RE: LAUNDRY MARKINGS

On 4/10/68, Mr. R. H. MC INTYRE, General Manager, Prathers Inc., 1828 Evans, Ft. Myers, advised SA A. LEWIS BARNETT that the Textile Marking Machines used by his firm are located at the Prathers Branch in Naples, Fla., and at a laundry owned by Prathers, Sunshine Cleaners, 2234 Cleveland Ave., Ft. Myers.

Mr. MC INTYRE contacted the Naples branch and was informed that the branch is currently using machines model no. H5L1, serial nos. 31631 and 31793. Mr. MC INTYRE advised that his manager at Naples told him that Agents from the Naples FBI office had contacted the firm there during the morning of 4/10/68, and received the necessary information.

The above information concerning the machines located in Naples was discussed with SA ERNIE HARRISON, RA, Naples, and he verified the fact that he had obtained the information concerning these machines.

Mr. ROBERT CROLL, Manager, Sunshine Cleaners, 2234 Cleveland Ave., Ft. Myers, advised SA A. LEWIS BARNETT that his firm uses a Thermo-Seal tagging machine, model #H5L1, serial no. 31810.

Mr. CROLL furnished a sample label from this machine; but advised that the code in question could not have come from his company as his firm uses a different code system.

RE: LAUNDRY MARKINGS

On 4/10/68, Mr. EARL HOLBROOK, Manager, Wiltshire Cleaners, 2017 Monroe, Ft. Myers, Fla., advised SA A. LEWIS BARNETT that his firm is currently using a Thermo-Seal marking machine purchased from the Textile Marking Machine Co., Syracuse, N.Y. He advised that his firm had never used zero as part of a code in identifying laundry. He advised his code is run as follows, keeping in mind that the machine is capable of making only five characters:

First one or two characters will be numerals and will be the lot number, the week is identified by the middle character which is a letter of the alphabet, and the last character is the bundle number.

Mr. HOLBROOK advised that his machine bears the model number H5K4, serial no. R-33479.

Mr. HOLBROOK furnished samples of his machine labels which will be submitted to the office. He also advised that different color codes are used and red tape with black lettering is used on occasion.

He reiterated that if the code number in question contains the character zero, it was not made by his firm.

MARVIN DAVIES
LIAISON SOURCE

On 4/5/68, the subject was communicated with and he informed that he does not know what reaction the KING assassination will have upon the Negro community of St. Petersburg, Florida. He said that he thought that a great deal depends upon what the United States Congress does concerning the current Civil Rights Bill which is before that body. He said that he thinks that the majority of Negroes are extremely interested in the outcome of this legislation and that should it be considered favorably, he thinks the racial situation throughout the United States will be relieved. He said that there is a great deal of tension in almost every Negro in America because of the attitude of the American white for them. He remarked that the President's Commission on Civil Disorders was correct in its analysis of the causes of racial discord in America.

MR. DAVIES said that he understands that JOSEPH WALLER is irritated at the NAACP since the organization did not offer him any legal counsel during his trial in 1967. MR. DAVIES pointed out that WALLER had never been a member of the NAACP and, in fact, has ostracized that organization on a number of occasions. He said he did not know what effect and influence WALLER will have on the community in St. Petersburg, but noted that during his last attempts at organizing Negroes in St. Petersburg, he was only successful in surrounding himself with a very few individuals.

MR. DAVIES commented that he thinks that the possibility of racial strife exists anywhere where large concentrations of Negroes are located. He said that generally speaking when large concentrations of Negroes are prevalent in an area, the conditions which precipitate violence also exist. He explained these conditions as substandard housing, lack of educational opportunity, poverty and segregation.

On 4/5/68, MR. CROOK was communicated with and he informed that he had no specific information indicating imminent violence in either Tampa or St. Petersburg, Fla. MR. CROOK lives in Tampa, but works at the General Electric Company in St. Petersburg. He said that he is of the opinion that the MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. assassination will influence only those individuals who have a propensity to violence.

He said that he foresees racial strife throughout the United States unless a massive commitment to change is made by the white community. He commented that he is of the opinion that a great deal of money is necessary to be channeled toward fulfilling the basic needs and necessities of the Negro community such as housing, schools, and recreational facilities. He remarked that in a great number of communities throughout the United States he understands that a sizable amount of money is being channeled into the purchase of additional arms and equipment for law enforcement agencies and that he does not believe that this will, in any way, prevent riots. He thinks that perhaps some of these communities are taking the attitude toward resisting the potential rioters rather than a preventive attitude which could avoid them. He remarked that the United States has the capability to change the current status of the Negro if only the white majority and the middle class Negro will fully commit themselves to this change.

