WORKING PAPER

Project: 89 18
Date: 890425
Viewer: 018
Session: 01

SUMMARY OF INFORMATION:

1. (S/NF/SK) The target accessed was a large ship with long, straight sides, a rounded rear end and bluntly pointed nose (see trackers, page 10A). It appears to be green on top and grey underneath (see sketch, page 7).
2. (S/NF/SK) There are contraband drugs in the form of a which crystalline powder located within the ship. These drugs are marked #6 on the front and side view trackers on page 10A.
2. (S/NF/SK) There is a short, blond headed man at one of the railings who is worried about what might happen to him. He appears to be somehow related to a secreted and private supply of contraband drugs about which the other people on the ship do not know. These drugs are not of the same material as the other, but are made of a coarse, light and dark brown mixture. These drugs are marked #7 on the two trackers on page 10A.
3. (S/NF/SK) The results of the tasking, "Where in the U.S. will the drugs make landfall?" are shown on the probe map, page 12A. Multiple places were found, but two stood out more prominently than others: The strongest was on the western side of Southern Florida, just south of Tampa. The next strongest was on the eastern side of Southern Florida, slightly to the south of Miami.
