COBBLE married JERRY COBBLE, her present husband, and moved to 621 5th Avenue, Conway, Arkansas, approximately one year ago. Approximately six months ago, she received several telephone calls of the same nature and shortly later received several more calls. She advised that some of the calls mentioned JAMES EARL RAY by name and during the calls she was told to keep her mouth shut and she or her kids would not get hurt.

LYNDA COBBLE and her husband, JERRY COBBLE, moved from Conway, Arkansas to their present address in Arnold, Missouri, approximately two weeks ago. She has received four or five calls, and in each case the caller sounds to COBBLE to be the same individual. During one specific call she was told to keep her mouth shut if she wanted to see daylight the next day. She recalls that the first call that she received at her new residence in Arnold, Missouri, occurred approximately 9:30 PM on an unrecalled date and then the next call occurred approximately 3:00 AM the next morning. She claims to have also received several subsequent calls at approximately 7:00 AM on various mornings. COBBLE states that the last call was received the morning that MIKE COLLIER of the police department, Arnold, Missouri, came out and interviewed her in response to her telephone call to the Arnold Police Department. She stated with regards to all of the aforementioned calls she is positive that none of the calls were collect calls and that there was never an operator on the line.

Upon questioning, COBBLE furnished the following information concerning the history of her association with JAMES EARL RAY:

COBBLE married JAMES ALLEN BENNEY, white male, date of birth [redacted] on March 11, 1968. When they first got married, they were living at Maplewood, Missouri, at an unrecalled address. At approximately the fourth or fifth month of their marriage, her husband JAMES BENNEY brought JAMES EARL RAY home with him on one occasion and introduced RAY to COBBLE. COBBLE was pregnant at that time with her daughter, [redacted], and RAY appeared to be very crazy about kids. In fact on numerous occasions,

RAY brought baby things during his visits to their residence for the expected arrival of the baby. COBBLE cannot recall any specific incidents involving criminal activity between her husband and RAY that occurred while they resided at Maplewood. Approximately two months after COBBLE met RAY, she and JAMES BENNEY moved to a new residence located at Florissant, Missouri. This was approximately four months before [REDACTED] was born. The baby's birth date was [REDACTED]. COBBLE and her husband resided at an apartment complex located behind the Ramada Inn or possibly a Holiday Inn near a Target Store and a Central Hardware Store in Florissant, Missouri. They lived at that apartment for approximately one year. During that year, JAMES EARL RAY visited their residence frequently.

COBBLE stated that she and her husband were still residing at the residence in Florissant, Missouri on [REDACTED] when her daughter [REDACTED] was born at [REDACTED]. In fact, JAMES EARL RAY visited the baby, [REDACTED] at the [REDACTED] [REDACTED] at the approximate time of her birth and advised hospital officials that he was the baby's father. COBBLE stated that this all occurred prior to the death of Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING.

Approximately three months after [REDACTED] birth, LYNDIA COBBLE moved out with the baby and they moved in with her mother at Cahokia, Illinois. She was living in Cahokia, Illinois when Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING was killed.

At the same time that COBBLE moved out of the apartment in Florissant and in with her mother, JAMES BENNEY moved out of the apartment also and relocated at a house in Memphis, Tennessee. The money for the down payment for the house was given to JAMES BENNEY by JAMES EARL RAY. Sometime before Dr. KING's death, BENNEY contacted COBBLE and asked her to come down with the baby to visit. She went down to Memphis and visited BENNEY for two or three days.

During the period of time that COBBLE was visiting with BENNEY at the aforementioned house in Memphis, Tennessee approximately five different men came and visited BENNEY at the house. She described the individuals as all being large white males wearing business suits and carrying attache cases and ranging in age from 25 to 30. JAMES EARL RAY and his brother, JERRY RAY, were also at the house in Memphis during her visit on numerous occasions. COBBLE recalls specifically overhearing a particular meeting between the aforementioned individuals at the house in Memphis, Tennessee. She recalls they were discussing a bank robbery to occur in Florissant, Missouri. JERRY RAY appeared to be the leader of the group and all of the individuals referred to a floor diagram of the bank to be robbed. The bank was to be robbed by JERRY RAY, JIM BENNEY, and two other individuals who were not at the meeting and who she never had occasion to meet. COBBLE believes that the business men had floor plans for several different banks and that the intent of the people in the group was to rob several different banks.

