SLOWLY WITHOUT BLINKING. THEN WITH A SLIGHT SHRUG OF HIS SHOULDER, HE ROSE TO RECEIVE FURTHER INSTRUCTIONS FROM MILTON. HE REMAINED EXPRESSIONLESS.

THIS WAS IN CONTRAST TO HIS NERVOUSNESS A FEW MINUTES EARLIER WHEN HE HAD MADE HIS STATEMENT THAT HE HAD BEEN DENIED THE RIGHT TO SEE HIS AMERICAN LAWYER.

FRISBY SAID LATER HE "PROBABLY" WOULD APPEAL TODAY'S RULING.

LONDON: The Hit Lead 1071 said: court.

London was sweltering with temperatures in the 80s and humidity high.

Courtroom shades were closed to keep out the sun, but the atmosphere was close and sleepy. Many took off their jackets and fanned themselves with papers.

Ray himself had his white shirt open at the neck, but he kept on the vest of his blue checked shirt. He looked hot and limp.

Brigby, in his final statement, submitted that whoever did the killing was acting consciously or otherwise as representative of a large body of persons who disagreed with the objects and aims of King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

The defense claimed there was something akin to a state of civil war or insurrection in the American South. Fricke contended that, in indeed there was only one finger on the trigger of the gun that killed King. "the nature of the thing is that you can only get one finger on the trigger at the time." Fricke said the passing of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 was in a sense the culmination of the efforts of King and others of the conference and other bodies. It was political work, he said, and an effort to compel the government to change its policy.

The attorney went on:
 "It became abundantly plain that whoever was the willing did not do it on personal grounds but on grounds which are subject of disapproval of the type of activity it was conducting."
 An office was opened in Washington by the conference and these activities, according to Driscoll, were clearly political.

LONDON, May 11 (AP) — Ray, 34, was conducting.

Shortly after the court adjourned for lunch, Ray returned to make an unexpected statement.

Sandwiched between two policemen, he told the magistrate: "I don't want to repeat myself. I would like to take the opportunity to object to Mr. Butler's testimony."

Detective Chief Sgt. Thomas Butler of Scotland Yard had testified last week that, when accused, Ray collapsed on a seat in his cell saying: "Oh God, I feel so trapped."

Ray quickly denied he ever said it and he made a further denial today "especially in view of the fact that this case will probably be given wide publicity in the United States, especially in the so-called liberal press."

"I would urge this court to take in the totality of the circumstances," Ray said. "One, that I did not sign any kind of statement whatsoever, and also the fact that I said I did not want to have conversation with anybody connected with the United States Justice Department."

"One other thing I object to, I am sure it is not connected with the case. I believe there is a connection between this hearing and the trial in the States. Shortly after I was arrested by the British authorities, I engaged an attorney in the United States—Mr. Arthur Hanes of Birmingham, Ala."

"He subsequently made a trip to consult with me. This was opposed by the Home Secretary, James Callaghan, and I made an application to the Home Secretary and I received no answer."

"I then wrote to Mr. Edward Heath, Conservative opposition leader, and I was informed by the governor of Wandsworth Prison that this was not permissible and that he would forward the letter to Mr. Callaghan. Evidently the Home Secretary would decide whether Mr. Heath would be permitted to read the letter."

"I think that, in view of the seriousness of this case, I should have had a little more freedom to write and visit people in the circumstances. That is all I have to say and I would like to thank the court."

Ray was then taken back to the cells adjoining the court.

There was no reaction from the crowd in the crowded courtroom.

The magistrate, sitting at his bench cluttered with law books, addressed Ray directly and told him: "You will be committed to prison to await extradition to the United States."

He then granted him legal aid for his appeal.

As Milton delivered his decision, he glanced at notes and occasionally referred to the end of the law volumes.

He dealt at some length with the contention of defense attorney Roger Friaby that Ray could not be extradited because the slaying of the civil rights leaders shot in Memphis, Tenn., April 4, was a political offense.

The judge agreed it was common knowledge that King was a controversial figure in the United States, but he refused to accept the defense contention that this alone would make the crime of his assassination a political one.

"To hold so would be to extend the meaning of this case too far," the magistrate said.

The case turned on whether the crime was political or not. Under treaty between Britain and the United States, persons may not be extradited for political reasons.

The U.S. government denied Ray's contention that the killing of King was a political crime.

"There is not a shred of evidence to show that the murder took place to further the ends of a larger enterprise," David Calcutt, a British lawyer representing the U.S. government, told the magistrate.

He declared: "There was no conspiracy, no other man or other body was involved."

There may have been undertones that this might be so, but the evidence before this court points to a lone assassination for private purpose."

The argument that there was no conspiracy seemed intended to apply only to the first-degree murder warrant issued by the State of Tennessee for the shooting in Memphis April 4.

Then Ray was put on the FBI's "most wanted" list. April 20, he was wanted also on a federal charge of conspiracy to deny King his civil rights.

The prisoner has denied he killed King, or even knew him.

Friaby told the court that whoever did the shooting did not do it on personal grounds but because he disapproved of the type of activity King was conducting.

In summary, Magistrate Milton said he found no difficulty in establishing that there was a prima facie case against Ray in Nixon's murder.

"On this, on the verbal and affidavit evidence before me, there can be no doubt," he said.

Milton said no evidence had been produced in Ray's case to show it was not an individual act.

"All I know is that this accused man said he didn't do it," he said.

The magistrate also passed over the question of Ray's identification without difficulty. Ray was arrested in Britain on forged passport and illegal gun-carrying charges under the alias of Ramon Socrates Sneyd.

But the magistrate said: "I find evidence that James Earl Ray is the same person now before me."

Although Ray was granted legal aid to pursue an appeal if he wished, there was no public announcement that he would.

However, lawyers close to the case said that an appeal would be carried to the High Court with arguments on the same political grounds as Milton rejected in Magistrate's Court.

Should the High Court reject the appeal, Ray could go to the House of Lords, which is Britain's highest court. But he could make an appeal to the Lords only on a point of law.

W. LAWRENCE HALLIN

Associated Press Writer

LONDON, AP — A British judge approved Tuesday the U.S. government's request for extradition of James Earl Ray to stand trial for the killing of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Ray's lawyers announced they will appeal the decision to Britain's high court.

A 40-year-old fugitive from the Missouri State Penitentiary, Ray was reportedly on learning he had lost his right to

"Yes sir," he told the magistrate.

Then guards escorted him back to his maximum security cell at Wandsworth Prison to await the appeal, which must be filed within 15 days.

In Washington Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said he hoped Ray could be returned to the United States without undue delay so the prisoner could have his "right to a speedy trial."

Wilton said "there can be no doubt" that there is a prima-facie case against Ray in the murder of the American civil rights leader, killed by a rifle bullet at the Lorraine Motel Memphis, Tenn., April 4.

The prime evidence submitted in the dimly lit Bow Street Magistrate's Court was testimony of an FBI fingerprint expert, George Jacob Bonobrakas, at a hearing last week that Ray's prints were found on a rifle, telescopic sight and binoculars that Memphis authorities consider were used by the killer.

Conviction on a murder charge in a Tennessee court could mean a sentence to death by electrocution.

Peering through half-spectacles over lawbooks piled on his judicial bench, Wilton ruled on several major points.

He discussed and then dismissed a contention of Ray's court-appointed British attorney, Roger Brink, that the slaying was a political crime, a crime for which a person cannot be returned under the U.S.-British extradition treaty.

"To hold so would be to extend the meaning of this case too far," the magistrate said, though he agreed that King, who headed the politically active Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was a controversial figure.

The U.S. government had denied through its British lawyers, David Calcutt, that the killing was a political crime.

"There is not a shred of evidence to show that the murder took place to further the goals of a larger enterprise," Calcutt said. "There was no conspiracy. No other man or other body was involved."

In denying there was a conspiracy, Calcutt was walking a legal tightrope. Though the extradition case was based on a Tennessee murder warrant, Ray also faces in the United States a federal charge of conspiracy to deny King his civil rights.

LONDON, Take 2; Ray A023: 1t.

Security arrangements are being rushed at the Shelby County jail in downtown Memphis. Ray will be lodged in an interior cell in the jail once he is returned.

His first public appearance in Memphis would come when he is brought into one of the county's criminal courtrooms for arraignment, a procedure that normally takes only a few minutes.

Should the defense or the state request a psychiatric examination, that would add more time to the long delay expected before the trial is held. Normal procedure is to send a prisoner to Central is speculation that because of needed security Ray would get the examination in the jail.

The defense could request a delay of several weeks to interview witnesses and prepare them.

Wednesday deputies took up guard positions in an alley behind the jail, at the jail's entrance in the criminal courts building and in the hallway leading to the sheriff's office. No one was admitted into these areas without special reason.

Attorneys entering the jail to meet with their clients were searched.

Heavy steel plating was placed on four windows on the jail's third floor on the north side of the building, and heavy screens were being placed on other jail windows.

The location of Ray's cell within the jail has not been disclosed, and requests to photograph it were turned down. The cell is to be equipped with closed-circuit television.

It is understood that several streets in the immediate vicinity of the jail-courts building will be blocked off during the trial. It became known last week that everyone attending the trial would be recorded on sound and television tape.

Ray is scheduled to appear in court today for a hearing on his appeal for a return to the United States to face trial on a charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The brief hearing at the Bow Street Magistrate's Court is a formality to dispose of the two other charges on which Ray had been held since his arrest at London Airport June 8: using a forged Canadian passport and carrying a loaded pistol without a permit.

The British charges could be dropped or shelved indefinitely.

After the hearing today, Home Secretary James Callaghan is expected to sign the order for Ray's extradition issued by Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Frank Wilton on July 2. Ray decided on Tuesday not to appeal extradition, and the 15-day period for filing of an appeal expired Wednesday.

The time of Ray's departure is a closely guarded secret. Unofficial reports said a U.S. Air Force transport was standing by at Northolt, a U.S. air base west of London, to take Ray and an escort of U.S. marshals to Memphis, Tenn., where the Negro civil rights leader was shot April 4.

Ray's American attorney, Arthur D. Hanes, arrived in London Wednesday and complained that the U.S. Justice Department had refused to let him accompany Ray back to the United States. Hanes, a former mayor of Birmingham, Ala., said his client was afraid to be alone with Justice Department men.

"I don't know the basis of the fear," said the lawyer, "but he says it and he wants me to be present."

"I applied some weeks ago to go back on the plane with him and that he should not be questioned or interrogated by FBI men without my being present."

"This was refused. It is a violation of my client's constitutional rights."

"I shall apply again for permission to fly back with him. Even if I am not allowed on the plane, I want to be allowed to spend a few hours with my client before he will be immediately put up in court in Memphis."

Hanes spent 45 minutes with Ray inside London's Wandsworth jail Wednesday. But the lawyer said that in this conversation, as in others he had during a previous visit to London, it was impossible to get to the heart of things because British prison officers always were within hearing.

Hanes said Ray waived appeal on the advice of Hanes "because he is innocent and wants to get back to the States as quickly as possible to prove it."

Hanes charged that Ray is the target of an "unprecedented, vicious and libelous press and television campaign to portray him as a convicted murderer, a monster, a degenerate and a drug addict."

