April 1, 1969 GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

The attached advises that Judge W. Preston Battle, Criminal Court, Shelby County, Memphis, Tennessee, was found dead in his office on evening of 3-31-69.

According to the Memphis Police Department, there is no indication of foul play. Indications are that Judge Battle died from natural causes.

Judge Battle presided over court proceedings of James Earl Ray in which Ray received a 99-year sentence on state charge of murder.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I would like to know just one thing. Since you hated and once publicly insulted Dr. Martin Luther King how can you expect me to believe you when you say there was no conspiracy to kill him?

You announced there was no conspiracy to kill Dr. King only 24 hours after he was shot. I do not think this was ample time to conduct a full investigation. How can we believe you? Why should anyone believe you?

I think you said there was no conspiracy just to calm the American public and that is the reason you are still saying there is no conspiracy. The only trouble is not many people believe you.

How could you make that announcement only 24 hours after Dr. King was shot? I wish you would inform me.

Sincerely yours,

Les Tischauser 2309 N. Kedvale Chicago, Ill. 60639

 $$\operatorname{\textbf{This}}$$  is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr.

Jack Greenberg, an attorney with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), contacted our New York Office on March 17, 1969, and requested that an Agent sit in on an interview that Greenberg was going to have with Attorney Russell X. Thompson, an attorney from Memphis, Tennessee. In accordance with the Director's instructions, Greenberg was advised that an Agent would not sit in on the interview and if Thompson or Greenberg had any additional information, they could come to our New York Office and give such information.

It is noted that Mr. Thompson on April 11, 1968, (King assassinated April 4, 1968) appeared at our Memphis Office and advised he had a client, whom he would not disclose under any circumstances, who advised him that the murderer of Martin Luther King, Jr. escaped from the scene using a motorcycle, not a Mustang car. Thompson stated this individual also advised that the weapon used to kill King was a .30 caliber Savage rifle, and the barrel of the rifle had long since been disassembled and melted down. Thompson advised that he was of the opinion that his client was a mental case. Information furnished to us by Thompson was thoroughly checked out and nothing was found to be of significance.

Thompson contacted our New York Office on March 18, 1969, and advised that he would probably return to Memphis on approximately March 19, 1969, and upon his return, he would contact our Memphis Office to arrange an appropriate time to furnish the information that he possesses, as it would be more practical to furnish the information to the FBI in Memphis since they are more familiar with streets, locations, and other pertinent details. Thompson at this time admitted he had no information that he classifies as great or spectacular such as the news media was attempting to convey. In accordance with the Director's instructions, SAC Jensen of our Memphis Office was instructed to listen to Thompson and absolutely nothing be disclosed to him.

REC'S DELOACH

Rosen to DeLoach memorandum RE: MURKIN

On March 26, 1969, Mr. Thompson contacted our Memphis Office and he apologized for a story which appeared in a Memphis newspaper which quoted him as saying that he turned his entire confidential file on the James Earl Ray case over to the FBI. Mr. Thompson said that he frankly doubted and did not contend that there was any conspiracy in the James Earl Ray case.

Mr. Thompson stated that he had much in the way of material which dealt with various suppositions, theories, and suspicions of his, but he frankly did not have any additional material that could be considered evidentiary in any way whatsoever. He offered to make his voluminous material available, but repeated all of his material was pure speculation. Mr. Thompson was told by our Memphis Office that in the event he received any information which he felt might be evidentiary in nature that our office would be interested in having an opportunity to review this material. Mr. Thompson indicated that should he receive any information of this type he would notify the Memphis Office.

ACTION:

In view of the fact that Mr. Thompson has not been forthright with us and in view of the fact he does not have any information of an evidentiary nature, it is recommended that we have no further contact with Mr. Thompson to solicit his material. We will accept information if he brings such to our attention. Attached for approval is a letter to the Department advising them of the interviews with Thompson.

