Dear Mr. Harper:

President Johnson has asked me to thank you for your telegram at this time of terrible sorrow.

The President more than shares your concern over lawlessness in a country that has and must always draw strength from the decency and dedication of its people. In his words, there can be no justification for violence that tears at the fabric of our national life.

For many months the President has urged Congress to enact his Crime Control and Safe Streets proposals. Of immediate importance, you may want to read in full his remarks of June 5 and June 10 on combatting and inquiring into the causes of violence. I believe we have all for the poor —) can take a firm & bold stand — in your themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will

Please President Johnson,

June 5, 1968

Dear President Johnson,

I hope that this letter will get to you on behalf of Robert Kennedy. It is my idea that it would be an honor to him, if he recovers, for you to cancel all politicking until he is able to decide if he wants to continue in the race, as it would make the people haters happy if he does so.

As to the gun law, all well and good, but like any-thing else, if someone is bent on some-thing bad, there is an illegal way of getting a gun.

There has to be love for each other. It is more hate in the heart that causes these things to happen, and to have hate is to be soulless and Godless.

God is Love & God is Good.

I hope Robert Kennedy is able to run
I hope he becomes President
I hope he helps with Gods, help to bring peace and love to all the people haters, and politic haters.

So with your help to announce these politics be stopped until his recovery, would show you have a love heart of God.

Re: Law and order and the death of Senator Robert Kennedy.

Dear Mr. President;

In this time when our country must now agonizingly appraise another terrible tragedy and ask itself "why?", I think it should be firmly pointed out that the people at the very highest levels of our federal government are in large measure responsible for "teaching" and fostering the lawlessness stalking our country.

High public officials, through their own behavior and activities, have implicitly taught many of those who look to them as models that it is alright to disregard, ignore or otherwise skirt the laws we set down to live by. I would like to give you a few examples:

- 1) The President adamantly pursues a policy of undeclared war that many of his most intelligent countrymen have labeled "illegal" and "immoral," without so much as even convening a proper body to rule on these questions.
- 2) The President and his Cabinet studiously ignore those instances where labor unions, pursuing their own selfish goals, have chosen to ignore laws that have frustrated them. No great cries of outrage concerning such lawlessness are heard from the White House, and the long-ago promised legislation to prevent crippling strikes is forgotten. These unlawful events are cynically overlooked, for the sake of political expediency!
- 3) Public statements from high Treasury officials regarding Balance-of-Payments problems, the growing silver shortage and the gold problems, if not illegal, have been, surely, a study in falsity, distortion and half-truths; as such, they lend themselves to a terribly unfortunate image of government morality.
- 4) In the aftermath of the great tragedy that has just occurred, we learn that our President has ordered Secret Service protection to all Presidential aspirants, a step he is not empowered by law to undertake. Now while it is true that most would agree that the intent was commendable, what is now to prevent the president to proceed with other acts that he is not lawfully empowered to deal with, some of which might not be generally regarded as good or desirable? Does not such behavior parallel the unjustified activities of many of today's students, who seem to think that as long as their own minds tell them they are pursuing a just and noble deed they may overlook the law?

There are innumerable other examples which would occur to anyone who reads a paper each day, but perhaps I have made my point: if you truly seek reasons for what appears to be a growing lawlessness and violence, look first upon the words and behavior of yourself and others high up in the Administration.

Dear Mr. President:

My heart and prayers have gone out to you many times during the course of the years. We Americans have a way of thinking that our leaders must make decisions that are 100% right for everyone, and the service to your country that you have chosen, or that has been chosen for you, is certainly not always an easy one.

I do not know that my ideas have any real merit; I think of myself as an ordinary run of the mill citizen, busy about the business of raising a child, providing her with all the necessities and some of the luxuries, an active member of Christian communities, not to the ideal degree, but an attempt to be a Christian in my dealings with people I meet every day, and to seek to understand others and their problems, to help when I can either by economic, skill, or other means that seem to be needed at specific times.

It seems to me that if Senator Kennedy was assassinated by a young man who thought he was committing a "holy act" in the name of the Moslem-Arabs -- then our TV industry, and all statesmen of all countries must take a second look at what they contribute. When I recall the televised sessions of the UN meetings during that terrible short war in the Middle East last year, I remember how the Arab representatives used the UN as a podium to inflame, rather than to seek negotiation. I cannot be in complete accord with Israel -- for I have been in the Holy Land; but it seemed to me at that time, only Jordan was trying to move in a forward direction. That the others did not really want to solve anything except the extermination of an intruder to the desert lands, whose industry was requiring of all of them a new investment of themselves in their country in order to keep apace.

Also, as a single parent, I am becoming aware in ways I had not been before, at how much of even our wholesome entertainment is given a story line of children disobeying their parents, and everything comes out fine in the end. Our young immature minds, fed nothing else, not growing up with the idealistic literature of my own childhood, have grown up with a TV baby sitter telling them that the family life revolves around the teen-ager, rather than life revolves around the family, everyone working together for a goal of a better life for the family unit as a whole, and the community naturally benefits by this.

Now I am not a trained mind as those on your panel are; I have a certain skill that makes me a good secretary. I want to be a good citizen; I want to be able to accept my fellow citizens on a basis of personal merit, I want to share thoughts and ideas with them that help me to understand why they think and feel as they do. I want to work with them to create a better America.

