-- There is a garage looking storage chamber for warehousing drugs for transit. This structure has an auto or auto mechanical facade and a light colored mercedes parks on the outside. The garage looking structure has tools related to auto mechanical activities hung on pegs on the inside walls. It is medium sized with two openings on one side wherein cars or small planes can enter.

SG1A

-- The auto mechanical structure may be a hanger or auto business and is a front for drug related activities. Few people at any one given time come in and out of this structure who work for [REDACTED]. This place may be a base of operations. A drug smuggling activity is to occur on the 22nd of November.

-- This landing is scheduled for the 18th of November; this is part of the rotational schedule set up by the operatives. The destination is a city in the north. The word "RIO" is in the name (not Rio Grande!!!). It is the name of a city or a town, not a river. This contraband is still somehow associated with musical instruments. The nickname of one of the individuals is "the Rabbit".

-- The stuff will be transported in containers of liquid, like juice. These containers will be within a refrigerated compartment of a large truck. There is a double refrigeration system on these vehicles. It has been added to the roof or ceiling; this "add-on" is doing the actual refrigeration. The interior or original refrigeration system is fake. There are numerous shiny tubes packed within the walls and the floor.

-- The central area of the refrigerated compartment is raised; it appears as a metallic box-like feature. It is hidden by cases of small, liquid holding containers.

-- The ultimate destination is Tucson, Arizona. Sonora is also associated with this travel.

-- The name "El Trabajo...(something)" is on either the trucks or the containers of liquid. Also the name/term "(something)...de Borache".

-- Single engine aircraft will be involved in-country. They will fly very low to the ground. They are brand new aircraft.

-- These single engine planes and the trucks have the same affiliation i.e. company or owner.

-- Many of the individuals involved with this network are either ex-military or "secret investigative service (?)" types.

- (S/NF/SG/LIMDIS) Source C:

-- Target personality continues his illegal operations as usual. Mexico will be the recipient of the next cargo. The cargo will be illegal drugs in the form of cocaine. The cocaine will be wrapped in small brown boxes. The cartel is very well organized and the people who help transport the drugs in Mexico are part of the cartel. The people in Mexico are highly paid.

-- Next transport will take place before December 10th and will go to the eastern portion of Mexico. It seems that business will continue as usual.