On 4/1/69, Executive Assistant District Attorney ROBERT K. DWYER, Memphis, Tennessee, advised that the death of Judge W. PRESTON BATTLE may have some influence on RAY's efforts to obtain a new trial. Mr. DWYER explained that RAY has written two letters to Judge BATTLE in which he has indicated that his new attorney is one RICHARD RYAN, a Memphis attorney, and he has requested of Judge BATTLE a "hearing" on his recent sentencing. Mr. DWYER explained that when a Judge dies suddenly all motions then pending before him are granted automatically. He said that RAY's request for a hearing" may very well be construed as constituting a motion filed by RAY, and in this case RAY will be granted a hearing. DWYER said it is too early to tell whether this will be considered as a request for a hearing for a new trial, or possibly a habeas corpus hearing. He said he expects that RAY's new attorney will file a motion for a new trial, this being entirely proper under Tennessee law.

Memphis indices contain nothing identifiable with RICHARD RYAN. RYAN is a little known lawyer with no particular reputation as either a criminal or civil lawyer. He is not commonly known as a racist and members of the legal profession are at a loss to explain why RAY has retained him.

The Bureau will be kept advised of any motions fileds have by RYAN on RAY's behalf.

Casper _ Callahan William Bradford Huie has written a third article for "Look" magazine. The article appears in the issue dated April 15, 1969, but this issue was circulated on April 1, 1969. A review of the article reveals that James Earl Ray allegedly registered at the Travelodigege Motel, Five Points, Birmingham, Alabama, on March 29, 1968; at a motel near Florence, Alabama, on April 1, 1968; and at a motel near Corinth, Mississippi, on April 2, 1968. It is to be noted that Ray, using the name Harvey Lowmyer, negotiated the purchase of a rifle at the Aeromarine Supply Company, Birmingham, Alabama, on March 29 and 30, 1968. On April 3, 1968, he was registered at the Rebel Motel in Memphis, Tennessee.

In an effort to establish whether or not Ray was in contact with any individuals immediately prior to the assassination, appropriate investigation should be conducted by the Birmingham and Jackson Offices. It should be understood that there is to be no indication made whatsoever that the following investigation has any connection whatsoever with the case involving James Earl Ray.

Birmingham and Jackson Offices should make inquiries of the motels in or near the cities indicated above to determine the identities of individuals registered during the period March 29 to April 3, 1968.

Efforts should be made to identify all individuals listed, as well as obtaining descriptions and registrations for the automobiles of such persons. A review of such records might indicate whether any one individual might have accompanied Ray or been in contact with him during this period. Pertinent or questionable registration records should be obtained if possible for examination by the FBI Laboratory.

Memphis should insure that the Bureau is kept currently advised of pertinent developments in this case, particularly all aspects of court action since the death of Judge Battle on March 31, 1969.

NOTE:

The article in "Look" magazine indicates that Ray allegedly had been registered in the motels indicated in the first paragraph of the airtel. This information was not disclosed in connection with our investigation. Birmingham and Jackson Offices are being instructed to conduct investigation at the motels in question in an effort to (1) fully account for Ray's whereabouts immediately preceding the murder and (2) determine whether or not "Raoul" (previously identified in Huie's articles are being instructed to contact with Ray in Canada) or anyone else might have been in contact with or accompanying Ray at the time.

Memphis, Tennessee March 26, 1969

ASSASSINATION OF DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING APRIL 4, 1968, MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE

At approximately 10:15 a.m., March 26, 1969, RUSSELL X. THOMPSON, an Attorney, Memphis, Tennessee, telephonically contacted the Memphis Office of the FBI. Mr. THOMPSON advised that he had been in New York City, where he presented certain material in his possession to the NAACP Legal Defense. Mr. THOMPSON advised that while in New York City he had made contact with the New York Office of the FBI. He said that after discussing this matter with a representative of the FBI in New York, it was agreed that it would probably be more advantageous for him to discuss his findings in this case with a representative of the Memphis Office of the FBI.

Mr. THOMPSON subsequently apologized for a story which had appeared in a liemphis newspaper, which quoted him as saying that he had turned his entire confidential file on the JAMES EARL RAY case over to the FBI. Mr. THOMPSON said the newspaper reporter had misquoted him and what he had told the newspaper reporter was that he had had earlier contact with the FBI. Mr. THOMPSON's reference to talks with the FBI referred to an interview had with him shortly after the assassination of Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING in April, 1968. Mr. THOMPSON said that frankly he doubted, and did not contend, there was any conspiracy in the JAMES EARL RAY case. specifically advised that among the suspicions he had was the person who called on him shortly after the assassination. This was a person whom he gave the name TONY BENEVETTA. Mr. THOMPSON said this was a phonetic spelling and the person whom he interviewed by that name had told him this was an alias and not a true name. BENEVETTA is the person whom THOMPSON said furnished him information to the effect that the person who did assassinate Dr. KING had left the scene of the shooting on a motorcycle and not in a white Mustang.

