SUBJECT: SUN STREAK Report - 9033 (U)

TO: ODCSINT, DAMI-PO

SG1A

1. (S/STD/NF) On 12 and 14 Jun 90, three sessions were conducted against the target vessel [redacted]

SG1A

[redacted]

2. (S/STD/NF) Viewer 025 reported that the vessel was located near 16° 00'N/76°00'W, about 300 miles southeast of Jamaica. The drugs are headed for Jamaica and will be transported to land at a point between Portland Point and Port Royal. Location of the illegal drugs aboard ship is "in the upper area of the vessel near ski masks".

3. (S/STD/NF) Viewer 052 reported that the vessel was located at 16°15'N/81°30'W and enroute to Kingston, where it will arrive on 15 June 1990. The on-board location of the drugs is in a container with small, shiny, solid, bright, round items, some of which may have holes in the center, and all of which are bunched together and firmly packed. The transfer point will take place in the vicinity of Guantanamo, Cuba at approximately 17°15'N/75°00'W.

SG1A

4. (S/STD/NF) Viewer 095 was unable to determine the vessel's current location. The [redacted] was carrying over 15 kilos of cocaine located just below the deckline on the port side, in the extreme bow of the vessel, and under a layer of metal. The present destination is a transfer point at 19°04'N/82°12'W located west southwest of Georgetown, Cayman Islands. It will arrive at this point on 18 June 1990 between 1930-2300 hours to transfer the contraband to a 60-75 foot commercial type vessel (NFI).

~~SECRET/STD/NF~~

5. (S/STD/NF) There is little correlation among the viewers on the current location of the vessel and the offload/transfer point. Viewer 095 identified the drugs as cocaine and 052's information tends to confirm this.

SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

SG1A

The current location of [REDACTED] was not obtainable despite repeated efforts.

SG1A

The [REDACTED] is carrying over 15 kilos of cocaine. This is located just below the deckline, on the port side, in the extreme bow of the vessel. The cocaine is under a layer of metal (metal container?).

The present (on 14 Jun 90) destination of the vessel is a transfer point (not a port) located at 19 04' N 82 12' W, WSW of Georgetown, Cayman Islands. The vessel will arrive at the transfer point on 18 Jun 90 between 1930-2100 hours. At this same location, between 2201-2300 hours (18 Jun 90) the vessel will transfer the contraband to a 60-75 foot commercial-type (NFI) vessel.

SUMMARY OF INFORMATION:

The target is a ship used for transporting and holding. It is currently located at 16° 15' N 81° 30' W, but it is moving. It's next destination may be Kingston, Jamaica, possibly on 15 June 90. It has horizontal, parallel lines, like stacks of logs, on one side of the ship, and containers on the other side. The container with contraband makes me want to sneeze and it smells terrible. It also holds small, round, shiny, solid, bright and glowing items, all bunched together and firmly packed. Some of the round things may have a hole in the middle.

The transfer point will be in the vicinity of 17° 15N 75° W, east of Guantanamo, Cuba.
