SG1A□

1. (S/STD/NF) On 5 July 1990, Source 052 conducted a remote viewing session to determine the current location of a target vessel identified as, [REDACTED]. Source 052 was tasked to determine if the vessel was carrying contraband in the form of drugs, and to determine the destination of the drugs in the US.

2. (S/STD/NF) Viewer 052 found the [REDACTED] at geographical coordinates 16°40'N/69°25'W. It appeared to be carrying a substance resembling cocaine stored in oblong, cloth-type containers. The drugs were stored among other similar containers containing granular, possibly peanut-based substance. The parcels containing the drugs were somehow brighter than the other packages. The contraband is projected to be off-loaded to a second vessel and destined for delivery to an area located in Miami, Florida.

SG1A□

3. (S/STD/NF) Viewer's efforts to describe the second vessel at the off-load point were unsuccessful.