This same person also told Mr. THOMPSON that the rifle and the package of material which the Memphis Police had recovered at the scene of the crime were not items of interest in the actual assassination but had been used as a decoy. BENEVETTA also told THOMPSON that the rifle which had been used to kill Dr. KING was a Savage rifle and it had already been melted down. THOMPSON described this person, BENEVETTA, as being a blond Latin. THOMPSON stated that at the time he originally discussed this information with BENEVETTA he was of the impression that there might have been some mental instability on the part of BENEVETTA.

ENCLOSURE ( )

THOMPSON also advised that during the initial stages of the JAMES EARL RAY case he did assist Attorney ARTHUR HANES, SR. of Birmingham, Alabama, and he did tell HANES about this blond Latin who had called on him. THOMPSON speculated that HANES had told RAY about this blond Latin and possibly on that basis RAY had come up with the RAOUL character. THOMPSON further said, of course, there was a possibility that HANES himself might have manufactured the character "RAOUL," based on the data he had furnished about a blond Latin.

Mr. THOMPSON said that to this date he has not seen or heard any more information from BENEVETTA. He said his information regarding BENEVETTA had been furnished to Attorney General PHIL CANALE, who in turn told him that the BENEVETTA person probably was identical with a person in town who had called on one or two preachers and had furnished a similar type story. THOMPSON said that Attorney General CANALE informed him that this matter had been definitely checked out and there was no involvement of any kind on the part of BENEVETTA.

THOMPSON also advised that another matter which raised some suspicion in his mind was the fact that in the event the State had put any of its witnesses on the stand there would have been some question as to their creditability. Specifically, he pointed out that it was a well known fact that CHARLES Q. STEPHENS, who would have been a State witness, was known to drink rather heavily. THOMPSON said in view of this he felt that the defense could have attacked the creditability of STEPHENS. He further said the original newspaper stories reporting comments from BESSIE BREWER, the landlady at the rooming house, indicated she could not identify

JAMES EARL RAY, and yet the State was going to use her as a witness. He felt that on this basis her creditability could be attacked. He further stated he knew that ARTHUR HANES, while acting as Attorney for JAMES EARL RAY, had hired a local investigator, RENFRO HAYS. HAYS, according to THOMPSON, had located a white male by the name HAROLD CARTER, who claimed to have been sitting on a box at the rear of the rooming house and to have seen someone fire from the wall facing the Lorraine Motel and CARTER reportedly saw this man jump down and run away from the scene. THOMPSON said that he knew that HUGH STANTON, a local attorney from the Public Defender's Office appointed in the JAMES EARL RAY case, had a representative of his office talk to HAROLD CARTER and their conclusion was that HAROLD CARTER was completely unreliable.

THOMPSON also said there was, of course, the possibility that RENFRO HAYS, the investigator for ARTHUR HANES, SR., had HAROLD CARTER tell the story that he did. THOMPSON said he, of course, did not know whether this was so or not, but it was pure conjecture on his part.

In addition, Mr. THOMPSON said another suspicious circumstance as far as he was concerned was that he had learned a man by the name JIM SANDERS was in Jim's Grill (located in area of the rooming house), had ordered sausage and eggs at approximately the time of the shooting of Dr. KING, and it was reported that SANDERS did not leave the counter as so many others in Jim's Grill did, but instead ordered a beer and continued to eat. THOMPSON thought this was most suspicious. SANDERS is, according to THOMPSON, a stranger in Jim's Grill, and he thought it unusual that a stranger would be in the Grill at about the time of the shooting.

THOMPSON also said that another matter that bothered him or made him feel suspicious was the fact that JAMES EARL RAY had registered at the Rebel Motel and left there and then re-registered at the rooming house on the same day, April 4. He said it just did not seem to make sense that a man would leave a motel and come to a rooming house such as that on South Main.