He pointed that America during World War I, World War II and the Korean conflict was able to build almost overnight an industrial complex which was responsible for winning these conflicts. He stated it is going to be necessary for America to take the same stand for changing the crisis in the American race issue.

He concluded by saying that he has no specific information indicating violence in either Tampa or St. Petersburg, but pointed out that he does not think that violence is an organized activity, but rather a spontaneous one.

Slayer Search Systematic

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (P) — The task of finding the person who killed Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. apparently has settled down to the grueling police routine of sifting every clue and checking every lead.

The Memphis Commercial Appeal reported today that the city's fire and police director is investigating the possibility that someone used the police radio frequency to draw officers off the trail of the fleeing assassin.

The paper said in a copyright story that Frank C. Holloman, Memphis fire and police director, "would only say last night that such a possibility is under investigation."

The paper said radio transmissions indicated Lt. R. W. Bradshaw in police car 160 was speeding after a white Mustang, suspected as a possible getaway car, following the shooting.

Holloman "did confirm that Lt. Bradshaw in car 160 was 'in the area' of the reported chase, but not involved in the case" the paper said.

"I was not chasing a white Mustang," the paper quoted Bradshaw as saying. "Any other information will have to come from the chief."

"The police dispatcher relayed seven transmissions — supposedly from Lt. Bradshaw in car 160 — between 6:35 p.m. and 6:47 p.m. last Thursday," the paper said, "little more than a half-hour after Dr. King was shot by a sniper outside the Lorraine Motel." The paper said the messages described the route of the chase, said that a blue Pontiac was also chasing the Mustang and said shots were fired from the Mustang at the Pontiac.

Clark Says Suspect Is 'On the Run'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said yesterday that law enforcement agents have "one man on the run" as a suspect in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

"We have a name we are working on. Whether it is the right name, we'll have to see," Clark said.

The attorney general said that "the trail has lengthened" since Friday when he said that the investigation had spread several hundred miles beyond Memphis, Tenn., where King was slain.

But Clark, interviewed on television (Meet the Press—NBC), said it was not appropriate to disclose where the search has taken law enforcement officials.

Clark said the evidence collected "still points" to the assumption that one man killed King. "There is no evidence that more were involved," he said.

Classmate Recalls Martin Luther King

'A Quiet Person, A

Nice Guy'

157-3231

(Indicate page, name of newspaper, city and state.)

The bullets which killed nonviolence apostle Martin Luther King on a Memphis motel balcony last night, echoed in St. Petersburg today with a mixture of fond memories and fear for the future.

"Martin Luther King lived for freedom and he died for freedom — with his boots on," reflected St. Petersburg Community Relations Director Alex Hawkins.

"We were in college together," Hawkins recalled. Morehouse College in Atlanta in 1946; King two years later.

Hawkins said he knew King as a "quiet person and a nice guy but his leadership ability in those days was not as evident as his oratorical talent."

Negro attorney I. W. "Ike" Williams, president of the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, spoke haltingly of the slain man's sudden death:

"In terms of future direction, I'm not sure in my own mind," said Williams. "But from the national point of view certain things must be done immediately."

The Negro spokesman said the U.S. Congress should pass the pending civil rights legislation today, complete with open housing provisions. "It can be done," he emphasized.

Williams also called for the national administration and the Congress to immediately curtail the foreign aid program and the monetary outlay for the war in Vietnam "and shift those monies to a massive project to alleviate conditions of Negroes in the ghettos of America."

"If this is not done," Williams said, "then I feel certain we are in for some real racial unrest."

The local NAACP head said he hopes the relative quiet across America last night "does not lull the white community into complacency, because all hell could still break loose and I'm not so sure that would be a bad thing."

On the local level, Williams said, "the city administration needs to stop pussyfooting with the aspirations and the desires of the Negro community. The city has not really gotten involved in trying to improve their lot."

Williams decried the lack of Negroes employed at City Hall and the absence of city firemen and meter readers.

"The city must wake up," he said. "Industrial leaders in the community must also wake up. It's long past due that we concern ourselves to secure for all citizens the opportunity to realize the American dream."

Mayor Don Jones' reaction to the King slaying was that it's a "terrible, deep loss."

"He made contributions to the whole society. He tried to act constructively and in the interest of the total American society," said the mayor.