I have often thought how strange it is, in this day when we have been made aware of the habits of years that brought about such degrading experiences for much of the humanity of our country, and we are trying to integrate more completely, we have at the same time become more segregated. Our young people have their own private world of music and dance, and clothing; it is the first time it seems to me that the youth have divided themselves so much apart from the community, as it were. When I was a teen-ager, we all shared the same popular music; for the most part the popular bands were our popular bands, too. When the family brought home a record, it had our stamp of approval, too. And at the other end of our generations, more and more of our senior citizens are moving apart, going into retirement centers. How much our young people, people my own age are going to miss if we don't continue to mingle and give one another the benefit of our experiences and vision.

I have not the wisdom to know what we need to do about Viet-Nam; I cannot believe any President of the United States willfully puts the lives of our young men on the line. I trust in your desire for the right answer; I believe in you and your advisers as having a knowledge of a far greater picture than the most of us. I know there is no simple answer to world affairs. Many times there is no simple answer to human relations between two people; multiplied by the complex society of the world community of which we are a part, on the whole I really do feel hopeful about the outcome. I think enough people everywhere care enough that we will make progress in a constructive way.

It does seem to me that we need to re-examine the basis of our government; perhaps what was a good Bill of Rights for 13 new colonies needs to be reframed for 50 States made up of peoples from all kinds of cultures. It always comes back to the fact that we are after all a unique country! Doesn't it.

As I say, I don't know whether these thoughts will have any merit for your Panel; they are just the things that come tumbling out of my mind this morning. I send them on their way to you, with my sincerest prayers for your well-being and your guidance.

Sincerely,

ms. Helen K Gray

Dear Mr. President:

We were greatly shocked and hurt by this latest tragedy to strike our country. But on top of that, a new blow to us is the passing of the anti-crime bill by the House. It must be clear to you that it was signed in an atmosphere charged with emotion and that those who signed it may not have been in a fully responsible frame of mind.

Let us not be carried to further pitfalls by the mistakes that have already been made. Surely this bill is only seemingly an answer to the crime wave, and may, instead, actually backfire and increase the crime it seeks to combat.

In view of the fact that many members of the House opposed the bill, including the late Senator Kennedy himself, please do not sign it.

Please give them a chance to reconsider.
Please consider the reasons of the late Senator for opposing it,

I am neither in a position to argue nor to use eloquent words. But I'm sure that my reasons for opposing the bill, based on those of the Senator and on an article by Robert Diner in the New York Herald-Tribune, are well known to you.
They are reasons shared by many other people like me in this country who have very little say in its government.

I will be hoping and praying for God's guidance to you in the days ahead.

A RESOLUTION
ADOPTED BY THE 103rd SESSION OF THE CENTRAL TEXAS UNITED METHODIST
ANNUAL CONFERENCE MEETING IN FORT WORTH, JUNE 3-5, 1968

We express our dismay and horror at the attempt on the life of one of our national leaders. We express our concern to the family of Senator Robert F. Kennedy. It is a tragedy that violence has so expressed itself in the midst of our people. Let it be known that this Conference expresses its repudiation of such unlawful methods and action.

Be it resolved-

That the ministerial and lay delegates of the Central Texas Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church in session at the Texas Hotel, Fort Worth, Texas, on June 5th go on record declaring.

1. Let it be known that we are against lawlessness in the streets, the wanton destruction of life and property, and every other type and kind of violence that endangers human life. Let there be no misunderstanding of our position at this point.

2. That we are for and do favor every effort made by the United Methodist Church in its effort to alleviate slum and ghetto experiences from every segment of society.

3. That we rededicate ourselves personally and as a church fellowship to God, to Jesus Christ and His way of life.

4. That our commitment to God may find expression in a deeper study of our faith and a more complete giving of ourselves to other persons who need recognition and a fair and equal chance to share in the best things of life.

By unanimous request of the Conference, that if any part of this resolution be used, all of it be included.

That copies be sent to the President of the United States, the family of Senator Robert F. Kennedy, the United States Senators from Texas, the press, and others involved in this tragedy.

Dear Mr. President:

Today I have been keenly interested in the reactions and comments of the people of these United States after the shocking events of the shooting of Senator Robert F. Kennedy in California. I have heard people ask: "what has happened to our beloved country?". I have heard laws proposed to solve our problems. I have heard people ask: "what are we to do in this time of crisis in which we live?"

I have become greatly alarmed over the events taking place in our Nation, and I feel it my duty to speak, and that is why I am writing this letter.

The answer to our problems in this Nation of strife is found in a turning back to God. The Bible says: "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people." (Proverbs 14:34)

Mr. President, your job is to remind the people of the world of the principles that America was founded upon, and to call upon the Christian people of these United States to obey God in what He says in II Chronicles 7:14--"If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sins, and will heal their land." Men cannot have peace with one another until first they have found peace with God through faith in Jesus Christ.

Mr. President, my wife and I pray daily for you, because we know that you carry a heavy responsibility upon your shoulders. The pastor of our church and the congregation prays for you.

I would deem it a great pleasure and privilege to meet you on my way back through Washington from New York on the week of September 9-14. I will be in Washington the latter part of that week.

The President more than shares your concern over lawlessness in a country that has and must always draw strength from the decency and dedication of its people. In his words, there can be no justification for violence that tears at the fabric of our national life.

Dear Miss Mandell:

President Johnson has asked me to thank you for your letter at this time of terrible sorrow. In his words:

"The tragedy and the senseless violence of Robert F. Kennedy's death cast a deep shadow of grief across America and across the world."

The President more than shares your concern over lawlessness in a nation that has and must always draw strength from the decency and dedication of its people. Time and again he has called upon Congress to enact genuinely effective gun control legislation. You may want to read in full his message of June 6 to the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate. I am writing to tell you how concerned I am about Senator R. Kennedy. I don't quite know how to express myself. How can people go around killing each other for a game, to me politics is a game of winning and losing. Why do people hate everyone so much that they kill? I pray that Senator R. I think you have done

Your recent statements in acknowledgment of the selfless dedication to our country of the late Senator Kennedy and your declaration of Sunday, June 9 as a national day of mourning are a tribute to you personally and as President.