Upon questioning, COBBLE advised that she could not recall any mention during these meetings concerning the death of MARTIN LUTHER KING or any mention of MARTIN LUTHER KING or any mention of anybody named RAOUL.

COBBLE recalls that there were several conversations that occurred behind closed doors but she assumed they made reference to bank robberies.

COBBLE stated that the night before Dr. KING was killed, she and JAMES EARL RAY were watching television and RAY was playing with her baby, [REDACTED], on the floor in front of the television set when mention was made over the television concerning Dr. KING's visit in Memphis. COBBLE recalls that RAY made a statement to the effect "that black sonofabitch all he does is raise hell somebody ought to waste him". COBBLE advised that it was obvious from her numerous conversations with RAY that he absolutely hated black people and he made that hatred very clear. She recalls that on several occasions prior to that evening that she heard JAMES EARL RAY make statements to the effect that he would like to waste him. (Referring to Dr. KING). COBBLE stated that she got into an argument with JAMES EARL RAY that evening concerning the fact that she wanted to go back to Cahokia with the baby. RAY became enraged because he wanted COBBLE to stay there with the baby for a while.

COBBLE stated that same evening which was the evening before Dr. KING's murder, she left Memphis and went back to her mother's residence in Cahokia, Illinois and never saw JAMES EARL RAY in person again.

COBBLE stated that two or three weeks after she returned from Memphis, the bank robbery occurred at Florissant, Missouri, and it was her understanding as related to her by JIM BENNEY that the money was obtained to raise lawyer fees for JAMES EARL RAY.

On the night of the aforementioned bank robbery, JAMES BENNEY came to visit COBBLE at her mother's residence in Cahokia, Illinois. COBBLE went out to the car in which BENNEY was riding and observed approximately four bags of money with currency scattered in the back seat. COBBLE described that car as fairly new at that time, green over green Charger. She recalls that BENNEY had several sets of registration certificates and several different sets of license plates for that car. She advised that BENNEY told her that he was supposed to meet the others involved in the bank robbery at Memphis, Tennessee to split up the money, however, he wanted her to leave with him and move out to Portland, Oregon and just keep all the money for themselves. COBBLE refused to go with BENNEY.

COBBLE recalls that JERRY RAY was apprehended on the very day of the bank robbery several hours after the bank robbery. She advised she observed JERRY RAY on television at the time of his arrest and that she has seen him on numerous occasions on television subsequent to that date. She stated that the individual that she has seen was identified as JERRY RAY on television is the same JERRY RAY that she saw at the aforementioned residence in Memphis, Tennessee.

COBBLE stated that after she refused to go to Portland, Oregon with JIM BENNEY, he went out there on his own and started working in a bar. She advised that he was shot and killed in a bar on November 28, 1971. She stated that at the time of his death he had only been out to Oregon several months.

COBBLE further advised that on the day of her husband's death, she went to the office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) located in St. Louis, Missouri and conferred with an Agent known to her as PETE concerning her husband's death.

Upon questioning COBBLE advised that she and her husband, JAMES BENNEY, previously owned the Grape Vine Bar located on Arsenal Street in St. Louis. She stated that they had purchased the bar from JERRY RAY.

COBBLE originally stated that the bar was sold to them by JERRY RAY after the death of Dr. KING and she was 17 years old at that particular time. She stated that they operated the bar for approximately six to eight months before they sold it. When confronted with the conflict in time concerning the death of MARTIN LUTHER KING COBBLE stated that actually she and JAMES BENNEY purchased the bar before Dr. KING was killed, but while they were separated and not living together. She stated that JAMES BENNEY subsequently sold the bar after Dr. KING's death at the request of JERRY RAY in order to raise money for JAMES EARL RAY's lawyers.

