strawberry area there.

And his speech was just generally a campaign type?

A His speech was just a campaign speech. Jesse Unruh was in the car, and all the local politicians, and that's the--

Q How big a crowd did he have that day? Just a rough estimate.

A Oh, I wouldn't say that he had--I--I really am not a very good estimate on crowds. I don't know. I would say that he probably had 10,000 people. It was not in my estimation a large crowd.

Q From your experience in traveling with the Senator and so forth, the crowd would be shall we say normal to what a crowd would be for a campaign speech? Anything unusual that struck you as being different?

A No, I would say it was not as big. It was a quiet crowd. It was a family crowd.

- Q How long were you there?
- A Oh, we were probably there half hour.
- Q And there again referring to the schedule, did you arrive at the time the schedule showed?

A I don't recall, but I would say we never arrived anywhere on time because we were always late. And I would say we were definitely later here, too. The plane always came in an hour or so late.

Q You say you remained at the festival for half an hour?

A I would say we were there half an hour. Then we went to Disneyland and it was late afternoon. We had tried to get a helicopter to take him from Disneyland to the Ambassador that day, but due to the fog conditions we drove.

Q Disneyland was nothing more than just a **

A That was-that was a bit of family politicking with the children because there were families there and kids, and I would say that was--and his children with themselves.

That was the purpose of Disneyland.

Q There again at Disneyland did everything appear just like, shall we say, a normal day out at Disneyland  nothing unusual?

A I did not go all around with them myself. I went and got something to eat. And-but as far as I could see, there was no unusual activities.

Q Instead of me asking you each and every time if something in your own mind now is all I'm concerned with appeared unusal to you at any time or at any stage, just bring it up no matter how insignificant as long as it was unusual to you, as we go through the whole itinerary there. You stayed at Disneyland approximately how long?

A Oh, we were at Disneyland, I would say, a couple of hours.

Q Do you have any idea what time that was when you left there?

A No, but it was--it was--it started getting-towards dark. I really don't know because I didn't bother to keep time--of time or schedule, but I would say it could very well have been early evening when we left. It was just getting dusk, so it must have been around seven o'clock.
I'm not really sure.

- Q Okay, fine.
- A Six, seven.
- Q Then you drove from Disneyland--
- A Directly to the Ambassador Hotel.
- Q You arrived at the Ambassador about what time?

A Well, it was a lot later than 6 p.m. It was probably-well, it gets dusk-dark now  that time around, I would say, probably close to eight o'clock, seven o'clock, eight o'clock-I'm really not sure.

- Q  let's see, you arrived at the Ambassador at 8 p.m.?
 - A Eight p.m.
 - Q Did you leave the family off?
- A We switched cars en route, and the children were taken to--in another car to the Beverly Hills Hotel, and--
 - Q Did you stop for dinner en route or--

A We stopped -- no, we stopped out on the highway after we left Disneyland and transferred the children into another car. Now, the only unusual thing there was the driver of that car was not known to-he wasn't one of my men. Apparently the Senator questioned who he was or didn't -he didn't care for him in some way or other and had one of the-my men couldn't be spared because they had their own cars. This was not one of our cars. It was somebody elses that was in the parade, and so we had one of the staff--local staff members--drove the kids to the hotel in the man's car, and I really don't know what happened to the man that was driving the car.

Q And they stayed at the Beverly--

A I think at the Beverly Hills Hotel. And we proceeded onto the Ambassador.

Q Do you remember approximately where the transfer took place?

A Oh, I couldn't recall except it was still in Orange County. I would say it was ten minutes outside Disneyland.

Q You went out on the Santa Ana Freeway?

A We--no, we were not on the freeway. We hadn't reached the freeway yet. We were going down--well, I don't know; is it Orangethorpe? It was one of those streets going to the freeway.

Q Would you say between Disneyland and the freeway, an on ramp.

A Somewhere. If I've got the right transfer. We did it a couple of times during when the children were her

Q Okay, then the transfer took place, and you drove on the Santa Ana Freeway to the Ambassador area? Tell me what occurred when you arrived back at the Ambassador?

A Nothing. We dropped them and that was the end of that day.

- Q Them, you mean Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy?
- A The whole party.
- Q Oh, the entire party.

A See, we--I wasn't driving them separately. We were in convoy. We had eight cars and three buses and motorcycle escort and a station--a couple of station wagons which were the entourage at all times. Now only on about three occasions did I have one alone, which one will be coming up here shortly.

Q You did not remain at the hotel once they departed then?

A No. We just dropped them and that was that for the night. I would say we probably didn't get back to the hotel until eight or after as I recall.

Q Between 8:00 and 8:30?

A I would say after eight. Now whether it was 8:00 to 8:30 I couldn't tell. I think it was probably a lot later than that.