Asserting that no one is guilty until proved guilty, the lawyer said, "once my client is in America, there we can confer daily with me and others; we will find the whole truth and establish it."

LONDON AP - U.S. officials stood ready Thursday night to receive James Earl Ray from British custody and fly him to the United States to face trial on charges of assassinating Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

A U.S. plane was said to be standing by at Northolt, the closest Royal Air Force base to London capable of handling jets that can cross the Atlantic.
The plane was expected to take off at night so as to land at night, probably at Memphis, Tenn., where King was shot to death April 4.

American officials kept the tightest security screen in front of Ray's transfer. Ray refused a request by his lawyer, Arthur Hanes of Birmingham, Ala., to accompany Ray home or even to speak to him once he is in U.S. custody in Britain.
Hanes said U.S. officials refused to give him an explanation of their refusal. But he made it clear that Ray feared U.S. officials would try to interrogate him during the seven- or eight-hour flight about circumstances surrounding King's assassination, possibly raising questions about any conspiracy.

"I just told him to keep his mouth shut," Hanes said.
British courts Thursday cleared away the last of the formalities that have prevented Ray's transfer to the United States since his arrest in London June 8.

Following Ray's decision earlier this week to abandon his fight against extradition, a lawyer representing the director of public prosecutions went into Bow Street Magistrates Court.
He said no evidence would be offered to support British charges against Ray of entering the country on a forged passport and carrying an unlicensed gun. That was the last step before Home Secretary James Callaghan could sign the extradition papers.
The Home Office announced Callaghan signed the order Thursday night.

This order authorized the transfer of Ray to the custody of U.S. marshals.

Ray was not in court for the hearing. Hanes was conferring with him at Wandsworth Prison.
"I gave him some new shirts and a tie so he would look sharp," they said.

Hanes was being kept completely in the dark about the flight.

"I don't know if they are taking him back by plane, cargo, or ship or yellow submarine," the lawyer told newsmen.
He said he might make a legal issue of it at the trial, basing his argument on new U.S. Supreme Court rulings about holding a suspect in custody without permitting him to consult a lawyer.

"I don't see any justification logically for them to prevent me from seeing him," he said. "But I have a right to see him in private when he is turned over to U.S. authorities. He has fears of intensive interrogation and grilling by Justice Department agents. They will have him captive for seven or eight hours and they can engage him in conversation."

Hanes said he had formally requested the U.S. Justice Department for permission to accompany Ray home when he called Washington from his office in Birmingham Thursday morning to tell the department about Ray's extradition waiver.

He told newsmen a message was passed on to him through the U.S. Embassy here from Fred Vinson Jr., U.S. assistant attorney general, saying: "I hope you understand why you cannot accompany this man to the United States and why you cannot see him in private."

Hanes said he replied: "My answer is no, I do not understand."

Hanes said he would return to the United States as soon as he had word that Ray was on the way and begin preparations for the trial, which he expects to open in October or November.

LONDON--JAMES EARL RAY'S ALABAMA LAWYER SAID TODAY RAY IS INNOCENT OF THE MURDER OF MARTIN LUTHER KING AND WANTS TO RETURN TO THE U.S. TO CLEAR HIMSELF ON THE CHARGES.

ATTORNEY ARTHUR J. HANES SR. SAID RAY AGREED TO WAIVE AN EXTRADITION APPEAL WHEN THEY MET AT LONDON'S WADSWORTH PRISON THIS AFTERNOON.

HANES SAID RAY, WHOM HE REFERRED TO AS "R.G. SNEYD," HAD ASKED THE U.S. JUSTICE DEPARTMENT AND BRITISH AUTHORITIES TO PERMIT HANES TO ACCOMPANY HIM WHEN HE IS HANDED OVER TO U.S. AUTHORITIES TO BE SENT TO MEMPHIS, TENN., FOR TRIAL.

HANES SAID THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT HAS DENIED THIS REQUEST SO FAR.

HANES SAID SNEYD DID NOT HAVE TO SIGN ANY WAIVERS BUT SIMPLY ACTED THROUGH THE ALABAMA ATTORNEY, ADVISING HIM TO PROCEED WITH THE EXTRADITION PROCESS.

HANES SAID RAY WANTED TO RETURN TO THE U.S. IMMEDIATELY "SO MY CLIENT AND I CAN BEGIN WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY TO COMBAT AND COUNTERACT THE UNPRECEDENTED, VICIOUS AND LIBELOUS PRESS AND TELEVISION CAMPAIGN TO PORTRAY HIM AS A CONVICTED MURDERER, A MONSTER, A DEGENERATE AND A DOPE ADDICT."

"THIS MAN WANTS TO GET BACK TO THE UNITED STATES AND CLEAR HIS NAME," HANES SAID. "IT'S AS SIMPLE AS THAT."

HANES SAID THE VISIT OF U.S. ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL FRED M. VINSON JR. TO LONDON, WHERE HE WAS ALLOWED TO SEE RAY BUT NOT TO TALK WITH HIM, "WAS HIGH-HANDED AND WRONG AND I THINK HIGHLY PREJUDICIAL."

IN A PREPARED STATEMENT, HANES CHARGED THAT VINSON'S ACTION IN SEEING RAY VIOLATED RAY'S CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS AND U.S. SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

LONDON 17 -- American authorities pursued top secret plans today for a quick return to the United States of James Earl Ray to face trial for the assassination in Memphis, Tenn., of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Ray may be on his way tonight or early Thursday.

80

"I suspect the first word that Ray has left London will be news of his actual arrival in England," one source said.

Ray cleared the way for his return by signing a declaration Tuesday that he did not want to appeal the order for his extradition issued July 3 by London's chief magistrate, Frank Milton.

The 40-year-old prisoner, a fugitive from the Missouri State Penitentiary who denies he killed King, spent his remaining hours in London's Wandsworth prison under heavy guard.

Ray's American lawyer, Arthur J. Hanes of Birmingham, Ala., flew into London to have a talk with him at the prison. Hanes was believed hoping to accompany his client back to the United States, but U.S. officials indicated such a request would be turned down.

Informed sources speculated that Ray would be flown back with a heavy guard aboard a U.S. military plane or a chartered civilian jet. U.S. military planes can use British civilian fields such as Heathrow and Gatwick airports near London. It was not the first time.

Special Agent in Charge
 (10) - Minor British charges against James Earl Ray were dropped today, bringing his extradition to the United States a step closer.
 Home Secretary James Callaghan was expected within a few hours to sign the extradition order returning the 40-year-old escaped convict to the United States to face trial on a charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.
 The extradition order was issued by Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Frank Milton on July 2. Ray failed on Tuesday not to appeal against it, and the 10-day period for filing an appeal expired Wednesday.
 The time of Ray's departure for America is a closely guarded secret. Unofficial reports said a U.S. Air Force transport was standing by at Cortholt, a U.S. air base west of London, to take the prisoner and an escort of U.S. Marshals to Memphis, Tenn., where the Negro civil rights leader was shot April 4.
 The two British charges on which Ray had been held since his arrest at London Airport June 8 were dropped at a brief hearing in the Bow Street Magistrate's Court; the theater for all the British legal processes concerning Ray.
 The charges were using a forged Canadian passport, under the name of Vernon George Smyth, and carrying a loaded gun for which he had no license.
 Ray was not in court today.

Special Agent Writer
James Earl Ray's lawyer protested vigorously Wednesday against Ray's being the accused assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Memphis, Tenn., without his own legal counsel aboard the plane.

Addressing newsmen after visiting Ray in Wandsworth Prison for 45 minutes, Arthur J. Hanson, former mayor of Birmingham, said Ray had asked him to fly back with him but that U.S.
authorities had turned down the request.

"He seems being in company of the Justice Department alone," Hanson said. "I don't know the facts of the case but he says it and he wants me to be present."

Ray decided Tuesday not to appeal against extradition any longer, and Hanson arrived in London Wednesday morning.
U.S. officials have steadfastly refused all security grounds to disclose anything about how they will take Ray to the United States.

But he is expected to go aboard a U.S. military plane or a chartered civilian upon leaving London.

Neither Hanson nor Ray's British lawyer has any idea when the plane will leave.

U.S. Embassy officials declined comment on Hanson's statements.
They said the decision to bar Hanson from the plane had been made in Washington and any comment would have to come from there.

Hanson explained he had advised Ray to waive extradition because he wants to get started on the case and "begin without further delay on effort to combat and counteract the unprecedented, vicious and libelous press and television campaign to portray him as a convicted murderer, a terrorist, a fanatic and a dope addict."

The lawyer said no one is guilty until proved so, and
"once my client is in Memphis, where he can confer daily with me and others, we will find the whole truth and establish it."

In Wandsworth Prison, Ray and Hanson have been able to confer only with wardens next to them "hanging over our heads like pigeons in Trafalgar Square," Hanson said.

This was his point about returning to the United States so that he and Ray can confer in private. He said he had made repeated requests through the Justice Department in Washington, both in writing and by telephone, for permission to stay with Ray on the plane home. He also demanded that Ray not be interrogated by U.S. officials without his lawyer's presence.

Hanson invoked the U.S. Supreme Court to support his plea to accompany Ray. He alluded to the Miranda decision limiting the right of police to question suspects. Under questioning by newsmen, he admitted that Miranda did not apply to a period during which a prisoner was being transported.

LONDON (AP) July 17 - Ray hit ML A223; transported, 210

Nevertheless, he said a decision not to permit him on the plane would violate constitutional rights and be "high-handed, wrong and prejudicial."

Hanson also complained about reports that Fred Vinson Jr.,
U.S. assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's criminal division, had spoken to Ray shortly after his arrest here June 8. He said Vinson had "transgressed the rights of my client," although when reminded by newsmen that Vinson had denied speaking to Ray, he said he would not make a major issue of this.

A few legal loose ends remain to be tied up before Ray can be handed over to U.S. authorities. First the British must adjourn or drop the charges of passport forgery and carrying an unlicensed gun under which Ray has been held.

A hearing is scheduled at Bow Street Magistrates' Court Thursday. Although Ray does not necessarily have to be present, British lawyers said it would be legally risky to split him out of the country until the hearing is finished, in case either defense, prosecution or the magistrate wanted to question him in court.

Once this is wound up, Home Secretary James Callaghan can sign the extradition warrant on the order made July 2 by Chief Magistrate Frank Hilton, who also will preside at Thursday's hearing.

Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — James Earl Ray may be on his way back to the United States tonight or early Monday to face trial for the killing of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Ray cleared the way for his return by signing a declaration Tuesday that he did not want to appeal the order for his extradition issued by London's chief magistrate on July 2.

It was not known whether Ray's lawyers would deliver his statement to the Home Office or whether they would let the 14-day period for him to file an appeal expire this afternoon without taking further action.

In either case, Home Secretary James Callaghan could sign the order for Ray's extradition before midnight. He would then be delivered to the U.S. Justice Department for the transatlantic flight.

Informed sources said the journey would be made aboard a U.S. government plane or a chartered civil jet, with Ray under heavy guard.