It is my hope that your decision to remain outside the contest for Presidential nomination by the Democratic Party will include your not endorsing any one candidate for that nomination. I myself support Senator McCarthy and would like to see him win the nomination on the basis of his stand on issues facing the American public.

Dear Mr. Johnson
In one of Senator Kennedy's speeches he said any can buy guns. I feel that it is wrong to have a gun because in the past four people were murdered by a gun. The people were Dr. King, President Kennedy, Senator

was assassinated I thought about the different people that were assassinated in the past four years. John F. Ken-

Robert Kennedy and many others.

I thought how easy
it would be to buy a gun.
There ought to be a law passed against buying guns without a physical and mental test.

Dear President Johnson;

My class mates, my teacher, and I are deeply concerned about the assassination of Senator Robert Kennedy. It was horrible.

In the past, three years there has been 3 assassinations. People are using guns against people that they dislike, and this isn't the way to live a nice peaceful life. Guns are giving teenagers bad impressions.

I was thinking what the world would come to in a few years and I hate to think of it.

Our fifth grade class was talking about the unhappiness guns bring to us.

I would like to know if you can do something about the violence by organizing some — rules for guns

Please make this a better country to live in.

Thank you,

Yours, truly,

Dear President Johnson,

I think that we should not let any people use guns except for the police. We should have a rule not to let people just to be able to walk into a store and buy any sort of a gun.

We should have a rule that a person could buy a gun only if they have no police records and are in good health. They should get a special number, so every month they come back with the gun, let the man check it over, see if they got a police record, and to see if they are in good health.

I hope you can do something so that a law will be passed. Thank You.

The problem is why these people should have guns in the first place. They think these guns are toys. I think every single city should have a law against having a gun. Thank you very much

Dear Boys and Girls;

Dear Mr. President,

The enclosed letters were written by members of my first grade class during seat work time the morning Senator Kennedy was shot. The children came in that morning visibly shaken by the news. The idea of writing to you came from the children during this discussion. We cancelled seat work and all I provided was the time for this project.

I took the liberty of sending the originals to our local newspaper, The Evening Bulletin and the copies to you. I wanted the paper to see that I had corrected for spelling, the thoughts were the children's.

Dear Mr. President,

Enclosed is a composition that I wrote myself, I wrote this in school one day.

The contents of this composition just came to me, I didn't have to think about what I was going to write, I just wrote it. I had so many thoughts that I just wrote them down. I'm a student that attends a jr.

high school in Concord, I am 15 years of age.

I wrote this to express my feelings for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. →

Robert F. Kennedy meant a lot to me, as he did to many Americans. Please

A TRIBUTE TO ROBERT F. KENNEDY

He was a good man, as good as there ever will be. Please let his will stay and be part of us. He always held out a helping hand. All he ever wanted was this country to be brave, proud and free. He did not believe in violence. He said, "There are other ways, let's take the right way, let's win !" But, suddenly, someone stepped in and screened out his life, leaving him fighting a battle, a battle for his life.

His assassin blotted the light and took away all hope, fear and love - all in the same night.

Robert loved people and the people loved him. He wanted to see this nation of ours free, proud and looked upon by all. He made his decision without a moment's hesitation. He said, with determination, "Let there be peace, justice and love for all . . . " We can and we must be on better terms with all nations of the world, we must stay together.

Robert was a strong man, he served his country and stood fast like a man. He picked up the pieces and tried to put our country back together again. He was proud and determined; bounded by his wits, he never quit. He never halted, nor did he fall. He knew that life was a game, a game that you have to win.

Robert Kennedy put up a good fight, but he lost, he lost the most important battle of all - the battle for his life!

Let's never forget this great man and what he has done for our country.

Dear Mr. Harth:

President Johnson has asked me to thank you for your letter at this time of terrible sorrow. In his words:

"The tragedy and the senseless violence of Robert F. Kennedy's death cast a deep shadow of grief across America and across the world."

The President more than shares your concern over lawlessness in a nation that has and must always draw strength from the decency and dedication of its people. Time and again he has called upon Congress to enact genuinely effective gun control legislation. You may want to read in full his message of June 6 to the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate. The enclosed copy comes to you with the President's appreciation for your interest -- and his hope for your active support in this urgent cause.

Sincerely,

Dear Mrs. Mayhew:

President Johnson has asked me to reply to your letter.

The President shares the deep concern of all those whose loved ones have been called upon to defend freedom -- and ultimately our own security -- in Viet-Nam. Asking young men to go into battle, in his words, "is the most agonizing and painful duty of my office." He wants you to know, however, that his prayers and his constant efforts are being directed toward an honorable settlement of this war and our servicemen's early return.

You have the President's deep gratitude and the pledge that no possible avenue for peace will go unexplored. He hopes for your understanding and support as we persevere toward that goal.

With the President's best wishes,

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President,

I want to tell you how sad I am at the death of Senator Robert F. Kennedy.

I am a fourth grade student at P.S.
132 Bronx. Today, in class, my teacher ask the class, "What can be done to end the violence in the U.S.A.?"

Here are our suggestions.

1. Stop the sale of guns and knives.
2. Stop showing violence on T.V.
3. Stop selling drugs to people.

5. Close the bars earlier.

6. Educate the people.

I hope that you will follow our suggestion I would appreciate a reply to my letter soon.

Yours truly

Dear Mrs. Gimbel: Elinor S.

