SUBJECT: MURKIN

At 12:35 a.m., 4/18/68, Raymond Higgins, 300 East Worthington Avenue, Charlotte, North Carolina, telephonically contacted Duty Supervisor SA Richard F. Bates to advise that he had just observed an individual at Robertson's Drive-In Restaurant, South Boulevard, Charlotte, whom he felt was possibly Eric Starvo Galt. According to Higgins, this individual was accompanied by a woman who spoke in a foreign tongue.

Higgins stated that he, Higgins, has patronized Robertson's Drive-In for years and knows all the regular customers, thus, when this man and woman entered, his attention was attracted to them as he knew they were not regular customers. Higgins declared he checked the newspaper photos of Galt and the unknown man bore a striking resemblance to Galt. Higgins further advised that the man's left ear was larger than his right ear.

When the couple left, Higgins followed them to an apartment house in the 1800 block of South Boulevard, Charlotte, possibly 1821 South Boulevard. He did not know what apartment they entered but described the building as renting out $20 a week apartments.

Higgins can be reached during the day at his employment, Mitchell and Becker, 1900 block of South Boulevard.

ACTION:

Higgin's information was furnished to SA Crawford Williams, Charlotte Division at 12:50 a.m., 4/18/68 who advised that Charlotte would immediately check it out. SA Williams is handling the Murkin investigation in the Charlotte Division.

On 4/18/68, SA Roger D. Ashland, Washington Field Office, brought to the Laboratory the photograph and signature of one Robert J. Corcoran who is currently applying for a passport and who was thought to be a "look alike" for Eric S. Galt. Corcoran, whose date of birth is given as [redacted] at Baltimore, Maryland, resides at 1929 Gwynn Oak Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland, and listed occupation as a salesman.

The writings received in this case lack the comparability for an adequate comparison with the signature Robert J. Corcoran; however, nothing of particular significance was noted between the signature of Corcoran when compared with the writings attributed to Eric S. Galt, from such a comparison as could be made.

The Washington Field Office has forwarded this information to the Baltimore Division for further investigation and the above information was furnished to the Latent Fingerprint Section for a search of the records of the Identification Division and a subsequent comparison of any fingerprint cards located with the unidentified latents appearing on items received in this matter.

SUBJECT: ERIC STAVRO GALT - FUGITIVE
CIVIL RIGHTS

At 4:50 p.m. on April 18th, SA John W. O'Beirne received a long-distance telephone call from Mrs. Clara Pringle Neel, 128 South Main Street, Henderson, Kentucky.

Mrs. Neel advised that on April 10th she was in the St. Louis Airport and between the hours of 2:00 and 3:00 p.m. observed the individual who she believes resembles the photograph of the captioned individual which appeared in today's newspapers. She said this individual was dressed in a white uniform and appeared to be an employee of Eastern Airlines. He was engaged in putting food on to airplanes. She advised one of his ears appeared to protrude as does Galt's in the photograph.

Bufiles reflect no information identifiable with this individual, and she appeared to be quite coherent and rational.

The SAC, St. Louis, was immediately telephoned and furnished this information with the instruction that it be checked out and the Bureau advised of the results.
