E. SESSION SUMMARY:

The following concepts were perceived for this search:

- a. A fantastic and fabulous cache of ancient coins will be discovered or uncovered. It will include examples of never before seen items as well as filling in many gaps in the archaeological record. They will be featured in a popular magazine.
- b. A State of Maryland political official/figure will be brought up on some very serious charges. He will not have the option to resign. The investigation will expose a very complex and tangled web of involvement.
- c. A second oil tanker will run aground and begin spilling its contents. Feels like an Asian connection with this one.
- d. Something extremely significant and positive is going to happen to someone that is close to one of our own people here. This event will also directly affect that member of our staff as well.
- e. An unusual weather phenomenon will occur very soon. It will have to do with some sort of cloud formation or activity. Feels like it will be in either the west or mid-west of USA.
