[illegible]

1. The first step in the process of the investigation is the identification of the problem. This is done by the investigator, who is usually a member of the research team. The investigator will identify the problem by looking at the data and trying to find out what is going on.

2. The second step is to define the problem. This is done by the investigator, who will define the problem in terms of the research question. The research question is a statement that describes the problem and what the investigator wants to know.

3. The third step is to design the study. This is done by the investigator, who will design the study in terms of the research question. The study design is a plan that describes how the investigator will collect and analyze the data.

4. The fourth step is to collect the data. This is done by the investigator, who will collect the data in terms of the research question. The data collection is the process of gathering information about the problem.

5. The fifth step is to analyze the data. This is done by the investigator, who will analyze the data in terms of the research question. The data analysis is the process of looking at the data and trying to find out what it means.

6. The sixth step is to interpret the results. This is done by the investigator, who will interpret the results in terms of the research question. The interpretation is the process of looking at the results and trying to find out what they mean.

7. The seventh step is to write the report. This is done by the investigator, who will write the report in terms of the research question. The report is a document that describes the results of the investigation.

8. The eighth step is to present the results. This is done by the investigator, who will present the results in terms of the research question. The presentation is the process of showing the results to the research team.

9. The ninth step is to discuss the results. This is done by the investigator, who will discuss the results in terms of the research question. The discussion is the process of talking about the results and trying to find out what they mean.

10. The tenth step is to conclude the investigation. This is done by the investigator, who will conclude the investigation in terms of the research question. The conclusion is the final step in the process of the investigation.