Q From 8:00 to 9:00 p.m.?

A Well, the next morning which was Monday, we obviously, according to this, I don't remember, took him to the airport for San Francisco which is probably exactly what we did. It probably pretty much follows the itinerary except I have a feeling that we—he got up early, and we left earlier than 10:30.

Q What airport did you take him to?

A I--I--the West Imperial gate of International,
I think. Now I'm not really sure. It could have been Burbank. I don't remember we were in and out so many times.

Q Who did you pick up that morning? Did Mrs. Kennedy come along?

A Yes, I believe she did. It would have been-yes, it was she and her husband and--

Q Children?

A No children. I never saw the children again until--I don't know that I saw the children again.

- And at this time the staff came along also?
- A The whole-the whole staff.
- Q So you drove them to the airport, and of course he boarded the plane and left.

A Then we had the arrival in Long Beach. I'm assuming this is correct, and--

Q We still on the 3rd now?

A We're on the --we're on the 3rd of June. This is correct. We--we went from there, picked them up, and from there went to--

Q What time does the itinerary show?

A It shows 3 p.m., and I would say that we were running very late there. I would say it was closer to four o'clock.

Q And that was at Long Beach then?

A At Long Beach. Now it could have been that we-I know that the crowd had been waiting there for us. So if this is the itinerary, we were running late, too.

Q Okay.

A He made a speech at Lincoln Park to a group.

Q You picked him up at the airport and drove to Lincoln Park?

A At the Long Beach Airport, we went into Long Beach itself to Lincoln Park and made a usual speech.

Q How was the crowd there?

A The crowd there was quite--it was a good crowd. It was more than average, made up of a lot of youth and a lot of older people. It was a typical Long Beach gathering, shall we say. There were a few hecklers in the crowd. I--at this point I had been holding his amplifier, and which held his microphone right by him, so I had been on that occasion and several other standings--he was on the hood of the car standing right next to them. So I noticed he was very weary that particular day; and in looking around the crowd, there were a number of hecklers that were heckling him there in Long Beach.

Q How long did that speech last?

A Well, I don't think we were there—we were there longer than the period here, 20 minutes here at stop; I would say we were there at least a half hour. And from there we proceeded to Central Avenue, and we went through Watts—I guess that was Watts that day. And there was nothing unusual there at all in Watts. The—the crowds were very good. The only unusual incident was one fellow was intoxicated, got on the hood of the car, so it made it difficult for us.

Q Going through Watts you went through a procession or parade, you might say?

A Yes, we went right through. All of us were in procession.

Q Did you stop at all in Watts any time?

A We stopped on the street to-for a few words.

Q This wasn't a prepared type of campaign speech like you had say at the Strawberry Festival?

A I would-no, I would say no that it was an offthe-cuff rule five-minute speech to my recollection. These were made often along the route. We would stop the car enly because the crowds were so heavy or so pressed against the car that we practically--it was expected that at a large crowd that he wanted to make a speech. He also would stop every time we saw nuns. He would stop and shake hands with the nuns. That was always done. So after going through Watts which for my own observation was much more orderly than we read in Life and L.A. Times and places like that; it was no problem. I didn't see the ghetto myself. I suppose it's there. Then let's see, he had us go into the Venice area. We went to the Venice area.

.8

-23

- Q That was directly after you left the Watts area?
- A Directly on the freeway to Venice.
- Q Do you have any idea what time that was you left the Watts area to go to the Venice area?

A Well, we were heading down to Venice in late afternoon, and I would say it was close to five o'clock, six o'clock. The end of the afternoon. It was somewhere—I would say at least probably after five. And what time does it say we were supposed to be there? We were supposed to arrive in Venice at six, so I would say it was probably six instead of five. I know the fog was relling in, and it was getting cool, so it was late afternoon or early evening; and as we were always running late, it was probably after six.

Q Okay.

A And it was the same procedure there going through, they-a stop for street side-a few words. Nothing unusual.

Q He made his five-minute speech?

A I (sic) made a five-minute speech. We had the local--well, the only unusual thing in that particular ride was that somebody had put a small colored girl into the car, and she rode with us all the way to Venice. And finally outside of Venice about, they took her out and put her in another car. I think the Sons of Watts took her back to Watts. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy were quite concerned about what the mother—would wonder where her child was **

Q The child was put in the car. This was during your--

Watts when the child was put in the car or fell in. I imagine she was put in, anyway she ended up there. So we stopped—did stop on the road to take her out, and I think we got some hot dogs and soft drinks, beer, for various people around in the cavalcade. So then we continued the motorcade on to the airport, West Imperial, and he departed for Sacramento where I know he was late departing there for his rally. We stayed right there. We went out and had dinner, stayed at the airport and picked him up again that evening.