Ray's American lawyer, Arthur J. Hanes of Birmingham, Ala., was due in London this morning. He may ask to accompany his client back to the United States, but U.S. officials indicated this request would be turned down.

Ray's decision not to appeal the extradition order came as a surprise after a routine court hearing Tuesday at which he sat quietly while his British lawyers agreed to have him held in prison another eight days on charges he entered Britain on a forged Canadian passport and carried an unlicensed gun.

These were the charges on which he was arrested June 8 at London Airport, ending a two-month worldwide search following the slaying of the civil rights leader April 4 in Memphis, Tenn.

Ray's British lawyers had been preparing an appeal based on the contention that King's slaying was a political crime and that Ray therefore could not be extradited under British law. A hearing on the appeal had been tentatively set for June 29 even though it had not yet been filed.

In his declaration saying he would submit to extradition, Ray wrote: "I have made this decision after considering all the facts, and I believe that this is the best course of action for me to adopt."

The declaration was signed "Damon George Sneyd," the alias on the passport Ray used and the name under which he was held in Britain.

People who talked to Ray recently in Wandsworth Jail said he had been growing restless and tired of waiting after months on the run.

They said he consistently claimed he is innocent of the killing.

Other possible factors in Ray's decision were British refusal to continue free legal aid for his appeal and the fact that, in preparation for the trial in Memphis, he and Hanes could talk only in the presence of British prison officials.

Last week Ray wrote a brother in the United States telling him to arrange an advance payment to Hanes. Then he remarked:

"I could appeal my extradition hearings, but I am getting tired of listening to these liars and I might close it up about Tuesday."

Ray's British lawyers knew about this letter and questioned him about his feelings. The "liars" he referred to apparently were the British police, who have quoted him as saying after his arrest, "Oh, God, I feel so trapped." Ray denied saying anything like that.

Since his arrest, about a dozen Scotland Yard detectives have been tracing his movements in London.

Police informants said the detectives found no evidence here that Ray was involved in any conspiracy.

The detectives believe Ray arrived in London on May 7 from Toronto, left for Lisbon, Portugal, on the same day and returned to London on May 17. He was traced to three separate hotels, all near major air terminals.

The investigation confirmed that Ray was trying to reach Africa, possibly to join a white mercenary unit or seek sanctuary in Rhodesia, which has no extradition agreement with the United States.

LONDON, AP -- James Earl Ray's appeal against extradition to the United States will open in the British High Court July 20, his British lawyer said today. The hearing is expected to last at least two days.

Ray, charged with assassinating Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., made a one-minute appearance in Bow Street Magistrate's Court today on the two charges on which he was arrested June 8 at London airport: using a forged passport and carrying an unlicensed gun.

Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Frank Wilton ordered him held in Wandsworth Prison for another seven days on the two charges. Ray said nothing.

Wilton, who last Tuesday ruled in favor of the U.S.

Government's extradition petition, asked defense attorney Michael Sugar when the appeal would be heard.

Sugar replied that the High Court had agreed to start the appeal hearing July 20 although the appeal itself has not been filed formally.

Ray's lawyers are preparing an appeal contending that King's assassination was a political crime, an offense that is not extraditable under British law. The appeal petition is not expected to be filed until the end of a 10-day grace period which begins July 10.

MEMPHIS--SECURITY PLANS FOR THE EXPECTED TRIAL OF ACCUSED ASSASSIN

RAY IS IN A LONDON JAIL FOLLOWING HIS ARREST THERE. HE IS APPEALING HIS EXTRADITION TO MEMPHIS TO FACE CHARGES OF MURDERING

THE TRIAL WILL BE HELD IN ONE OF THE FIVE SHELBY COUNTY CRIMINAL

HE SAID THERE WAS NO PLAN TO MAKE A CHRONOMIC FILM OF THE COURTROOM

He said he saw a man get into a small car and drive off, but he did not know if it was the same man who dropped the tin part of a rifle barrel.

Calcutt said first on the scene was a police patrolman named Bachary, who found in the bundle a pair of binoculars, a rifle with telescopic sight, a leather carrying case, a sack bearing the name York Arms Co., and nine cartridges. There were also some bullet articles.

A written affidavit from an FBI fingerprint expert, George Jacob Bonebrake said he was of the opinion that a rifle, Smith and Wesson's submitted to him bore "faint" prints.

"When the defendant presented two Canadian passports to the immigration officers, I was sitting by him," Birch said.

After arriving at the office, I made certain inquiries by telephone and, as a result of what I learned, I decided to search the defendant.

"Two men I knew as they were detained until the arrival of Detective Chief Supt. Thomas Butler and other officers."

These are police officers. I understand you have in your possession two passports under the names Enye and Enyeid. What is your name?

Q "I cannot understand why I am here. My name is Ineyi."

"Both passports show that you are a Canadian citizen born in Toronto on Oct. 3, 1932. Are these details correct?"

Associated Press Writer

SOURCE: James Earl Ray denied Saturday that he killed Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. fighting extradition to the United States to stand trial for the murder of the Negro civil rights leader. Ray professed innocence in New Street Magistrates Court.

The 40-year-old fugitive from the Missouri Penitentiary took the stand in his own defense after the U.S. government unveiled a carefully detailed case against him as "the single hand" in the assassination at the Lorraine Motel in Memphis, Tenn., April 4.

George Jacob Bonebrake, a fingerprint expert of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, testified he found Ray's prints on the rifle telescopic sight and binoculars that were dropped at the doorway of a room near the motel shortly after King was slain.

Under questioning by his court-appointed British attorney, Roger Brisky, Ray declared in a calm, steady drawl he had never met King and that he bore him no grudge.

"Did you kill Martin Luther King?" Brisky asked.

"No, sir," the prisoner replied.

Chief Magistrate Frank Milner presiding in a gray suit with lots of white cuff showing, later adjourned the hearing until next Tuesday. It is expected to be completed then. Ray went back to prison.

British lawyers retained by the United States told Milner six witnesses to the purchase of the rifle and of a disabled war veteran, Charles Stevens, 40, who said he heard the fatal shot fired from the common bathroom of a rooming house across South Main Street from the Lorraine Motel.

But Ray resisted moves to extradite him to stand trial for King's murder with all the legal ammunition provided by Britain's clouded extradition laws.

If the court's decision goes against him, Brisky is expected to appeal to a higher court on the ground that King's assassination was a political crime for which Britain does not permit extradition.

Brisky electrified the court by summoning Ray to the stand for a six-minute unsworn appearance.

"Call my client," he ordered.

Ray was formally addressed as James George Innes, the alias under which he is held here on charges of entering Britain on a forged Canadian passport.

He sat rather than stood in the witness box to make less of a target in any attempt on his life and Scotland Yard detectives clustered around him in a human screen. This was the exchange:

Brisky: Did you know Martin Luther King personally?

Ray: No, sir.

Brisky: Had you ever met him?

Ray: No, sir.

Brisky: Have you any kind of grudge against him?

Ray: No, sir.

Brisky: Did you kill Martin Luther King?

Ray: No, sir.

Asked by the court clerk to sign a summary of this for evidence, Ray turned to his lawyer and said: "You would sign it."

Ray went into his room, unlocked, and he found during the hearing that the lawyers didn't let him go to the toilet.

The U.S. government presented by British detective a full, full, full story. It took him one hour and a minute to tell the story.

 "It hardly ever went out and then only to buy food, late at night and aspirin," Mrs. Thomas said.
 "He seemed so ill and stayed in bed all day. He told me he had arrived on an early flight and was very tired. He seemed very nervous."
 The room assigned to Ray was at the rear of the ground floor.
 It looked out onto a tiny backyard surrounded by a wall. The wallpaper is patterned with peacocks and there are yellow drapes at the large partitioned window. A bathroom is in the corridor outside next door and two steps down.
 Mrs. Thomas said she only once got into the room while he was there. That was when Sam slipped out for aspirin. She found him under the bed and lifted up and he washed his arm shirt.
 When she brought him breakfast the first morning he refused to open the door and tell her to leave the tray outside. She asked him for the hotel register which she gave him to sign.
 He put it out later with the trash but she found he hadn't signed it.
 Mrs. Thomas said Sneyd had no visitors and only two people called both from a girl at British European Airways about postponed flight bookings to Germany.
 "Alan? Sneyd who he was when she spoke for Mr. Sneyd?" said Mrs. Thomas. "I said: 'Do you mean the Canadian?'
 And that was it."
 She telephoned Sneyd on Thursday and again on Friday. Mrs.
 Thomas pushed the messages under his door. He didn't open or answer.
 "He said he would be leaving Saturday," she said. "and I said to myself, Good riddance!"
 But she moved him upstairs to No. 2 for his last night in the Sun Hotel, because No. 1 had been booked for someone else.
 Sneyd paid his hotel check with a five pound note, the equivalent of six shillings went out for the first time through that un-anonymous-looking street door. He was arrested at Heathrow airport a few hours later.
 He was bound on flight for Brussels, not Germany. But Mrs. Thomas said she can't say why at night he'd go either place.
 At Heathrow airport police had Ray's name with a couple of others on their watch list, according to an informant at the Halifax station. But after Lady Patricia wrote the Home Office and the Ministry of Defence, they were removed from the list.
 Mrs. Thomas said she doesn't know where Ray was taken after he was arrested. She said she doesn't know where he was taken in the continent. Her son-in-law George

There was mystery about some of Snayd's earlier movements. London Airport officials first said he had been arrested upon flying in from Lisbon. Later they said he was outward bound for Brussels. Then Thomas said he had been intending to fly to Germany.

Reports from Lisbon showed the man known as Snayd had certainly been in Lisbon earlier. He was registered at the third category Hotel Portugal May 8 at 3 p.m. arriving from Lisbon Airport with a flight bag and a suitcase.

The hotel has only sleeping accommodations and no restaurant service.

He signed the register as James George Snayd 30, Canadian, without profession. The name spelling error in the surname also appeared on his passport and the Canadian Embassy in Lisbon said he noted this when he asked for a new passport there.

He stayed in room No. 2 on the first floor of the Hotel Portugal until May 17, when he left at 10 a.m. and paid 60.50 escudos or just over $2 per day.

The hotel staff said he usually went out about 10 each morning, often returning 15 and 15 hours later.

He appeared to have plenty of Portuguese currency and possibly ate his meals in local restaurants or bars.

The general impression Snayd gave the hotel staff was that of "a man of few words."

What he might have done in Portugal was not clear. But Ian Colvin, a reporter for the London Daily Telegraph who has close contacts with European groups recruiting foreign mercenaries in Africa, said he talked with a man calling himself James Snayd several times by telephone last Tuesday; the conversation gave a hint.

Colvin said: "When we first spoke, a Canadian or perhaps an American voice said to me: 'This is Raymond Snayd. I want to join my brother who has been in Portuguese Angola.'"

He has 10 brothers and sisters. None is known to be outside the United States.

Colvin said he called him again last Thursday and said, "this time he was more explicit. He said his brother was not missing but that he had not seen him for four months. It was not so much that he wanted to start a search for his brother, but he wished to become a mercenary in Africa himself."

