Longshoremen— Shut Down Port In Honor of King

New Orleans longshoremen, about 6,000 strong, stayed away from the docks, closing the port here today, as a show of respect and mourning for slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King.

Memorial services were scheduled, university classes canceled, some city workers were absent and some business establishments closed in the wake of Dr. King's death.

White longshoremen joined Negro longshoremen in the walkout which will continue until tomorrow morning.

ALFRED CRITTENDEN, president of the white union, Local 1413, said his men would not be working today, "out of respect for the feelings of our co-workers over the death of their leader. They are our partners; we work only together."

John E. Morrill of the Sewerage and Water Board said that 200 of the S&WB's Negro employees stayed away from work at the board's central construction yard, Florida and Peoples. At other stations, employees were working.

Gov. John J. McKeithen, who is in New York, said, "Murder is the extreme example of defiance of the law."

"THE PHILOSOPHY of doing the act because one feels in his own heart and mind he is justified could eventually lead us to anarchy.

"Those guilty of the foul murder of Martin Luther King must be brought to justice and dealt with appropriately and immediately.

"People of both races must rededicate themselves to the upholding of law and order. Changes in our society which must be made under

"This man's dedication to the cause for which he stood has brought him some of the highest honors the world can bestow. Let us hope and pray that his death, rather than increasing bitterness, might rather bring a rededication to the cause which he espoused during his lifetime—nonviolence—with peace and good will to all men."

McKeithen said, "The people of Louisiana extend their sympathies and condolences to the next of kin of this latest victim and all others of both races who have lost their lives as the result of racial violence."

AT BATON ROUGE, a group of 150 students from Scotlandville High School began an orderly five-mile march to the State Capitol.

The students, trailed by city and parish police units, marched down the sidewalk along busy Highway 61 bearing signs with messages such as, "We're Not Going Down; We're Going Up."

As they neared their objective, the group was swelled by another 250 students from Capitol High School and the march was continued, with police units blocking traffic, down the Baton Rouge expressway.

The marchers passed the governor's mansion enroute and assembled on the steps of the Capitol.

The city's reaction to the slaying of Dr. King last night in Memphis was expressed by Archbishop Philip M. Hannan, who said:

"Every believer in justice and racial harmony is injured by this crime.

"May his death, by God's grace, hasten the triumph of racial justice and harmony to which he dedicated his life and for which we so earnestly pray and work."

White leaders here and across the state expressed shock over the assassination and called for cool heads.

Negro leaders expressed hope that King's dedication to nonviolence would not be wasted in a violent reaction to his death and asked that peace prevail.

New Orleans Police Department heads called a meeting to discuss possible effects of the assassination in New Orleans. The meeting was termed a precautionary measure.

Police Supt. Joseph I. Giarrusso said today the department is maintaining a vigil but that he does not expect any kind of trouble. The city appears calm, he said.

A spokesman for the telephone company said news of Dr. King's death set the state abuzz and many exchanges were jammed to capacity. Negro radio stations in New Orleans immediately began broadcasting hymns and spirituals as a memorial to King.

One of the state's more militant Negro leaders, Robert Hicks, president of the Bogalusa Civic and Voters League, said his first impression was, "to hell with it all."

"IT'S TIME a man should not have to die for something he should have from birth," Hicks said.

"We tried to live by his philosophy of nonviolence but I think we have to start a new philosophy—an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth."

city's public schools, called King's murder "a great tragedy of our times—most inopportune, as tragedies can be."

Trudeau said that, now, "the militant Negroes who have been preaching such solutions, violence, to our problems are fortified . . . this is contrary to all my prayers and hopes and I will do everything humanly possible to persuade the thoughts of our people from taking such a course."

METHODIST Bishop Aubrey Wallon of New Orleans said the death of King places "greater responsibility than ever on every individual who loves this country and who is concerned for right relationships between the peoples of the United States."

EMMITT Douglas, state NAACP president, said: "This was a terrible blow to the non-violent movement. I think this will give incentive to the more militant groups."

"This is what the young militants have been saying, 'Nonviolence pays off in death.' I hope nonviolence will continue . . . but it looks very gloomy at this hour."

Douglas said he cannot predict the chance of violence in Louisiana, but added that Baton Rouge and New Orleans are the state's two "hot spots".

He said the NAACP will "pursue the same course of nonviolence."