COBBLE was confronted with the fact that Dr. KING had been killed on April 4, 1968 and that it would be impossible for JAMES EARL RAY to have seen the baby prior to that date inasmuch as the baby was not born until [redacted] and COBBLE stated that there must be a mistake in dates. She further stated that she is absolutely sure that JAMES EARL RAY was very fond of her daughter, [redacted] who was born in December, 1968, and that on the night before Dr. KING was killed, RAY was playing with the baby in front of the television set at the residence in Memphis, Tennessee.

COBBLE stated that she believes that JAMES BENNEY and JERRY RAY had been involved in several bank robberies and service station holdups; however she was not cognizant of the details.

He and his wife and their family resided at 1803 Evelyn Avenue, Memphis, in 1968 and they currently own the house at that address. ANN DODD FREEMAN, who resides at 1509 Peabody Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee, was interviewed at 1803 Evelyn Avenue, Memphis. She furnished the following information:

She and her husband, Dr. JERRE M. FREEMAN own and formerly resided at 1803 Evelyn Avenue. They resided at this residence in 1968; however, Dr. FREEMAN was attending Harvard University Medical School, Boston, Massachusetts, during the period, January, 1968, through May, 1968.

Mrs. FREEMAN recalls the general events and activities that preceded the death of Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING in April, 1968, very well. At the time, she was a teacher at Owen College, Memphis, a predominantly black school which has merged with LeMoyne College and the two colleges are now known as LeMoyne-Owen College. Many of the members of the student body and most of the faculty at Owen College were interested in the strike by sanitation workers for the City of Memphis and supported efforts by the sanitation workers to obtain increased wages. Mrs. FREEMAN felt that the sanitation workers were under paid. She never attended any rallies or other activities in which Dr. KING participated but regrets that she was not able to do so. She supported his efforts to assist the sanitation workers. She did attend a memorial service honoring Dr. KING after his death.

Her husband is sometimes described by some people as foreign in appearance. He is tall, has dark curly hair, dark complexion, and a turned up nose. He was also in sympathy with the effort made by sanitation workers in Memphis for increased wages in 1968. He did not participate in any rallies or other activities on behalf of the sanitation workers. He supported Dr. KING's efforts on behalf of the sanitation workers and never to her knowledge spoke critically of Dr. KING to anyone.

Mrs. FREEMAN is acquainted with ROBERT C. WILSON, who operated the Central Building Supplies Company. He is referred to as the "Colonel" and is the "Archie Bunker" type person. Mrs. FREEMAN could not recall hearing him make remarks critical of Dr. KING.

Mrs. FREEMAN has for several years been active in the Council for International Friendship, Memphis. This has brought her in contact with many international visitors and students in the Memphis area. The house at 1803 Evelyn Avenue has an apartment located on the second floor. This apartment has been rented to several foreign students and visitors as well as natives of the United States. She feels that perhaps someone who rented this apartment in the past may have made statements critical of Dr. KING. She could not recall the identity of the person or persons who rented this apartment in 1968. She believes that the apartment was then rented to a couple who came to Memphis from the state of Wyoming.

While employed by the Central Building Supply Company, CONLEY delivered building materials to a house located on the first east-west street south of a railroad overpass near where this street intersected McLean Boulevard. The residence was the third house west of the intersection on the south side of the street. He recalled observing this man with BOB WILSON at the Central Building Supply Company a few times. On one occasion they were discussing the strike by sanitation workers in Memphis and WILSON commented, "If the SOB marches tomorrow, his brains ought to be blown out". CONLEY is of the opinion that WILSON was referring to Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING.

