E. SESSION SUMMARY:

The target  is a vessel which seems to contain attributes of two different types of ships. It has two or possibly three large poles or masts but when viewed from underneath, it has no keel. It has a long and heavy appearance and three levels are visible. This vessel looks like the upper portion of a sailboat has been placed on top of the bottom section of a freighter. The hull is white or light colored.

The target is currently moving in a circular "holding pattern". The owner and/or pilot of the vessel has become "dirty" or corrupted from rubbing shoulders with the wrong people. He is trying to figure a way out of this situation. This vessel is somehow associated with the word "columbian".

This vessel has extra antennas on board; they are near the center mast or pole in an attempt to camouflage their presence. There is a large, rolled feature reminiscent of padding around the interior curve of the rear of the vessel. A film or mist is being sprayed out is a wide, flat sheet. This film has a metallic taste, constricts the throat and can be explosive.

A section of one of the masts/poles has been cut out and replaced (see sketch). There is an inner casing which can be moved or slid up and down. A thick layer of material i.e. paint, has been applied, smoothing over any evidence of a cut out. The surface of sections of either the vessel's hull or cargo is peeling or flipping up in layers; exfoliating.

There is a single boat-shaped object hanging in/over the starboard rear portion of the vessel (see sketch).

The target vessel is large, hispanic by name, and is moving at a fast rate in a northern direction. The  is light in color, possibly white with a mast and may have dark colored decks. Contraband is aboard a boat in plastic bags hidden in a compartment below the deck. There are several people involved with the transport and transfer of the drugs to include a middle man. An older man of middle age status is heading up the operation which is to occur in the October time frame.

- E. INFORMATION:

Target vessel is rather large and has been involved in drug trafficking. Target vessel is hispanic in nature and there is an older man who may be the captain of the vessel. This older man has gray/silver hair and is very intelligent. He is very well aware of the on-goings. This man could also be an American who helps with the off-loading once the drugs gets into the U.S.

Target vessel is active now and could be carrying a rather large amount of drugs and is traveling in a northern direction.

The drugs could be inside brown squae<sup>e</sup> crates.