Douglas was reached by telephone at Franklin, where he was attending a meeting of Negroes to promote a selective buying program. He said the mood of those at the meeting was one of great sadness but not of violent reaction.

JOSEPH DELPIT, NAACP Baton Rouge chapter president, said, "I feel the black people will not really react to peaceful demonstrations anymore . . . black people will do anything they deem necessary for total liberation."

Asked if the assassination would cause more violence, Delpit replied, "If there wasn't already violence, Mr. King wouldn't be dead."

Negroes, he said, "certainly will not sit back and let this sort of thing happen to them . . . I think it will be a matter of self defense."

"I FORESEE a lot of bloodshed if there is no improvement in Negro rights," Delpit said, however, that violence could be averted if whites now "do some soul searching" about expanding Negro rights.

"It's all in the hands of the white people," he said.

Clarence "Chink" Henry, president of Negro longshore Local 1419 here, called on all 4,000 of his union's waterfront workers to refrain from any demonstration in protest to the slaying.

"I know that our members feel this great loss very keenly and we are deeply shocked. However, I am asking all riverfront workers to heed the philosophy of Dr. King."

"LET THERE BE no demonstrations," Henry said.

"Let there be peace."

Henry said that no work will be performed on the docks by his union today or tonight out of respect for Dr. King.

"Today, we are shocked. We are deeply hurt and we are angry. The Rev. Martin Luther King, leader of the massive March on Washington in 1963, winner of the Nobel Peace Prize in 1964 and martyr for the cause of freedom in 1968, merits our everlasting gratitude," Henry said.

HENRY SAID, "the movement for human dignity in the United States cannot be stopped. The United States continued in the direction of human dignity even after the assassination of President Kennedy in 1963, and likewise the movement for human dignity must continue even after the death of Dr. King."

Mayor Victor H. Schiro said, "I pray that the perpetrators will be apprehended and punished and I hope that in the heat of emotion this terrible act will not beget more violence in Memphis or any other city."

"At a time such as this, all responsible citizens should join together to reach reasonable solutions to our problems," he concluded.

Mayor Schiro said he has canceled a trip he had planned to make for his health. "After the events of the last few hours," he said, "I decided it would be better to stand by my post."

NEGRO COMEDIAN Flip Wilson, who was performing at Loyola University Field House under the sponsorship of the New Orleans Consortium, said he was "emotionally on edge." Asked for his comments on the murder, Wilson said, "I don't even want to think about it."

In Washington, Sen. Russell B. Long, said, "It is a terrible and tragic thing. I hope some day we can settle our differences peaceably at the polls and control the criminal element that is not satisfied with settling things in the way our American ideals dictate."

Long, whose father, Sen. Huey P. Long, was assassinated in the Louisiana State capitol 33 years ago, said, "I know how a family feels when the head of a family is assassinated."

REP. F. EDWARD Hebert, D-La., said he hoped "reasonable people will realize the situation and remain calm. This was all brought on by so-called nonviolence preaching. King preached violence under the guise of nonviolence and you have to realize that violence begets violence."

"This should be a lesson to avoid violence. What amazes me," Hebert said, "is that people are amazed this happened. He turned against our country on the Vietnam war and was most vicious in attacking the President."

"This incident could set off a powder keg in America on which the fuse as well as the powder was inserted by those preaching nonviolence."

At Xavier University, classes were canceled and a Mass for Dr. King was celebrated at noon by the Rev. Kilian W. Downey, O.P., the Rev. Joseph I. Reardon, O.P., the Rev. Hubert Riley, O.P., and the Rev. Robert Villegas, C.S.C.

An ecumenical group of chaplains was planning a memorial meeting for Dr. King this afternoon at Tulane University's McAlister Auditorium.

AT DILLARD University, a memorial service opened with the school choir singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" to a chapel overflowing with students and adults of both races.

Earlier, university president Dr. Albert W. Dent had cancelled classes and ordered the flag flown at half-mast.

Dean of students Robert J. Polk spoke at the service and chastised students for going about their business normally after the first stunning moments when the news was released.

"If we can't find time to reflect on what has happened today," Dean Polk said, "it may be our last opportunity. We are all involved in what happened in Memphis by our complicity. We were there. We pulled the trigger."

He said too many have been content to let others do the work for all.

TRIBUTES PLANNED

Orleans Mourns Slaying of King

A 4,000-man force of Negro longshoremen stayed away from the docks here today, memorial services were scheduled, university classes canceled and some businesses closed as the city prepared to mourn slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King.