Mr. THOMPSON concluded by stating he had much in the way of material which dealt with various suppositions, theories, and suspicions of his, but he frankly did not have any material that could be considered evidentiary in any way whatever. He offered to make his voluminous material available, but repeated that all his material was nothing but pure speculation.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

This same person also told Mr. THOMPSON that the rifle and the package of material which the Memphis Police had recovered at the scene of the crime were not items of interest in the actual assassination but had been used as a decoy. BENEVETTA also told THOMPSON that the rifle which had been used to kill Dr. KING was a Savage rifle and it had already been melted down. THOMPSON described this person, BENEVETTA, as being a blond Latin. THOMPSON stated that at the time he originally discussed this information with BENEVETTA he was of the impression that there might have been some mental instability on the part of BENEVETTA.

THOMPSON also advised that during the initial stages of the JAMES EARL RAY case he did assist Attorney ARTHUR HANES, SR. of Birmingham, Alabama, and he did tell HANES about this blond Latin who had called on him. THOMPSON speculated that HANES had told RAY about this blond Latin and possibly on that basis RAY had come up with the RAOUL character. THOMPSON further said, of course, there was a possibility that HANES himself might have manufactured the character "RAOUL," based on the data he had furnished about a blond Latin.

Mr. THOMPSON said that to this date he has not seen or heard any more information from BENEVETTA. He said his information regarding BENEVETTA had been furnished to Attorney General PHIL CANALE, who in turn told him that the BENEVETTA person probably was identical with a person in town who had called on one or two preachers and had furnished a similar type story. THOMPSON said that Attorney General CANALE informed him that this matter had been definitely checked out and there was no involvement of any kind on the part of BENEVETTA.

THOMPSON also advised that another matter which raised some suspicion in his mind was the fact that in the event the State had put any of its witnesses on the stand there would have been some question as to their creditability. Specifically, he pointed out that it was a well known fact that CHARLES Q. STEPHENS, who would have been a State witness, was known to drink rather heavily. THOMPSON said in view of this he felt that the defense could have attacked the creditability of STEPHENS. He further said the original newspaper stories reporting comments from BESSIE BREWER, the landlady at the rooming house, indicated she could not identify

JAMES EARL RAY, and yet the State was going to use her as a witness. He felt that on this basis her creditability could be attacked. He further stated he knew that ARTHUR HANES, while acting as Attorney for JAMES EARL RAY, had hired a local investigator, RENFRO HAYS. HAYS, according to THOMPSON, had located a white male by the name HAROLD CARTER, who claimed to have been sitting on a box at the rear of the rooming house and to have seen someone fire from the wall facing the Lorraine Motel and CARTER reportedly saw this man jump down and run away from the scene. THOMPSON said that he knew that HUGH STANTON, a local attorney from the Public Defender's Office appointed in the JAMES EARL RAY case, had a representative of his office talk to HAROLD CARTER and their conclusion was that HAROLD CARTER was completely unreliable.

THOMPSON also said there was, of course, the possibility that RENFRO HAYS, the investigator for ARTHUR HANES, SR., had HAROLD CARTER tell the story that he did. THOMPSON said he, of course, did not know whether this was so or not, but it was pure conjecture on his part.

In addition, Mr. THOMPSON said another suspicious circumstance as far as he was concerned was that he had learned a man by the name JIM SANDERS was in Jim's Grill (located in area of the rooming house), had ordered sausage and eggs at approximately the time of the shooting of Dr. KING, and it was reported that SANDERS did not leave the counter as so many others in Jim's Grill did, but instead ordered a beer and continued to eat. THOMPSON thought this was most suspicious. SANDERS is, according to THOMPSON, a stranger in Jim's Grill, and he thought it unusual that a stranger would be in the Grill at about the time of the shooting.

THOMPSON also said that another matter that bothered him or made him feel suspicious was the fact that JAMES EARL RAY had registered at the Rebel Motel and left there and then re-registered at the rooming house on the same day, April 4. He said it just did not seem to make sense that a man would leave a motel and come to a rooming house such as that on South Main.