Reports have circulated that some of the white mercenaries who fought in the Congo have now joined Portuguese forces battling guerrilla armies in its African territories.

There is a car not yet explained in Snayd's movements between May 17, when he left the hotel in Portugal and May 20 when he turned up at the New Paris Court Hotel in London.

This hotel is near the big Paris Court stadium in West London, scene of Billy Graham's ritual crusades. It is in an area thickly dotted with hotels, large and small, charging moderate prices.

The population of Paris Court is cosmopolitan.

Here Londoners rub shoulders with Australians and New Zealanders, Canadians, Indians and Pakistanis, Negroes from Africa or Jamaica. It is a shifting population of students and workers. No one stays very long, and everyone minds his own business.

The New Paris Court Hotel is where Snayd first May 20 to last Wednesday, when something apparently alarmed him and he shifted a couple of miles east to the even greater anonymity of Lincoln's Inn Hotel.

At the New Paris Court, which is usually full, Snayd had room 10, 94, a third-floor single.

June Masson, 21-year-old receptionist, remembers Snayd as "very quiet, nervous, pathetically shy and unsure of himself." She said he had no visitors at the hotel and no telephone messages. Because the hotel only serves breakfasts, he went out for his meals. He took breakfast in the hotel dining room with other guests.

June Masson said Snayd signed the hotel register but she could not show it because the police had taken it away.

The New Paris Court Hotel, like the Ritz, is near an air terminal. Only a few minutes away is the big air terminal of British European Airways, departure and arrival point for all European flights.

 Ray left for London at 11:15 a.m. total 1,250

 Associated Press writer

London — The U.S. government obtained Monday night a provisional British warrant charging James Earl Ray with the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., clearing ground for a formal application in the next day or two for Ray's return to the United States.

The move followed a calm and unassuming appearance by Ray at a perfunctory, two-minute British court session during which he was assigned a British lawyer in what legal experts said could be his first move to fight extradition for trial.

It was the first bit of legal sparring in a case capable of spiralling into months of argument if the suspect contests the U.S. Justice Department request to extradite him "very soon." Legal sources said the earliest possible date for Ray's return would be June 22, but arguments could run into August if there is a battle.

Quick movement was already delayed Monday when Ray, 40, was ordered held without bail by Chief Magistrate Frank Wilton, for a hearing June 16. The issuance of the warrant followed.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Gen. Fred M. Vinson Jr., is expected to make formal application to Britain's home secretary for extradition as soon as he receives the necessary documentation from the United States.

The home secretary, James Callaghan, will forward the application to the chief magistrate at Bow Street Court who will consider whether the documentary evidence submitted by Vinson would be substantial for extradition. The application is expected to reach the court on Tuesday.

Ray will then have 15 days to apply for a writ of habeas corpus. Under British law and the 1935 treaty of extradition between Britain and the United States, the home secretary cannot surrender Ray to U.S. authorities before 15 days have passed.

Security measures so tight that even lawyers submitted to frisking, were in effect when Ray, hunky and straight shouldered, was brought into court Monday. No one except the police and local officers had seen Ray since his arrest Saturday when he tried to board a plane for Brussels.

Under the name Sneyd, Ray was charged with using a false passport with that name and carrying an unlicensed, loaded gun. There was no mention in court of the name Ray or of the American charges against him.

Sitting a few feet from the suspect was Vinson, who went directly from the court to a second day of consultations with British officials in his effort to speed up Ray's extradition.

U.S. legal officials in London had said earlier "the process toward extradition is already in motion and we hope to get him back to the United States very soon."

Ray is sought on an American federal warrant charging that he took part in a conspiracy to deprive King of his civil rights. He is also charged by a Tennessee court with first-degree murder in the slaying of King in Memphis April 4.

The suspect was flanked by two policemen as he faced the bench. For security reasons, Ray did not mount the raised witness stand. A cordon of police stood between him and the gallery in back of the room, providing a human shield against any possible attempt on Ray's life.

A score of policemen stood against the walls, eyeing the spectators, who included a few Negroes and four women.

1960s style: a man in a suit and tie

Ray looked the picture of holiday weather-well tanned. His straight black hair combed back and lined with gray at the temples. He wore a dark blue suit with brown shoes and a blue shirt. He stood quietly with his hands folded behind his back. He didn't turn his head, and seemed to ignore the 100 or so newsmen, police and spectators crammed into the back of the court.

Detective Superintendent Thomas Butler, in a low voice, named Ray as Sneyd and listed the charges. He then asked for a "remand" that Ray be held in custody until June 12. This is a normal procedure used while the British prosecution prepares its case.

The judge accepted Ray's written application for a lawyer, who was later named as Michael Dresden. His office refused to comment on the case.

Before Ray left the court, Milton asked in a barely audible voice if he wanted legal restrictions on press coverage lifted.

Ray replied firmly: "No, sir."

Milton then asked Ray: "Do you have anything to say?"

Again, the firm answer: "No, sir."

Milton ordered Ray held for a further hearing next Tuesday and the prisoner was swiftly escorted out of the courtroom and into a van believed headed to the top security Brixton Prison.

About 500 spectators and newsmen had lined up for more than two hours in the warm sunshine before the great oak doors to Bow Street Court swung open just after 10 a.m. The crowd surged forward but was blocked by a dozen plain-clothesmen.

The onlookers and newsmen were admitted one by one and searched from head to toe for concealed weapons. Only the first 100 were admitted. The rest, including flower sellers from neighboring Covent Gardens and a few pin-striped businessmen, had to wait outside.

The warrant granted by the Bow Street Court will be served on Ray, arrested here under the name Ramon George Sneyd, by British police in his prison cell.

It is expected that Ray will be moved from Brixton Prison where he is now held to Wandsworth Prison later this week. This move is being made so that two police officers may be stationed in Ray's cell to keep a 24-hour watch on him.

Under the regime at Wandsworth Prison, Ray will be permitted to wear his own clothes and buy his own food. He will not be required to work and limited visiting privileges will be granted, principally to permit him to see his attorney.

It is expected that the application for an extradition order will be made both on the charge of murder and that of robbery for which he was serving a sentence in Missouri State penitentiary when he escaped.

Vinson is expected to produce a certificate from the warden of the Missouri Penitentiary that Ray is an escaped prisoner, and additional documentation from Tennessee on the murder charge.

The extradition proceedings will be held in open court.
Normally, the documentation submitted would be read in court.

Legal sources expect Ray to ask for a new team of attorneys to defend him on the extradition request. The attorneys then would be likely to ask for time to study the case.

If convicted on a charge of entering Britain illegally, Ray could simply be deported. However, legal experts here say there is a strong tradition against using this measure as a substitute for extradition.

The 15-day period following the extradition hearing is designed to permit an appeal to the High Court. This presumably could be dealt with quickly by the High Court, but if Ray's attorneys raised a point of law a further appeal could be made to the House of Lords.

The extradition treaty provides that a person shall not be surrendered for a "political offense." This might form a possible basis for appeal on Ray's behalf.

As Ray appeared in court, rigs and pieces emerged of the life he led while on the run. Ray entered Canada April 9, spent until May 5 in Toronto, then left aboard a BOAC plane for London. He went from there to Lisbon May 6, and stayed in the Portuguese capital until May 17.

It is believed he then returned to London, traveling on the Canadian passport he obtained in Lisbon. He had received one earlier in Toronto by applying through the mails, using the name of Sneyd, a Toronto constable. But Ray did not reappear until May 23 in London.

He apparently had an idea of going on to Brussels, where he thought he might join a mercenary army and ship out to Africa. This supposition grew out of the report of a British journalist, Ian Colvan, who said a man identifying himself as Ramon Sneyd questioned him by telephone last week about joining a mercenary group.

Police in Toronto, London and Lisbon were directing their investigations toward determining if Ray had assistance people who might have known him or helped him.

In Toronto, a spokesman for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police said there was no definite indication that Ray had any contacts during the month he spent in the city.

This followed a report that Mrs. Ann Lee, the owner of a rooming house in which he stayed, said that she saw a "fat man" pass a small envelope to Ray about four days before he flew to London. Ray got the envelope on the day his rent was due and the day he paid $2.45 for an excursion flight ticket to London.

The RCMP spokesman said preliminary investigation showed that the man who delivered the package did not know Ray and was simply making a delivery. "Every effort is being made to trace this man, but so far there is no indication as to who he is," the spokesman said.

Toronto Metropolitan police dismissed another report that a blonde woman, calling herself "Sneyd's aunt," picked up a birth certificate for him at a provincial registrar's office.
Waiters at a bar in Toronto's West End said they remember seeing Ray drinking beer and watching go-go girls on at least three occasions. He is also remembered at two pool halls where customers said he used to shoot a game.

 TORONTO 11 - People who encountered James Earl Ray in Toronto last month he spent in Canada after the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. say he once was handed an envelope by a fat man and that he visited a bar several times to drink beer and watch go-go dancers. Mrs. Yoo Sun Loo, Ray's landlady at one of two Toronto rooming houses where he stayed, said the fat man was the only visitor who suggested Ray had a job. Ray got the envelope on the day his $8-a-week rent was due and the day he paid a Toronto travel agency $345 for a round trip air ticket to London. Ray arrived in London in mid-May and was arrested there Saturday.

A spokesman for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police said, however, detectives were not convinced that Ray was helped by accomplices while in Toronto.

"On the contrary, the only indication of that is that one man delivered an envelope and left," the spokesman said. "It may have been mail or something from a travel bureau."

Landlady of two Toronto rooming houses said he showed up but walked away when asked to shoot a game.

Two waiters at the Silver Dollar Bar in the Beverly Hotel said they saw Ray sitting at a front-bar table, drinking beer and watching the go-go dancers.

It was believed that Ray was at the bar with another man for two or three consecutive nights between April 20 and May 2.

A blonde dancer also said she had seen Ray. She said another dancer, Betty Stanford, pointed him out.

The dancer described the man with Ray as fair complexioned, husky and wearing a yellow T-shirt.

Of Ray, she said: "He looked at me. It wasn't the way a man looks at a girl. It was . . . sort of like he didn't approve."

"The first night I smiled at him. He looked kind of disgusted."

Police said Ray may have spent two months in Montreal last summer. They said a man resembling Ray and using the name of Eric Starvo Galt, one of Ray's aliases, checked into a Montreal rooming house early in July and stayed until early September.

The janitor of the rooming house, they said, identified Ray from photographs and said he thought at the time that Ray was an American tourist visiting Expo 67.

LONDON, AP -- The British government started speedy official action on a formal U.S. request Wednesday for the extradition of James Earl Ray, a stand trial in Tennessee for the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

By the end of the day the application had cleared its first legal hurdle at the British Foreign Office.

But court formalities and appeals, if the 40-year-old escaped convict chooses to use them, could delay Ray's return up to six weeks, or even longer should the case take some unexpected turn.

U.S. officials, headed by Asst. Atty. Gen. Fred M. Vinson Jr., chief of the Justice Department's criminal divisions, beat their self-imposed deadline for handing in the petition by one day.

But parts of the petition, which was at least an inch thick when it was handed in to the Foreign Office by U.S. Consul General Jack Dorfert, apparently had been readied in advance of Ray's arrest last Saturday at London Airport as he tried to board a plane for Brussels.