Jones, 42, reacted with anger that King, 39, had been cut down in the prime of his life.

Hawkins was reading a Dept. of Labor report entitled, "Social and Economic Conditions of Negroes in the U.S." when the first bulletin was flashed over nationwide television.

Hawkins had just passed over a paragraph that stated conditions in the United States "do not warrant complacency nor do they justify pessimism or despair."

The city's only Negro department head said King's killing reminded him of the assassination of former President John F. Kennedy.

Hawkins was to be the guest speaker at a special meeting of the NAACP last night. About 25 persons appeared, news of King's death arrived, a moment of silence was declared and the meeting was adjourned.

King was the type of person who rolled with the punches," said Hawkins. "He was tops in the nonviolent, direct confrontation approach. He operated with the masses."

Hawkins predicted the untimely death will "leave a void in the overall program" to obtain a better life for Negroes.

The community relations director said he fears "activists will be better able to take over now because no one will be able to keep things nonviolent to the extent that he did."

who ask me how to treat an eczema or a lichen planus or a psoriasis or perhaps some skin disease so rare that I never heard much about it. I wish I could help these people, especially when I see that they are living in a rural area where there are no skin specialists; but there are too many difficulties in the way. In the first place, an eczema might mean anything; it is a general term describing many kinds of skin eruption.

An able skin specialist, a friend of mine, tells me a high percentage of the people whom he sees nowadays with an inflamed patch of skin are suffering from irritation produced by some new detergent, kitchen soap, antiperspirant, hair spray, facial cream, hair tonic, hair pomade, or perhaps poison ivy. When a patient has a skin eruption, the essential part of the treatment is not prescribing an ointment, but is finding what is producing the inflammation, and then getting rid of that. TO : SAC, TAMPA (157-3231)

DATE: 4/11/68

FROM : SA WILLIAM F. DOYLE

SUBJECT: MURKIN

At 11:50 a.m. this date I returned a call to E. LUTRELL BING, liaison source, who advised that on 4/10/68, he visited his bar, the Rainbow Bar, at Eatonville, Fla. While there, he was in contact with FRANK MILLER, ROCK RIVERS and an individual named ALEX (LNU), all of whom were present when an unsub who resembled the composite drawing of the assassin of Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING allegedly visited the Rainbow Bar earlier this week. All of these 3 individuals agreed that the composite drawing bore a striking resemblance to the person that they had met at the Rainbow Bar.

BING stated he also determined from inquiry that LEON SMITH drove the unsub white male who had been at the Rainbow Bar to the Greyhound Bus station in the early morning hours of last Monday. BING stated that he contacted authorities at the Greyhound station and determined that one R. A. PETERSON, on the 12:00 midnight to 8:00 a.m. shift, was the individual who had handled the ticketing of the white male unsub at the time he departed for Miami. BING stated he was unable to determine the precise time of departure. BING stated he displayed the photograph of the KING assassin and PETERSON also indicated that it bore a striking resemblance to the unsub white male mentioned earlier. BING was informed by PETERSON that the unsub W/M attempted to cash a check at the Greyhound terminal which was drawn on a Chattanooga, Tenn., bank. The ticket agent refused to honor this check and recalled, however, that the unsub W/M stated that he was originally from Dalton, Ga. The ticket agent, according to BING, was unable to recall the unsub W/M's name.

On 4/11/68, Dr. IRVING HALL, 712 39th Street, West, Bradenton, Florida telephonically contacted the Sarasota RA and advised that between the hours of approximately 8:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. 4/7/68 he and his wife viewed a television program over Channel 3, Educational Television Channel, Station WEDU, Tampa, Florida. HALL stated this program was a panel type discussion concerning the study of the march on Washington that was to be lead by MARTIN LUTHER KING this spring. HALL also stated that a white male, who was a member of the panel, who was sitting on the floor, near a Negro who was standing and who was the moderator made several comments that dealt with KING leading the above march. The white male, according to HALL, reportedly made a comment to the effect, "If KING leads the march on Washington, the march will be a Negro march and the poor white people will be getting screwed".

HALL stated that upon viewing the artist's conception of the assassin of KING and comparing the description that has been set forth in local newspapers regarding the assassin, he believed the white male on the above television program who made remarks critical of KING'S leadership, appears of similar description to the artist's conception of the assassin.

RACIAL INCIDENTS
TAMPA DIVISION
APRIL 5-10, 1968

Reference is made to memorandum submitted by this office under above caption on April 8, 1968.

