SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

Peace talks will fail in January. There will be a war in February which will be a small victory for the U.S., but not without the loss of American servicemen. The war will last two - three months. Hussein will withdraw from Kuwait and this will be his downfall of power. The land in Kuwait will be taken back as a result of the war. U.S. casualties will exist only in Kuwait. Peace talks will resume in the Middle East following blood shed through march of this year. The U.S. will be in a strong position with regard to this situation in March. There will be a change wherein sanction limitations on surrounding water ways will be lifted.

By early April, Iraq will have a new leader in Power. Senate majority plays a role in peace by the April time frame. It will be a fast and furious war. However, the U.S. will want to have some troops stay within Kuwait through August to cover territorial boundaries. The number of U.S. casualties will consist of more than 700 and less than 2000. Hundreds of thousands of American servicemen will be saved.
