Extended Remote Viewing is projected for mid-May 1988. Upon completion of Stage 6 training in CRV in late April 1988, Viewer 079 will have successfully completed cross-training in both methodologies. Viewer 011 has volunteered to train in the Written Remote Viewing (WRV) methodology under the tutelage of Viewer 079. Viewer 011 has had six training sessions to date and appears to be making meaningful progress. Anticipated date of completion for this training is August 1988.

4. (S/SK/WNINTEL) Whereas remote viewing efforts conducted previously under Utility Assessment "N-1" appeared highly successful, an ensuing effort conducted to determine the thematic substance of a document under Project "N-2" was disappointingly inaccurate. Only one of the five viewers succeeded in determining the substantial meaning of the document. None of the viewers was able to pinpoint the location of the document. An in-depth review will be conducted with the assistance of the remote viewers to determine and trace the cause of this failure.

5. (S/SK/WNINTEL) To date, five remote viewers have conducted nineteen sessions in a solo remote viewing mode against an event of significance. The sessions were conducted without the presence, guidance and assistance of a facilitator. In the majority of cases, viewer responses appear to "answer the mail" and provide accurate answers to specific targeting needs. The presence of analytical overlay appears to set in when the viewers "expand or expound" on their replies by volunteering data that is not directly responsive to the stated requirement, or by analytically labelling responses to their viewing concepts. An in-depth review of this utility assessment will be made upon its completion.