The petition contained a summary of some of the evidence against Ray in King's murder at a Memphis motel April 4.

It also contained information on his escape from the Missouri State Prison while serving an armed robbery charge.

The U.S. government is seeking extradition on both counts and must satisfy a British judge that both would also be crimes under British as well as U.S. law.

The petition also contains fingerprints and other material to identify Ray as the man now being held under round-the-clock guard in London's Wandsworth Prison. Officially he is being held here as Ramon George Sneyd, travelling under a Canadian passport issued in that name and charged with passport offenses as well as carrying a loaded gun.

Within hours after receiving the petition, the Foreign Office certified that the request fell within the terms of the 1931 extradition treaty between the two countries.

It then was sent to the Home Office, roughly comparable to the U.S. Justice Department. There lawyers started a preliminary screening to ensure it established a case against Ray, as required by British law.

The Home Office said that if the petition is in order it should be in the hands of Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Frank Milton sometime Thursday.

London (AP) — Scotland Yard delved today into the mysteries of James Earl Ray's stay in Britain as U.S. officials worked on leads here for the extradition of the man accused of killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Ray has been traced to two London hotels between May 20 and his arrest Saturday, but there is an unexplained gap of about 10 days, starting May 17 when he sold his gun.

FBI agents were understood to be working with Scotland Yard detectives, but British police are doing the spookwork since the FBI has no legal authority in foreign countries. Police on both sides of the Atlantic are trying to untangle Ray's travels, which took him to Canada, Britain and Portugal after his arrest April 4.

Ray was transferred Tuesday to a maximum security cell in Wandsworth Prison because Brixton Jail on London's South side was not considered secure enough.

Extradition proceedings could last two months if the 40-year-old escaped convict fights all the way through the British courts.

As a first step, American authorities have obtained a provisional British warrant charging Ray with the murder of King in Memphis, Tenn. A State Department spokesman in Washington said documents to support the extradition request "will be transmitted to London shortly."

The British police are holding Ray on charges of using a forged passport and carrying a loaded gun. On Scotland Yard's records he is officially listed as Ramon George Sneyd, the name on his Canadian passport.

U.S. officials have not tried to question Ray to avoid legal complications resulting from Supreme Court decisions in recent years. And now that he has been charged under British law, Scotland Yard cannot interrogate him outside a courtroom.

While British police were trying to ascertain whether Ray had any contacts in London, detection in Toronto went searching for a short blond man who reportedly came looking for Ray in a rooming house three or four days after the murder flew to London.

The landlady, Mrs. Fain Wankowicz, told police about the caller, the second Ray reportedly had during his month-long stay in Toronto after the assassination of King. The first was an unidentified fat man who was reported to have called on Ray at another rooming house.

Mrs. Wankowicz said the blond caller presented a police identification card, but both the mounted police and the Toronto police said he was not a policeman.

Toronto detectives also questioned Samuel Marshall, an assistant manager of a supermarket who claimed he saw a man resembling Ray in his store on April 22. Marshall reportedly told police the man asked for employment but left when the store manager approached.

An employee in a vacuuming store told Toronto police a man who resembled Ray bought two galley-type vacuum cleaners and paid the $10 price in quarters. A woman who operates a variety store near one of the rooming houses where Ray stayed said he bought cigarettes there.

Mrs. Sun Woo, Ray's other landlady, was reported to have found in his room after he left for London on Sunday overnight bag, six rolls of film, a photographic light meter in a small empty strongbox, a bag of Toronto, three girls' magazines, three empty beer bottles and a dirty white shirt.

The Atlanta, Ga., Constitution, in a copyright article, said that an apartment manager in the Southern city's hippie district reported a man using the name Eric Starvo Galt stayed in his building for more than a week prior to the slaying of King. The name is one of the aliases used by Ray, which was caught by the FBI.

The manager said the man "looked more like a preacher than a convict" and escaped June 12.

LONDON, AP — U.S. legal experts agreed today on plans to take James Earl Ray quickly and secretly to the United States for trial while police on both sides of the Atlantic continued their investigation to learn whether Ray had help in his four-nation flight.

American authorities took the first formal step toward extradition today when they agreed on a plan to take Ray to the United States for trial.

Some legal experts suggested the British government might speed up the process by deporting Ray as an undesirable alien. But other lawyers said there is a strong tradition against using this procedure as a substitute for extradition.

The 40-year-old escaped convict was held in Brixton Prison after his two-minute appearance Monday in Bow Street Court on charges of carrying a forged passport and a loaded gun, the charges on which he was arrested at London Airport Saturday under the name of Ramon George Sneyd.

Police equipped with walkie-talkies threw a cordon around the prison and blocked all roads leading to it. Unauthorized persons were kept at least 150 yards away.

Scotland Yard was reported planning to move Ray from Brixton, three miles south of downtown London, to Wandsworth, a jail in a western suburb. Security at Wandsworth has been tightened since Ronald Arthur Briggs, one of the Great Train Robbers, disappeared over the wall there four years ago.

Ray at his first court appearance Monday was assigned a British lawyer at his own request and ordered held without bail for another hearing June 10 on the passport and gun charges.

If extradition proceedings are brought, the court will require evidence of a case against Ray and he will then have 15 days to appeal to the High Court. If Ray's lawyers raised points of law there, a further appeal might be made to the House of Lords and the process could take months.

Some experts saw a precedent for the deportation of Ray in the case of Robert Soblen, who fled from the United States to Israel in 1962 after being sentenced to life imprisonment on charges that he was a Soviet spy. En route back to America, he stabbed himself and was taken off a plane at London for treatment.

The British government ordered Soblen out of the country as an undesirable alien and an appeal confirmed the move legal. But Soblen took poison while being sent to the airport and died.

In the two months American authorities searched for Ray following King's assassination April 4 in Memphis, Tenn., he went from the United States to Canada on April 8, to London May 1 and to Lisbon May 3. He left his Lisbon hotel on May 17 and surfaced again in London on May 23.

Police in those countries sought anyone who might have known or helped Ray, and authorities in Canada also tried to learn how Ray obtained information on the three Toronto men whose names he used as aliases.

All three men have dark hair and are about the same height and weight as Ray.

Ramon George Sneyd, whose name Ray used on his passport, is a Toronto constable. Paul Bridgman, whose name Ray used at the Toronto Zooning office, is a consultant teacher with the Toronto board of education.

Ray first was sought under the name Eric Starvo Galt. Eric St. Vincent Galt, a Toronto warehouse foreman, has a signature which looks like Eric Starvo Galt. He uses the middle initials St. V., but with small zeros instead of periods. Galt and Ray have similar scars, in the middle of the forehead and on the palm of the right hand.

In Magistrate Court, neither the magistrate nor the attorney wear wigs and gowns as they do in higher British courts.

Chief Magistrate Milson, a soft-spoken man with thin white hair and glasses, wore a gray suit with hints of white cuff showing. He spoke little. When the gun taken from Ray at the time of his arrest was passed up to him he did not bother to touch it.

The courtroom is paneled in oak and lit by 10 electric lights in round white globes hanging from the ceiling. There is a skylight, but it is boarded and apparently impervious to sunlight if there is any.

Old Street is nearly 300 years old. It got his name because it is supposed to be shaped like a bent bow.

The first police court was established there in 1649. Henry Fielding, the novelist who wrote "Tom Jones," was the first magistrate.

SYNOPSIS
BY 416087 400

Associated Press Writer

LONDON, AP -- "Oh, God--I feel so trapped."

Those words, quoted by Detective Chief Supt. Thomas Butler of Scotland Yard in a deceptively calm voice, were the dramatic high point of James Earl Ray's extradition hearing in Bow Street Magistrate's Court today.

There was a murmur among spectators packed at the back of the court. A dozen plain-clothed policemen stationed in the court jolted to attention. Ray's left hand drifted to the back of his head and tatted his dark hair.

The grave-looking detective was explaining to Chief Magistrate Frank Milton how the man accused of assassinating Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Memphis, Tenn., April 4 reacted when he was told soon after his arrest here June 8 that he was suspected.

Butler said he spoke to Ray in his prison cell soon after his arrest. He said he told him, "I now believe your name is not George Sneyd, but James Earl Ray; that you are also known as Eric Starvo Galt and by other names and that you are wanted at present in the United States for various criminal offenses including murder in which a firearm was used."

Butler testified the prisoner, who had been standing, suddenly slumped down on the seat behind him and he put his head in his hands and said: "Oh God."

"After a moment or so, he said: 'I feel so trapped.'"

Butler said he cautioned Ray that any statement he made could be used in evidence in subsequent court proceedings.

By reply, he said: "Well, yes. I should not say anything more now. I cannot think right."

Ray wore heavy horn-rimmed glasses in court. He was not handcuffed and he occasionally rolled his arms.

After the scene in his prison cell was recalled to him by Butler his hands became more active, tapping the desk in front of him and pulling his rather prominent ears.

The Bow Street Court, adjoining the Bow Street Police Station, and four magistrates' normally, the flow of humanity through the four court rooms in the building consists largely of what a chief magistrate once described as "melancholy procession of drunks" and many prostitutes.

The court corresponds to an American police court and its jurisdiction includes the houses of Parliament, Whitehall, Buckingham Palace, Lincoln's Inn and part of Regent's Park.

However, there are some matters in which the chief magistrate at Bow Street has exclusive jurisdiction throughout Britain. One of these is extradition. Others are deportation and the issuance of licenses to take children abroad for adoption.

That is why James Earl Ray is having his future decided there.

AS RAY STOOD SHOWING NO APPARENT EMOTION -- IN THE PRISONER'S SOCK, CALCUTT LOOKED AT HIM AND SAID: "THIS TRAGIC DEATH WAS THE WORK OF THIS CRIMINAL."

CALCUTT DESCRIBED THE CRIME AS "THE WORKING OF A SINGLE HAND." ONE HUNDRED POLICEMEN GUARDED RAY AT THE HEARING. HE RODE TO THE COURT IN A BLACK POLICE PADDED WAGON.

A SCOTLAND YARD DETECTIVE TESTIFIED THAT RAY ADMITTED HE WAS AN AMERICAN ALTHOUGH HE CARRIED TWO CANADIAN PASSPORTS WHEN HE WAS PICKED UP.

ROGER FRISBY, THE BRITISH ATTORNEY REPRESENTING RAY, INDICATED BY HIS CROSS QUESTIONING THAT HE WOULD TRY TO ESTABLISH THE KING ASSASSINATION WAS A POLITICAL CRIME.

POLITICAL CRIMES ARE NOT COVERED BY THE EXTRADITION TREATY BETWEEN BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES.

LONDON May 21 1044 add: to Eas.

The 20-year-old accused convict was brought into the court today to hear Calcutt outline the U.S. government's case for his extradition.

With two British lawyers to defend him, Ray was expected to fight extradition and appeal to the High Court if Milton ruled that he should be returned to the United States. This would extend the process for weeks.

