-- The target is a mature male who is a leader. This individual is associated with the military. He is dressed in white and may have received honors or medals in his realm for military related activities. The target personality is considered an honorary leader and may have a wife with short dark hair. He is interested in economic changes, growth, and political reforms. His intentions include having his eye on high technology or greater combat capabilities, which can unfortunately create sadness for people if warfare occurs.