- Q What time was it when he caught the flight?
- A Back?
- Q No, from International to San Diego?
- A Well, the itinerary says 7:30, but I would be inclined to say it was closer to eight o'clock or after.
 - Q And then you remained at the airport?
- A We remained at the airport, and he came back well into midnight. It was very late. As a matter of fact, every time he arrived, he was an hour or so late.

26

Form 618 (R-3-4)

- Q The itinerary says he was supposed to arrive
 - A 11 p.m., but that's--this is much later than 11.
 - Q 12:30?
 - A 12--1 o'clock, somewhere in there.
 - Q From the airport you went to his Malibu location?
- A So what we had here is -- so what we had is he arrived at the airport again from San Diego and was very tired, extremely tired, and I don't think he felt well. I took both he and his wife alone, separately, to the Frankenheimer's house on Pacific Coast Highway in Malibu.
 - Q You said you took them alone separately?
- A Our car was alone. We had no escort. We had no other people.
 - Q But Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy were with you?
- A They were with me, and there was no accompanying people in the car or in convoy with us.
- Q This decision not to go to the Ambassador but to go to this Malibu location--
- A I think he wanted to rest. He had been there once before not--not in--he had been at the house once before, but he didn't stay there.
- Q This was proposed to you then at the time at one o'clock in the morning, shall we say?
- A Yes. Yes, we were just told that he was going to go to Malibu instead of the Ambassador Hotel. Actually, he wanted to rest and get -- and take the following day off.

Q So you took him directly from International to Mr. Frankenheimer's home?

A Yes.

Q There was no dinner stop or anything?

A Well, I would say we arrived there close to one o'clock in the morning, I think, on that particular night. I didn't get home until quarter to two or something like that. We were always running late, so if you'd just added an hour or two on there, all the itinerary, you would be a lot closer to it.

Q And you left him off there, let's say, between 1 and 2 a.m.? On the morning of the 4th?

A Brought their bags in, and that was that. Well, on Tuesday, the 4th of June, we-he didn't do anything all day. He stayed out there, and there was a little bit of confusion about picking him up.

Q Why do you state that he stayed at the Franken-heimer's all day?

A Well, as far as I know he did. He--he personally told me that he slept most of the day.

Q This was when you picked him up on the 4th?

A Yes, that afternoon or evening, so the only reason I say that is as I had said to him when he came out --we brought three cars out there to pick him up, and he came out and said--he looked--he didn't look well. I didn't think he looked well. He looked sort of flushed, and I said, "Did you have a good night's rest, Senator?" And he said, "Yes," that he had actually slept most of the day. Then Mr. Frankenheimer came out and said, "Well, why don't I take you in my car, we'll go in my car and Mr. Weston can take Mrs. Kennedy" and his wife. So they went off in Mr. Frankenheimer's car.

Q Mr. and Mrs. Frankenheimer?

A No, no, just Mr. Kennedy, Mr. Dutton, and Mr. Frankenheimer.

Q What time was this?

A Oh, I would say that was--

Q Let me go back with you one second. You mentioned that Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Frankenheimer -- this is what time now?

A Well, to give you a blow by blow, we were not going to go out to pick them up. One of the staff members had arranged to go out and introduce somebody to the Kennedys and bring the Kennedys in, and we were told not to do it. There were always political staff members trying to get in the front seat or get close to him or have the smile of political fortune placed upon them. So being used to this sort of thing, I just took it with a grain of salt, and we waited; and I checked up and found that Mr. Kennedy was not going to arrive with this individual, that we were to take them and go out and get them. And that's when we proceeded, and I would say it was probably around close to seven o'clock.

P.M.?

A P.M. We had to--it was either six or seven depending on when the rally started, and that hour was a little confusing to me. I think it was closer to seven o'clock, 6:30. About 6:30. We took Mrs. Kennedy's dress out to her. We waited. Mr. Kennedy--Senator Kennedy came out, and he departed with Mr. Frankenheimer. And the only unusual thing that I couldn't quite understand and still don't to this day is instead of going south on Pacific

Coast Highway to the Santa Monica Freeway and to the Ambassador Hotel, which is the direct route, they went north.

 Q From Mr. Frankenheimer's home, couldn't you go north and hit Malibu Canyon and go over that way?

A I suppose you could. To me that was a long way around, and I guess that's what he did. I don't know, but we thought it was very strange; but it is an indirect and longer route I would say.

Q In your vehicle you had Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Frankenheimer?

A Then Mrs. Kennedy came out with Mrs. Franken-heimer, and I took them in my car. She was very nervous. We were running a little late. She wanted to get to the Ambassador by 8:15, and I believe it was 8:00. It wasn't 8:15, it was 7:15--but whatever it was, we went in in record speed of which I was afraid we were going to get caught. But she said, "Can't you go a little faster?" And I says, "Well, I can go a little faster if you pay the ticket." But we did go in and we didn't get caught, and I guess we must have made it in half an hour from Malibu. And we got there at exactly ten minutes after eight. It wasn't eight, it was seven, but I think it was ten minutes after eight because the proceedings started at 8:15, and that was what she wanted. And I said, "You got five minutes to go." My other two cars took in George Plimpton and the rest of the party that was there at the house.