Sometime later, date not recalled, CONLEY attended an affair at Mason Temple, Memphis, at which Dr. KING was one of the speakers. This was about two weeks prior to the death of Dr. KING. The auditorium was filled and CONLEY was not able to enter the building. He proceeded to the end of the building where the pulpit was located and stopped near an open door where he could see and hear Dr. KING. Shortly after Dr. KING started speaking, a white man bumped against CONLEY so vigorously that CONLEY fell to the ground. The man was carrying a navy blue suit style coat which was wrapped around an object. CONLEY believes the object inside the coat was a weapon and that the man was attempting to get in a position where he could shoot Dr. KING. CONLEY did not see the man after he fell and did not hear any shots. He was unable to furnish the identities of other persons in his vicinity when this incident occurred.

The man who bumped CONLEY was about 35 years of age, 5'11" tall, weighed approximately 150 pounds, had dark slightly wavy hair worn in short afro style, wore a mustache,

ROBERT C. WILSON, who resides at 1637 Evelyn Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee, was interviewed at the Central Lumber and Discount Company, 800 South McLean Boulevard, Memphis. He furnished the following information:

He has operated a business at 800 South McLean Boulevard, Memphis, for many years. The business was known as Central Building Supplies until 1977 when the name was changed to Central Lumber and Discount Company. For a short period of time around 1975, his son, JEFFERY, operated a business at the same address known as Central Interiors System, Incorporated.

He is well acquainted with Dr. JERRE FREEMAN on a social as well as professional basis. Dr. FREEMAN and his family formerly resided at 1803 Evelyn Avenue, Memphis. WILSON does not know how the FREEMANS feel about Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING and never heard them discuss him. He does not believe that Dr. FREEMAN and his wife resided at 1803 Evelyn in 1968 and could not recall who resided at that address at that time.

Mr. WILSON stated that he had no particular feeling for or in opposition to Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING. He has never to his knowledge discussed Dr. KING's activities with Dr. FREEMAN or anyone who has resided at 1803 Evelyn Avenue.

ANN DODD FREEMAN, who resides at 1509 Peabody Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee, was interviewed at 1803 Evelyn Avenue, Memphis. She furnished the following information:

She and her husband, Dr. JERRE M. FREEMAN own and formerly resided at 1803 Evelyn Avenue. They resided at this residence in 1968; however, Dr. FREEMAN was attending Harvard University Medical School, Boston, Massachusetts, during the period, January, 1968, through May, 1968.

Mrs. FREEMAN recalls the general events and activities that preceded the death of Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING in April, 1968, very well. At the time, she was a teacher at Owen College, Memphis, a predominantly black school which has merged with LeMoyne College and the two colleges are now known as LeMoyne-Owen College. Many of the members of the student body and most of the faculty at Owen College were interested in the strike by sanitation workers for the City of Memphis and supported efforts by the sanitation workers to obtain increased wages. Mrs. FREEMAN felt that the sanitation workers were under paid. She never attended any rallies or other activities in which Dr. KING participated but regrets that she was not able to do so. She supported his efforts to assist the sanitation workers. She did attend a memorial service honoring Dr. KING after his death.

Her husband is sometimes described by some people as foreign in appearance. He is tall, has dark curly hair, dark complexion, and a turned up nose. He was also in sympathy with the effort made by sanitation workers in Memphis for increased wages in 1968. He did not participate in any rallies or other activities on behalf of the sanitation workers. He supported Dr. KING's efforts on behalf of the sanitation workers and never to her knowledge spoke critically of Dr. KING to anyone.

Mrs. FREEMAN is acquainted with ROBERT C. WILSON, who operated the Central Building Supplies Company. He is referred to as the "Colonel" and is the "Archie Sunker" type person. Mrs. FREEMAN could not recall hearing him make remarks critical of Dr. KING.

