-- Target individual will also meet with someone out in an open public place. This will be a short meeting and there will be a lot of people around. The place reminded me of either an airport or a shopping mall. In this meeting, it looked like a woman was involved also, but a different woman than described above. This woman was very young and she had long light brown or blondish hair. She was an American. She had a male child with her. The target individual will have a brief interlude at the top of the stairs with this woman. It seems as though they will just pass each other up and he may drop something in her purse or put it in a baby bag.

-- The name "Amherst" phonetically surfaced.

-- Target individual has a sense of some type of belief or belief system or an allegiance and uses this to justify what he is doing. Other individual usually do this type of work for money, however, the target individual's motivation seems to be his own belief system of sorts even though he probably is making a lot of money.