Q Was Mr. Frankenheimer and Mr. Kennedy at the Ambassador when you got there?

A They were already at the Ambassador. I believe-I didn't see them. I never saw Mr. Kennedy again until he made his speech.

Q After letting the party out?

A I let them out, and the other people all went in and upstairs to where I believe there was a dinner, and we then stayed and got passes and so forth and so on, and I just—we ate. And three of us, there were two drivers and myself, and some of the staff were with us, and we just went in and spent the rest of the evening in the room—in the Embassy Room outside and all around waiting until the election was determined and he made his speech. Now I didn't--when he came down into the room, I left.

Form 618 (R-3-4)

Q Into the Ambassador Room--Embassy Room, I mean?

There were three of us; and as I usually did, I pulled his can in front of the Ambassador Hotel door. We put the two other ones there, too. Because after his speech, he was going to, I believe, look in on the other room downstairs and then he was going to go to the Factory. That was the word that was passed out to me that a party of approximately 30 would be going to the Factory for an after election party. The car had the aerial broken off during one of the trips—I guess it was going through Watts, and—we got the aerial fixed because they wanted to hear the election returns. So I had the door open-I had the radio on so I could hear the speech, basically so I knew when it was over because I knew when he was coming out. If we knew when he was coming out, we would start the cars and try to get people away from the car. So sitting in the seat, I heard somebody say, "Is there a doctor in the house? Get a doctor!" And I thought somebody had fainted; and at that same moment, out came a group of men carrying an individual who looked like he was having an epileptic fit or something like that. I saw no blood. I saw nothing. I thought that that was the situation. They rushed him past and said, "Get a taxi! Get a taxi! Let's get him out of here." So they departed, and I was still sitting there, and I heard on the radio somebody say, "Give the Senator air! Stand back," or "Get the doctor!" And then I realized there was more than just this; and several of the staff members who were with me, because we were all waiting together, and I said, "There's been some sort of an accident inside." And at that point the police arrived. We heard the sirens arriving. Somebody called the police, and so we--and then the ambulance arrived, so we backed the cars up -- I backed my car up into the corner between the kitchen door and the front door; and from that point on I guess you know there's nothing I can add as far as I myself is concerned. We--I went over to the ambulance, watched them bring him out. In my estimation he was unconscious, and his wife got in the back seat -- in the back of the ambulance with him, and Bill Barry got in the front and off they went, and the rest of the proceedings with people coming out, I' couldn't get out myself. We couldn't get the car out, so I sat there for an hour or more watching the whole proceedings.

(Break in tape)

Q You feel it would be of any--

PELEASE LINDER E.O. 14176

A No, the only thing--the only thing that puzzles me unusual the evening of the assassination, before the ambulance came and when the first police arrived, I had just backed up and a group who had--were standing there said to the first officers that arrived, the man ran down to the 1 back of the parking area around the west end of the hotel, 2 under the -- under the fenced kitchen area, the back end of 3 the driveway, around that, goes out to 7th or 8th Street, whatever it is, which led me to believe that somebody had 5 run out of the kitchen door that I was near, and had run west along the driveway around into the back of the hetel to the south of the hotel. The police went in that direction as far as I could see. By this time there was so many 9 people gathering I never did see how it ended, but this was one thing I never heard of or in the paper, or anybody ever 12 mention it again; so I only mention that as something I observed and I never heard anything else about. if there 14 was any other activity.

You personally didn't see this person they were referring to?

A I didn't see anybody come out. There were too 18 many people standing around. We were all standing there, but apparently somebody did, and that he, or they, I forgot which, ran down there and pointed; and the police looked down there, and I believe two of them took off.

Is this the very first police car that arrived? Yes, this is the very first group of police that arrived. I had just backed my car up and -- and I never heard another thing about that aspect of it. Now shortly 26 after that they brought Sirhan Sirhan out the front door, and

22

I must give them credit, they got him out there in two seconds flat, pushed him in the car, and the crowd started pushing the car, banging on it, and the driver, the policeman, whipped the car out of there faster than you could say go; and then the rest of us—that was the way it was.

Q Fine.

.3

.5

A We-I would say about four o'clock we were alerted here that we would need cars and drivers for staff and family arriving and so forth and so on.