It was Ray's third court appearance under the alias of Raymond George Sneyd, the name on the Canadian passport he was carrying when he was arrested June 1 at London airport. His two previous trips to Bow Street for preliminary hearings had been brief, and the proceedings today provided the first extensive look at the U.S. government's case against him. According to Ray or Sneyd, Calcutt gave the court this account:

On March 22, six days before Ray was killed in Memphis, Tenn., Ray went to a store in Birmingham, Eng., kept by a Mr. Wood and bought a rifle with telescopic sights and ammunition. There was another customer in the shop at the time.

The following day Ray was not satisfied and wanted to change the rifle, he took instead a Remington 760 which had telescopic sights attached to it. He also bought and took away a box of ammunition and a box which was not the right box for that particular gun.

On April 5, Sneyd Ray booked in at the Fox Hotel, Manor Hotel at Memphis. The lawyer continued: "On the following day he checked out of the hotel and on that day in Memphis he bought a pair of binoculars."

Also on that day, Calcutt said, Ray was in Memphis staying at the Fox Hotel.

Calcutt outlined the story: four plainclothes detectives sat on a bench facing newsmen and the public gallery. All members of the public had been searched as they came into court.

Ray sat in front of the prisoner's dock with a detective on either side of him.

HE SAID THAT AT FOUR P.M. APRIL 4 THE DEFENDANT WENT TO 424 1/2 SOUTH MAIN STREET, MEMPHIS, WHERE ACCOMMODATION WAS AVAILABLE, AND BOOKED A ROOM.

THE ATTORNEY TOLD THE COURT THAT THE DEFENDANT WAS SEEN BY A WITNESS--HE NAMED HIM AS MR. STEVENS--WHO OCCUPIED THE NEXT ROOM.

Calcutt said the defendant left in a hurry, leaving binoculars in his room. When he got out of the hotel entrance, he turned left and dropped his kit of rifle, sights and binoculars in the doorway.

"He then made off in a car waiting nearby," Calcutt said. The Memphis police took possession of the rifle and binoculars. They say the defendant's fingerprints were on them, he added.

"These tie in with the defendant's photo picture and fingerprints," Calcutt said. "The bullet which killed Dr. King was examined when recovered and there is a strong likelihood that the bullet came from the rifle found by the police."

"It is also likely that the stamp found in his room belonged to the binoculars found with the rifle."

Calcutt said that in September 1969 Ray or Enay, as he still called him, was convicted of armed robbery.

"He was sentenced to 20 years imprisonment," he said.

"But on April 23, 1967, he escaped from the Missouri State Penitentiary with 13 years of his sentence left to serve."

Calcutt then read extracts from written testimony by Frederick Williamson, a director of the Corrections Department of the Missouri Penitentiary. He produced photographs and fingerprints and said:

"I do say the man in these photos from this records office is the man before you today."

LONDON--(AP) James Earl Ray's fingerprints were found on the rifle which U.S. police believe was used to kill Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., a British lawyer representing the U.S. government told London's chief magistrate today in asking for Ray's extradition.

The lawyer, David Calcutt, told Magistrate Frank Milton that Ray's fingerprints were found on a rifle which police recovered after King was shot.

"The bullet which killed Dr. King was examined when recovered," he continued, "and there is a strong likelihood that the bullet came from the rifle found by the police."

Calcutt told the crowded Bow Street Court that King was the victim of "a calculated, brutal and senseless murder—a murder that was bitter with irony."

Donahoe was visited by FBI agents on April 16 and shown pictures of seven white men. He identified one as being the man who bought the rifle. Colcott said.

On April 4, Stevens said, he saw and heard a man standing with the managers of the apartment building, Mrs. Beaulieu Brown, near Apartment C which was just down the hall from his. He assumed the man was looking for a room.

On April 24, Stevens said he identified an individual wanted profile as very much like the man he had seen. His apartment was next to the common bathroom, his statement continued. After going the strange man with Mrs. Brander, he had come in from the bathroom and had been talking to it.

During breakfast and heard that leaving and going past my room and into the bedroom bathroom at the end of the hallway. Several girls went on. Q About a minute after hearing the shot I went to my door and opened it. The bathroom door was open. Then I went to the hall. I saw a man running after the end of the hallway.

He was carrying a bundle in his right hand. It was at least three or four feet long and six to eight inches thick. It was wrapped in what looked like newspaper.

Ray, 40, was born in Mississippi. He was arrested in London on June 8, 1968, on charges of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Memphis, Tennessee, on April 4, 1968. Ray's British attorney, Roger Frisbee, indicated in his first appearance in court that the 40-year-old escaped convict would fight extradition. The lawyer asked Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Frank Milton for as much time as possible to prepare his case. Milton said he wanted to hold the hearing as soon as possible and was compromised on Thursday of next week. British extradition hearings usually last a day or two, and the magistrate generally gives his decision as soon as he hears all the evidence. Ray was brought to Bow Street today for the second time since his arrest 10 days ago. The magistrate ordered him returned to Wandsworth Prison. Two attorneys from Birmingham, Ala., Arthur J. Hanes and his son Arthur Jr., are expected in London Wednesday to assist Ray's British attorney. The hearing, 5th Ave 1044, 2049.

LONDON (AP) — Arthur J. Hanes, an Alabama lawyer, said today he has accepted the case of defending James Earl Ray against charges of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the Negro civil rights leader.

The former mayor of Birmingham, Ala., said he is unlikely to be allowed to see Ray, who is being held in the former death cell at London's Wandsworth Prison pending an extradition hearing at Bow Street Magistrates' Court June 27.

Hanes refused any comment on the extradition issue, which is being handled by a British law firm appointed by the court. The British lawyers are planning Hanes at a news conference, but followed British legal rules by refusing to answer any questions on the case.

"I have been formally retained by this man," Hanes said. "I have said word to me. As of now I will be his lawyer. He retained me in the event that he is extradited."

Under the U.S.-British extradition treaty, political grounds are a principal reason for granting asylum to anyone and barring extradition.

Ray was in the murky courtroom under heavy guard and heard a Scotland Yard detective testify that shortly after he was caught he collapsed in his cell moaning: "My God, I feel so trapped."

Attorney Roger Brisky closely questioned an American witness in an effort to get statements about King's political involvement into the court record.

At one point the witness, George Jacob Bonebrake, an FBI fingerprint expert, admitted under questioning that there had been a certain amount of alibi for King in the United States.

WOMEN Take 2 Ray 4019: story 410

The lawyers were dressed in business suits, and so was the magistrate. There were the traditional British lawyers' wigs because procedure and traditions in this police court are more informal. Ray wore the same dark blue checked sports jacket in which he had appeared briefly in the same court trial before. He wore no tie with his dark blue sports shirt.

This was Calcutta's version of the evidence against Ray, drawn from the documents submitted by the U.S. Embassy.

On March 29 Ray went into the Loko Marine Supply Co. in Birmingham, Ala., and bought a rifle with a telescopic sight from Donald Hood, the son of the owner.

The next day he came back and exchanged it for a Remington 760 rifle, serial No. 46475, with a telescopic sight numbered 119220.

John Deshazo of Montgomery, Ala., another customer in the store, told FBI agents later that Ray - or a man he tentatively identified as Ray through pictures - had bought a rifle and said he was going hunting in Mississippi with his brother or brother-in-law.

On April 8, according to a sworn statement by receptionist
Henrietta Hargreaves, Ray booked into the new Rebel Motor Hotel in Memphis. Then he went to a Memphis store run by a Mr. York and bought a pair of Bushnell binoculars numbered 440666 with a case and straps in a yellow and black box, and wrapped in a gray-blue paper bag. He got a receipt for $41.96.

The next affidavit came from Giovanni, one of the government's key witnesses. On the day of King's death, he was living with his common law wife in apartment 5B of the rooming house on 422 1/2 South Main St., Memphis, which from the rear faced the hotel where King was shot.

On that day, he said, he saw the man, George, Bessie Hargreaves, standing near apartment 5B, just down the hall from his.
An unidentified man, Steven, apartment was next to the common bathroom, separated from his kitchen by only a thin plywood partition.

Stevens, who spent most of his time in bed, said he heard explosions on April 4 coming from apartment 5B to the bathroom.

The affidavit continued:

"On the first couple of times, he did not stay long. On the third time the person stayed there what seemed like a long time toward the end of the afternoon between 5 and 6 p.m. I wanted to use the toilet.

"I was in my kitchen working on a travel radio when I heard a shot. I could tell that it came from the bathroom because it was very loud.

"Then I heard voices yelling and hollering in the Lorraine Hotel. I went out and saw a man running and carrying a bundle about three or four feet long and six or eight inches thick, wrapped in newspaper. Although I didn't get a close look, I think it was the same man I saw earlier with Mrs. Brown."

Butler said he later saw the man in a cell with Chief Inspector Thompson in a cell at Cannon Row. He told him: "As a result of inquiries made since you were detained, we have very good reason to believe that you are not a Canadian citizen but an American."

The defendant was said to have replied: "Oh well, you know, and posted in court."

Butler continued: "I now believe your name is not James Earl Ray, also known as Eric Starvo Galt and other names, and that you are wanted in the United States for serious offenses, including murder in which a firearm was used."

Butler continued: "I now believe your name is not James Earl Ray, also known as Eric Starvo Galt and other names, and that you are wanted in the United States for serious offenses, including murder in which a firearm was used."

Butler told the court this statement had a dramatic effect.

"The accused had been standing up," he said. "But at this he suddenly slumped down on the seat behind him and he put his head in his hands and said: 'Oh God...'"

After a moment or so, he added:

Before the police officers testified about Ray's arrest, Magistrate Frank Milton broke in to say that the defendant would be held in custody until July 5 on the two British charges against him—using a forged passport and carrying a firearm without authorization.

It has been generally understood that these holding charges will probably be dropped altogether if extradition is approved.

However, the fact that the magistrate set the date of July 5 seemed to indicate no quick ending to the extradition proceedings.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. 27 — Tennessee officials who will be concerned with the safety of James Earl Ray if he is tried on a charge of killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., concurred Wednesday with officials in Dallas, Tex.

It was in Dallas that Lee Harvey Oswald was shot and killed by Jack Ruby while under arrest in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The Tennessee officials who made the trip to Texas were Sheriff William L. Morris of Shelby County, State Dist. Atty. Lloyd Boies, Charles Collier, the sheriff's press liaison officer, and Oscar Edwards, an attaché of the Shelby County Quarterly Court.

Boies told newsmen the discussions involved security for Ray "only indirectly" and that "no further comment can be made at this time."

An FBI expert, George Jacob Bonbrake, had testified that latent fingerprints were found on a rifle and binoculars discarded in a alley doorway after King was killed at the Lorraine Motel in Memphis, Tenn., April 4.

"I found one print on the rifle and one on the sight and also on the binoculars," Bonbrake said. "I compared them for fingerprints of James Earl Ray in the Los Angeles Police file. I found that they belonged to one and the same individual."

Ray's lawyer indicated he would seek to have Ray free extradition by contending that the assassination of King was a political crime.

Ray said he did not like the British. He was angry at the British and did not wear handcuffs as he wanted the British to know that. He had been in the British prison and he had been with his British friend, Roger Parris.

