The target personality is an older or mature male with darkened features. A pier is in his environment which is in an isolated area near water and the color gray is visible. The area is a landing zone of sorts. A form of travel occurs here in a wide range area either by vessel or by plane. The target personality is earnest in his attempt (land over or above water) and he has a lucid smile on his face. He is a man who has accepted challenges, taken journeys, and now may be alone by water.