- Q You are speaking of four p.m. on June the 5th?
- A Thereabouts, late afternoon.
- Q Okay.

mately eight o'clock that night getting the cars, getting the drivers, dispatching them to the hospital. At about 7:30 or seven o'clock I was called—I was ordered to get a hearse. I called Pierce Brothers and ordered the hearse. I questioned the man that ordered the hearse, Peter Smith, and I said, Well is—is it—did he die? Is it necessary? And he said if—he didn't say yes, and he didn't say no. He said that it's pretty much over, get the hearse  so we brought the hearse. They did not want the hearse at the hospital to add to the confusion. So we put the hearse on, I beleive, on 6th and Kingsley—the corner of 6th and Kingsley.

Q Now you are still speaking of the night of the 5th?

11

13

14

15

16

20

A The night of the 5th. I then left to meet the hearse I would say eight-eight to nine o'clock and meet the hearse there at that spot, and we decided the Pierce Brothers Mortuary was as close to the hospital on the south side as we were at that point on the northwest side, so I dispatched the hearse back to Pierce Brothers, and they stayed there on alert to come to the hospital when arranged.

Q What location was this particular branch of Pierce Brothers?

A Pierce Brothers 720 West Washington Boulevard.

The man that I discussed this whole thing with was the vice president named Leo Harris.

Q This was where the hearse came from, from where the arrangements were, but you said you parked it?

A I parked it--I had them park it at Kingsley and 6th Street on the northeast corner.

Q At this time the Senator, as far as the general public, was still alive?

A Supposedly. Supposedly. I don't know that he was or wasn't. My opinion is that he probably died on the operating table. From what I gathered, but the -- there was enough concern about it in the early evening that he was either dead or practically to have that hearse there. Now---

- Q You mentioned that you spoke to a Peter Smith?
- A Peter Smith was the advance man working, I believe, under a man named Bruno.

26

Q Jerry Bruno?

A Jerry Bruno. Who was the man, I understand, that's writing a book. Jerry Bruno had called me originally in the early evening and asked me to come to the hospital to set up more or less a command post to dispatch the cars, get everything prepared. I didn't go and said I saw no reason for me to go to the hospital and add more confusion. I said I had all my records, all my activities, everything was here in my office, and I could serve them much better by staying right here in my office which I did until about nine o'clock when I went for the hearse. So from that point—

Q You went to meet the hearse?

A The hearse, yeah, and then I went to the hospital at that point, sent the hearse back to West Washington, proceeded to the hospital where we actually just sat the rest of the night and then at about—we dispatched a few cars to people, then about, oh, I would say two o'clock, we decided there wasn't going to be any more activity—

Q Let me stop you at one point. When you said seven o'clock in the morning, you talking about--

A Two o'clock.

Q Two o'clock. You are talking about June the 6th?

A June the 6th, the night he died or the morning he died.

14

15

.16

.17

18

19

20

Q June the 6th is when--

Yeah, the following morning after midnight. I would say around two, probably, we all departed.

> 0 Two a.m.?

Somewhere, two or three in the morning. We went A back home, and then I got a call -- I hadn't been in bed more than a half hour, an hour, I got a call that he had died.

> What time was this about? Q

This, I would say, was probably around 4:00, 4:30 in the morning. When was the announcement made?

According to Lt. Pena it was about nine o'clock in the morning of the 6th.

But it wasn't made until after breakfast.

Well, at about 4:30 he had  and we were to get back to the hospital with all the cars and start making the arrangements because the body was going to be taken at eight o'clock in the morning to the airport.

> Q Who called you **

Well, now I've forgotten. I think it could have been Pete Smith again. He was the one I was in contact with. Or it could have been Murray Richtel who was one of the local boys here that we were dealing with. Murray Richtel and if I recall by either Nagin, Richtel, or Smith, I forget which. And we proceeded back to the hospital, and I asked at the 26 time naturally when I was called about the hearse, and I was advised that somebody--and I don't know who it was--I suspect it could have been Jerry Bruno, knowing his temperament, cancelled our hearse because apparently Mr. Harris had advised the coroners of his--of the pending death of the Senator which is legal, and he asked me about it when I first ordered the hearse and I said that I was told by the Kennedy staff not to divulge who the hearse was waiting for and nothing about it. Well, this isn't exactly legal, and I did tell Mr. Harris because he wasn't going to bring a hearse out for nothing without knowing anything about it and no report to the coroner's office. I said, "It's highly confidential. We do not want anybody advised or knowing about it. " I said, "It's for Senator Kennedy, and we do not want you to contact anybody until actually we know that the hearse will be put to use," and apparently they disregarded that, and Harris did call the coroner's office and reported the death prematurely, I assume; and the coroner called the hospital and the -- whoever received the call or up on the staff were very irate that the death had been reported out to the public, shall we say, and they cancelled the Pierce Brothers hearse and got another hearse, which was sort of a little temperament situation that was rather prevalent in the Kennedy staff. So, that was the end of Pierce Brothers.