The President has asked me to thank you for your telegram suggesting a complete cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam.

The President wants you to know that he is committed to reducing the level of violence in Vietnam. The question is not whether to do it -- but how to do it. President Johnson has worked unceasingly for the past three years to bring the North Vietnamese leaders to the negotiating table. On March 31 of this year, the President stopped the bombing of most of North Vietnam in an effort to get peace talks started. For the first time Hanoi responded, and the result has been the meetings between the representatives of the United States and of North Vietnam in Paris.

But while the North Vietnamese have at long last agreed to sit down and talk, they have refused so far to show any restraint in their assault upon South Vietnam. On the contrary, Hanoi has insisted at Paris that the United States halt its bombing completely, without any reciprocal action on its own part. While the talks have gone on, the North Vietnamese have been pouring men and supplies through the panhandle of North Vietnam into South Vietnam at the highest level of the entire war. They have stepped up their attacks in many areas of South Vietnam, including extensive bombing of Saigon's civilian population. As a result, casualties have been unprecedentedly heavy among the American and allied forces, as well as the South Vietnamese civilian population since the beginning of the Paris talks. A complete cessation of air attacks against the panhandle of North Vietnam would simply result in even heavier friendly casualties.

At Paris Governor Harriman has made it clear to the North Vietnamese that we are ready to take further steps to reduce the violence if they are willing to show some kind of restraint. To date, Hanoi has rejected this offer. But you can be certain that we will continue our efforts to bring about a reduction in the level of military operations in Vietnam.

Dear Mike:

I transmit herewith the letter to the President about which I spoke to you on the plane going up to New York last Saturday. Also attached is copy of Mr. Reynolds' letter to me of June 7th, which is self-explanatory.

Mr. Reynolds showed me a rough draft of the letter he has written the President and asked if I would favor him by trying to see that the letter was actually placed in the hands of the President. I agreed that I would try, although it was not to be implied that I necessarily endorsed all of the views he expressed or recommended adoption of his suggestions. He is a concerned citizen like millions of our people today and is anxious to make any contribution that he can to our distressing problems.

If, in your discretion, you feel it is proper to call the President's attention to this matter and have him send a reply to me to be delivered to Mr. Reynolds, I shall greatly appreciate it.

With kindest regards, I am

Dear Senator McClellan:

Enclosed herein is my letter to the President, which you did me the honor of discussing with me yesterday evening.

Although I recognize that your willingness to put this letter in the President's hands in no way implies your endorsement of its contents, your offer to assist me is a source of great encouragement to me.

In the interest of brevity, several points in extension of and argument for my proposal were omitted from the letter. I should of course, be honored to supplement the letter with further material or specific actions in any way that would promote the cause of order in our society. In particular, I feel your "anti-crime bill" is an essential ingredient to progress in this direction and I shall do anything I can to further its adoption or implementation.

My dear Mr. President:

In common with you and all other Americans, I am heartsick at the assassination of Senator Kennedy. Your statement given on the evening of June 5 put this tragedy in its proper perspective as an acute symptom of the disease of violence that is threatening the very basis of our society. Your words led to my conception of an additional plan by which you might reverse this destructive trend, and for which you have unique capacity. I propose that you establish an era of responsible citizenship and strict observance of the law for the remainder of your term as President, as a living memorial to those great Americans who have been sacrificed to the recent violent lawlessness.

My hypothesis is that the violent crimes with which we are increasingly confronted is the extreme component of a general disregard of adherence to law which has become socially acceptable and even "smart" in our society. At the lower end of this scale are such minor infractions of the law as the accepted practice of driving up to 10 miles per hour above the posted speed limit. A corollary of this idea is the fact that such a large portion of our local police forces are involved in keeping misdemeanors within reasonable bounds, that they are not available in sufficient number to deal with the prevention and prosecution of felonious criminal activity.

In this period of awareness, generated by Senator Kennedy's assassination, of the growth of lawlessness in our society, I believe most of our citizenry would respond to an appeal for self discipline in adherence to law. If this were successful it would at the least make crime more apparent and therefore easier to prevent and punish. At the best it would awaken our sense of personal responsibility to the maintenance of law and order which is required if we are to have a permanent cure of our present social ills.

My concrete proposal is this: that you personally appeal to every citizen to exercise strict self-discipline in adherence to all laws, even those looked upon as minor regulations and that each of us encourage his associates to a similiar self-discipline. As a necessary adjunct to this effort, I propose that you call upon local, state, and federal police forces to enforce strict adherence to all laws to curb those who do not respond to your appeal, and that you call upon the members of the judicial system to exercise their fullest discretionary powers in imposing penalties for minor as well as major infractions of the law. Both of these actions will be materially facilitated by provisions of the "omnibus crime bill" now passed by the Congress. The period of strict law observance proposed, to run from now until the end of your term as President, should be long enough to stop the momentum of the present trend and for the citizenry at large to see the benefits of lawful behavior.

It hopefully would convert the image of the law breaker from that of an adventurer to that of a pariah.

Your success in doing this will save our democracy from the most ignominious end possible -- collapse from internal weakness of moral responsibility.

Most respectfully yours,

My Dear Mr. President:

It is my radio has just come the deplorably sad news of the untimely demise of the Senator from New York

It Because of this unfortunate occurrence I hasten to write you as an admiring member of your loyal opposition. You are the only member of your party for whom I have voted for the presidency in the entire course of a long life. It appears to me that developments of the last 48 hours have created a situation in which you can and should alter the position taken by you in renouncing any purpose to undertake to fill another term in your high office.