The April 8, 1968 issue of "The Evening Independent," St. Petersburg, Florida newspaper, quoted I. W. WILLIAMS, President of the St. Petersburg Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), as proclaiming April 9, 1968 as a "day of unity for soul-searching and rededication of the principles KING (MARTIN LUTHER KING) lived and died for." He asked all employees except those in essential services to stay away from their jobs, and all children to stay away from school for the day. He was also quoted as indicating that this is not a time for demonstrations in the street. The article said he requested that city and county officials allow employees to take the day off for above-stated purpose.

Sergeant DOYLE WALTERS, Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office, Tampa, Florida, advised at 10:40 p.m., April 8, 1968, that, on said evening, a group of some 25 to 30 Negroes in the 14 to 21 years age group had been refused the right to purchase some ice cream at Broughton's Texaco Service Station and Restaurant in Wimauma, Fla., and they were then protesting concerning this action. Sgt. WALTERS said that Broughton's place of business is set up so that whites are served on one side of the building and Negroes on another. On the particular evening, the group of Negroes requested service on the white side, and were refused. WALTERS said the Negroes were then talking to some Volunteers in Service To America (VISTA) workers and other adults who were present, that they were all talking in a gentlemanly manner, and that four deputies were standing by in the area in event of trouble. He stated, however, that it appeared the matter would be resolved peaceably and that the matter would be taken up on the following day through proper channels. WALTERS said he expected no further difficulty on the evening of April 8, 1968 relative to this particular matter.

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that, at 10:15 p.m., April 8, 1968, a gang of about 100 Negro boys, in the 15 to 18 years age bracket, was reported to be "milling about" a Negro housing development in the area of 22nd Street and Lake Avenue, Tampa. The Negro youths were reported to be throwing rocks at passing automobiles.

Officials at Tampa Police Department also advised about the same time that large groups of young chanting Negroes were attempting to block the intersection at 22nd Street and Lake Avenue, Tampa. It was said there were reports of some gunfire from this group.

The Tampa Police reported at 11:30 p.m., April 8, 1968, that order had been restored by said department and everything seemed to be quiet in the city insofar as the racial situation is concerned.

Sheriff FLANDERS THOMPSON, Lee County, Ft. Myers, Florida, advised on the morning of April 9, 1968 that some 20 to 30 youthful Negroes, who were said to hang around the Anderson Avenue area of Ft. Myers, had been making threats against white store owners in said area in connection with their desires to have the owners close their stores on April 9, 1968 due to the funeral of MARTIN LUTHER KING. Sheriff THOMPSON said he had been in touch with the store owners, that he had reminded them that all Negro stores in the area would be closed since there would be no shopping done by Negroes anyway, and he suggested the white store owners might want to close in the interest of racial harmony. As a result, Sheriff THOMPSON said he believed all stores in the Negro section of Ft. Myers would be closed at noon, April 9, 1968, and he felt there would be no racial trouble there.

A second source, who frequents the predominately Negro area around 22nd Street and Lake Avenue, Tampa, and is in a position to follow Negro activities there, advised at 2:55 p.m., April 9, 1968, that 10 police officers had just arrested a Negro at the front of Gene's Bar, 22nd Street and Mallory Avenue. Source complained that the police officers had appeared on the scene in too great a number, had flashed too many weapons and were abusive in their language to the crowd of Negroes which gathered in the area. He said the crowd appeared to be "getting ready to have it out."

Subsequent contact with ALEX TAYLOR, Intelligence Unit, Tampa Police Department, indicated that one TERRY LEE PARCHMONT, Negro male in his late twenties who had been arrested in Tampa during the racial disturbance in 1967, was the man arrested at Gene's Bar. TAYLOR said PARCHMONT was charged with drunk, with using profanity and with resisting arrest, and that $1,000 bond was set. He said PARCHMONT allegedly fought arresting officers, that only two officers made the arrest, but there were several others in the immediate area. PARCHMONT had been booked, and all was then quiet in the 22nd Street area, according to police reports.

TAYLOR also advised at this time that police were closely observing three Negro males who were known to be in the Tampa area and were visiting one ALLEN JACOB BILLUPS, leader of a West Tampa Negro gang. The three Negroes, driving a 1961 Thunderbird, bearing a California license, were believed by police to possibly be members of the "Black Panthers," as they each wore a green sweatshirt with a black panther jumping through a hoop pictured on the back thereof. Police were surveilling these Negroes in an effort to find something to arrest them for to keep them off the streets on the evening of April 9, 1968, according to TAYLOR.
