STREETS BECOME CREEKS

It was a rainy day in Birmingham town

Loaded with boats, a big truck appears to be arriving in the nick of time on Birmingham's southside Saturday as heavy rains continued to fall on an already water-logged city.

The motorist at right ignored the odds and got through the block on Eighth Street between Seventh

Others in the same block were not so lucky, however, and towtrucks were busy here and elsewhere either hauling away drowned autos or coaxing engines

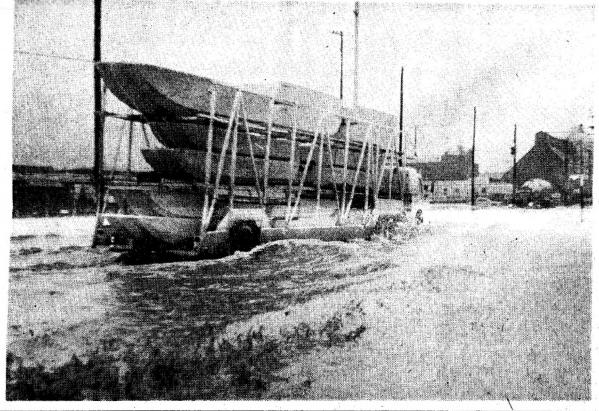

Jefferson County, the weekend was a literal washout as rain was reported all across most of the state and more of the stuff was forecast for today.

Switchboards at The Birmingham News and the Weather Bureau's own busy phones were flooded - no pun intended - with calls inquiring about prospects of more rain.

The Weather Bureau, offering only meager reassurance to a city about to mildew, said only that today might bring a little more sunshine than Saturday but that rain - mostly afternoon thundershowers

ED NELSON

'Peyton' star Ed Nelson on Telethon

Ed Nelson, known to millions as Dr. Michael Rossi of TV's "Peyton Place," will star on the 14th Annual Cerebral Palsy Telethon in Birm-

"We told him Birmingham needed him, and he accepted our invitation immediately," Frank Mason, telethon chairman, said.

Now in his fourth year as the high - principled, young physician of "Peyton Place." Nelson has been a Hollywood star since 1956.