It Surveying the field I see no candidate who offers the qualities of leadership, objective outlook and high purpose which you, yourself possess. As of Today this country presents an image of chaotic divisiveness which only fearless, objective and purposeful leaderships can rectify. Among all visible candidates you offer these qualities to a superlative degree.

¶ In the present chaos, it is my firm belief that it is the duty of every thoughtful and loyal citizen to suppress considerations of personal interest and devote his utmost effort to the problems of reestablishing unity of thought, purpose and action of our fellow citizens, directed toward the creation of mutual respect and of common action in mutual helpfulness. We cannot offhandedly set aside our purpose and established determination to reach an honorable conclusion of our efforts in Vietnam, just because a minority of emotional citizens of immature intellectual development would pursue or precipitate peace regardless of price; nor can we justify abandonment of our binding commitments in other areas.

In my view you are the only person on the political horizon who presents the personal integrity, the comprehension and understanding of the problems which we face and the leadership and firmness to see the nation through its present period of peril. It appears to me that you are morally bound to make yourself available for nomination at the forthcoming Democratic Convention, that you can win the election and that having won can make gratifying headway toward setting our country on the right course with excellent prospect of bringing it out of chaos.

In a new Terminal undertaking you could serve with complete objectivity and thereby enhance the project for establishing national unity.

¶ While considerably beyond your age I have, this dismal morning, come to the firm conclusion that I must, henceforth and without delay, devote my efforts in pursuit of a course of personal commitment and sacrifice paralleling the one I here commend to you. I must devote my still very considerable abilities to the effort, which is the moral duty of every citizen, to work for a community of uninhibited and total mutual understanding and for an objective, unemotional comprehension of our national duties and of the need for purposeful action in the pursuit thereof.

¶ In closing, Mr. President, I repeat my expressions of admiration and respect and of confidence in your ability to lead us out of the present wilderness. I commend to your consideration the selfless action suggested above.

¶ In all sincerity I am

The Honorable Lyndon Baines Johnson
President of the United States of America

Dear Mr. President,

I am very displeased about what happen to Bobby Kennedy. We are trying to stop the War in Vietnam, when we are fighting our own war in New York.

Many people are being killed. They are being killed because they are doing the good for their Country. John F. Kennedy was killed because he was trying to have peace for Vietnam. We have to build up the nation again. We need God to help us. If we believe! We will get up and walk and not fall again. We are always talking about brotherhood. We must remain together to stop the killing of our people.

Most of all stop the killings of our President and other's great men. If we do not stop killing we will destroy our nation. We fought to earn it now we must keep together and stop this private war between our brothers and sisters, as our religion teaches us. I am a sixth grader and please try and stop the fighting.

Dear Mr. President,

This is a sad moment for everyone because of Kennedy's death and I pray for Mrs Robert Kennedy so he can give her strength.

What I am really writing for is this war in Viet Nam, I know your doing the best you can and I admire you for that but what really shocked me is I just found out my cousin got killed in Viet Nam and I was wondering if there's any faster way to get this war finished, and I have a brother over there and I pray to God to be with him and bring him back safe.

I'm no mother or any thing but I love him very much and we ~~won't~~ want him back safe.

This letter might not help but at least I'll try.

I know you have a son-in-law over there and I know how you feel.

But Mr. President isn't there some way for ending this war and bring back all the boys while they are a live.

If someone burned a piece of paper you can always get another one but if one gets killed then you can't get another life.

Like I said it's a sad moment to write but when other mothers get letters from the service telling them there sons lost there life then it's a sad moment for them also.

Mr President I know your busy so I will let you go.

Thank you.

The President mourns with the nation the tragic loss of Senator Robert F. Kennedy. In his words:

Your letter, however, is a heartening reminder that America's youth keenly appreciates the value of freedom -- and is sufficiently motivated to voice its concerns. So long as young people continue to have this will to seek truth, to recognize and assume the responsibilities of citizenship, we can persevere toward our goal of a world where all men may live in dignity, equality, and peace.

Dear President Johnson,

I know that you are a very busy man, so I will try and be brief. The reason that I am writing you is to express my opinion about one problem I think that the United States has. First of all I want to tell you that I am only sixteen years old and an American citizen. I feel that everyone has a right to express their opinion about their country, good or bad. So I would like to express mine.

I think that the United States is the most wonderful country of all. If I was given a choice to live here or abroad, I would choose the United States. Why? Because the United States has so much to offer... to everyone. To me the United States stands for happiness, freedom, challenge, and most of all love. No matter who comes to our country, we welcome them and make them part of our big family. I know that the United States isn't perfect. We have our faults just like any other country. But President Johnson, I think that the United States has a terrible problem. It isn't rioting or having demonstrations, it is that if we don't like our president, senators, govenors, or just any one person in general, what do we do? We assasinate them. As you know by the date of this letter, I am writing this on the day of the attempted assasination of Senator Robert Kennedy. At this moment, Senator Kennedy lies in critical condition in Los Angles. If I could be permitted to ask the assasinators one question it would be why. Why does he want to kill Senator Kennedy? Mr. President I think that killing(or even having the desire to kill) is about the lowest thing that a person can do. To me, to take and destroy a persons life is an unforgivable sin. Some people say that they could do anything for money. But I couldn't. I know that if there were something that you could do about it, you would do it.

Please don't get me wrong Mr. President, I love my country and I will fight for it. I will never deny my country and I will never be afraid to uphold it.

Whenever I say the Pledge of Alliegence, I think how lucky I am to be an American citizen and that I am able to say our pledge to our American flag instead of a Communist flag. If I ever travel abroad and someone asks me where I am from, with pride I will say, " I'm an AMERICAN!"

