On 19 Jun 84 Source 06 reported the following information concerning [REDACTED]

Source stated, in substance, as follows:

At this location was a "T shaped" building that had "twin domes on each end of it" (see drawing 1). There was a flat building (not further identified) next to it which was a power unit (NFI) which produced energy (NFI) for magnetic coils (described below).

There are a bunch of cables running everywhere (NFI).

Inside this "T shaped" building, in one of the domed areas, was a pedestal (NFI, see drawing 3) and in the other domed area was "like flame tips" (NFI, see drawing 4). Also in this building was a complicated electronic/electric device which was totally unfamiliar to the source (see drawing 2). Source described this object as a bar magnet with coils on either end (NFI). It was very big, the lower part (NFI) was probably 1500 meters long. On each end were two large light green kind of coils with some kind of shielding around them. This shielding kind of covered the coils. This thing produced intense heat when it was energized (NFI). Inside the building was "like being inside an energy field" (NFI).

This object produced a broadcast type of energy (NFI). This energy was localized, overridingly powerful, like an energy ball (NFI). Wave formats were coming together, overlapping each other, and colliding with each other producing extreme high peaks and extreme high lows (NFI). There were nulls in their cyclic rates (NFI). Directional extremely low frequency (ELF)

1. NAME OF SUBJECT OR TITLE OF INCIDENT SG1B [REDACTED]	2. DATE SUBMITTED
4. REPORT OF FINDINGS carriers (NFI) were produced. These carriers zeroed each other out because all the carriers were alike (NFI), but the modulated frequencies that they carried were different (NFI). This process was like an artificial reconstruction of a whole different wave front (NFI). The event made a very strange light effect, it wasn't reflective light, it was just light. It was an iridescent outline of some kind. It kind of outlined everything (NFI). This apparition thing was a light or an aura (see drawing 3). It had a really ripping feeling about it. It was like the broadcasting of a focal point, the focus of this came from somewhere else (NFI, see drawing 3). This wave form was a surge of different frequencies. It was like thousands upon thousands of frequencies makes a wave which appears to be from somewhere else. It's like it just appears there (NFI). The real "objective" could not be seen, only the outline effect. This was like an altering of reality (NFI). This was like a whole different energy format, like a hole drilled through nothing. It had to do with time or something; like the connective tissue of reality was twisted into a cork screw. It was like the reality fabric's twisted in some way, pulled apart. It was very much like something popped into our reality (NFI). Source was unable to provide any further information concerning date and location of interest. Attached hereto as EXHIBIT I are drawings provided by Source. AGENT'S NOTES: Source's ability to estimate distances is questionable.	3. CONTROL SYMBOL OR FILE NUMBER HU-1088/8407/06