1122
Frisby said he did not know Ray whether took the usual oath or affirmed, meaning taking the oath without invoking God.

1123
His tactic went that, under British legal procedure, Ray could not be cross-examined by the British, the British attorney said.

1124
Fearing a walk out and heavy brown-faced glances, Ray answered a series of questions from his lawyer. He agreed that he was the man arrested at London Airport June 9.

1125
He said he had never met Dr. King and bore him no grudge.

1126
"Did you kill Dr. King?"

1127
"No sir," Ray replied.

1128
Again on his counsel's advice, Ray said he did not wish to sign the court recording of his testimony.

1129
The Bow Street Magistrates Court adjourned then until next Tuesday, when the hearing is expected to end.

1130
Ray was sent back to prison.

1131
Silent through presentation of the prosecution's case, Ray declared at the wrap-up of that phase of the hearing that "parts of some of the testimony are false and some are exaggerated."

1132
"I would like to disagree with them and say something about this," he said.

1133
Chief Magistrate Frank Hilton had advised him about his right to call witnesses and give testimony in his own behalf.

1134
Then the court resumed Frisby said Ray disagreed with many of the facts given by Detective Chief Supt. Thomas Butler of Scotland Yard.

1135
In a dramatic high point of the hearing, Butler had testified that, on hearing in his prison cell that the police identified him as an American wanted for a killing rather than as Canadian George Sneyd, his alias, Ray slumped into a seat and said:

1136
"Oh God... I feel so trapped."

1137
Frisby said Ray wished in particular "to state most emphatically that he did not make the observation: 'I feel so trapped.'"

1138
"Nor did he say 'Oh God,' nor did he collapse on the seat in the manner which the chief superintendent described," Frisby said.

1139
In court maneuvering, Frisby raised the matter of King's involvement in American politics. He questioned Bonbrake closely about this in an effort to get statements about such political involvement in the record.

1140
The FBI agent admitted under questioning that there had been a certain amount of dislike for King in the United States.

1141
Peter Hopkirk, a correspondent of the London Times, appeared for the defense on a subpoena.

1142
Hopkirk said he was in the United States in April covering the presidential primaries. He went to Memphis the morning after King was killed and spent four or five days there inquiring into his death.

1143
"It was no secret that he was disliked by many white people living in the South," Hopkirk said.

1144
Bonbrake said on cross and lead 1577-050.

LONDON — The next round in the legal battle to extradite the accused assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to the United States for trial has been set for Britain's high court on July 29.

The British lawyer for James Earl Ray, the fugitive convict accused of King's murder, announced the date in Magistrates Court Tuesday while Ray was making a routine, one-minute appearance on British charges against him.

Magistrate Frank Milton asked Defense Attorney Michael Eugene Whither the date for Ray's appeal had been set. Told it had been, he ordered Ray back to Wandsworth Prison for another week.

Ray is to appear again next Tuesday for a similar hearing and probably will be returned to prison on British charges of entering the country on a forged Canadian passport and carrying an unlicensed gun.

These have in effect developed into holding charges, and the police are expected to drop them if Ray is extradited.

Milton ordered the extradition on July 2 but Ray's lawyers there announced they would appeal on the grounds that King's assassination was a political crime and therefore extradition was barred under British law.

The high court hearing is expected to last about two days and will be largely a rehearing of the arguments presented to Magistrate Milton. But the lawyers probably will concentrate more on the legal technicalities of the case. If as expected the decision goes against Ray, he can still appeal to the house of lords—but only if the appeal court or the lords decide he has a point of law on which to base an appeal.

If the lords—Britain's highest court—refuse to hear a further appeal, Ray probably would be sent back to the United States around the beginning of August.

LONDON — JAMES EARL RAY COULD BE EXTRADITED TO THE U.S. AS EARLY AS THE FIRST WEEK IN AUGUST TO STAND TRIAL FOR THE SLAYING OF MARTIN LUTHER KING, LEGAL SOURCES SAID TODAY.

A HEARING ON RAY'S APPEAL AGAINST THE EXTRADITION ORDER HAD BEEN SET FOR JULY 29.

THREE JUSTICES OF THE QUEEN'S BENCH DIVISIONAL COURT OF THE HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE WILL HEAR RAY'S LAWYERS FIGHT THE EXTRADITION ORDER.

LEGAL SOURCES SAID THAT SHOULD THE APPEALS COURT TURN DOWN RAY'S APPEAL OF THE EXTRADITION ORDER, HE COULD STILL APPEAL TO THE HOUSE OF LORDS, BUT PERMISSION TO GO TO THE HOUSE OF LORDS COULD BE REFUSED.

IN THAT CASE, RAY WOULD BE RETURNING TO THE U.S. ABOUT THE FIRST WEEK IN AUGUST, THE SOURCES SAID.

LONDON — ATTORNEYS FOR THE ACCUSED ASSASSIN OF MARTIN LUTHER KING LOSERS IN THE FIRST ROUND OF AN EXTRADITION FIGHT — WENT TO WORK TODAY ON AN APPEAL TO A BRITISH HIGHER COURT.

IF THE APPEAL FAILS, LEGAL SOURCES SAID, ESCAPED ASSAULT CONVICT JAMES EARL RAY COULD BE ON HIS WAY TO MEMPHIS BY THE END OF THE MONTH.

CHIEF JUSTICE FRANK MILTON OF BOW STREET MAGISTRATE'S COURT YESTERDAY ORDERED RAY'S DEPORTATION TO THE U.S.

MILTON GAVE RAY 15 DAYS TO APPEAL HIS DECISION TO THE QUEEN'S BENCH DIVISION OF THE BRITISH HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE. THE COURT IS COMPARABLE TO THE U.S. SUPREME COURT.

TO THE U.S. COURT OF APPEALS.

SHOULD THE HIGH COURT REJECT RAY'S APPEAL, A FURTHER APPEAL TO THE HOUSE OF LORDS IS POSSIBLE. BUT LEGAL SOURCES SAID THAT IF THE BENCH DIVISION UPHOLDS THE MAGISTRATE'S DECISION, IT PROBABLY ALSO WILL REFUSE RECOURSE TO THE HOUSE OF LORDS. IF THIS HAPPENS, RAY COULD BE SENT BACK TO THE U.S. BEFORE THE END OF THE MONTH.

BY LAWRENCE WHITE

Associated Press Writer

LONDON, May 13 — Attorney Arthur J. Hanes Jr., former mayor of Birmingham, Ala., said Thursday he has been retained by James Earl Ray to defend him against the charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

"He sent word to me," Hanes told a news conference. "As of now I will be his lawyer. He retained me in the event that he is extradited."

Ray is held in the former death cell at London's Wandsworth Prison pending an extradition hearing at Bow Street Magistrates Court next Thursday. A fugitive from the Missouri State Penitentiary, he is accused of gunning down King, the Negro civil rights leader, at Memphis, Tenn., April 4.

Hanes arrived in London Thursday morning with his son and partner, Arthur J. Hanes Jr. He told newsmen, however, he is unlikely to be allowed to see Ray.

Under British law, police are entitled to prevent a prisoner from seeing anyone except his lawyers and only British lawyers are considered here as counsel.

Ray has two court-appointed British lawyers, Michael Bresden and Michael Eugene. They sat flanking Hanes at the news conference, but followed British legal rules by refusing to answer any questions about the case.

Hanes said he will take no part in the extradition proceedings. He will not even be allowed by the British lawyers to see the extradition petition and supporting evidence submitted by the U.S. Embassy.

Bresden and Eugene are being paid under the British legal aid system. Hanes was repeatedly asked who was paying for his trip and who would pay his legal fees for a trial in Memphis.

First he said he "would not discuss fees and the source of any funds."

Asked who paid for the trip, he replied: "No comment."

Later he said of his fee: "Somebody will provide, the neighbors or some way. . . I have faith that I'll get by."

In Birmingham, Hanes had been quoted as saying he "understands this man has funds." He denied saying this. When asked whether sufficient money was available for a long legal battle, he replied: "I'll strat it off, like the kickoff of a game. If any group were behind it, I'd of course carry it on."

But he said he was not allied with any group "right or left." "I only belong to the Lions and the P.A.," he said.

Hanes successfully defended three Klansmen in an Alabama State court three years ago against a charge they murdered Viola Gregg Liuzzo, a Detroit, Mich., civil rights worker slain March 25, 1965, after a Selma-to-Montgomery march. The three were subsequently convicted in a federal court of criminal conspiracy in her case and sentenced to 10 years in prison.

As for the Ray case, he said: "There are no political overtones to it. I am not interested in any political ideology. I try a case on its merits."

Hanes was asked whether he had ever met King, who began as a minister in Birmingham. He said he had and added: "As far as I'm concerned his business was his business, and mine was mine. I don't knock his kick."

He said he had never seen Ray before and had received his first communication from him June 14. He said he still was not certain whether the man now in custody is Ray and could not know until he talked to him.

"Since I received the letter I have not been disl," he said. "I and my associates and investigators have not been disl."

He would not elaborate.

Extradition Hearing

British charges against Ray, who was arrested Saturday, are expected to be heard in court next week, the day after the hearing when the Home Office authorized Chief Magistrate Frank Milton of the Bow Street Court to start the American case against Ray and begin proceedings.

It was Milton who heard the two British charges against Ray—carrying a forged passport and being present at the Street Monday. At the time he ordered Ray to appear in court again next Tuesday on these charges.

But the sources said the court may drop the British charges and instead begin hearings on the U.S. extradition petition.

In any case, the sources said, Milton is expected to open the extradition proceedings within a week.

Ray, 40, was arrested Saturday while trying to catch a plane to Brussels. He carried a false Canadian passport in the name of James George Smith. Ray said he is held under in London's Wandsworth Prison with a round-the-clock police guard in the same cell.

TORONTO -- A fat man who earlier was believed involved with James Earl Ray, accused assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King, has been cleared by Toronto police.

A spokesman said today the man told police he found an unsealed letter in a telephone booth near a Dundas Street rooming house where Ray stayed. He said he delivered it to Ray.

Earlier this week, Mrs. Sun Loos, the rooming house landlady, told police a tall fat man in a white T-shirt went to her house and asked for Vernon Gray, an alias Ray was using while in Toronto. She said she saw the man give Ray a envelope.

The man told police he could not remember to whom the letter was addressed or what it contained. The police spokesman said the man's name would not be disclosed.

Ray, arrested in London Saturday, came here April 2, four days after King's assassination, and left by air May 6. He lived in two different rooming houses while here and used at least two aliases.

The police spokesman said that although both police and Royal Canadian Mounted police have no definite clues to indicate Ray had help from other persons while in the city, the investigation into his stay here is continuing.

CHIEF MAGISTRATE FRANK MILTON REMANDED RAY IN CUSTODY FOR A FURTHER HEARING JUNE 27 AFTER PROSECUTOR DAVID HOPKIN AGREED TO LET EXTRADITION PROCEEDINGS BROUGHT BY THE U.S. GOVERNMENT TAKE PRECEDENCE OVER TWO BRITISH CHARGES AGAINST RAY.