Thank you for your time,

miss Gillie Sue Gilmore

Dear President Johnson:

Sitting here,
listening to the reports on Senator Kennedy's condition, my heart is filled with rage, that this United States, a large, and until the past few years, a compassionate country, has become one of hate, jealousy, fear,
and unbalanced minds,
ready to kill, in a fit
of temper, or dislike.

Ours is a sick society.
a dangerous society!
What is happening to it!?

The very man, who might have cured this sickness, or perhaps taught us to love each other instead of hate our fellows men, lies critically ill; the victim of a mad

mass whim —

Yet, Capital Punishment
is to be abolished! —
Are we going to let men,
such as these, go to prison for a few years, then set free? —

So many people
disliked the Kennedy,
because of their wealth,
why? — You are wealthy too! — Bobby could not more keep his heritage than you, or I. He is a good man. I sit here & pray, that God will spare him,
for I believe in him, & knew he stands for.

And I pray that you,
and the Congress men,
who most of us admit,

should be replaced by young men, men who have children coming up in this world —
Certainly, this world is due for a change, a big change. I ad more for not running again. This war is a senseless thing.

When is the United States
going to stay at home, take care of her own people, and keep out of the affairs of other countries? — All they want, is our money, then they turn against us.

In the meantime,
we, the middle men,
are taxed & taxed, with no salary raises, — in order to keep other countries?

It is fair, it is wrong!

No wonder we have such hate, such madness!

Please, you, I have in Congress, think more of our country, & our people, and let other countries, take care of their own. —

And I pray to God,
that all the criticism of Bobby Kennedy, which obviously triggered this sick man, will teach our people a lesson.
Hate breeds hate —

I pray for Bobby's recovery, I pray for his family. Only God can save our country. The sooner even realize this, the sooner Peace will come, no talks, no

politics, can save us.
We are lost, without God, and we have put him second, third,
and even fourth, in our minds and hearts.

I pray Bobby will recover, I hope to go on, with his beliefs -
We need his strength -

In this hour of tragedy,
I had to speak out -

Bless you, in your remaining months as our leader -

Cordially,
Mrs. Joe McKinley

Dear Mr. President:

I am writing this letter in regards to the tragic incident which occurred this afternoon, June 6, 1968, four o'clock P.M. (Republic of Vietnam time). It concerns the attempted assassination of Senator Robert F. Kennedy and the other individuals who were wounded in this incident. I've served about eleven and one half months in the Republic of Vietnam and I'm due to rotate back to the United States around the 24th of this month. I'm certainly looking forward to returning to my home in Albemarle, North Carolina and taking my leave with my family, girlfriend, and friends. The bad thing is, I don't know whether this is the same United States of America I left one year ago. It seems that all the Protesters, Rioters, and "Hippies" have turned it into a very "short tempered country" where someone is always trying to take advantage of his fellow man. This is not the opinion of myself only, but of the majority of the men I have served with in Vietnam.

I am stationed at Tan Son Nhut, Vietnam which is located just on the outskirts of Saigon close to the Tan Son Nhut Air Force Base. Many people refer to us as the "Saigon Warriors" or at least they did until the Tet Offensive this past January. I'm a "Saigon Warrior" and proud to be one because I know we did our share just as much as the next man. The United States Army is one of the biggest organization in the world and it requires men and women to serve in every job and location they occupy. Someone had to be a "Saigon Warrior" and we happened to be the ones. We also feel that all the other servicemen (Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, and etc.) are also doing their share and doing it in a very outstanding manner. I'm not referring to the big debate on whether or not we should be here, but I'm saying that we're proud to be here and we'll stay as long as the United States of America wants us to. We try to think that we have them behind us all the way, but with everything that is happening back there, it makes us wonder more than often. Sir, you're our boss and we'll follow you 100% in your policys on Vietnam, but we just can't go along with some of the people back there that call themselves American citizens. I definitely feel that it's only a small majority that I'm speaking of, but that majority seems to be growing every time I pick up the paper and read about War Demonstrations and such. WHY Sir, is all we're asking. Why do some people have to be like that when we're over here giving part of our lives to defend them so they can have a more peaceful nation and a better world to live in.

Sir, I turned twenty one years of age on the 19th of April this year. I'm old enough to vote in the Presidential Election this year for the first time, but after the terrible event that took place today, I'm not sure

Dear Mr. President:

I am writing this letter in response to the tragic incident which occurred this afternoon, June 9, 1968, four o'clock P.M. (approximately 4:00 P.M.) in the White House. It concerns the attempted assassination of Senator Robert F. Kennedy and the other individuals who were wounded in this incident. I've served about eleven and one half years in the Republic of Vietnam and I've been back to the United States around the 25th of this month. I'm certainly looking forward to returning to my home in Alabama, North Carolina and taking my family, girlfriend, and friends. The sad thing is, I don't know whether this is the same United States of America I left one year ago. It seems that all the progress, rights, and "freedom" have turned it into a very "short country" where someone is always trying to take advantage of the fellow man. This is not the spirit of itself only, but of the majority of the man I have grown with in Vietnam.

I am stationed at Tan Son Nhut, Vietnam which is located just on the outskirts of Saigon close to the Tan Son Nhut Air Force Base. Many people refer to us as the "Saigon Warriors" or at least they did until the 1st Offensive this past January. I'm a "Saigon Warrior" and proud to be one because I know we did our share just as much as the next man. Someone had to be a "Saigon Warrior" and we happened to be the ones. We also feel that all the other servicemen (Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, and etc.) are the same thing and that it is a very honorable thing to do. But referring to the big debate on whether or not we should be here, but I'm saying that we're proud to be here and we'll stay as long as the United States of America wants us to. We try to think that we have been behind us all the way, but with everything that is happening back there, it makes us wonder more than ever. Well, Sir, it is all we're asking. Why do some people have to be like that when we're over here giving part of our lives to defend them so that they can have a more peaceful nation and a better world to live in.

