1. Date: 17 April, 1986
2. Time: 0950 hrs
3. Summary:
 - a. Site area seems to be a city, but seems nondescript enough to ignore for session purposes.
 - b. Site seems to have a building which is partly crumbling and in ruins. Strong AOL drive of Libyan bombing.
 - c. Inside of bldg two rooms were viewed:
 - 1) One seemed to be lined with shelves, and seemed to be only a storeroom or library. Sensations of dust, chalky tastes, noise, confusion. People were in and around this room.
 - 2) Other seemed to be an unoccupied room, cut off from the rest of the bldg. It is partly collapsed. On one side of room is a "thing" which repeatedly AOL'd as wooden thing, desk w/paper on it, etc. On other side of room is a long "thing", like a bed or couch. It is half trapped under the fallen ceiling, and seems to be very important, but couldn't discern why. Sounds of people (scraping and bumping sounds, as well as talking sounds) are muffled, but can be heard. Otherwise, room is still and lifeless.
4. Personal evaluation: Session was given up because of strong suspicion of AOL drive. Breaks were taken, and AOLs were objectified, but didn't seem to be able to work through it. I would put very little faith in this session's results.