> This was through their own arrangement? Q

I never saw the hearse until I saw it the next 26 morning leaving loaded with the coffin. I had nothing to

23

1 do with that hearse, and I don't know who did so that was 2 the end of that. We did not go at eight o'clock, and we sat and waited and waited until we got up to, as you well know, in the afternoon. There was mass confusion. The FBI or the Secret Service took over from us. I was a little disgusted with their--their gruffness, their rudeness. I don't know who it was, whether it was the Police Department or the Secret Service or who, but anyway, whoever came in all of a sudden the body was dead. There was no more fuss to be made. I suppose they were concerned about the lives (sic) of the other members of the family, but those of us who were running the thing, what I considered satisfactorily, and the staff-the Kennedy staff, were all sort of-well, all hell broke 14 loose and nobody seemed to know what was going on any more. The Secret Service cars were then brought in. They were loaded with their drivers, their cars in the -- on the south side of the hospital. We had ours on the north side of the 18 hospital with a limousine for the family which we got. The press, the public, everybody, was out on the north side; and even some of the staff didn't know where things were going to happen. The hearse drew up in the south side, and then the L.A. police took over and the motorcycles, and it was just--they went out of the north side, and everybody was waiting on the south side; so we ended up taking the staff, family -- I took George Plimpton to the plane, and --

This was now still on the evening of the --

A This was the next day, the parting for the airport.

Q Seventh?

A The 7th. The morning of the 7th, I'm talking about, and the afternoon of the 7th for the departure. There was nothing unusual other than confusion.

Q In the afternoon was when you drove out to the airport with what, members of the staff?

went to the airport; and there was, once again, a lot of confusion about baggage and luggage, and I discovered myself that much of the luggage for certain people, Mrs. Martin Luther King and the Kennedy personal luggage, some of the stuff hadn't even been-wasn't even on the plane. It was sitting in convoy because security of the airport wouldn't let them out on the field. So I got that fixed, and we all proceeded to the plane. Really in the nick of time because about ten minutes later in came the Secret Service cars with the family, and departure was immediate, which was the end of the thing as far as we were concerned.

Q What time was this?

A I honestly don't know. I would say it must have been around three o'clock in the afternoon. I think I got back to the office here at four; and, therefore, I would say somewhere around three in the middle of the afternoon. I think that covers everything.

MR. WESTON: I'm just going to say this is the end of a--an itinerary interview covering the Robert F. Kennedy activities from June 2nd to June 7th. Being interviewed by the Los Angeles Police Department on our part in the daily activities.

Now, I want to add to this tape the activities concerning the payment of the bill. For the record, we have written to the Kennedy for President Committee at 2000 L Street Northwest, Washington D.C., to the attention of Helen Keyes, our various bills covering the period of services rendered. The total bill at this particular time amounts to $11,715.72. We have to date paid all of the drivers and have a balance due, and payment due, the Hertz Truck Rental Organization of $592.45. Airport Transport, or rather--yes, Airport Transport, $2,699.67, and the Hertz Car Corporation, $2,210.09, or a total still owing and amounts to be paid to these three above of $5,439.21. We determined that probably our profit in the overall activities of the period would run slightly under a thousand dollars. Probably a lot closer to $500. The problem we're now confronted with is capitalization to carry these particular outstanding bills for Hertz Corporation, Airport Transport, who is a client of ours and has not given us any business since we started owing this amount of money, although we don't feel it has anything to do with it. It possibly could, and Hertz Car Corporation will not wait past the 15th of this month. I have promised payment by the 15th, and therefore will have to either take a loan from the bank or sell stocks to cover these bills. I have contacted the Kennedy for President Committee and will put on tape the recording of a telephone conversation which can also be found in the Kennedy file. The recording went in this fashion:

D. W. will be myself. Mr. B, the individual in the Kennedy Headquarters. I'm telephoning Washington. We got a hold of a gentleman who identified himself as Mr. B. This certainly sounded like a fictitious name to me. The conversation went as follows:

"Mr. B"?

"Yes."

"I am Mr. Weston of Weston's VIP Service in Los Angeles."

"The VIP Service"?

"VIP Service in Los Angeles, yes. And we're a little confused out here yesterday when some rumors went around that Mr. Kennedy's estate would be locked up for a year by the probate court."

"Mr. B: Well, that's a rumor. We don't see it in the paper."

"Mr. W: No, but it was."

"Mr. B: That's a rumor."