Mr. THOMPSON concluded by stating he had much in the way of material which dealt with various suppositions, theories, and suspicions of his, but he frankly did not have any material that could be considered evidentiary in any way whatever. He offered to make his voluminous material available, but repeated that all his material was nothing but pure speculation.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Memphis, Tennessee March 26, 1969

ASSASSINATION OF DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING APRIL 4, 1968, MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE

At approximately 10:15 a.m., March 26, 1969, RUSSELL X. THOMPSON, an Attorney, Memphis, Tennessee, telephonically contacted the Memphis Office of the FBI. Mr. THOMPSON advised that he had been in New York City, where he presented certain material in his possession to the NAACP Legal Defense. Mr. THOMPSON advised that while in New York City he had made contact with the New York Office of the FBI. He said that after discussing this matter with a representative of the FBI in New York, it was agreed that it would probably be more advantageous for him to discuss his findings in this case with a representative of the Memphis Office of the FBI.

Mr. THOMPSON subsequently apologized for a story which had appeared in a limphis newspaper, which quoted him as saying that he had turned his entire confidential file on the JAMES EARL RAY case over to the FBI. Mr. THOMPSON said the newspaper reporter had misquoted him and what he had told the newspaper reporter was that he had had earlier contact with the FBI. Mr. THOMPSON's reference to talks with the FBI referred to an interview had with him shortly after the assassination of Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING in April, 1968. Mr. THOMPSON said that frankly he doubted, and did not contend, there was any conspiracy in the JAMES EARL RAY case. He specifically advised that among the suspicions he had was the person who called on him shortly after the assassination. This was a person whom he gave the name TONY BENEVETTA. Mr. THOMPSON said this was a phonetic spelling and the person whom he interviewed by that name had told him this was an alias and not a true name. BENEVETTA is the person whom THOMPSON said furnished him information to the effect that the person who did assassinate Dr. KING had left the scene of the shooting on a motorcycle and not in a white Mustang.

This same person also told Mr. THOMPSON that the rifle and the package of material which the Memphis Police odi EC) c had recovered at the scene of the crime were not items of interest in the actual assassination but had been used as a decoy. BENEVETTA also told THOMPSON that the rifle which had been used to kill Dr. KING was a Savage rifle and it had already been melted down. THOMPSON described this person, BENEVETTA, as being a blond Latin. THOMPSON stated that at the time he originally discussed this information with BENEVETTA he was of the impression that there might have been some mental instability on the part of BENEVETTA.

THOMPSON also advised that during the initial stages of the JAMES EARL RAY case he did assist Attorney ARTHUR HANES, SR. of Birmingham, Alabama, and he did tell HANES about this blond Latin who had called on him. THOMPSON speculated that HANES had told RAY about this blond Latin and possibly on that basis RAY had come up with the RAOUL character. THOMPSON further said, of course, there was a possibility that HANES himself might have manufactured the character "RAOUL," based on the data he had furnished about a blond Latin.

Mr. THOMPSON said that to this date he has not seen or heard any more information from BENEVETTA. He said his information regarding BENEVETTA had been furnished to Attorney General PHIL CANALE, who in turn told him that the BENEVETTA person probably was identical with a person in town who had called on one or two preachers and had furnished a similar type story. SUBJECT: MURKIN

> This is the case involving the murder of Martin Luther King, Jr. A new Memphis Criminal Court Judge, Arthur Faguin, took over the James Earl Ray matter following the sudden death of Judge W. Preston Battle.

We have been following this with Memphis, as you will recall, Latent Fingerprint Examiner George J. Bonebrake is supposed to appear in Criminal Court, Memphis, at possible contempt hearing on 4-11-69. Memphis initially advised 4-1-69 that Mr. Don Owens (a local attorney and advisor to Judge Battle prior to his death) had informed that in view of Judge Battle's death, Bonebrake would not be required to appear on 4-11-69 and while this was not an official notification, he felt certain the Bonebrake matter would be considered closed. By airtel 4-3-69. Memphis advised that some local newspapers there had indicated Judge Faquin would hold hearings on 4-11-69; however, Owens claims the newspapers are in error and that Bonebrake still should not appear on 4-11-69 unless otherwise advised. I have pointed this out to Bonebrake. We will continue to follow with Memphis.

Pull Truth In Ray Case Still Mystery To Judge

By BERNARD GAVZER
Associated Press. Within

Judge W. Preston Battle said yesterday that he believes the full truth still is not known about James Earl Ray and the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The judge, in whose court Ray pleaded guilty to the slaying of King and where the case would have been heard had it gone to trial, said that like many other Americans he remained puzzled about several unanswered questions.

But he said he is convinced that a trial would not have produced the answers.

