FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION
U. S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
CASE NO. 158-245
158-245

When mankind have had an opportunity to see where the technological progress is taking place, they have found that it is not the progress of the past, but the progress of the future.

What is progress?

skill to continue to outstrip social un-

This can, indeed, happen if we allow the individual creativity, robbing it of opportunity.

Some people have expressed the products of technology will impoverish the human life, taking away the very features that make it unique.

The sudden growth of technology has crumbled the problems of the first magnitude, as well as the problems of the first magnitude.

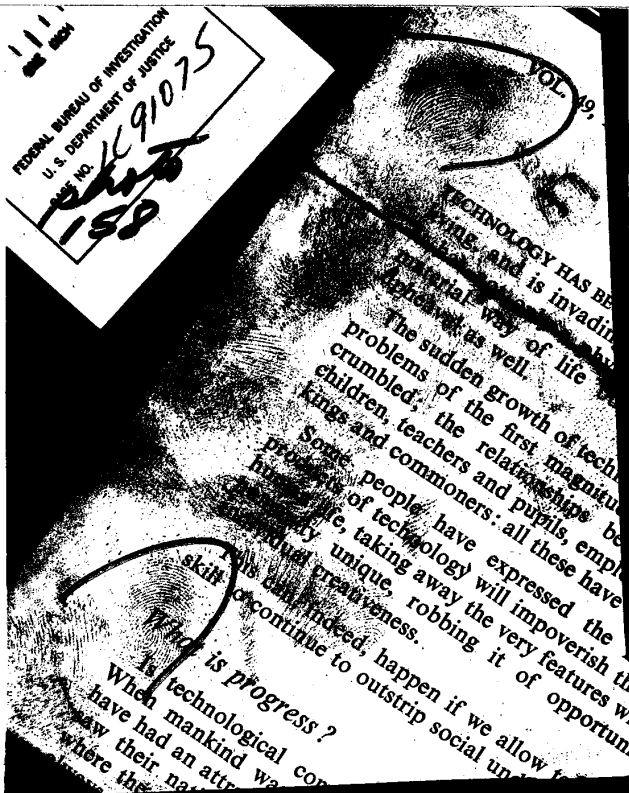

TECHNOLOGY HAS BEEN INVADING, and is invading, the very life of the individual, and is invading the very life of the individual.

conditions attached to making
Men had to give up their love,
their decorative and useful tails, and offer their food to the fire-devil before eating it. They had to adapt.

We are still debating whether this is really what we wanted. It is true that practically everybody in an advanced country can have as much of material goods
as is necessary to happiness, without excessive hours
of labour, and with the opportunity for developing mental culture to fill leisure time. But the improvement has been in methods and things, not in purposes
and ambitions.

It is impossible to turn back the clock. You cannot buy peace of mind or continued existence by imposing ignorance on yourself. No business man dare leave all information to his competitors: he may find it