The city's reaction to the slaying of Dr. King last night in Memphis was expressed by Archbishop Philip M. Hannan, who said:

"Every believer in justice and racial harmony is injured by this crime.

"May his death, by God's grace, hasten the triumph of racial justice and harmony to which he dedicated his life and for which we so earnestly pray and work."

White leaders here and across the state expressed shock over the assassination and called for cool heads.

Negro leaders expressed hope that King's dedication to nonviolence would not be wasted in a violent reaction to his death, and asked that peace prevail.

New Orleans Police Department heads called a meeting to discuss possible effects of the assassination in New Orleans. The meeting was termed a precautionary measure.

GOV. JOHN J. McKeithen, who has stated firmly that Louisiana intends to have racial harmony, was reported enroute to New York and was not available for a statement.

A spokesman for the telephone company said news of Dr. King's death set the state abuzz and many exchanges were jammed to capacity. Negro radio stations in New Orleans immediately began broadcasting hymns and spirituals as a memorial to King.

One of the state's more militant Negro leaders, Robert Hicks, president of the Bogalusa Civic and Voters League, said his first impression was, "to hell with it all.

"We tried to live by his philosophy of nonviolence but I think we have to start a new philosophy—an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth."

A. M. Trudeau Jr., the New Orleans Negro attorney who successfully fought through the federal courts eight years ago for integration of the city's public schools, called King's murder "a great tragedy of our times—most inopportune, as tragedies can be."

Trudeau said that, now, "the militant Negroes who have been preaching such solutions, violence, to our problems are fortified . . . this is contrary to all my prayers and hopes and I will do everything humanly possible to persuade the thoughts of our people from taking such a course."

METHODIST Bishop Aubrey Walton of New Orleans said the death of King places "greater responsibility than ever on every individual who loves this country and who is concerned for right relationships between the peoples of the United States."

EMMITT Douglas, state NAACP president, said: "This was a terrible blow to the non-violent movement. I think this will give incentive to the more militant groups.

NEGRO COMEDIAN Flip Wilson, who was performing at Loyola University Field House under the sponsorship of the New Orleans Consortium, said he was "emotionally on edge." Asked for his comments on the murder, Wilson said, "I don't even want to think about it."

In Washington, Sen. Russell B. Long, said, "It is a terrible and tragic thing. I hope some day we can settle our differences peaceably at the polls and control the criminal element that is not satisfied with settling things in the way our American ideals dictate."

Long, whose father, Sen. Huey P. Long, was assassinated in the Louisiana State capitol 33 years ago, said, "I know how a family feels when the head of a family is assassinated."

REP. F. EDWARD Hebert, D-La., said he hoped "reasonable people will realize the situation and remain calm. This was all brought on by so-called nonviolence preaching. King preached violence under the guise of non-violence and you have to realize that violence begets violence.

"This should be a lesson to avoid violence. What amazes me," Hebert said, "is that people are amazed this happened. He turned against our country on the Vietnam war and was most vicious in attacking the President.

"This incident could set off a powder keg in America on which the fuse as well as the powder was inserted by those preaching nonviolence," he said.

AT FINAL PUBLIC APPEARANCE before his assassination last night, DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING appears in a reflective mood while waiting to address a mass rally for striking Memphis sanitation workers.

SUBJECT: MURKIN
(OO: Memphis)

ReNotel to Bureau, Charlotte and Memphis, 4/6/68 at 6:52 p.m.

Enclosed for the Latent Fingerprint Section are the major case prints of RONALD BARDIN SIMPSON, WMA, born [redacted] at Halifax County, N. C., who was arrested by the Jennings, La., SO on 4/6/68 on vagrancy charges. SIMPSON is 6 feet, 150 pounds, and states he was arrested in 1966 in Tampa, Fla., for disturbing the peace. He advises he received 1967 Christmas leave, at which time he headed to the West Coast. While he states he was probably hitchhiking from Texas to Louisiana on Thursday, 4/4/68, he is vague concerning his location and SIMPSON is obviously in need of mental care. However, SIMPSON is similar in facial appearance to the artist's sketch of the UNSUB drawn by Memphis artist BILL HARRINGTON and carried in the Beaumont, Texas, Enterprise morning newspaper of 4/6/68.

The Latent Fingerprint Section is requested to compare the major case prints of SIMPSON with those reportedly found on the rifle or other latents submitted by the Memphis Division and advise interested offices as to findings.

