REMOTE VIEWING (RV) SESSION DCC-43

TIME

#66: This will be a remote viewing session for 0900 hours,
7 May 1981.

This will be a pre-session briefing to the remote viewer. At this time I show you some pictures of a building, a target which you have worked before several months ago. This morning we are going to return to this building in the present time and scan the entire building for threats to U.S. personnel. Looking in this building for threats to U.S. personnel. At the beginning of the session then I will ask you to focus your attention on the building in the photographs I've shown you. As you can see it's bound by arrows in the photographs I've shown you. It's one section in a block of buildings. I want you to focus only on that building and we will then scan the target building. Do you have any questions about your mission this morning?

#08: No.

#66: All right. You have approximately 20 minutes then to prepare yourself for this mornings session.

0900

Relax now, relax, relax and concentrate on the target for this morning. Focus your attention now, focus, focus your attention on the building in the photographs I've shown you. Relax and concentrate. Focus... Focus now... Holding your perceptions in present time, in present time, right now, focus on the building in the photograph I have shown you and scan the building, rapidly scan the building for threats to U.S. personnel. Scan the building, asking of your greater self information regarding threats to U.S. personnel. Focus now and describe your perceptions to me.....

+02

#08: My attention was immediately drawn to the, uh...the back wall, the rear wall of the basement, about, uh..about, uh..18 to 20 inches from the side wall, about, uh, 8 or 10 inches from the floor. And there's a red dot there.

#66: Okay. Let's-

#08: That's in the basement.

#66: Let's relax now and allow your perceptions to continue and see what develops. Just relax, relax and ask now for more information concerning this threat.

~~SECRET~~

PAUSE

+06 #08: It is a, it is a sphere, it is metal. It would seem to me like a size of a baseball but that's only because I'm close to it. It's got, uh..it's got, uh.....it's got, uh..the, uh, some kind of electronic stuff in it. I don't understand that. It's not, uh, connected to anything... Can I leave this one?

#66: Yes.

PAUSE

+09 #08: I have a..an impression of a "Z" pattern developing and it's a right rear- it's a rear wall, back wall..from floor to floor..
.....

If there were a black line starting from the (mumble)...upper portion of the cellar wall from left to right with a straight line going across the upper portion of the basement wall to that globe that I..mentioned. And then it seemed to cross diagonally to the left, cross to the other floor to- god, it's hard to describe. And then diagonally to the right, to the other floor and then diagonally to the left to the other floor and so on.. And it describes a..a pattern, and it's not an installation of anything, it describes a pattern..

#66: Okay... Take this opportunity then to remind your greater perceptual self that you desire information on threats.

#08: Yeah, it's there, it's connected..... Can I leave the rear wall now?

PAUSE

+14 #08: There's a...a persistent impression of a....like a silver probe in the, uh....center of the left wall. I think it's on the third floor. Seems to be like lit up, activated. It's in the middle of the wall.....

+16 #66: Okay..... Continue your scan.....

#08: There's a distinct impression that..... Some things that I can't find are dormant, and some of these things can be activated at will..or turned off.

#66: And what is the perception you have that makes you say-

+19 #08: I don't know. It's..somebody's tryin' to kid me. Its as if.. it's as if..if somebody, somebody knowing that's- not particularly myself but anybody looking for something they could deactivate... And then..and subsequently reactivate at will.

#66: That being the case tell me where they are.

- +21
- #08: The left wall... There's just a..the one that's active now, it's just a..silvery, uh, silvery, uh, probe that I described earlier in the left center with the wall, third floor.
 - #66: So I understand you to feel that there are others-
 - #08: Yes, and I just can't- it's like there were....dormant some-place. The one in the center of the wall is definitely active. It's shining like a...like a light, a white blue light.....
 - #66: Okay. I have no further questions about the target, but before we leave the target area take a moment on your own to continue your scan and comment as you see fit.

PAUSE

- #08: I can see a distinct impression of the front wall is the most vulnerable. I'd rather not do it though.
- #66: Tell me about the experience that makes you say this.
- #08: Because of the, uh.....the number of opportunities due to the cavities and the construction..... Let me have just two more minutes and I'll...
- #66: Fine, I have plenty of time. I will wait.
- #08: Okay, I'm all done now.
- #66: I didn't understand you.
- #08: I'm all through: if you're also through.
- #66: Okay. Bring your attention then to focus back on me in the room here, but remember, remember all the imagery you have observed and let's prepare now to draw those perceptions you have had.
- #08: Okay.

Okay, in sketch number one where we started from, uh, my attention was immediately focused to the cellar floor, the basement floor, uh, and to the rear wall of the basement floor, where this metal sphere as I've described it previously during the session located in the, uh, uh, embedded in the wall. There seemed to be no connection, that is, wires leading to or from this, this sphere. It's simply there. I got the impression that it was the size of a baseball, but I think that's only because I was so very close to it and it appeared, probably appeared bigger than it really was. Maybe very small. Okay? Any questions on my sketch?

- #66: You- if I understand what you're saying this is, if I stood in the basement this would be up high to me.

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

- #08: Yes.
- #66: Okay.
- #08: Yes, yes. This would be the height.
- #66: Okay.
- #08: Going up north.
- #66: And you thought it was the size of a baseball, but you're not sure how close you were to it when you-
- #08: Yeah, I was very close to the son of a gun. I was tryin' to get as close as possible to try and get a feel-
- #66: And you said before there were some electronic things or something.
- #08: Yeah, in the sphere.
- #66: Okay.
- #08: That I don't understand.
- #66: Okay.
- #08: Okay.
- #66: Okay, I understand.
- #08: And there are very few wires in fact. Okay. In sketch number two later on in the session while I was trying to scan the entire rear wall of the, uh, building. And that is from my perspective, uh, from this picture, from the street looking in again, talking about the rear wall. I got the distinct impression of a black line, the significance of which I do not understand or know, which tended- start from the upper portion of the cellar, basement wall and went up the floors into a "Z" motion. And I-
- #66: Okay, in drawing two am I around behind the building, facing the back of the building?
- #08: No, no. You're inside the building looking at the rear wall.
- #66: Okay, I'm looking at the entire rear wall but from the perspective of the front.
- #08: That's right. That's a panel- yes, from the front.
- #66: All right.
- #08: Okay.