"Mr. W: Going around here. Jerry

1 Bruno, as a matter of fact, stated it." Jerry did?" "Mr. B: 2 "Mr. W: Yeah." 3 "Mr. B: Jerry better clean his nose." "Mr. W: And we have a bill for eleven thousand 5 some odd dollars which I have to get a bank loan 7 to pay these people off. Do you have any idea 8 when it would be paid?" 9 "Mr. B: All the bills were transferred to 10 the New York office." 11 "Mr. W: I see." "Mr. B: And they are being paid." 12 "Mr. W: And they are being paid now? All 13 14 the correspondence that would have gone to Miss Keyes would be now going to New York?" 15 "Mr. B: Okay." 16 "Mr. W: Thank you." 17 "Mr. B: Goodbye. Goodbye." 18 MR. WESTON: End of that conversation. Since 19 then we have sent correspondence, statements, and I have made a telephone call to Mr. Dick Corbett, C-o-r-b-e-t-t. 21 of 20 hundred Park Avenue, Room 3021, telephone 212 TN 7-4900, giving him the total amount due of $11,715.72. I reached a woman in the office who indicated that she would call me back that afternoon regarding our bill. I am now going to make the telephone conversation or rather the

1	telephone call again, because we have just not received any
,2	information or call back. I must pay my bills by the 15th.
3	And therefore, let's see what we can get on the telephone.
4	(Sound of phone ringing)
5	FEMALE VOICE: 6-4900.
ê	MR. WESTON: Is Mr. Corbett in?
7	FEMALE VOICE: All right, just a minute.
8	MRS. RIPPS: Mr. Corbett's office.
9	MR. WESTON: Is Mr. Corbett in?
10	MRS. RIPPS: Who's calling him?
.11	MR. WESTON: Mr. Weston from Los Angeles.
12	MRS. RIPPS: Weston from Los Angeles? He just
13	stepped out.
14	MR. WESTON: I see. Are you the lady I talked
15	to last week?
16	MRS. RIPPS: I think so.
17	MR. WESTON: Regarding the bill of $11,000.
18	MRS, RIPPS: Who? Weston?
19	MR. WESTON: The VIP Service.
20	MRS. RIPPS: IP Service?
21	MR. WESTON: The VIP.
22	MRS. RIPPS: Oh, VIP. Yes, that's right.
23	MR. WESTON: You were going to call me back or
24	let me know what the story was.
25	MRS. RIPPS: Well, let me see what I did about
26	it. Just a moment. You said I owed you $11,750.72? Right?

1 MR. WESTON: Yeah, we have $11,715.72. 2 MRS. RIPPS: And you were originally the D. M. 3 Weston Service? MR. WESTON: No. it was originally D. M. Weston 5 and Associates. 6 MRS. RIPPS: I found nothing under D. M. Weston. and I found nothing under the VIP, and I found nothing under Weston. 9 MR. WESTON: Did you find something under Weston's VIP Services? 11 MRS. RIPPS: No. Now --12 MR. WESTON: You have found no bill whatsoever? 13 MRS. RIPPS: Well, here's what happened. California bills, some of them--most of them were kept in California. They were supposed to have been paid in there. 16 Now we have been getting others in here. I don't happen to have yours. Whether yours is in the batch that was sent to 18 California, that may very well be, but I don't have it. See, that's why I looked at my notes. You called me on the 6th of September, right? 21 MR. WESTON: Yeah. Well, see, now we have all of the bills were originally sent to the president -- Kennedy for President Headquarters, 2000 L--24 MRS. RIPPS: L. yeah. 25 MR. WESTON: -- Washington D.C., Helen Keyes. 26 Are you Helen Keyes?

MRS. RIPPS: No, no, but--

MR. WESTON: And that -- and that took care of that. Then I called Washington to follow it up, and they told me that all bills were going to your address there in New York.

MRS. RIPPS: Before I came here.

MR. WESTON: So we just sent out two weeks ago addressed to Mr. Corbett to the 200 Park Avenue, Room 3021, our bill under Weston's VIP Services Incorporated.

MRS. RIPPS: So it was two weeks ago because I'm here almost a month now.

MR. WESTON: Well, it was just two or three weeks ago, and that was sent out to the tune of $11,000.

MRS. RIPPS: I'll have to track that down because I--I have my California file right in front of me here.

MR. WESTON: And you see no indication of Weston's VIP Service?

MRS. RIPPS: I'll have to track it down. See, this is a large office.

MR. WESTON: Because we have sent a lot of bills in, constantly since April.

MRS. RIPPS: Yeah, because I know I had your telephone number, 274-9228. I have all the information. That's why I put it back in the file because I couldn't track them--I got waylaid on something else. And I never did get back to it.