Mrs. FREEMAN has for several years been active in the Council for International Friendship, Memphis. This has brought her in contact with many international visitors and students in the Memphis area. The house at 1803 Evelyn Avenue has an apartment located on the second floor. This apartment has been rented to several foreign students and visitors as well as natives of the United States. She feels that perhaps someone who rented this apartment in the past may have made statements critical of Dr. KING. She could not recall the identity of the person or persons who rented this apartment in 1968. She believes that the apartment was then rented to a couple who came to Memphis from the state of Wyoming.

Dr. JERRE MINOR FREEMAN, who resides at 1509 Peabody Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee, was interviewed at his office, 176 South Bellevue, Memphis. He furnished the following information:

He and his wife and their family resided at 1803 Evelyn Avenue, Memphis, in 1968 and they currently own the house at that address. From January to June, 1968, Dr. FREEMAN was attending Harvard University School of Medicine, Boston, Massachusetts. He made two trips to Memphis during this period - one in February due to a heart attack suffered by his father and the second following the birth of his daughter. He recalled that the sanitation workers for the City of Memphis were on strike in 1968 and that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING came to Memphis in support of the strike. He did not attend any rallies in connection with this strike and was not in Memphis in March or April, 1968.

Dr. FREEMAN is described by some people as having a "foreign appearance" due to his swarthy complexion. He and his wife rented an apartment at 1803 Evelyn Avenue to a series of persons; however, he could not recall the names of any of their tenants in 1968.

FREEMAN is described as follows:

Race	White
Sex	Male

By physical observation it was determined the Chisca Plaza Hotel, 262 South Main Street, Memphis, Tennessee, now utilized as an office building, and the Annex Hotel, 267 South Main Street, Memphis, currently a vacant building, are the closest buildings on Main Street formerly used as hotels in the vicinity of South Main and Beale Streets, Memphis. In recent years portions of Main Street just south of Beale Street have been razed and are either vacant or new buildings were constructed there. The intersection of Main and Beale Streets is approximately half a mile north of the Lorraine Motel, 406 Mulberry Street, Memphis. The Chisca Plaza Hotel and the Annex Hotel buildings are approximately three tenths of a mile north of the Lorraine Motel.

It appears the Lorraine Motel cannot be observed from the Annex Hotel and probably cannot be seen from the third floor of the Chisca Plaza Hotel.

JAMES HOOTEN was interviewed at his residence, 2081 St. Elmo, Memphis, Tennessee. He furnished the following information:

BURGESS AUDIE WILSON, who is commonly known as BILL WILSON, is his former brother-in-law. About 9:30 P.M. on August 17, 1978, BURGESS WILSON telephonically contacted JAMES HOOTEN informing him he was calling from Canyon Lake, Texas. WILSON made general inquiries regarding the health and welfare of JAMES HOOTEN and his wife MARIE and then requested HOOTEN call the Shelby County, Tennessee, Sheriff GENE BARKSDALE for him. HOOTEN questioned WILSON regarding the nature of his request, and WILSON told him he had telephoned BARKSDALE on the evening of August 17, 1978, and had an appointment with him on August 20, 1978, place not stated. WILSON told HOOTEN he had called BARKSDALE and was meeting with him to surrender himself because he shot and killed Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING in 1968. He wanted HOOTEN to call Sheriff BARKSDALE for the purpose of confirming WILSON's identity and the appointment. HOOTEN refused to honor WILSON's request and questioned his sincerity regarding his claim for both the killing of Dr. KING and the appointment with Sheriff BARKSDALE. WILSON insisted he had killed Dr. KING and stated he had met with Sheriff BARKSDALE personally about two weeks previously. He terminated the call when he realized HOOTEN would not call the Sheriff as he requested.

HOOTEN reported that WILSON is an extremely heavy drinker. He believes that WILSON was under the influence of alcohol when he called and that his heavy consumption of alcohol over a long period of time has had an adverse effect on his mind. WILSON was at one time placed in an unknown hospital in Texas by his son STEVEN to be treated for alcoholism. HOOTEN is of the opinion that WILSON had nothing to do with the assassination of Dr. KING but due to the mental deterioration of his mind may believe he did.