THE CASE SEEMED LIKELY TO CONTINUE FOR SEVERAL WEEKS. IF EXTRADITION IS ORDERED RAY CAN NOT BE REMOVED FROM BRITAIN FOR 15 DAYS TO ALLOW AN APPEAL. IF HE APPEALS THE CASE COULD LAST FOR MONTHS.

LONDON (AP) — James Earl Ray began a legal fight Tuesday against extradition to the United States to face the charge of assassinating Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The 40-year-old escaped convict sat silently in a well-guarded dock while his British lawyer asked London's Bow Street Court for as much time as possible to prepare for the extradition hearing.

Judge Frank Milton gave him until June 27, the date he set for the hearing to begin.

An attorney representing the United States presented their extradition request to Milton. Ray said barely a word and displayed not a flicker of emotion in the eight-minute session. He was dressed in a neat, blue-checked suit, wore heavily rimmed glasses and was surrounded by police in court.

Milton addressed Ray only once, to inform him of when the formal hearing on the extradition request would be held and that he could continue to work in court.

Ray replied quietly, "Thank you."

oger Frisby, the British lawyer defending Ray, told Milton he wanted as much time as possible to prepare, but Milton said he thought it "highly desirable that an early date be fixed."

They compromised on the June 27 date.

An American lawyer is due in London later this week to discuss preparation of Ray's defense if he is extradited to Tennessee to stand trial. King was slain in Memphis April 4.

The lawyer is Arthur J. Rensch, former mayor of Birmingham, Ala., and a segregationist who defended three men accused of murdering Viola Gregg Liuzzo, a civil rights worker, who was slain three years ago. Asked about payment for Ray's defense, Rensch said he "understands this man has funds."

Rensch told newsmen in Birmingham he was telephoned by Ray's court-appointed London attorneys and then received a handwritten letter signed "R.G. Sneyd" asking him to handle the case.

Rensch George Sneyd is the name under which Ray was arrested at London Airport June 8, carrying a forged Canadian passport and a loaded gun.

Ray is still held by the British on passport and gun charges, but British police agreed to defer consideration of these until the extradition hearing ends. If Ray is extradited, the charges probably will be dropped.

The British attorneys representing the United States said they would produce a fingerprint expert at the extradition hearing, presumably to testify on Ray's identity. The rest of the hearing, which will probably last one day, is expected to be taken up with a review of the case against Ray.

If Milton grants extradition, Ray could still appeal to the High Court and then the House of Lords. Such appeals usually are based on the argument that the case against the defendant is a political one. British extradition law forbids surrender of suspects in political cases.

This was Ray's second routine hearing at the Bow Street Court, and for the second time it was packed with policemen.

At least 100 London uniformed and plain-clothes police were assigned to guard duties. Two dozen of them were in the courtroom, many more lined the corridors through which Ray had to pass from the police station cells next door.

Police frisked all reporters and spectators who entered the courtroom, inspecting handbags and briefcases. The doors were locked during the hearing and a line of police stood facing the public.

After the hearing, three Jaguar sedans escorted a police van carrying Ray back to Wandsworth Prison, where he is held in a maximum security cell.

LONDON, AL - James Earl Ray returns to court Tuesday for his first public response on a U.S. demand for his return to stand trial in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The 40-year-old escaped convict has been under round-the-clock guard in Wandsworth Prison since his appearance in Bow Street Magistrates Court last Monday on charges of entering Britain on a forged Canadian passport and carrying an unlicensed loaded pistol.

He made a brief appearance in court a week ago under the name of Ramon George Sneyd, the name on his Canadian passport. In the interim, the U.S. Embassy requested his extradition to face charges of murdering King in Memphis, Tenn., April 4. He is also sought by Minnesota State Prison officials to finish a term for armed robbery.

When Ray appears in court, Frank Milton, chief metropolitan magistrate, is expected to refer to the extradition request. Ray could waive extradition then and there, but this is considered highly unlikely by officials in London. He is more likely to ask for time to consult with his lawyers. The magistrate would then set a tentative date for a full extradition hearing, probably later this week.

LONDON AP - James Earl Ray today undergoes the first of what could be many court sessions on the U.S. application to extradite him for trial on the charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

In advance of Ray's second appearance in the Bow Street Magistrate's Court, Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Frank Milton spent the weekend studying the iron-thick file from the U.S. government requesting the extradition of the 40-year-old escaped convict.

Ray was arrested at London airport June 8 and charged then with entering the country on a forged Canadian passport and carrying an unlicensed loaded gun.

After a preliminary hearing before Milton June 10 on the passport and gun charges, he has been held under round-the-clock guard at Wandsworth Prison while Scotland Yard tried to reconstruct his movements and contacts during the three weeks he is believed to have spent in London before his arrest.

The U.S. Embassy forwarded the request for his extradition to the British government last Wednesday.

Under the 1921 extradition treaty between Britain and the United States, British courts can grant extradition only if U.S. authorities present evidence sufficient to send Ray to trial under British law.

Extradition of Ray was also asked because he is wanted by Missouri to complete a prison term for armed robbery. While extradition on this charge would be almost automatic, the U.S.-British treaty specified that a suspect can only be tried on the charges for which he has been specifically extradited. Therefore unless he is extradited for the murder of the noted civil rights leader, he cannot be prosecuted on that charge in the United States.

The British extradition Act of 1949 also says that no one can be surrendered to another country for "an offense of a political character," and there has been speculation that Ray's attorney might argue his client was charged with a political killing. But Denny Holland, professor of English law at London University, said in an interview that he would be surprised if Ray succeeded in any such defense.

"The extradition law may be vague," he said, "but it usually is interpreted according to the temper of the time."

LONDON (AP) — James Earl Ray, the escaped convict accused of slaying Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was transferred today to Wandsworth Prison where security has been tightened since one of Britain's Great Train Robbers went over the wall four years ago.

Wandsworth is considered a safer place for Ray than Brixton Prison where Ray has been held since his arrest Saturday.

U.S. legal experts worked on plans to take Ray quickly and safely back to the United States for trial and police on both sides of the Atlantic tried to learn if Ray had help in his four-nation flight.

American authorities took the first formal step toward extradition Monday night by obtaining a provisional British warrant charging Ray with the murder of King on April 4 in Memphis, Tenn.

In Nashville, Tenn., Gov. Buford Ellington signed "all necessary papers" required for American's request that Ray be returned to stand trial for murder. The extradition papers were forwarded to the U.S. State Department, a spokesman for the Governor said.

Some legal experts suggested Britain might speed the process by depicting Ray as an undesirable alien. But other lawyers said that procedure as a substitute for extradition.

The 39-year-old Ray made a two-minute appearance Monday in Bow Street Court on charges of carrying a forged passport and being armed with a gun. The charges on which he was arrested at London airport under the name of Ramon Sneyd Smith.

Police equipped with walkie-talkies surrounded Brixton Prison and blocked all roads leading to and from the prison. Unauthorised persons were kept 100 yards away. British maximum security measures were taken for Ray's transfer to Wandsworth, a jail in a western suburb of London.

Max security measures were instituted at Wandsworth since Ronald Arthur Briggs, one of the Great Train Robbers disappeared over the wall. Ray escaped from Missouri State Prison in 1967 by riding in a bread truck.

Wandsworth is used for Britain's long-term prisoners and Ray will have two British police officers in his cell around the clock.

American authorities have not yet interrogated Ray and legal experts say he can veto any attempt to do so as long as he is in British custody.

Ray-James 1940

Ray-James 1940 - An assistant supermarket manager said Tuesday he found a man who resembled James Earl Ray, accused assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., prowling in the back of the store April 22.

Samuel Marshall said the man told him he was looking for a job but left the store when Ray's car, the manager approached. Marshall surmised the man may have been checking up the store for a possible robbery.

Not until the next day, Marshall said, did he see a picture photograph of King's suspected killer and concluded that the man in the store was Ray. He said he decided to go to the U.S. consulate with his information but became involved in a traffic accident on the way. Marshall said he then gave the information to a policeman but heard nothing further about it. A police spokesman said there was no report of such a report.

Ray, 37, was born in Mississippi and lived in Memphis, Tenn.

Police interviewed hundreds of people Tuesday in an effort to trace all of Ray's movements in Toronto. Investigators said they were trying to find out whether he had friends in the city.

An employee at a magazine store said a man who resembled Ray bought two cellophane-wrapped books at $5 each and paid for them with quarters. A woman who operated a variety store near one rooming house where Ray stayed said he bought cigarettes there.

Mrs. Sun Loo, Ray's landlady, was reported to have found in his room after he left for London an empty overnight bag, six rolls of film, a photographic light meter, a small, empty strongbox, a map of Toronto, three girls' magazines, three empty beer bottles and a dirty white shirt.

Ray's 15-minute appearance in court Monday on the passport and gun charges was his last. British lawyer at his own request, and ordered held without bail for another hearing June 13. In extradition proceedings, the court would require evidence of a case against Ray and he would then have 10 days to appeal to the High Court. A further appeal could also be made to the House of Lords, causing additional delay.

British authorities kept Ray in secure custody for Ray while the extradition proceedings move forward. Ray was first sent to Brixton Prison, a transit and holding jail on London's south side. Although swarms of detectives had him under guard around the clock, it was not felt secure enough.

Ray was then shifted to Wandsworth Prison, also on the south side, and put in an isolation cell under two-man guard. Wandsworth is a huge brick and stone structure surrounded by walls, housing long-term prisoners.

Security at Wandsworth has been tightened considerably since Ronald Biggs, one of Britain's great train robbers, fled over the walls four years ago. Like most of the 14 men who have escaped from inside Wandsworth since 1962, Biggs made his getaway from the exercise yard.

Ray is not expected to be allowed out of his cell for exercise.

LONDON, June 8 (AP) 1010: Thursday 300

Under normal procedure Milton would study the petition and schedule a hearing about a week after receiving it.

If Milton grants extradition, Ray has 14 days to appeal to the High Court, and another 14 days to take the case to the House of Lords if his lawyers want to challenge the order on a point of law.

Ray's court-appointed British lawyer refused all comment on his case. The lawyer, Michael Brennan, specializes in police court cases and was picked to defend him on the passport and gun charges. Ray could request another lawyer for the extradition hearing, and that would delay the case.
It was as Ray is held here on passport charges, British police have legal authority to investigate his movements during his three weeks in London prior to his arrest. Scotland Yard is doing that.

Jane Mason, receptionist at one hotel where Ray stayed, told a newsmen that the police are looking for another receptionist who checked Ray into the hotel. The other girl now is on vacation, but Miss Mason said Scotland Yard wants to find out if someone accompanied Ray when he arrived at the hotel.

The police investigation, carried out at the request and with the cooperation of the FBI, appears directed at determining whether evidence of a conspiracy to kill King can be traced up in London.

There was some suspicion here that Ray may have had an appointment to meet someone in London, perhaps a contact from the United States.

Miss Mason said Ray had originally been booked to leave the hotel on June 3 and then extended his stay for two more days, when she asked him why, he said: "I'm having trouble with my visa."

When he moved from one hotel to a second hotel with a private telephone number and stayed in his room for four days trying to arrange a flight out of London. By that time, police apparently were on his trail and closing in.