1 MR. WESTON: Uh huh. well--2 MRS. RIPPS:  comes in in the morning. 3 MR. WESTON: Well, what do I do now because I explained to you before what I have to do is Hertz Corpora-5 tion is calling me from New York. I owe $11,000, and I've got to go to a bank and borrowit and pay interest on it. 7 MRS. RIPPS: Now was this a lot of Hertz bills 8 that was--9 MR. WESTON: Yeah, Hertz and Air Transport buses, station wagons, and drivers. 11 MRS. RIPPS: Because we're paying Hertz, you .12 know. 13 MR. WESTON: I know you re paying Hertz. 14 MRS. RIPPS: Is this something different that was billed to you? 15 16 MR. WESTON: This is something that they con-17 tracted with us for. 18 MRS. RIPPS: I see, yeah. 19 MR. WESTON: See, we ran out here in California all of the cars. I personally drove Mr. Kennedy for a 21 month, and I didn't have to do it at $3 an hour when I 22 charge $25 an hour for consultation; but I own the company and they asked me if I would do that, and so I did. And we've had eight and nine cars every day that he was here, three buses from Air Transport. We have had trucks for the luggage, and station wagons, and that was our job.

a signed contract here for that purpose. And I just extended 1 the credit to them. We took care of it. They didn't have to bother at all. 3 4 MRS. RIPPS: I see. MR. WESTON: Now we'd contracted with Hertz to 5 supply the cars at a minute's notice right up until the time we departed on the 7th of June. 7 MRS. RIPPS: Well, I'm going to have to track 8 that down because -ġ 10 MR. WESTON: Now my concern is if nobody is going to admit to this thing, I'm calling my lawyer and 11 starting a law suit immediately. 13 MRS. RIPPS: I see. 14 MR. WESTON: Because I can't afford this. MRS. RIPPS: Well, if you start a law suit it 15 will take you longer to get it, but if --17 MR. WESTON: Well, I got to get my money. I can't live on love, and I'm a  and I wasn't even a Democrat. How do you like that? ·19 20 MRS. RIPPS: I think it's being very gracious. MR. WESTON: That was being gracious? 21 MRS. RIPPS: I should say. Well, now, I'll have 22 to track it down. I have one more bundle of mail that hasn't been opened yet. Now it may be in that one bundle. MR. WESTON: Uh huh. 25 MRS. RIPPS: I thought I had everything opened. 26

I typed it up and I put it back. 5 6 MR. WESTON: Well, let me ask this. I've told the other people because we've been  up until April that we would pay them by the 15th. Now I've got to do that in order to keep my good standing up with the Hertz Corporation, as we have a National Credit Card with them. MRS. RIPPS:  I know he's out of the office, 11 but now he may come back after I'm gone, or I'll see him in the morning, and I'll have Mr. Corbett call you. 14 MR. WESTON: Yeah, I would appreciate it because if there's going to be some fuss over these bills, and you know I can't afford it, you know, it'll break me. MRS. RIPPS: Well, I'll tell him that you're--17 I'll tell him the whole story. MR. WESTON: He knows, somebody knows, what we 19 did out here. MRS. RIPPS: I'll tell him how gracious you are. 21 MR. Marcella, oh yeah, I've got a girl 13 named Lillian Ripp on the phone here at the Kennedy Head-14 quarters in New York. Now they claim they have got no bills. 15 They know nothing about it, and didn't you talk to Mr. 16 Corbett? Or somebody? 17 18 MARCELLA: MR. WESTON: I'm just going to put you on to 19 my bookkeeper because she was handling it. MRS. RIPPS: Okay, Mr. Weston. 21 MARCELLA: Hello. 22 MRS. RIPPS: 23 Yes. MARCELLA: Is this Miss Ripps? 24 MRS. RIPPS: Yes. 25

MARCELLA: Now we sent out several statements.

MRS. RIPPS: For the D. M. Weston? 1 MARCELLA: Yes, Weston VIP Services. Now first ;2 we sent some to Chicago -- to Washington -- I forget the name. 3 MRS. RIPPS: I think it was Miss Keyes, Evelyn Keyes. 5 MARCELLA: That is right. We sent it to her 8 Then we were told they were all forwarded to attention. 7 New York and then we also sent some statements direct to New York. MRS. RIPPS: To Mr. Corbett? 10 MARCELLA: Yes, to Mr. Corbett and then I spoke .11 to a young lady. Oh, I think I called, and I think your secretary was out and I just spoke to the switchboard operator at the time, and then Mr. Weston spoke to the secretary. 15 MRS. RIPPS: Oh, I spoke to Mr. Weston last 16 week. 17 MARCELLA: I see. 18 MRS. RIPPS: I got all this information down, 19 but I haven't been able to put my hands on $11,000 worth of invoices. Airport Transport, who 8 we contracted for the buses for the press, is also a client of ours. We supply them with hostesses for their buses. 10 Well, naturally we haven't paid them, and they haven't used us since; so you see we're -- we're losing a client over this 12 whole thing plus every time I call or we fuss about it, my profit, which was absolutely nothing, is now going into a 14 loss on the whole business. So you know I don't want to spend any more time and money on it.
