SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

The target site is situated in a natural setting. There is a small body of water nearby.

There are panels throughout the tunnels. In one area, I could see a small television screen and there were panels around the screen. It reminded me of a relay command and control station. At one point, I had the impression of satellites. There were not any people here.

I could see vans in the tunnels. Everything inside the tunnels looked new and bright. I could see a bright ring inside the tunnels.

At one point, I could see several men sitting around a round table. Several men wore military uniforms. The men were older and I had the feeling they were of higher rank. They had equipment plugged into their ears and they were sitting very close together. They were monitoring or listening to something outside. This was very sensitive information. This may have been a bugging.

The men and women that work here do not come here on a regular basis. It seems that people come here only when required and at a special time.