Sir, I turned twenty one years of age on the 15th of April this year. It's old enough to vote in the Presidential Election this year for the first time, but after the terrible event that took place today, I'm not sure whether I want to vote or not. I don't know why it happened, but I'm trying to keep myself from believing that it happened just because of politics themself. No offense to you Sir, but in a way I've always thought of "Big Time" politics as being dirty and if they get that dirty to where a human being is shot down just so he won't win, then I don't want any part of it. If this be the case, I don't want to ever vote. I realize that this is a way out type of explanation, but this is what I feel and I just can't change it.

Sir, I realize that you probably get bundles and bundles of letters similar to this one every day and you'll probably never even know this one existed, but I did want to write and let someone know that we who are serving in Vietnam do have feelings and very deep ones at that. The way some of the people are letting us down is reflected in our feelings every day. We also have feelings for the ones who are behind us, and we, as soldiers, salute them for being the kind of American Citizens we ourselves hope to be some day. These are the people who we are defending and we'll give our lives, if necessary, to see that these people have a better world to live in.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Jerilyn:

President Johnson has asked me to thank you for your letter at this time of terrible sorrow. In his words:

The tragedy and the senseless violence of Robert F. Kennedy's death cast a deep shadow of grief across America and across the world.

The President more than shares your concern over lawlessness in a nation that has and must always draw strength from the decency and dedication of its people. Time and again he has called upon Congress to enact genuinely effective gun control legislation. You may want to read in full his message of June 6 to the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate. The enclosed copy comes to you with the President's appreciation for your interest -- and his hope for your active support in this urgent cause.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President:

I know you get an awful lot of criticism and very little praise, but this is one time I'd like to take the time to fulfill a good intention.

We heard your plea tonight for this nation to return to a sane, law-abiding life - and we "amen-ed" everything you said. If we would only have enough backbone to stand up for what's right, to love one another sincerely as Christ commanded, how much greater our home, America, would be.

We believe you've started us on the right track. We believe the morally-upright Americans are

Your touching and dramatic appeal on the night of Thursday, June 6, following the death of Senator Robert Kennedy at the hands of an assassin, for a real gun control law with teeth in it, was the most appealing, convincing speech that I have ever heard you make.

There was pathos and sincerity in it that nothing could conceal. It was genuine and from the heart, beautifully delivered.

It made me glad that I had voted in the Senate for a better bill. However unpopular it may be in Texas, political assassinations must stop in America.

Thank you, as a Senator, a citizen, a Texan, and an American, for this appeal which is certain to touch many hearts and minds in America into action at some time.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. President

C/SV
This evening as I sit in the den of my lovely home, my teen-age daughter asleep, as well as my husband, I am wakeful and troubled, with many unanswered questions.

How can we ^{help} ~~save~~ our country and our people in these troubled times? How can we be helped (I an average housewife) against ourselves? Do we need a guide by which to be re-educated? Does our media (television) cause violence?

I feel the guilt as one individual for all violence which exists to-day. Have we learned to abuse the great freedom for which this country stands? Perhaps these questions are the same that all good Americans are asking themselves to-night.
How can I as an average citizen and mother start to-morrow, so ~~and~~ I can ~~help~~ myself and others, from these anxieties.

I would be grateful for your answers as leader of the most wonderful country in the world.

Sincerely

we must turn to God - June 6, 1968

Dear Mr. President

Encls: Rel. of 6/5/68, P's Statement on Shooting of RFK

Rel. of 6/6/68, P's remarks re death of RFK.

Rel. of 10/7/67, Prayer Proc..

The news of Senator Robert F. Kennedy is a terrible tragedy.

These shootings of our great Americans reflect so, on our whole nation.

Why in God's name are these things happening in "the land of the free"?

#

If truly important men are shot so needlessly, what's going to happen
to their followers?

Need guns be so plentiful? Can anyone decided to eliminate a human life at random?

Mr. Johnson the United States of America is a large "grazing land" for all

211

American "sheep".
If all of our
"shepards" are killed,
who will help
God in his work?
Who will lead us
on to better lives?
Who'll keep the
"wolves" away?

We have so far to go before we have a truly free nation. Will we achieve that or will we all perish?

We must all work with God. Not only for ourselves, but for our children and their future.

May God give us all strength to continue in our battle for love, peace and freedom.

Dear Mr. Clements:

President Johnson has asked me to thank you for your telegram at this time of terrible sorrow. In his words:

The tragedy and the senseless violence of Robert F. Kennedy's death cast a deep shadow of grief across America and across the world.

The President more than shares your concern over lawlessness in a nation that has and must always draw strength from the decency and dedication of its people. Time and again he has called upon Congress to enact genuinely effective gun control legislation. You may want to read in full his message of June 6 to the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate. The enclosed copy comes to you with the President's appreciation for your interest -- and his hope for your active support in this urgent cause.

THE USE OF FIRE ARMS OF ANY STYLE HAS ALWAYS BEEN THE ANSWER TO A PROBLEM IN THIS COUNTRY. WE HAVE SHOT AND KILLED THOSE WHO SPEAK OUT AGAINST US AND SEEM TO BE DOING SO AT A HORRIBLY INCREASING RATE.