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

- #66: So we have your sphere down at the lower right here, which is actually in the basement?
- #08: Yes.
- #66: And then this line going up from there.
- #08: Yes.
- #66: All right. You asked then, uh, for more information?
- #08: Yes, and it's...it's not a wire or something. It's a, uh, it's a pattern of something, tryin' to tell me it's a pattern of reflection or something and it's covering those areas in the "Z" motion, the entire rear wall. And apparently it's connected to the sphere. I stopped at the sphere. And that's as much as I could do with the rear wall. Okay.
- In the left wall, again facing..from the street, facing the building, if I were going to go to this arrow to the left, okay. I found that- all right, got the impression of a very, uh, active blue white, like little surgical probe in what I thought was the center of the wall. And it could be- I thought it was in the third floor.
- #66: The center of the left wall, left being as you face the building?
- #08: Face the building, your left wall. Okay.
- #66: Okay.
- #08: That's what I thought I saw.
- #66: Okay. You made some statement during the session about a feeling of activity and inactivity of devices.
- #08: Yeah, it was, uh...I hesitated to say that. But I wouldn't- it's an impression that wouldn't go away so I had to say it. And that is that..I felt I was being deceived, in a sense, only I couldn't detect 'em if I really looked at 'em, or found 'em, except that they were brownish dormant things. And I got the distinct impression they could be turned on or off at will be an outside party.
- #66: Tell me now where these brownish dormant things were.
- #08: It's in the left wall. Okay. And the- and I really wasn't looking forward to looking at the front wall. And I thought I'd just go through that, uh, in a very peremptory manner, just give it a quick scan. And I got the impression that of the vulnerability and opportunities involved in the front wall, which were probably loaded, but I didn't wanna go through the trouble of..I think it should take another session or have somebody else do it, see what they see.

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

#66: Okay.

#08: And it's just a bit overwhelming.

#66: All right. This, um, you have a feeling that there are brown or what you call dormant devices perhaps in the left wall?

#08: Yes, yes.

#66: On which floor?

#08: All over. I can't tell you that.

#66: All right.

#08: I took it as a whole.

#66: Do you have any further comments you'd like to make then about the session?

#08: No. No, I was hoping I wasn't getting carried away with the enthusiasm of the, of the session. That's why I was reluctant to work on the front wall.

#66: Okay. How do you feel about the imagery you did have?

#08: Oh, imagery was all right. No problem.

#66: Okay.

#08: Uh, what was very clear to me as far as imagery goes was this little probe in the third floor that was very active. Every time I see something that I think is active it comes out as light, white blue metal. And I thought I would gauge myself, gear myself at first to looking for red dots. I've used that system before. That's how I found what I thought would be that little red sphere in the basement as described in sketch one. But that turned out to be light, white metal as well.

#66: Okay. Anything else?

#08: No.

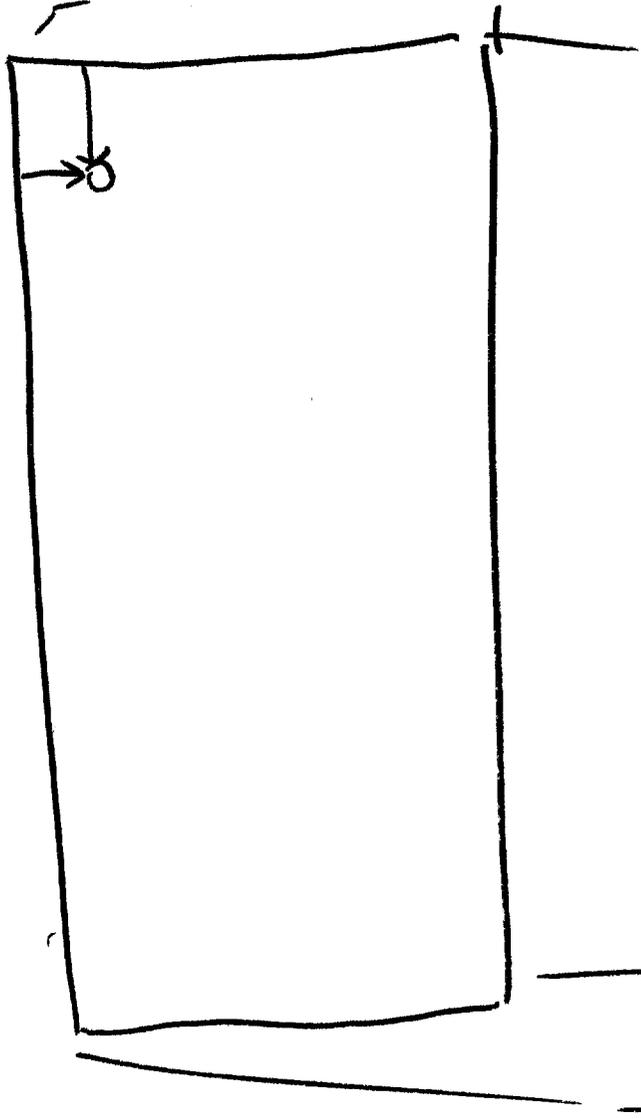

#66: Okay, fine.