Like others, I would truly like to know how Ray actually found the spot from which to fire. How did Ray know where Dr. King would be? How did he determine the type of weapon to be used? What are the details of the actual purchase and selection of the weapon? Was he alone in surveillance of the Lorraine Motel?

"Most puzzling of all, is his escape from Memphis. To me, it seems miraculous that he was able to flee to Atlanta despite the all-points bulletins without his white Mustang being spotted on a highway."

Dr. King was shot to death April 4 as he stood on the balcony of the Lorraine Motel. The killer was reported to have fled in a white Mustang. The judge said there is much

The judge said there is much speculation about possible answers, but nothing based on fact and syldence.

"I'd like the full proof," he said, "And as I said on March 10 when the agreement was reached to permit Ray to charge his plea to guilty, there is no ond to our interest or to the law's responsibility and de-car as we want to the control of the

"I was convinced then and am convinced new that the trial would have muddled our understanding of the substantial evidence which established Ray as the killer," the judge said.

"It is a sever to assume that the prosecution would have had a chance to cross-examine Ray about his finances, or how he escaped from the Missouri State Handshitters, or about persons who gave him any aid before or after the slaying of Dr. King.

That assumes Ray would have taken the stand I doubt very seriously that defense counsel would have risked placing Ray in such a position. In fact, as I understand it, this all along has been one of the main problems between Ray and verious men who have acted for the defense. They extracted for the defense They extracted against 1, and he has wanting to take the risk.

I have been a first than the publications innormally the publications innormally the risk and light such than the publications and a serious and a se

"Had there been a trial, there could always have been the possibility, in such an emotionally charged case, of a hung jury. Or, though it may appear for fetched now, he could have perhaps been acquitted by a jury."

Battle sald he thinks that some of the unanswered questions ultimately will be answered by Ray. He said he thinks that Ray-has enjoyed the notoriety and will periodically explain various details of the crime.

The record indicates a rather careful proceeding in which Battle attempted to avoid any happenstance that could be interpreted as judicial error or seized upon as grounds for abrogating the agreement.

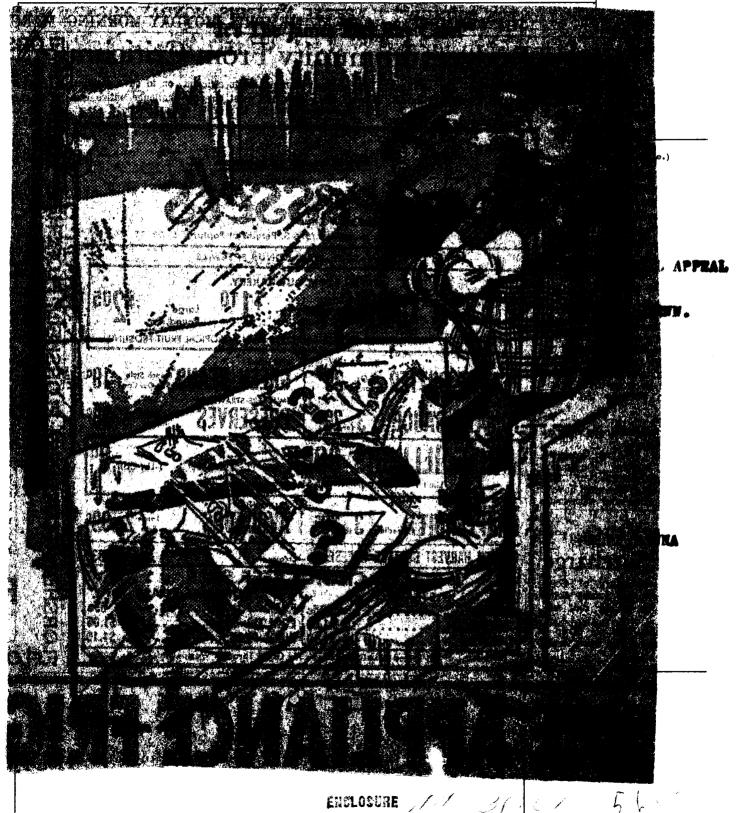

He repeatedly examined Ray as to Ray's understanding of the agreement and whether he was doing this of his free

"The law requires only two things in such a proceeding," the judge said. "One is that we present the body of the corpus delicti, and the second is that evidence be presented establishing that the defaulant was involved with the critice."
