E. SESSION SUMMARY:

Summary of Information

The target contains alot of motion. There are a number of living things which are traveling or moving together. They appear to be almost suspended in front of the viewer. There is an object, or part thereof, that appears to flap back and forth. There is also a very smooth movement that goes up and down.

There is a manmade feature which is hard, black and flat. It's surface is smooth sits at an angle.

There is hard land reminiscent of rocks. There is an upper level which is separated from a lower, flat and green level by steep (almost perpendicular) walls. There is a steep slope which appears to consist of crumbling rocks.

There is the concept of white/sleek opposing gray/empty as well as that of deep and/or depth.