Supv. RICHARD LONG, Civil Rights Division, Bureau, advised that he and ED McDONOGH were handling instant case. He advised that in a small bag they had recovered some shorts and shirts in which they had discovered laundry marks and set out leads but they would have to expand the leads.

On the gun, the UNSUB had gone to Birmingham and purchased the gun on 3/29/68, returned complaining but had a telescopic sight put on it in Birmingham on 3/30/68. On 4/4/68 a pair of binoculars had been purchased in Memphis; that latent fingerprints on the binoculars and on the gun matched.

I inquired when the field was going to get some information to assist in covering leads and he stated a teletype and airtel were being prepared and coming out. He advised that in the airtel would be leads to furnish names, etc., of hate group members and klansmen for comparison against the latent fingerprints.

Memorandum

TO : SAC (157-)

FROM : ASAC SYLVESTER

SUBJECT: MURKIN

DATE: 4/8/68

In discussing this matter with SAC JENSEN of Memphis, he advised that the pertinent period that has to be resolved in reference to any suspects that might be developed in this case is the period 3/29 and 3/30/68 when suspect travelled to Birmingham and purchased a gun; and 4/4/68 in Memphis when MARTIN LUTHER KING was shot.

All investigation must be completed and teletyped to office of origin and Bureau on same day, and an FD-302 prepared on the results of the investigation and forwarded with 25 copies to Memphis immediately following transmission of the teletype.

The airtel should be set up with a subcaption under the name of the suspect with a brief synopsis setting forth the investigation being forwarded by 302, which will enable Memphis to coordinate and handle the reporting of this case.

SA CALLENDER should immediately get out a memorandum to all Agents giving them the benefit of the instructions in this matter. The Bureau stated this will be handled under the personal supervision of the SAC, who will be held accountable for the appropriate, thorough handling of all leads.

Memorandum

TO : SAC, NEW ORLEANS (157-10673)

DATE: 4/9/68

FROM : SA NATHAN O. BROWN

SUBJECT: MURKIN

Re Memo of SA NATHAN O BROWN dated 4/5/68 concerning check of DDD Tapes, Lafayette, Louisiana.

Security Supervisor E. E. TURNLEY, SBT&T, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, advised at 2:20 p.m. on 4/8/68 that he had completed a review of the DDD tapes which were recorded at Lafayette, Louisiana, on 4/4/68 and which would reflect all DDD telephone calls emanating at Alexandria, Louisiana, on this date. Mr. TURNLEY stated that the review consisted of a check of every call made between 10:00 p.m. and 10:25 p.m. on 4/4/68, and no record was located of a call from Alexandria to the FBI Office at New Orleans, Louisiana.

Mr. TURNLEY stated that although a check had been made on a previous occasion of the Mark Sense Toll Tickets at Alexandria in effort to locate this call, he has arranged for a print out of all calls from Alexandria, Louisiana, to area code 504. This print out will include station-to-station calls, person-to-person calls, credit card calls, 3rd No. Billing calls, collect calls, etc.

Mr. TURNLEY stated that this print out would be complete by noon, 4/9/68, and he would immediately advise SA BROWN or SA STEPHEN M. CALLENDER of the results.

JOSEPH GAMBLE, SAC, Birmingham, advised at 2:58 that the following lead should be handled immediately and information telephoned to the Bureau and Birmingham, followed up by a teletype.

Immediate check should be made at Baton Rouge at the Driver's License Bureau in the name of ERIC STARVO GALT, white male, dob - [redacted] 5'11", 175 pounds, blue eyes, brown hair.

In checking this no one is to advise anyone that we are checking this in connection with the murder of KING.

Birmingham advised that this man in applying for a driver's license in Birmingham stated that he had a previous Louisiana license. He purchased car on 8/30/67 in Birmingham, allegedly was a merchant marine on a barge running between New Orleans and Mobile.

Check should be made at LSP for any criminal record on him and at Motor Vehicle Bureau to see if he has any car registered to him.

SAC, BIRMINGHAM, advised they got this guy in Memphis on 4/3/68, they know he was driving a white Mustang, everyone from the artist's conception picks him as the man.

According to SAC, Birmingham he is the best thing they have got.

Check should be made with Coast Guard, Seaman's Union - if it is open, with dock authorities and credit and criminal checks. Also check name through city directory, telephone directory, etc. in New Orleans.