THE N R A AND SOME SELF-STYLED PATRIOTIC ORGANIZATIONS CLAIM THAT WE HAVE A RIGHT TO OWN AND CARRY GUNS. THE GUN MFGRS AND SALES

PEOPLE HAVE LOBBIED IN THE NAME OF "SPORT".

THE "RIGHT" TO KILL THE LEADERSHIP OF THIS COUNTRY AS A "SPORT"
MUST COME TO AN END. BEFORE WE HAVE ANOTHER LOSS OF A LEADER -- MAYBE YOURSELF -- STRONG AND EFFECTIVE LEGISLATION MUST BE ENACTED.

STRICT REGISTRATIONS OF POSSESSION AND OWNERSHIP OF ALL FIREARMS

Dear Mr. President:

H I was impressed, in seeing and hearing your television address last night, by your immediate and strong response to the senseless shooting of Senator Robert F. Kennedy. You indeed covered much ground in your relatively brief remarks.

However, what struck me most forcefully was your statement that it would be wrong to conclude from this lawless act that our country is sick, has lost its balance, sense of direction, or even its common decency. As you stress, 200 million people did not strike down the men mentioned.

Perhaps this part of your address impressed me most because I had said essentially the same thing in a talk in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel only four days before. A copy of this is enclosed -- the point of reference being included at the top of page 3.

As you can also see, from the introduction to the talk, this breakfast affair was to be a light, fun occasion. But, there also seemed to be an opportunity for a brief message of confidence and hope in solving some of the nation's very serious problems.

Realizing the many demands on your time, I at first hesitated to write to you. However, the thoughts that you expressed seemed so important regarding the future course of the country that I could not resist comment.

Sincerely yours,

Dr. Charles Moeller Jr.

Very truly yours,

CONFIDENCE IN SOLVING THE NATION'S PROBLEMS*

Honored Clergy, Good Ladies, and Gentlemen:

Like so many ventures we men undertake, whether in relation to so fine an organization as the Catholic Business Women's Guild or otherwise, we receive our marching orders before proceeding. When your Chairman, Miss McPartland, invited me through my Secretary, Miss Brady, to be a speaker today, I was given my marching orders. I know you have all heard Mr. Fitzhugh's remark that, behind every man there is a woman, telling him that everything he does is wrong.

First, I was told to be brief, no longer than five minutes, because of your tight schedule. Second, no mention was to be made of Company business. Third, I was told not to use any statistics, since numbers tend to be dull and boring.

Well! The first condition seemed reasonable. Lincoln made a real impact in his Gettysburg address, which ran only a few minutes. The second order seemed OK, too. However, regarding the third: Although I am primarily a business man speaking to business women, I am also an economist by professional background, and when an economist is told that he cannot use statistics or charts he is completely disarmed. Physiologically, he is in a state of lockjaw. Nevertheless, I proceed undaunted.

During the past few months, I have been called upon to make talks that have taken me right out to the West Coast, and the topics have generally been closely allied, mainly, (1) The Economic and Financial Outlook, and (2) The Role of Private Capital in Rebuilding Our Cities. As you can see, these are not only related topics; they are also topics that deal with problems -- seemingly insurmountable at times.

There is barely time this morning to mention the economic problems which face our nation: the current fiscal policy debate, with the administration and congressional tug-and-pull on the tax increase and a cut in government expenditures; the war in Vietnam, with peace talks in Paris, a besieged city itself; very serious inflation and international balance of payments deficits, threatening the value of the dollar at home and abroad; the current tight capital market situation, with a possible recurrence of the 1966 credit crunch; and very importantly the urban problem to be met in New York City and in every major city across the country -- the area, incidentally, to which the life insurance industry's current Billion Dollar investment program now so forcefully addresses itself.

Just as an aside, you will be interested to know that right now about half of that total sum has been committed or disbursed on housing and job creating investments in cities all over the country.

In the face of these many problems, is it any wonder that we call these troubled times? Often, there is a feeling that we are so far from solution that there is not even a recognition in many instances that there is a problem. No one can even begin to solve a problem if he does not know he has it.

My main point this morning is hardly to dwell upon national economic troubles or their solution. How could anyone even think of such a pessimistic subject while looking out at this sea of beautiful hats?

Rather, my message, if I may be so presumptuous as to have a message, is one of hope and confidence. Certainly these are troubled times, continually brought to our attention by every type of communications media -- the television, the newspapers, the radio, and the magazines.

However, by definition, it is the unique that makes a "good" news story. And I have every confidence that our economy, our society, is characterized, not by the actions of the few that we see, hear, and read so much about, but rather by the actions of the vast majority of the more than 200 million people in our nation today -- working and striving to raise our families with a knowledge of what is right and what is wrong.

This in no way means that we do not have full recognition and awareness of the pertinent philosophical developments that demand our attention. There are disturbing trends in this country which tend to seriously weaken the resolution and reaction of many Americans in their confrontation with life. To borrow an idea, instant everything and permissiveness are becoming the mood and temper of our time. Their adverse effects on national problems, and solutions to those problems, are so deep and widespread that they must be strongly resisted at the grass roots.

One means of offsetting these trends would be to revitalize two qualities, responsibility and discipline, which have been the difference between success and failure throughout history. The merits of and need for these qualities are vital in each area of society. What seems to be in order is to achieve their adoption and application more broadly throughout our nation -- in business relationships, family relationships, community affairs, news media, education, government, and the church. In fact, the greatest danger today is the man of goodwill with a closed mind, who neither sees nor accepts his changing responsibilities.

Remembering that there is nothing that the layman can do that the laywoman can't do, it is imperative that we keep involved and don't abdicate. In such a context, the role of the business woman, along with the business man, can truly be great in meeting with confidence the many challenges and problems that face us. Thank you.
